NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Joe Wood, of Boston delivered today. Result: Boston 4, New York 3.

By one of those very narrow squeaks which make baseball, Boston finished under the wire today by an eyelash length ahead of the Giants, but the distance was sufficient. The crowd was estimated at 40,000.

Big Jeff Tesreau, upon whom the York had pinned hopes of winning the jump-off game, delivered the best he had in stock, and that was a mighty fine commodity for six innings, but in the seventh he was terrific in strain under the terrific strain under which the Ozark Giant had been working, took the spring from his mighty right arm, and the Red Sox, who had been waiting and expecting this very thing, connected with his fading efforts for three runs, chalked up on the basis of a pair of singles and a brace of doubles. This trio of tallies, taken together with a lone run scored in the sixth inning, did the business for Boston.

Young Joe Wood, making his initial world's series bow, the same as Tesreau, supplemented his arm with his head to better advantage. By using better judgment and saving himself for the last, the smaller man managed to go the distance. Even in his case, however, the same strain which worked the undoing of Tesreau got in its work in the final session, and with one strike down, the Bostonian faltered, and for a moment it looked as though he would go the way of his adversary.

Three singles in a row torn off by Merkle, Herzog and Meyers, gave the Giants a run and put them within a single tally of tying the score. At this stage, however, Wood tightened up, and by splendid headwork held the Giants safe and out of the first game of the American League champions.

Never in the history of base ball were more nerve racking moments known than in the last inning of the game, and when it was all over the crowd simply wilted.

Joe Wood was the hero of the hour, and only Speaker, with his triple, approached "Smoky Joe's" glory.

RICH LUMBERMAN FREED, COLLAPSES

JOHN S. CREECH ACQUITTED OF SLAYING ABERDEEN DETECTIVE

VERDICT REACHED ON FIFTH BALLOT

Jury Thanked By Half Hysterical Man Before He Falls Helpless into His Chair

ABERDEEN, Oct. 8.—John S. Creech, wealthy lumberman of Aberdeen, was acquitted of the murder of Detective Frank Welch, of Aberdeen, on the fifth ballot, the jury coming in at 8:20 o'clock after an absence of three and one-half hours.

The first ballot was ten for acquittal and two for conviction of murder in the second degree. The jury stood this way for three ballots, and on the fourth ballot stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. On the fifth ballot all were unanimous.

John Creech stood trembling and with drawn face as the jury filed into the courtroom. Then he sank into a chair while the court asked the foreman his verdict.

When the answer came Creech appeared for a little while to be his natural self, congratulating the attorneys and then went up and thanked the jurymen, shaking each by the hand.

Then, suddenly he collapsed and for 15 minutes he sat crying and laughing by spells in his chair in a half hysterical mood. The crowd which thronged the courtroom was moved deeply, and many men, besides the women in attendance, cried audibly.

$180,000 GIVEN BY MORGAN TO PARTY

FINANCIER DECLARES ON STAND HE HAD ONLY PATRIOTIC MOTIVE

Trust Organizer Asserts that He Never Expected Any Return and None Was Received

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—J. Pierpont Morgan told the senate campaign committee today that while he had contributed $180,000 to the last two Republican Presidential campaign funds, the gifts were made "without expectation of return."

After saying he had contributed $150,000 to the fund of 1904 and $30,000 to the fund of 1908, Mr. Morgan turned to the committee and exclaimed earnestly:

"I want it distinctly understood that J. P. Morgan & Co. never made a subscription to any election, with any promise or expectation of anything or return in any way, shape or manner and we never made without we deemed it advantageous for the Government and people. We never had a communication from any candidate for money and anything that we did or that was done under my suggestion—and we were all in harmony—was what was necessary for the good of the country and the business of the people. There was never any expectation of any return and we never got any return either, from anybody."

This statement followed a series of questions by Senator Pomerene as to whether New York financiers had conferred and ascertained the attitude of various candidates toward business before making contributions.

BROTHER OF TAFT GAVE LIBERALLY

WITNESS OF SENATE COMMITTEE TELLS OF HIS PART IN CAMPAIGN

"I WAS PREPARED TO GO LIMIT"

Cincinnati Man Declares That His Idea Was to Preserve Full Freedom for the President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, today told the senate committee investigating campaign funds that he contributed $159,339 to aid in electing his brother president in 1908 and that he had paid $212,592 this year toward the expenses of securing the president's nomination.

Consulting a memorandum book, in which he had recorded practically all the items he had ever spent for campaign purposes, Mr. Taft was on the point of telling the committee how much the nomination in 1908 had cost him, when Chairman Clapp said the committee had no authority to investigate the pre-convention campaign of that year or funds used in the election now in progress.

Mr. Taft said his object in going into the campaign was to see that if his brother was elected he should "walk into the white house free of any monetary obligation to any individual, great or inferior, or corporation."

"On this basis," he added, "I was prepared to go the limit. I believed my brother was admirably equipped for the position. I believed in his integrity, his fearlessness and I believed none could build him or use him. The principle thing to be observed was the influence on any candidate of any monetary interest."

FIRST AIR FIGHT IS THOUGHT NEAR

AVIATORS IN BALKAN STATES ARE PREPARING FOR GREAT BATTLE

TURKEY BUYS EIGHT MONOPLANES

Bulgarians Hesitation Believed to be Due to Gain Time for Making War Preparations

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The French foreign office late tonight was without a reply from Sofia, Athens, or Belgrade, and the only suggestion thus far as to its possible tenor is found in the remark of the Bulgarian foreign minister, when the note of the powers was delivered, that "perhaps it would have had a better chance of success if presented a fortnight earlier."

Bulgaria's hesitation is variously interpreted. Most of the diplomats think it is a device to gain time to complete war preparations but a shrewd minority have not given up hope that Czar Ferdinand is searching for some ground to enable him to give satisfaction to the powers without risking his crown.

A semi-official note reiterates that the accord of the powers is such that even if it breaks out it is sure to be localized.

Airmen belonging to the opposing armies are likely soon to come into conflict for the first time in actual war for all Balkan states as well as Turkey have several expert airmen. They also possess considerable aerial equipment. Turkey recently acquired eight monoplanes in France, two in England and two in Germany, while others have been ordered by the Ottoman government in England and Germany. Bulgaria owns one monoplane and three biplanes and the War Department in Sofia has just ordered additional machines from Germany.

CALIFORNIA BARS ELECTORS FOR TAFT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The State Supreme Court, by a unanimous decision handed down here today, refused to make permanent the alternative writ of mandamus by which the Taft Republicans state committee sought to place Taft electoral nominees on the November ballot.

As the Taft supporters did not avail themselves of the opportunity to secure a place by special petitions and as the time for filing petitions has expired, no votes can be cast in California for President Taft at the November election unless they are written in.

"THROW PENROSE OUT" SAYS T. R.

ROOSEVELT ON STAND CALLS SENATOR ACKNOWLEDGED OIL TRUST FRIEND

COLONEL POSITIVE IN ANSWERS

Witness Declares Emphatically That He Ordered Archbold Money Returned at Once

BROTHER OF TAFT GAVE LIBERALLY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—"I asked no man to contribute to the campaign fund when I was elected president of the United States and I wish to reiterate that Mr. Illies and Mr. Cortelyou both assured me that no promise had been made as a return for any contribution. Neither they nor anyone else having authority asked me to act or to refrain from acting in any matter while I was president because any contribution had been made or withheld.

"Gentlemen, could I put it more sweepingly?" In these words, Colonel Roosevelt summarized his testimony today at the close of the first part of his hearing before the Clapp committee of the Senate investigating campaign funds.

The Colonel specifically denied he ever asked for contributions to his 1904 campaign fund or that he had known of any contribution by J. P. Morgan.

To those unequivocal statements Roosevelt added again that he had ordered the return to the Standard Oil Company of any contribution it had made in 1904, that he had been assured by George B. Cortelyou "only yesterday" that he knew of no such contribution; and that he did not believe Cornelius N. Illies had ever demanded a contribution from John D. Archbold or from any other corporation by any methods of extortion.

Colonel Roosevelt did not deny that corporations had contributed to the 1904 campaign. He said his letters and published statements had always acknowledged the fact, but he specified that no such contribution had ever been obtained under any suggestion that the administration would reward the givers with special favors.

The Progressive candidate for president was a forceful and emphatic witness. Although direct from a campaign tour of many weeks, he appeared in perfect health, and his testimony was punctuated by vigorous slaps upon the arms of his chair and his knee. For two hours he talked and was interrupted but half a dozen times with questions.

Roosevelt's testimony bristled with characteristic statements. "Senator Penrose should be driven from the Senate," he declared, "because of his acknowledged friendliness with Standard Oil interests."

"Charles H. Illies and Congressman Bartholdt should be forced to prove their statements that the Roosevelt campaign funds this year had amounted to $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 or should be driven out of public life," he added.

He declared, as Senator Dixon, his campaign manager, did Wednesday, that the Senate committee's activities had thus far been directed solely toward the Roosevelt campaign funds and that no attention has been paid to other candidates. He was assured by Senator Clapp that the representatives of other candidates would all be called "before election."

When the committee recognized after a recess, Senator Paynter took up the examination.

The Colonel reiterated his first knowledge of $100,000 contributions in 1904 by J. P. Morgan or George J. Gould, came from the testimony of George R. Sheldon yesterday.

"I knew H. C. Frick had contributed heavily and was ready to contribute more," he said, "I did not know the amount. Mr. Knox had told me that Mr. Frick was one of my strongest backers."

"I had heard there was Standard Oil contribution," said the Colonel, "but I did not know that it came from Mr. Archbold." He could not remember who told him.

Senator Paynter called attention to Colonel Roosevelt's telegram of October 27, 1904, to Cortelyou asking that the Standard Oil contribution be returned, "without delay."

"Did you understand there had been delay?" asked Senator Paynter. "I could not get any reply to my letter," said Roosevelt. "Mr. Cortelyou was out West. I think I thought the money would be returned but I wanted to make it clear that in my mind there was no doubt that the contribution should be returned."

NEW YORK GANG LEADER IS KILLED

"BIG JACK" ZELIG IS ASSASSINATED ON OPEN TROLLEY CAR

REVENGE IS SAID TO BE MOTIVE

Slain Man Was to Have Been Witness Against Lieutenant Becker, Accused in Gambler Tragedy

NEW YORK GANG LEADER IS KILLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—"Big Jack" Zelig was shot and killed tonight. The East Side gang leader and prospective witness in the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, which begins Monday, was seated in a Second Avenue car when Philip Davidson, who says he is a fruit dealer, jumped on the running board and fired the fatal shot.

Davidson leaped from the car and ran away, but was caught, weapon in hand. He admitted the shooting and declared it was for revenge, the police say. According to the prisoner Zelig had held him up at the point of a revolver late today in an East Side hallway and robbed him of $400.

The police were at a loss whether to believe Davidson's story and at a late hour reports that Zelig had been lured to the scene of the shooting by a telephone message were being investigated.

Patrons of a Second Avenue restaurant, some distance away, told that Zelig, who was in that neighborhood earlier in the evening, had received a telephone call from someone who made an appointment to meet him at Fourteenth street and Second Avenue. Zelig jumped on a car, the story ran, and a few moments later word was flashed back to the restaurant that he had been shot.
