"GYP THE BLOOD" DIRECTED FLIGHT AFTER MURDER WAS COMMITTED

CHAUFFEUR IDENTIFIES FOUR GUNMEN

Shapiro Admitted He Had Told Falshood Before Deputy Police Commissioner But Fear Had Sealed His Lips

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—William Shapiro, co-defendant of the four gunmen indicted as the actual slayers of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, turned state's evidence today. Testifying at the gunmen's trial for murder, Shapiro identified the quartet: "Lefty Louie," "Gyp the Blood," "Whitey Lewis and "Dago Frank Crocifci as his passengers in the "murder car," which he drove to the Hotel Metropole, where Rosenthal was killed. He saw them get out of the machine, he said, heard the shots fired, and declared that when they came back to the machine they had revolvers in their hands. "Gyp the Blood" Shapiro said, "had placed a revolver to his head and ordered him to 'hurry up and drive away.' He had heard 'Dago Frank' say he testified, that Police Lieutenant Becker, since convicted of instigating the murder, had 'fixed the cops.' Shapiro's appearance as state witness, was one of the results, according to District Attorney Whitman, of the death of "Big Jack" Zelig, leader of the gang of East Side thugs to which the four gunmen belonged. Shapiro testified on the stand today that he had refused to identify the gunmen through fear of being killed. "Shapiro told me," Mr. Whitman explained after court adjourned, "that he was afraid that if he testified against the gunmen, 'Big Jack' Zelig would have him 'croaked.' "When Zelig was killed, Shapiro got his nerve back and decided to tell the truth." Mr. Whitman added that the indictment against Shapiro probably would be dismissed.

TAKES SON WHO BROKE PAROLE TO PRISON

SAN QUENTIN, CAL., Nov. 8.—After breaking his parole and gaining freedom for more than five years, Frank Lamb is in prison again today, brought back by his father, D. W. Lamb, of Shasta County.

Longing for news of home the boy wrote to his father from Seattle. The father replied, telling his son to come home. When he arrived the elder Lamb took him back to prison to serve out his seven year sentence for grand larceny.

Frank Lamb was a model prisoner at San Quentin, where he was taken in 1906 to serve a seven year term for grand larceny. The parole machinery was invoked and he was released on probation in 1907, with instructions not to leave the state and to make reports to the authorities at stated intervals.

For a time young Lamb succeeded in obeying the parole regulations. Then the trait which his father characterizes as "a little wild," reasserted itself and he took to the road. A short time ago, tired of a wanderer's life, he drifted back to the home ranch.

"I don't hold anything against the old man for bringing me back here," said the prisoner in Warden Hoyle's office. "I'm going to try and be more like him. If I'd been like him I'd never got into this scrape at all. He's a good old dad."

WILSON DECLINES TO REVEAL PLANS

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 7.—"I think my right course just now is to hear everybody, and that I should not make any statements."

This was the answer made by President-elect Woodrow Wilson today to a series of requests for statements of his attitude on National and International questions. He was asked by various newspapers about an extra session of Congress, Canadian reciprocity, International relations, the Panama Canal and a variety of issues.

In line with his campaign argument that the Presidency should be conducted "through the common counsel of the country," he will now, so far as possible, assume a receptive attitude, rather than one of pronouncing himself on issues before he takes his office.

Governor Wilson looked eagerly to day toward a big basket of mail filled to overflowing. It appeared he would continue his custom of opening all mail himself. He likes to do it.

"You know that I will recognize the typewriters of some of my personal friends," he mused. "I don't know just how to do it. I guess I'll need a tonic to go through that fat pile though."

He began slowly to open some of the letters as he talked.

William Morrissey, secretary of the Colorado Brotherhood of Locomotive Trainmen, wired that the organization would give the new President "its hearty support."

A cablegram from San Juan, Porto Rico, reads: "My hearty congratulations to standard-bearer of Democratic principles in America. Union party fully confident justice at hands of party that always stood for their rights in Congress."

"BARCELONA, President."

SPANISH PREMIER SHOT BY ASSASSIN

MADRID, Nov. 12.—The Spanish Premier Jose Canalejas was shot to death today while entering the Ministry of the Interior here to attend a Cabinet meeting. His assassin, Manuel Pardo Serrato Martin, 28 years old, of El Grado, Province of Huesca, was arrested and then he committed suicide.

Martin fired four shots at Premier Canalejas as he was entering the Ministry of the Interior where a Cabinet meeting was being held. Two of the shots struck the statesman behind the right ear and he fell dead on the spot. The assassin is believed to be an anarchist.

Jose Canalejas y Mondes, Prime Minister of Spain, who was assassinated today, was selected to form the Spanish Cabinet in February 1910. He became a member of Premier Sagasta's Cabinet in 1902, as Minister of Agriculture. He introduced many reforms especially in regard to the working classes and eventually created a department of labor.

Senior Canalejas, who belongs to a wealthy and prominent family, came to the front in political life only in 1900, when he took a leading part in the campaign against Clericalism. He had, however, taken great interest in politics as a student and public speaker for many years before that. At the age of 25 he became a member of the Spanish Parliament, attaching himself to the advanced liberal section. He became a member of Premier Sagasta's Cabinet in 1902, as Minister of Agriculture. He introduced many reforms especially in regard to the working classes and eventually created a department of labor.

From talks that President Taft has had with Republicans since election it is apparent now that he had no illusions in regard to the outcome of the election. As a good soldier he always believed in the Republican party to the end, but there was never a moment when he really expected his own election.

The end toward which the President and his followers were striving was to prevent the election of Roosevelt and, if possible, to record a greater number of votes for the ex-President in the electoral college.

GOVERNOR SAYS SEVEN MEN MUST BE HANGED

SALEM, Or., Nov. 7.—Friday, December 13, at Oregon's state penitentiary, five and possibly seven men condemned to die will be executed. The voters of Oregon have upheld the present law, and Governor West stated today that he will proceed with the execution.

The question of the abolishment of capital punishment was fairly presented to the voters of the state and they made it plain that they are in favor of hanging," said the governor. "While I am, of course, disappointed in the result, I have no complaint to make or criticism to offer."

"I fought for the abolishment of capital punishment because my conscience dictated such action. I have always been opposed to it, and always will be."

"However, the voters of the state have declared their wishes in the matter and I intend to abide by their decision. There may be times when circumstances will cause this office to use executive clemency, but hanging is to be the order of the day. Friday, the thirteenth of December, should be a red letter day for many of those who favor capital punishment."

"I am sorry that the seating capacity in the death chamber is so limited. For we will, undoubtedly, be obliged to turn away many who have been looking forward to this event. However, we will do the best we can."

Seven men who are condemned to die on Friday, December 13, are: Mike Morgan, convicting of killing John York in Josephine County; Frank Garrison, convicted of killing Roy Perkins in Coos County; Noble Foulter, convicted of killing Louis Gilbert in Klamath County; Jack Roberts, convicted of killing Donald Stewart and George Hastings in Multnomah County, and Charles and George Humphreys, convicted of killing Eliza Griffith in Benton County.

The Humphreys brothers' case has been appealed to the supreme court on stay of execution, and unless the court decides against them before the fatal December day, they will not be included in the hangings.

THANKSGIVING CALL IS ISSUED BY TAFT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—President Taft issued his Thanksgiving proclamation. One paragraph reads: "The year now drawing to a close has been notably favorable to our fortunate land. At peace within and without, free of perturbations and calamities afflicting other peoples, rich in harvests so abundant that the overflow of our prosperity has advantaged the whole world; strong in the steadfast conservation of the heritage of our government bequeathed us by the wisdom of our fathers, and firm in the resolve to transmit that heritage unimpaired, but rather improved by good use, to our children and our children's children for all time to come, the people of the United States have abundant cause for contented gratitude."

HOME RULE IS ARGUED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Speaker Lowther of the House of Commons, today ruled Premier Asquith's motion for a reconsideration of the home rule rule of Monday out of order. He declares, however, that it is without precedent in British Parliamentary history.

Premier Asquith said a reconsideration of Monday's vote was necessary or it would be impossible to continue the home rule bill.

Andrew Bonar-Law replied. He quoted Asquith's bitter denunciation of Balfour for refusing to resign following an adverse vote against the conservative administration several years ago. He concluded: "The only honorable course for the present Liberal Cabinet is to resign or dissolve Parliament and force an election. In view of the Balkan crisis I am willing to delay pressing such a policy temporarily."

TAFT TO CONTINUE FIGHT ON COLONEL

PRESIDENT MADE SACRIFICE OF SELF IN ORDER TO BEAT ROOSEVELT

REHABILITATION OF PARTY IS URGED Chief Executive Will Do Everything Possible to Prevent Colonel From Winning in 1916

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—In the plans that are being made by President Taft and his political advisers for rehabilitation of the Republican party no compromise will be considered that looks forward to the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for president in 1916. The President and his followers are satisfied that Roosevelt threw himself into the campaign just finished first for revenge and second because he expected through the demoralization of the Republican party to bring about his own nomination in 1916 as "the only Moses who could lead the disorganized forces to the promised land."

If Mr. Roosevelt really is cherishing this ambition and expects to walk away with the Republican organization four years hence, he may as well make up his mind now to another bitter fight, perhaps as bitter as the one that has just resulted in the election of Woodrow Wilson by an overwhelming majority.

From talks that President Taft has had with Republicans since election it is apparent now that he had no illusions in regard to the outcome of the election. As a good soldier he always believed in the Republican party to the end, but there was never a moment when he really expected his own election.

The end toward which the President and his followers were striving was to prevent the election of Roosevelt and, if possible, to record a greater number of votes for the ex-President in the electoral college.

POSSE SEARCHES IN VAIN FOR BANDITS

REDDING, Cal., Nov. 9.—A rain soaked posse guided by bloodhounds is hot on the trail of two of the three robbers who last night held up the northbound Shasta Limited near Delta, and escaped to the hills with three sacks of registered mail. The third robber, whose first name is Frank, was shot and killed by James Yoakum, head brakeman on the Limited. Earlier reports stated that Brakeman Yoakum watches the train stop, and saw the position of the bandit. Investigation today showed that Yoakum was the man who engaged in a duel with the third of the outlaws.

The robbery was one of the most daring since the days of the Evans and Sonntag gang. Delta, a little village in the Sierra foothills, was the spot selected for the holdup.

The three men boarded the train shortly before 8:30 o'clock, when it stopped for water just before entering Delta. As the engine entered the town they saw their companion pitch from the cab, and then made for the foothills. The wounded bandit lived only a few minutes. Pursuit of the robbers was begun immediately. Nothing was found on the dead man that would lead to his identification. One of the mail clerks said he heard one of the robbers refer to the man in the engine as "Frank."

The inquest on the bandit's body will be held in Redding Tuesday. Several photographs of his thumb prints have been taken and this may lead to his identification. Members of the sheriff's posse admitted this afternoon that they possessed no clues, despite all night's search to the whereabouts of the bandits. A hard rain has obliterated the tracks of the fugitives, hampering the posse in following the trail.

Brakeman Yoakum, this afternoon, modestly disclaimed any credit for killing the bandit. He lives at Ashland, Oregon.

ROSEBURG MAYOR IS ORDERED TO RESIGN

SALEM, Or., Nov. 12.—Governor West today issued an ultimatum to Mayor Micelli, of Roseburg. Micelli must resign and make way for someone who will enforce the liquor laws, or the governor will see that the suits to be filed by the Roseburg Brewery & Ice Company, of which Mayor Micelli is one of the leading stockholders, out of business are vigorously prosecuted.

"Unless Mayor Micelli resigns I have instructed District Attorney Brown to bring an injunction suit against the Roseburg Brewery & Ice Company and also proceed to revoke the company's charter," declared the governor today. "If Mayor Micelli gets out of office and lets someone who will enforce the laws, there may not be need to prosecute these civil suits."

For some time District Attorney Brown has had the officials of the brewery company in court on a charge of violating the local option law. The brewery was supposed to be manufacturing nothing but near-beer, but the charge was made that real beer was being manufactured and sold there. The jury which tried the case first hung six to six. Then in the election the brewery people made a vigorous fight against the reelection of District Attorney Brown, who made a campaign issue out of his determination to fight the brewery to a finish. After Brown's reelection five directors of the brewery company went into the court and pleaded guilty to violating the local option law and paid fines aggregating over $2000.

"As the mayor is a leading stockholder of this company he should now get out of office," said the governor, "and if he will he will have to take the consequences. The confession of guilt of the directors will be good material for having the company's license revoked."

OLD CALES.

Josh and me they sent for quickly— As a neighbor sometimes will; For poor old Caleb lay a dying In his house upon the hill. Stern and selfish was the old man— Upright, proud and honest too; Wouldn't meet a man he'd happen, Deemed it was a sin to owe, Quite religious, too, was Caleb, Working but six days in seven, Yet he never shared folk's troubles Nor yet pointed them to Heaven.

Soft the breeze came thru' the window And the muslin curtains swayed; Caleb's lips were moving slowly; So I was sure she he prayed. Then I heard in broken accents "Hard to die—no sweet—to live;" Ah, how humble the petition— "Lord forgive, as we forgive!" "Oh I wish," said the remorseful— "Speaking to us and his wife, While the labored breath came slow— "Wish—I'd done—more good—in life!"

In the solemn, deepening twilight Walked we on our homeward way; Each one greatly cogitating On the happenings of the day. And Josh spoke, said he, "Samantha, Speaking of how Caleb died, His regrets were not that riches, Pleasure, power had been denied, Or that life was hard and striding, He just wished he'd done more good To the people round about him, As most anybody could."

"Life is loving, life is giving, Oh a pity 'tis," said I, "That he didn't learn this lesson Long before he came to die!" SAMANTHA, of Clackamas County

PRESIDENT FIXES CANAL RATES

PROTEST OF BRITISH IGNORED; TOLLS FOR FOREIGN SHIPS $1.20.

INCREASED TONNAGE IS EXPECTED Secretary of War Ordered to Prepare Rules for Measurement of Vessels to Assist in Carrying Out Edict

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Taft tonight issued a proclamation fixing the rates that foreign shipping shall pay for passage through the Panama Canal. The proclamation made under authority of the canal bill passed by Congress in August, establishes a merchant vessel rate of $1.20 per net ton in actual carrying capacity, with a reduction of 40 per cent ship in ballast.

The provisions of the proclamation are as follows: "1. On merchant vessels carrying passengers or cargo $1.20 per net vessel ton—each 100 cubic feet—of actual carrying capacity.

"2. On vessels in ballast without passengers or cargo, 40 per cent less than the rate of tolls for vessels with passengers or cargo.

"3. Upon naval vessels other than transports, colliers, hospital ships and supply ships, 50 per cent per displacement ton.

"4. Upon Army and Navy transports, colliers, hospital ships and supply ships $1.20 per net ton, the vessels to be measured by the same rules as are employed in determining the net tonnage of merchant vessels.

"The Secretary of War will prepare and prescribe such rules for the measurement of vessels, and such regulations as may be necessary and proper to carry this proclamation into full force and effect."

American coastwise shipping was exempted from all toll payment by Congress. It was to this provision of the act that Great Britain protested, but no reference to the protest was made in the President's proclamation.

British protest against the new tariff was made known to the President's proclamation.

SEARCHING PARTIES SEEK AGED HUNTER

SWEET HOME, Or., Nov. 9.—Searching parties are still out on Scott Mountain, a part of the divide between the Calapoopa and the Mohawk, searching for John Morgan of Brownsville, who has been lost since October 29. He was hunting with a party of friends and been unsuccessful for several days. The Tuesday morning, before the party left camp, he told the others—his son and a grandson were among the number—that he probably would not return to camp that night, as he was going to watch an old deer runway that he knew of, several miles back of the camp. He told them not to be uneasy about him unless he failed to return Wednesday night.

Thursday morning the party took up the hunt for him and sent out to nearby towns for help. Several hundred men scoured the woods the rest of the week, and some are still searching, though there is little chance to find him living.

Mr. Morgan is 70 years of age, and had heart trouble. As he has hunted all over the divide for 40 years and knew every creek and hill, it is believed that in some way he became helpless, either from accident or sickness.

His warning to his friends when he started out looks as if he had a presentiment of coming trouble.

There is an unusual amount of snow in the hills for this time of year.

EUROPEAN POWERS HOLD CONFERENCE

ARMY STAFF CONFER WITH KING AND WAR MINISTER

BALKAN KINGS MAKE PROPOSALS President of Bulgarian Chamber of Deputies in Vienna Confering With Emperor Francis Joseph

VIENNA, Nov. 12.—Continuous audiences between Emperor Francis Joseph and the Austro-Hungarian Minister of War and the general staff of the army are believed to portend a definite step soon by Austria in regard to the Balkan situation.

Dr. S. Danoff, President of the Bulgarian Chamber of Deputies, is here, bearing, it is said, proposals from King Ferdinand and King Peter connected with Serbia's desire for a port on the Adriatic Sea.

To these significant occurrences are added the arrival at Budapest of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his forthcoming visit to the German Emperor.

Dr. Danoff also is supposed to be empowered to make special agreements with Austria-Hungary concerning Balkan interests and Roumanian claims.

A local newspaper, the Sonn und Montags Zeitung, sums up the position of the Austro-Hungarian Empire in the Balkan question in the following four points: 1. Assured and unrestricted facilities for access to the Eastern markets and free commercial transit to Saloniki.

2. The integrity of Albania. 3. The protection of Austria-Hungary's political interests by the creation of local relations with Serbia and the exclusion of political antagonism. 4. Compensation for Roumania.

SOCIALIST AND MOOSE HAVE VOTE MIX-UP

An irate Bull Moose and a near-sight Socialist, voting in adjoining booths Tuesday at Gladstone, committed harri-krak! all election ethics and otherwise desecrated the sanctity of the polls, when the admiral of Teddy discovered that part of his ballot had already been given the necessary "X" and straight Socialist at that.

The election judges had been forced to improvise two extra booths to meet the demands of a slow and heavy vote. A partition was arranged about the center of an office desk, but unfortunately a space of half an inch remained between the table and the partition. Teddy's return might be a little late in materializing this year anyhow, had decided to vote the initiative measure first, and was so interested in his task that he failed to observe that about half an inch of his ballot had slipped into the sacred dominions of his neighbor. About this time the advocate of Eugene B. Debs began his march down the Socialist calendar, and had delivered about his little upstarts against capitalism, little dreaming that he was marking the wrong ballot. A Bull Moose and a Socialist are not the best of friends in the world, even under ordinary circumstances and environments, so of course in a few minutes things were done.

"What's wrong with this ballot?" angrily thundered the Bull Moose in a tone that fairly shook the ballot box.

"The interests—'Big Business'—they're robbing me of my very vote," said the Debs man at the same instant,—feeling a sort of slipping sensation, as the ballot disappeared from beneath his fingers.

"Ah," quoted the Progressive: "Thou shalt not steal."

Only prompt action of the election clerks in locating the trouble and readjusting the situation to suit the wounded voters prevented further altercation.

To assuage the wounded feelings of the Moose, he was given a nice clean white ballot and instructions to try it all over again. The dignity of the precinct hall was upset for some little time afterward and eventually all parties had a good laugh.

COUNCIL REDUCES EXCAVATION BILL

REPORT OF T. W. SULLIVAN REGARDING GRADING ON STREETS APPROVED

SAVING TO THE CITY IS ABOUT $450 All Street Inspectors Hereafter Will be Under Supervision of Council Committee

The City Council at a special meeting Thursday evening voted to accept the report of T. W. Sullivan regarding the excavations on Sixth, tenth, John Quincy Adams and Jackson Streets. The report of Mr. Sullivan reduces the amount to be paid the Oregon Engineering & Construction Company about $450. Mr. Alpts & Wilson, employed by the Oregon Engineering & Construction Company, did the work and it is supposed they will have to accept the payment suggested by the council or bring suit.

Street Inspector Burk filed a report with the council some time ago that the classifications as allowed by City Engineer Montgomery on the work on the streets should be examined. He said the contractor had been given credit for having made excavations of streets were plowed with four horse teams. A said hardpan could not be plowed. A further investigation was made by the street committee and then Mr. Sullivan was employed to furnish a report.

By a unanimous vote the council decided that all street inspectors should be under the supervision of the street committee instead of the city engineer's office. It was also urged that all money collected by the police from prisoners as bail be turned over to the proper authorities as soon as possible. The police may find a report that the council had no reflection was intended on the police force.

THE CONVICT

His heart wasn't bad; He was just a farm lad, Wanting some money to take Cynthia Bell To the circus at Oroville, So the boy fell.

He blackened his soul, For he stole, yes he stole, A set of harness; he thot he could get (Enough for the circus) Three dollars for it.

"This is burglary, In the first degree," Said the court of justice; the noble judge then Gave an untended boy "Twelve years in the 'Pen'."

Twelve years prison blight! O God is it right That one man hold such power for unmaking of men To ruin young manhood By years in the "Pen"?

When the boy gets out, Will he "face right about," And live a clean life, tho' branded a "Con."

With a start of five dollars, And the clothes he has on?

The above incident occurred in California and may be found related in Donald Lowrie's story—My Life in Prison. It is an unusual case of the punishment exceeding the crime? According to the Evening Telegram of November 9, 1912, Judge McGinn on that day sentenced William Wilson to life imprisonment for holding up and robbing a grocer of $27.

INITIATIVE FREIGHT RATE BILL DISCUSSED

Traffic officials and attorneys of the Hill and Harriman lines held a conference Wednesday in Portland to discuss the so-called Medford freight rate initiative bill passed at the general election, which prescribes rates on certain classes of goods in less than car load lots.

Nobody seems to understand just what this bill will do if enforced, though railroad men agree in declaring that one sure result will be in raising in freight rates generally throughout the state, except in the particular classes of goods named in the bill. This they say must be done by the railroads in self-preservation, owing to what they point out as the ruinously low rates on these classes of goods that the bill would put into effect.

Portland shippers, especially, they say, would be injured. The Portland Chamber of Commerce may be brought into the fight against the measure on this account.

The measure is declared by attorneys to be so vague in its wording that any one of three constructions can be placed on certain portions of it.

Whether the railroads will try to enforce the state officials from enforcing the new law has not yet been decided, and a definite course of action is not likely to be settled for several days. This, however, will probably be the course taken.

No joint action is at present contemplated by the railroads. If an injunction is asked, each railroad would bring suit separately to enjoin the railroad commission, the attorney general and probably the sheriff and district attorneys of the counties through which the road passes from enforcing the law.

As an instance of the injustice the bill would work, railroad men point out that it would force the O. W. R. & N. to carry all classes of goods between Portland and The Dalles for less than the present water rate. This would not only be ruinous to the railroad, but would force the Open River Transportation Company out of business, because it could not compete with such a rate.

From Portland to Albany, it is further pointed out, the railroad would have to carry the goods named for less than the actual cost of transportation. The result, railroad men say, would have to be higher rates on other commodities.
