

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TWO RULERS.

When Emperor Mutsuhito of Japan died one of the usefully great men of our day passed away.

When Abdul Hamid, the Turkish ruler, was deposed, one of the most cruel and useless men of his generation was got rid of.

Mutsuhito became emperor in 1867 at fifteen years of age. In 1889 he changed the government from an absolute monarchy by voluntarily giving his people a constitution—Japan's first great forward step.

He sent representatives to foreign countries and received like officials at his court in Tokyo—an entirely new procedure. He sent young Japanese into other countries to be educated.

In uniting the provinces into one nation he stirred up a rebellion which he put down, but—

Note the difference:

Abdul Hamid put to death every revolutionist who dared to show his head. Mutsuhito promoted his enemies to offices of responsibility.

Making his wife his confidant and companion, by his example the Japanese emperor put the womanhood of his country on a footing with its manhood.

Abdul Hamid by his harem debased and cruelly abused womanhood.

The Japanese emperor early undertook measures for the national defense. In order to provide money he and the empress agreed to reduce the household expenses so they might contribute annually 200,000 yen for the building up of the army and navy.

The Japanese victory over the Russians justified the foresight.

Abdul Hamid, on the other hand, dissipated the revenues of his government in maintaining his army of guards and spies.

Mutsuhito died at sixty years of age, a world figure, loved and venerated by his countrymen. Abdul Hamid was deposed for his cruelty and rascality by the Young Turks party, and no one cares whether he is living or dead.

The real ruler of his people encouraged education, elevated woman, forwarded progress. The nominal ruler encouraged ignorance and superstition, degraded women and was a brutal reactionary.

The Turkish ruler distrusted his friends. Mutsuhito forgave his enemies.

Seldom has our day afforded such an antithesis—so startling a contrast between men higher up. And yet—

Look around you!

Will you not find Mutsuhitos and Abdul Hamids in your own community?

Trainer Hjertberg to Get Fat Salary.

Erns Hjertberg, trainer of the Swedish athletes for the next four years, is said to have signed a contract for something like $5,000 a year. With the exception of Mike Murphy's fee at the University of Pennsylvania this is the highest figure ever known to have been paid to an athletic coach.
