

British Naval Guns In The New York Navy Yard

ONE of the most brilliant naval actions of the war of 1812 is commemorated by the display in the New York navy yard of seven ancient ship's guns. They are part of the armament of the British frigate Macedonian, which was captured by Captain Stephen Decatur on Oct. 25, 1812, after a fierce combat of two hours. When her commander, Captain Carden, offered his sword to Decatur the American said, "Sir, I cannot receive the sword of a man who has so bravely defended his ship, but I will receive your hand." The prize was repaired, sailed into New York harbor amid general rejoicings, and the guns here pictured were set up as trophies in the navy yard. Decatur received the freedom of the city and a gold medal, and has a secure place in history as one of the nation's naval heroes.

OREGON CITY WOMEN ENTERPRISE SUED BY C. SCHUEBEL

The Portland Railway, Light & Power Company has asked the Morning Enterprise to thank the residents of Oregon City for their generous donation of roses, which were sent to Seattle for distribution at the convention of the National Electric Light Association. The roses were tendered to the delegates as a compliment from Oregon. W. T. Buchanan, publicity agent of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, writes in part as follows:

"Among the roses that the company gathered up were a large number from Oregon City, and the ladies of your city were very generous in their donations in this respect. It certainly was a fine act, and I might add, the roses were the hit of the convention. Many of the delegates wondered how a city having on its hands a rose festival where millions of roses were used, could find a sufficient number to send to a convention in a neighboring state for the pleasure of the delegates."

The examination to teach in the county schools was begun in the High School Wednesday morning county Superintendent of Schools Gary being in charge. There are about seventy applicants.

RIBBON TRIMMED TURBAN
Ribbon is, as a rule, a favorite garnish for sprays and bouquets, but it has never before it seems to have taken the popular fancy. Much plaid ribbon is seen and many novelty weaves on the Paris hats. Skilled hands, however, must twist these apparently simple little knots and bows or the smart effect is lost. Soft pliable straw is used for the turned back brim of this turban and the crown is formed entirely of loops of the broad satin ribbon. A band of flowers crosses the front. The hat is large but so completely trimmed as to give an appearance of trimness.

Finger Prints.
Finger prints for identification were used by the Chinese as long ago as the seventh century.
