FAIR PREMIUM LIST IS GROWING

INDIVIDUAL OFFERS MUCH MORE NUMEROUS THAN EVER BEFORE

JUVENILE WORK IS INTERESTING

Handsome Prizes Offered Girls in Domestic Science Department—Baby Show To Be Feature

The Executive Board of the County Fair has completed the Premium list. It is in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution in a few days.

This year there is a much larger premium list than ever before, marked by the large increase in individual premiums offered and also by the larger list of premiums offered in the Juvenile department.

Great interest is being manifested in the Juvenile work, which is under the supervision of Professor T. J. Gary, where premiums are offered for farm products for boys and girls more than thirteen years, and also for boys and girls under thirteen years.

Handsome premiums are also offered the girls in the Domestic Science or cooking department for bread, cakes, pies, canned fruit, jellies, etc., and also for sewing and handiwork to be done by the girls.

Professor Gary will hold a number of local fairs in various communities shortly before the fair at which handsome presents have been offered for the best after which the best exhibited at the state and county fairs.

The baby show will this year be in charge of Mrs. A. J. Lewis of Maple Lane, and great interest is already being manifested.

The Agricultural, Horticultural and Live Stock departments are well organized and will be the largest and best ever exhibited.

A number of bands will be on the grounds to furnish music.

The committee is planning an old-fashioned barbecue and potato bake for Thursday, the second day of the fair. The barbecue will be in charge of Gustave Schnorr, of Willamette, who has so successfully planned a number of events of this kind at his famous park for the German Society of Clackamas County. This day will be largely given up to sports among the features of which will be catching the greased pig, climbing the greased pole, pole vaulting, high jumping, foot racing and other sports of like character.

A merry-go-round, swings and other amusements will be on the ground to interest the children.

The women of the Methodist church of Canby who managed the grandstand restaurant so successfully last year obtained this concession again this year, which assures every person of a first class meal at a reasonable price. There will also be other eating places on the grounds where one may obtain light lunches.

Liberal prizes have been offered for the races which will bring to Canby's track the best horses of the valley to contest for the title.

There also will be automobile races and an auto parade where premiums will be offered for the largest number of cars of different makes and for the best running engines, also for best decorated cars with farm products.

The grounds have been leveled and cleaned and the grove for campers will be in fine condition. The executive board has appointed the following superintendents who will have charge of the various departments and the grounds:

OREGON CITY FREIGHT RATES ARE LOWERED

The Oregon City Terminal Rate Association has been notified that the freight rates from Portland to Oregon City and pulp station by rail, less than carload, have been reduced by the Interstate Commerce Commission, although no date for the publication of the new scale appears in their order. This reduction refers to the first four classes, the rates being as follows:

First class, 18 cents to 10 cents; second class, 15 cents to eight cents; third class 12 cents to 6 cents; fourth class 9 cents to 5 cents.

This is the first victory and it should only be a short time before terminal rates apply on other business.

RAILWAY PROMISES TO WIDEN CROSSING

CLACKAMAS COUNTY AUTO CLUB AND COURT MAKE WINNING FIGHT

CHIEF ENGINEER BLOOD AT MEETING

Improvement Which Will Be Great Boon To Owners Of Cars Is To Be Made At Once

As a result of the efforts of the Clackamas County Automobile Club and the County Court, the Southern Pacific Railway Company will widen the county road between this city and Parkplace at the intersection of the railroad. That is the most dangerous railway crossing in the county, and several serious accidents have been narrowly averted there. The automobile club, which was organized recently, asked the county court to have the road widened, and a conference between Judge Beatie, C. C. Blood, Chief Engineer of the Railway in Oregon and B. T. McBain, M. D. Latourrette, C. W. Risley and H. G. Starkweather representing the club was held Saturday.

The crossing was examined and Mr. Blood admitted that it was dangerous. At the suggestion of Judge Beatie and the committee representing the club, he said the road would be widened twenty-five feet in the near future. The promise of the company to make the improvement is directly due to the organization of the automobilists of the county, and it is believed that the club will accomplish much more for the benefit of not only its members, but all persons using the county roads.

Without organization, it is pointed out, it would be impossible to obtain many desired improvements.

JOLLY EUGENE ELK IS "ARRESTED" HERE

A jolly party of Eugene Elks returning to that city from Portland played a practical joke on 'Jack' Rodman, one of their number in this city Saturday afternoon. Rodman, who is a prominent real estate man, like many other Elks who attended the convention became financially embarrassed and borrowed $10 from one of his friends. Upon reaching this city the friend demanded that the money be paid. An argument followed in which Rodman declared he could not pay until he reached home.

Meanwhile Mayor Berger, O. V. Roberts and A. E. Jepp, of Eugene, hunted up Mayor Diniack Assistant District Attorney Stipp and Deputy Sheriff Miles and planned to have Rodman arrested. Miles took him to jail and a few minutes later he was taken to the mayor's office where he was given a hearing. He pleaded guilty to having borrowed the money, but insisted that he could not pay until he reached home.

"Then I'll fine you $5," said the mayor. "It is a very grave offense but inasmuch as you are an Elk and so am I, I will make the fine as light as possible."

"I knew I would be arrested when I came into this town," said Rodman. "However, I can't pay the fine. Some of my friends will."

J. S. Airhart, a member of the party, paid the fine and the jolly Elks climbed into their big automobile and started for Eugene.

The victim of the prank, while not aware of the joke, took his "arrest" good naturedly, and declared that it was nothing more than he expected.

Samson Marries Couple. Justice of the Peace Samson officiated Saturday at the wedding of Kate Barber and Aaron J. Johnson, of Humboldt, Cal.

Wife Wins Decree. Judge Campbell Friday granted Anna Joseph Getos a divorce from Joseph H. Getos. Desertion was alleged.

SUES TO COLLECT BALANCE. Clarence H. Wilson filed suit for $258.75 against T. F. Wirtz & Sons, alleged to be a balance due for work on a sawmill.

SHUBEL WINS GAME. The baseball game between Molalla and Shubel, on the diamond of the former Sunday afternoon was largely attended. The result of the game was 11 to 12 in favor of Shubel.

ENTERPRISE AGAIN SUED BY SCHUEBEL

LAWYER AMENDS COMPLAINT AND ASKS COURT FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

SCHNOERR ADVERTISEMENT QUOTED

Newspaper's Lawyers Move That Parts of Complaint Be Stricken Out—Decision Expected Soon

Chris Schuebel, of the law firm of U'ren & Schuebel, has filed an amended complaint in his suit for $10,000 damages against the Morning Enterprise alleging libel. The Enterprise several days before the last primary published an advertisement of Gustav Schnorr, Vice President of the German Societies of Oregon and President of the Deutsche Verein of Clackamas County, which displeased Mr. Schuebel, he and Mr. Schnorr being candidates for the Republican nomination for representative. A demurrer to the original complaint was sustained by Judge Campbell, the plaintiff being given leave to amend. The Enterprise is represented by George C. Brownell and J. E. Hedges and the plaintiff by C. D. & D. C. Latourrette and W. S. U'ren. The amended complaint in part follows:

"That certain parts of said article so written, signed and published to wit: "Neither can I understand how a person (meaning plaintiff) can afford to spend hundreds of dollars for the small recompense he can honestly get if elected to the legislature. "Mr. Schuebel (meaning plaintiff) tries to make his audience believe that the 'interests' or certain parties have 'bought me.' He is not deceived; but he has been bought, if signs fall not, and because he is used to being bought and sold, as everybody knows, he made an effort to buy me in my own house. This happened March 31, 1912. "Whether they want politicians and demagogues (meaning plaintiff) who seek only their own honor and welfare, who trample on the rights and honor of their fellowmen and who are the cause that our political life is as corrupt as it is."

"That defendant by this publication intended by the first clause to charge and did charge plaintiff with spending hundreds of dollars unlawfully and in violation of the law of the state, and intended by the second to charge the plaintiff with being guilty of the crime of bribery, and intended by the third clause to charge and did charge plaintiff as an attorney and candidate for the office of representative in the legislative assembly in the state of Oregon from the representative district comprising Clackamas County, with being dishonest and corrupt and as having a design to secure his election to said office by dishonest and unlawful means for the purpose of corrupting public life.

Attorneys Brownell and Hedges Monday filed a motion to strike out certain clauses of the amended petition, which probably will be passed upon by Judge Campbell the latter part of this week.

SALEM, Or., July 19.—Governor West will start next Saturday on his horseback ride across the state and over the border to Boise Idaho, where he will attend the conference of governors to be held early in August.

"My old black mare has been brought in from the ranch," said the governor today, and his eyes twinkled with anticipated pleasure. "She is a regular iron horse, one of the best I ever rode, but I noticed she is a little lame and I may have to get another horse yet."

The black mare has been doing duty in the hop fields and the governor has not yet found out how serious her lameness, but he is hoping she will be all right for the trip as he is planning riding her the entire distance, instead of having relays.

Just before the governor leaves he will ride in a parade at the Cherry Festival here, garbed in his cowboy accoutrements.

"A man asked me yesterday how I was going to get the horse back," said the governor, smiling. "I told him I wasn't worrying about how the horse was going to get back as I had troubles enough in seeing how the horse was going to get there."

The governor expects to make the trip his vacation and is expecting a great deal of pleasure from it. He will deliver a number of addresses en route on good roads.

SHUBEL WINS GAME. The baseball game between Molalla and Shubel, on the diamond of the former Sunday afternoon was largely attended. The result of the game was 11 to 12 in favor of Shubel.

PARAFFINE OIL IS FOUND IN STONE WELL

A committee of oil experts and several Oregon City residents, including Dr. Stuart, S. F. Scripture and Louis Vierhaus examined the oil well at Stone Sunday. The experts found that large quantities of paraffine oil, worth from $3 to $6 a barrel were being produced. Joseph Hempling, who has been employed as driller, informed the committee that he had drilled beyond the drill that was broken off in the well and he did not expect any more trouble. The promoters are still confident that oil in paying quantities will be found.

Members of No. 1189, Oregon City Lodge of Elks, were jubilant Friday over the victory of the representatives of the lodge who participated in the big parade in Portland Thursday.

Several hundred visiting Elks who came to this city Friday were entertained by a committee of Elks and members of the Commercial Club. A larger crowd is expected today.

One hundred and two bull Elks from Oregon City were there, with their new spick and span uniforms of purple and white and they made some impression, too. "Bill" Logus, Esquire of Oregon City Lodge, escorted by his yards of military training and drilled his bunch of stags to the limit of perfection and the result is told in a few words—"Second prize for the best appearance in line, $250."

Marching at the head of the delegation of No. 1189 was Henry Stroberg, carrying the flag of his country, the colors floating proudly in the snapping breeze, and then came "Tod" Binford 61 inches in height, nearly the smallest Elk in the procession. The Girls' band of Oak Grove made a real hit, with their natty uniforms, and the little ones bore up bravely under the long march and under the tire some wait for their place in line, for Oregon City was in the last division but was not the least. All the officers of No. 1189 were in the parade, and the lodge was honored with the appointment of a division commander H. E. Williams.

Not a man dropped out of line. Happily refreshment was obtained just before the start was made, the uniforms were making a raid on a nearby delicatessen, which reaped a small harvest, selling its big stock of eatables in record time. All along the line there were cheers and applause for the Oregon City herd who finished strong and in perfect alignment.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN MOVEMENT" PUTS EVEN LUNCH BASKETS IN BACKGROUND

MISS BOSWELL ADDRESSES THROUGH

Mount Angel Baseball Team Easily Disposes of Portland Nine—Fine Program Offered Today

Lunch baskets were abandoned, noon-day meals became cold, and chautauqua restaurant men waited in vain Tuesday for "Women's Suffrage" was the all-absorbing topic. The forum hour for Woman's Day started "suffrage" on a free and unrestricted course at 11 a. m. and the meeting lasted clear through the noon hour until 1:30. There was a scramble for a bite to eat and within 45 minutes the 1500 friends of the movement were again in the auditorium to hear the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Helen Varick Boswell, the young woman chosen by President Taft for Women's Club organization work in Panama. Suffragists, anti-suffragists and not a few "non-committals" thronged the auditorium, and though it was a "suffrage day," those opposed to the movement and who dared to face the "Votes For Women" contingent, were given the constitution guaranty of free speech to voice their reasons why women should not be allowed the privilege of the ballot. Among those who dared was Dr. Clarence True Wilson, a well known minister of Portland.

The morning hour beginning at 11 was in charge of the State League of which Mrs. Scott Dunway is president. In her absence Mrs. Henry Walden Coe, president, under the leadership of Mrs. Rose Courson Reed, the woman's chorus of Washington High school rendered two well received and beautifully executed numbers, one being the "Votes for Women" chorus. Helen Miller Senn read an original poem from the pen of the aged Mrs. Dunway following. Mrs. Mary Wood one of the visiting club delegates from New York, spoke on the legal aspect of suffrage, deploring particularly the law that makes a woman entering a house of ill repute liable to arrest, but permits the man to go untouched. The woman vote, according to Mrs. Wood, was needed to remedy the economic conditions which through low wages and defective intelligence, create largely the country immorality. Mrs. Senn gave a clever satire of the anti-suffragite speaker that won large applause. Dr. Luther Dyott of Portland spoke on the relation of suffrage to democracy and affirmed that suffrage, like nature's frocks, should know no sex. Mrs. Eara Bard Field Ehrgott closed the program with a brief panoramic view of the awakening of women of which suffrage, she declared, was only a local expression. She asserted that the withholding of the ballot from women, prevented the application to society of its most beneficial force.

Miss Boswell of New York, talked at the afternoon program on the suffrage movement, taking occasion to criticize the school system in Panama, (Continued on page 4)

MADISON, Wis., July 12.—Senator Robert M. La Follette today went on record as opposed to the third party movement favored by Colonel Roosevelt, in an editorial in La Follette's Weekly, he not only declares against the Roosevelt move, but scathingly attacked the Colonel's motives in organizing the new party. La Follette's editorial is headed "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," and he sums up his conclusions as follows:

"Mr. Roosevelt appeals to progressives to join his party. Roosevelt's whole record demonstrates that he has no constructive power; that he is progressive only in words; that he is ever ready to compromise in order to win, regardless of platform promises or progressive principles."

"Byran at Baltimore, foregoing all chances of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts to rescue his party from their domination, carrying the convention for the adoption of a progressive platform, the most progressive yet offered, was a towering figure of moral power, and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness."

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock watering operations of the steel trust and the harvester trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been 'fake' contests as to nearly 200 delegates in order to control the convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to aid in the making of a progressive platform, bound to have the nomination or destroy the Republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition."

"He had as great an opportunity as Bryan to serve the progressive cause, but he was serving the man, not the cause."

Gladstone Merchant Sued. Aldon & Lewis Friday filed suit for $23.48 against William Berryman, of Gladstone. The plaintiffs allege that the money is due for merchandise.

LA FOLLETTE SCORES ROOSEVELT PARTY

"HIKING NELL" RIDES IN STYLE FROM CITY

"Hiking Nell" probably the best known hobo of her sex, was arrested in Canby late Monday night. She was thought to be insane. When brought to this city Tuesday by George Ogle, Sheriff Mass was not only insane, but was one of the shrewdest panhandlers operating in these parts.

"What's your name?" asked the sheriff. "Hiking Nell," was the reply. "I mean your real name."

"I have no real name—only Hiking Nell and you bet I know my biz."

"Where are you going Nell?" asked the sheriff. "Oh, any old place. I never have no destination. I just drop off the cars any place they put me off."

The woman said she was thirty-two years of age and had been a tramp ever since she was fifteen. She said she had beaten her way across the continent six times.

"I'm at home in Gotham," said "Hiking Nell." Broadway? Why that is my habitat when I am in the big town. What you keeping me here for anyway? Why 'f Slim Pete' and 'Handy Mike' down on the Bowery knew about this outrage there would be something doing somewhere in the neighborhood of the intersection of Rivington. And believe, mush, Little Tim Sullivan would help some too."

Sheriff Mass had a suspicion that his prisoner might be a man for several minutes, but when she unrolled her coil and displayed locks that almost reached her waist, he was convinced that his suspicion was not well founded. County Judge Beatie, after hearing the story decided it would be a good plan for Oregon City to become rid of "Hiking Nell" as soon as possible, so the county jail was opened and enough money was given her to take her to Portland. Sheriff Mass watched her until she boarded a car.

"This is easy," said the transcontinental hobo, as she disappeared in the car. "I guess it beats hiking." This was the last sentence she uttered that was heard by Sheriff Mass.

POLICE HAVE NAMES IN N. Y. TRAGEDY

NEW YORK, July 16.—Through the alleged confession of a man under arrest, the police are believed to have possession of the names of seven men suspected of having participated in the sensational killing today of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, just as he was presumably about to make important additions to his recent disclosures of alleged partnership between police officials and members of the gambling fraternity. Additional arrests are momentarily expected.

According to District Attorney Whitman, Rosenthal was about to name gamblers who could corroborate his assertions, regarding police collusion with men of his calling.

PARTLOW AWARDED DIVORCE DECREE

MRS. JOHN ADAMS WINS SUIT AGAINST LATE OREGON CITY MERCHANT

CRAUELTY ALLEGED BY PLAINTIFF

Six Other Decrees Are Handed Down By Judge Campbell—Two Wives And One Husband Ask Divorces.

Judge Campbell Saturday granted James W. Partlow of Mount Pleasant, a decree of divorce from Lucinda C. Partlow, restoring to the defendant her former name, Lucinda C. Browne. Mrs. Partlow was married several months ago in the Portland Hotel, Portland. He met the woman who became his bride while he was visiting in Santa Barbara, Cal.

Bertha Adams was granted a decree from John Adams, who formerly conducted a department store in this city, the charge being cruelty. Mrs. Adams was awarded $30 a month alimony. After disposing of his business here Mr. and Mrs. Adams moved to Portland, where he obtained work. Shortly after they separated, and through attorney J. E. Hedges, she filed suit for divorce alleging cruelty. They were married in 1889, and have a grown son. Mr. Adams is working in Washington.

Judge Campbell also granted decrees in the following cases: Hazel L. Schumacher against Frank J. Schumacher, plaintiff; Josie Kennedy against Frank Kennedy; Thomas S. Molesworth against Carrie C. Molesworth; T. J. Merritt against Annie Merritt; Philip J. Brady against Marie Brady and Elizabeth H. Heimbach against Walter W. Heimbach.

SLAYS HER CHILD AND SHOOTS SELF

DEPUTY SHERIFF PREVENTS MOTHER FROM COMMITTING CRIME HERE

MILES TOOK PISTOL FROM HER

Mrs. Nettie Walsh, Crazed From Jealousy, Tries To Exterminate Family—Another Woman Blamed

Mrs. Nettie Walsh, who shot and killed her four-year-old son, fatally wounded herself, and tried to kill her husband, Robert H. Walsh in Portland Tuesday morning, was on murder bent while on a trip to Oregon City last Saturday two weeks ago. But for Deputy Sheriff Miles she probably would have killed her husband and the woman she alleges despoiled her home. Mrs. Walsh, who lives at 343 East Stark street, Portland, pursued her husband in an automobile from Portland to Oregon City and back to Oak Grove and intercepted him in the company of a girl said to be a stenographer in a taxicab office. Deputy Sheriff Miles, who went from this city with the woman and two detectives, took a pistol from her. Walsh and the girl were found in a cabin and Mrs. Walsh begged that she be given the pistol so she could shoot the girl and her husband. Walsh was arrested but released when he and his wife made a temporary truce.

"If I had not taken the pistol away from the woman murder would have been committed," said Deputy Sheriff Miles.

Robert Walsh was in the dining room of the house which is a small bungalow early Tuesday. Just after finishing breakfast, he was talking to his wife about a trip they had planned to take to Seattle to attend the Potlach. The couple were to leave in the afternoon. Mrs. Walsh was standing near the kitchen door when suddenly she cried:

"Well, this is the way we are going to finish it."

Hardly had she spoken before she pulled out Walsh's large 38 Coits revolver from behind her back and opened fire. Walsh grappled with her and believed he had wrested the gun from her hand before she fired again. The bullet passing within a few inches of his head, Walsh made for the kitchen door and ran.

Fearing the worst, he ran across the street and telephoned to the police station, saying that his wife was murdering the baby. Patrolmen Sherrill and Calson, and Detective Tichnor rushed to the scene in the police automobile.

After firing at her husband Mrs. Walsh went into the front bedroom where the baby had hidden as soon as the first shots had been fired. Pointing her gun at her only baby, she fired the bullet striking the little fellow in the back. The child ran screaming through the parlor and dining room into the back bedroom. Hardly had he reached the door before the woman shot again, the bullet crashing through the back of his head killing him instantly.

Reloading the revolver she fired two shots at herself, one of the bullets ploughing through her cheek and the other lodging in the right side of the head.

Hardly had she fallen to the floor when the police ran up the steps and broke into the house. The little boy's shirt was aflame. Detective Tichnor, who reached the room in the rear first put out the blaze with his hands. Thinking that the little fellow was only wounded he lifted him up. The lad however, was dead.

Mrs. Walsh was still breathing but with much difficulty. The Red Cross ambulance was called and made the run in record time, and the woman was rushed to the St. Vincent's hospital, where she was operated upon by Doctors Holt and Van Dusen, acting city physician.

One peculiar incident of the tragedy was recorded just after the woman had been carried down the steps to the waiting ambulance. Mrs. Martha Christensen, an elderly woman who lives at 1253 Grand station, walked up the steps and started into the house. When she was stopped by the police she persisted in trying to get past Mrs. Christensen, it is said, is an old friend of the Walsh family, at one time Mrs. Nettie Walsh having lived at her home.

"You can't come in here," she was told.

"Why not? Oh, I just know something dreadful has happened," cried Mrs. Christensen.

"When she was told that a murder had been committed in the house the woman almost collapsed.

"Oh, I knew something like this would happen," she sobbed. "Last night I dreamed that little Vincent was sick and was going to die. So I left the house without hardly touching breakfast and came here. Oh, it's so strange that I dreamed about it, and now the little boy is dead and Nettie is dying."

She was allowed to go into the bedroom, where she attempted to comfort the husband.
