JUDGE BEATTIE GIVES PAROLE TO FINUCANE

John Finucane, sentenced to serve a year in jail on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Valera Proffitt, fifteen years of age, was paroled Saturday afternoon by County Judge Beattie. The girl committed suicide after an all night automobile ride in Portland, the party consisting besides herself, of Clara Johnson, Harry Timmons and Finucane. Timmons, who also was sentenced to serve one year in jail, was paroled several days ago. The order of Judge Beattie provides that Finucane report to him once a month until the end of the sentence. The young man has obtained employment in Portland and will visit his parents in this city once a week. Miss Proffitt, after leaving the party on the morning of October 20, went to a general merchandise store and purchased carbolic acid which she drank just before reaching her home. She died in her mother's arms.

A. J. FREDERICH RETURNS FROM ALASKA

"The mining of gold in Alaska has hardly started," said A. J. Frederich son of C. W. Frederich, the hardware dealer, who arrived in this city Thursday from Circle City, Alaska. "The real gold fields are just being operated. The people of Alaska have no idea the amount of gold in that country." Mr. Frederich is employed by a hydraulic company in Circle City and will return to that place next March. The boat on which he left Circle City was almost a month making the trip to the sea on the Yukon River, and immediately after the river was closed by ice. Circle City has twenty-six voters and is one of the furthest northern points in which there is a white settlement.

TIMMONS PAROLED BY JUDGE BEATTIE

YOUNG MAN WHO WAS WITH GIRL THAT ENDED LIFE IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Harry Timmons, sentenced to serve one year in jail, on a charge of contributing to the negligence of Valera Proffitt, a fifteen-year-old girl who committed suicide at her home in this city, after an all night automobile ride in Portland with Timmons, John Finucane and Clara Johnson, also of this city, was paroled Thursday by County Judge Beattie. He had served one month of his sentence. Finucane is still in jail, but is probable that he will be paroled in a few weeks.

Judge Beattie gave as his reasons for paroling Timmons that he had been the main support of his parents and that his reputation before the trip to Portland had been good. Judge Beattie wrote to men in Timmons' former home in Kentucky and was informed that the young man had all along conducted himself properly there.

"I think he has been taught a lesson," said the judge, "and I do not believe he will repeat the offense. He has obtained a position and will go to work at once. I intended paroling Finucane after he had served a month on condition that he would go to South Dakota to live with an uncle. The arrangements, however, have not been completed and he will have to remain in jail until they are other arrangements are made."

Miss Proffitt committed suicide on the morning of October 20. The party returned to this city early in the morning and after having breakfast at a restaurant, Timmons and Miss Proffitt started to her home. She left him at the Seventh Street Park area went at once to a general merchandise store, where she purchased carbolic acid. She drank it just before entering the house and died in her mother's arms. A vial which contained the poison was found in the yard.

HUSBAND HAS AFFINITY SAYS WIFE, SUING

Alleging that her husband wrote love letters to another woman after their marriage, Anna L. Miller Saturday filed suit for a divorce from J. L. Miller. They were married November 23, 1909, in Portland, and have one child. The plaintiff says that soon after their marriage she opened a letter from the woman. The defendant said, she avers, that if the letter had been received by him before his marriage he and the writer would have been married. She also alleges that he corresponds with a woman named "Leola."

Lewis E. Atterbury filed suit for a divorce against Freda Atterbury. They were married in Honsaman, Mont., December 8, 1910. The plaintiff alleges her husband deserted her August 5, 1911.

Circuit Judge Campbell granted divorce decrees in the following cases: Margaret Moore against Frank Moore, Douglas Leisy against Isabel Leisy, Blanche A. Thorpe against William Thorpe, plaintiff's name, Blanche A. Tewksbury, being restored; J. E. Murren against Myrtle Zeala McMurren.

MRS. NEWTON IS MAYOR CANDIDATE

OREGON CITY WOMAN WILL FILE PETITIONS WITH RECORDER EARLY TODAY

JONES IS ONLY MAN TO ENTER RACE

M. D. Latourette Has Clear Field for City Treasurer—Meyer, Horton and Metzner Council Candidates.

Oregon City, historic capital of the greatest state in the northwest, home of the famous "Finner of Oregon"—Dr. John McLoughlin—has a new distinction thrust upon it. This beautiful city by the Falls of the Willamette, famed in history and story, and now famed in commercial records, is the first city in Oregon to have a woman candidate for mayor. She is Mrs. Kate L. Newton, long a resident of Oregon City, and a fighter for the rights of all such as only women can be. Mrs. Newton has had her petitions circulated. They have been signed by numerous citizens. She expects to be elected. And more than that, she says when she finds herself presiding over the council, she will find herself acting in the interest of all the people. Mrs. Newton is perfectly sincere in this political business and she has strong backing.

Opposed to Mrs. Newton is Linn E. Jones, than whom there is no finer or no better male citizen anywhere. He has served the city well in the halls of the state legislature, and, if Mrs. Newton does not defeat him, will serve the city well as mayor. Mrs. Jones is capable, affable, accommodating. The mayor of Oregon City is necessarily accommodating for his daily, weekly, monthly, yearly stipend, if placed anywhere on the ledger is placed on the left side. Mr. Jones also expects to be elected, but with all his political experience to say nothing of his political acumen, he realizes he has a race before him. The Oregon City suffragettes, while not militant, are mobilizing, contradictory as the term may seem.

The time for filing petitions closes at noon today, and after that no matter what political ambition an Oregon Cityite may have he will have to wait about a year before offering himself as a victim to the electorate. There are other candidates besides Mr. Jones and Mrs. Newton. Mortimer D. Latourette, scion of a historic banking family, of course is the only candidate for city treasurer. Mr. Latourette has served the city so well, and been so inadequately rewarded for his most efficient service, that no other man—or woman—for purely selfish reasons would dare oppose him.

George Randall, who owns a big slice of Oregon City real estate, and two of three ranches in the county near the city and Fred Metzner, who next to the owners, knows about all that is going on at the Oregon City Manufacturing Company, are candidates for councilmen in the first ward.

W. A. Long, a firelighter of renown, and Joseph D. Renner are candidates for councilman in the second ward for the long term, and Del Hart and L. P. Horton, present councilmen, are candidates for the unexpired term of F. A. Burk.

F. J. Meyer seeks reelection in Ward 3. Mr. Meyer is president of the present council and is regarded as one of the leaders. He is opposed by W. C. Greaves and Frank Betsold.

MRS. SCRIPTURE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

After a most beautiful life which has been spent entirely in Lata County, Rachel Elizabeth Scripture passed peacefully away at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Scripture has been a constant sufferer for some months and Saturday last submitted to an operation which was of such a serious nature the patient could not possibly recover.

The deceased was born at Eagle Creek, this county, February 1, 1866, being the daughter of the late Thomas C. and Mary Forrester, prominent Oregon pioneers. Her early childhood was spent on her parents' farm and she was educated in the schools of Clackamas County. On May 12, 1889, she was married to Silas F. Scripture and since that time has made Oregon City her home, where she has made a host of friends, who will sorely miss her passing away, but who will always remember her many kindnesses and her charity toward others.

About twenty-five years ago Mrs. Scripture united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and was always a faithful and devout member. She was a member of the Willamette Reverean Lodge and a circle, Women's of Woodcrest, having occupied prominent chairs in both these organizations. Mrs. Scripture's home life was ideal and she was an exceptional wife and devoted mother. The sunshine which radiated from her beautiful life will be greatly missed by her devoted husband and her two sons, Albert Merrill, and Otis Malcolm, also by her sister and brothers who survive, "they being Mrs. L. A. Winset, Montavilla; Miss Emma Forrester, Eagle Creek; J. P. Forrester, Fossil; Joseph W. Forrester, Eagle Creek; Mrs. Ella Mitchell, Clatsop; Mrs. F. Forrester, Eagle Creek; Mrs. Matilda McLoughlin, Portland. The Misses Clara and Mary Mitchell of this city, were nieces of the deceased. The funeral services will be held on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal Church, conducted by the Revs. T. H. Ford and E. F. Zimmerman. The burial will be in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery, the ritualistic services of Willamette Reverean Lodge being used at the grave.

Both lodges are respectfully requested to attend the services in a body.

COUNCIL BY VOTE OF FOUR TO THREE DECLINES TO NAME LOCATION

MOUNT HOOD FRANCHISE REVOKED

Portland Railway, Light & Power Company Will be Compelled to Provide Yard in City Limits

At a meeting of the city council Monday evening, several members got into a heated discussion over sections of the proposed freight franchise for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. The main question at issue is the location of the freight yards, which the council has decided the railroad must provide. The proposed franchise provides that its location should be north of Fourteenth Street among several members of the council, among them being Councilmen Holman and Albright, held that as the company at present had a freight shed at the lower end of Main Street it was unfair for the council to demand that they expend more money for a yard and name the location. Councilman Toose, who was supported by Councilmen Beard and Horton, declared himself as being surprised that any member of the council should even consider the cost to the company. He said that he was working for the people the best way he could, and that the railroad company had the best legal talent to look after its affairs. He said that he believed the councilmen should look after the city affairs and the interests of the people, and let the railway company look after its own affairs. He said that for a long time there had been jealousy between persons who resided or had business interests in one part of the city as against those of another. This, he said, retarded the growth of the city. It was his aim, he said, that all the interests should receive his support. He declared that the council had granted numerous concessions to the railway company in the lower end of the city, and that he felt that in all fairness, if that was to be a freight yard it should be in the north end of the city.

Councilman Albright demanded that Mr. Toose name the concessions that had been granted the railway company in the lower end of the city. Councilman Toose said that when the railway company began building the wall, a representative of that company came to the committee and said that while they wished to build an adequate wall, if they did it would hurt the manufacturing interests there. For this reason, he said, the committee allowed them to build the wall lower than had been contemplated. This he said was a concession.

Councilman Holman said that he was in favor of a freight yard but that he did not think it fair to the company that it be required to locate the yard at a given point. He said that at the same time it was no direct benefit to the people. It would give property owners, he said, a chance to raise the prices of their property. He said that he was not connected with the company or interested in its affairs personally, but believed that it was for the best interests of all that it be given.

The discussion was ended by the passing of a motion, that Section 7 of the proposed franchise read so as to require the railway company to have a freight yard other than the freight house which it has at present. No location was stipulated in the franchise.

A motion which was made by Councilman Horton, which designated the location be north of Fourteenth Street, was defeated 4 to 3. Councilmen Horton, Toose, and Beard voted for the motion, and Councilmen Albright, Holman, Pope and Roake voted against it.

The franchise which has been amended by the council will be prepared and a copy will be given to each member and to the railway company. The franchise will come before the council for final reading at a special meeting Wednesday evening.

Upon motion by Councilman Toose, the city recorder was instructed to prepare an ordinance revoking the franchise of the Mount Hood Railway Company.

Mr. Toose said that the franchise was one of value, and that the time in which the work was to be commenced had passed and that if the present owners of the franchise did not care to do anything it should be revoked. Other companies, he said, might desire franchises and the council would be unable to grant them. The motion carried without a dissenting vote.

The committee which was appointed to investigate a saloon keeper, who is alleged to have rented a room to young men and a woman, was not ready to report. Mr. Toose, who was chairman of the committee, said that the committee believed that it was a matter which the entire council should consider. Mayor Dimick called a special meeting for Wednesday evening, at which the complaint will be acted upon.

A motion was passed that the city engineer be instructed to see that the paving on Main Street be laid so as to eliminate the curve which is in the street at present between the Oregon Commission Company's building and Frank Busch's store.

DIVORCE DEFENDANT IS CALLED BIGAMIST

A modest divorce suit filed here October 2, 1912, in which Ida B. Cawley sued Charles A. Cawley, has assumed embarrassing proportions for the defendant, for Mrs. Cawley has written to County Judge Beattie a letter from Forest Grove, in which she says she and Charles A. Cawley were married in November, 1911. Cawley, she says, represented to her that his wife was dead when they were married, and that he wished her to help him raise his four motherless children. Shortly afterwards she became suspicious and her husband said he would go and he did go, according to Mrs. Cawley's letter.

A short time ago she saw a notice of the divorce suit being filed by wife No. 1, and wrote to investigate. Her letter gives names of all the children in the case that correspond, so it is believed to be the same man.

The time for filing petitions closes at noon today, and after that no matter what political ambition an Oregon Cityite may have he will have to wait about a year before offering himself as a victim to the electorate. There are other candidates besides Mr. Jones and Mrs. Newton. Mortimer D. Latourette, scion of a historic banking family, of course is the only candidate for city treasurer. Mr. Latourette has served the city so well, and been so inadequately rewarded for his most efficient service, that no other man—or woman—for purely selfish reasons would dare oppose him.

George Randall, who owns a big slice of Oregon City real estate, and two of three ranches in the county near the city and Fred Metzner, who next to the owners, knows about all that is going on at the Oregon City Manufacturing Company, are candidates for councilmen in the first ward.

W. A. Long, a firelighter of renown, and Joseph D. Renner are candidates for councilman in the second ward for the long term, and Del Hart and L. P. Horton, present councilmen, are candidates for the unexpired term of F. A. Burk.

F. J. Meyer seeks reelection in Ward 3. Mr. Meyer is president of the present council and is regarded as one of the leaders. He is opposed by W. C. Greaves and Frank Betsold.

Alleging that her husband deserted her, Mollie C. Quinlan filed suit Thursday for a divorce from Edgar A. Quinlan. They were married April 20, 1907. Sutherland, alleged November 7, 1904, in Lake Charles, La. The plaintiff alleges that his wife left him October 10, 1911.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schoenborn, Wednesday evening, when Miss Hazel Glinter, sister of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Glinter, of Sublet, became the bride of Frances McGahney, of this city. Only the immediate relatives were present at the ceremony.

The bride was handsomely gowned in Japanese chiffon over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of Hildes roses. The bride and groom entered the room as Miss Lulu McGahney, sister of the groom, sang "For Love's Sweet Sake." The ring ceremony was performed, Rev. J. R. Landsborough officiating. SCHOOL LEVY FOR GLADSTONE 7 MILLS

The taxpayers of Gladstone Wednesday evening voted for levying a school tax of seven mills for the coming year, which is an increase of four mills over the levy of last year. Two rooms in the building will be fitted for assembly purposes, which is largely the cause of the increase in the levy. The vote was unanimous.
