LARGE CROWD HEARS SINGLE TAX SPEAKERS

Single Taxers with oratory, figures and arguments and a little inventive invad Oregon City Tuesday evening. H. D. Wagman and F. E. Coulter, of Portland, were the speakers and J. W. Bengough was the cartoonist. The trio came to Oregon City by trolley car and after arriving here hired an automobile from which they spoke to a large crowd at Seventh and Main Streets. While Messrs. Wagman and Coulter were making speeches Mr. Bengough drew illustrations with chalk. The speakers used the arguments as given in Mr. George's "Progress and Poverty" and which have been elucidated in Philadelphia by Joseph Fels and in Clackamas County and other places by W. S. U'ren. They were listened to attentively and part of the crowd was in accord with their political views. No embarrassing questions were asked, and oratory and argument flowed as freely as a mountain stream. It is doubtful however, if any converts were made. The speakers and cartoonist will tour the towns and cities of the valley, going probably as far as Albany.

Allen, County Clerk of Marion County, discussed the wealth of the country and said he believed that a railway was a necessity and some way should be devised whereby it could be established. Other speakers were Dan R. Murphy, Ex United States District Attorney; August Huchenstein of Salem, Hon. H. E. Cross and Mayor Dimick. The Clackamas Southern Railway was used as an illustration of what could be done by the people if proper spirit could be aroused. It is thought that a railway will be built from this point in the near future.

The speaker made many convincing arguments, one of the strongest being there are more than 8,000,000 women in the United States who are self-supporting, and consequently for self-protection should have the right of suffrage. He said that in states where women vote better men and women have been elected to office than in other states and that the influence of the ballot cast by women had a great effect on the men. Announcement was made at the conclusion of the address, that a prominent speaker from Portland would speak Friday afternoon at the State Fair on "Woman's Suffrage."

In an extemporaneous address preceding the offering for adoption of the resolutions Mr. Ideleman spoke at some length concerning the work and life of Mr. Johnson. Referring to the fact that the deceased had not left an estate Mr. Ideleman said that this was largely because without any legal necessity of doing it Mr. Johnson had in 1893 the year of the great financial panic spent his entire accumulation in making up to his clients losses they had sustained by reason of the depreciation of securities on which he had loaned their money. H. B. Nicholas supplemented Mr. Ideleman's remarks.
