NEW MACHINE IS BADLY SMASHED

Young Driver is not Hurt, but Telephone Pole Will Need, at Least, New Coat of Paint

C. H. Miller, of the Miller-Parker Company, had a narrow escape from serious injury and perhaps death, and a brand new Overland touring car was badly shattered late Sunday afternoon on the road between Oregon City and Parkersburg.

Mr. Miller was driving the car to Clackamas station about 20 miles an hour on the straightaway stretch south of the St. Agnes Baby Home, when he espied a runaway horse approaching him. The animal did not heed himself from the shafts and had been torn loose from its buggy in its mad flight, and was swinging from side to side of the road.

M. D.'S CHAUFFEUR FINED FOR SPEEDING

Edward Reed, chauffeur for Dr. A. E. Beckey, a specialist of Portland, was fined $25 Tuesday afternoon by Recorder Stipp for auto speeding. The young man came to this city to take several friends riding. He went through Main Street at a rapid rate of speed, Chief of Police Shaw declaring at least 25 miles an hour, and soon found himself under arrest. He was taken at once to the recorder's court where he entered a plea of not guilty.

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets.

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money.

SAINT TO BE HONORED BY ERIN'S SONS

A fine program has been prepared for the St. Patrick's day musical, which will be presented in McLoughlin Hall Saturday evening. Much time has been spent by the committee in charge of the entertainment in preparing the program and all good sons of Erin will show their loyalty to the Emerald Isle by attending. The program will be as follows:

Piano Trio, Agut Hains, Eava McAnulty, Viola McAnulty; Vocal Solo, Everett Downey; Piano Solo, Joseph Gadske; Vocal Duet, Frank Bruce, Everett Cross; Piano Solo, Sate Chancy; Vocal Solo, Mrs. Thomas Burke; Instrumental Duet, The Misses Terford; Vocal Solo, Miss Frank Fredericks; Clarinet Solo, Frank Champion, accompanied by Miss Anna McMillan; Vocal Duet, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke; Address, Mr. John P. O'Brien, of Portland; Closing Song, Oregon City High School Glee Club.

MOLALLA SEEKS TO BE MADE CITY

Molalla probably will make application in a few weeks to be incorporated as a city of the fourth class. A move to have the place incorporated was halted some time ago on the advice of lawyers. It is the desire of many of the residents to have control of local conditions. Molalla is one of the thirteenth communities in the county and the indications are that it will have a remarkable growth in the near future.

MRS. NORMILE SEEKS TO HAVE DECREE GRANTED 20 YEARS AGO, SET ASIDE

EX-SEATTLE MAYOR LAWYER IN CASE

Plaintiff and Defendant Have Remarried Since Divorce Was Granted—He is Worth Quarter Million

Hiram Gill, former mayor of Seattle, was counsel for defendant Tuesday in a suit to set aside a divorce granted 20 years ago.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant left her in Leadville, Col., 20 years ago to Seattle, promising to send for her and her child when he became financially able. She avers that soon after he filed suit for divorce, he purposely and fraudulently sent a copy of the paper containing the summons to a wrong address.

The article to which I refer, is that concerning the hazing of Rhenhardt Kell, of New Era. To state matters plainly, that article is a lie from start to end. There are, however, two more threads of truth in it.

On Tuesday, during the morning intermission, Rhenhardt did receive a birthday spanking, which, contrary to the above-mentioned article, was simply the same kind of a spanking we have all undergone in former years, if our schoolmates remembered and we were caught.

The boys' ages ranged from seven to fifteen years, the majority being small boys. No part of the boy's clothing was removed, he was not beaten by anything but the open hands of the boys, nor was he left exhausted on the cold ground.

Rhenhardt studied and played just as hard that day and the next, as he always did, and it was not till Thursday that his older sister, who witnessed the "hazing," and who certainly would have intervened, had been notified, said that the boys were the cause of it.

We are all sorry to hear that Rhenhardt has a slight attack of pneumonia, for he is well liked by all, but as to the boys being the cause of his sickness, it is simply ridiculous. As to being black and blue from head to foot, an examination would prove that if there are any black spots to be found, soap and water would readily remove them.

WIFE, SING, SAYS HUSBAND DRINKS

Declaring that her husband is addicted to drinking intoxicating beverages and that he abandoned her November 28, 1911, Florence S. McRoberts Wednesday filed suit for a divorce from Robert F. McRoberts. They were married in Canyon City, January 15, 1912. Irene Welch, through Attorneys Cross & Hammond, asks a decree from George Welch, equity being alleged. They were married in Oregon City April 15, 1912. The plaintiff avers that her husband spent money which she saved before her marriage for intoxicating beverages, and when the money was gone deserted her. They were married in Glenn's Ferry, Idaho, and have three children. The plaintiff asks the custody of them.

"HE THREW MUSH IN MY FACE," SAYS WIFE

Alleging that her husband humiliated her by throwing dishes of potatoes and mush in her face and also choked her, Ida R. Spires, through Attorneys Cross & Hammond, filed suit Tuesday for a divorce from Edwin Spires. They were married in Battle Ground, Wash., October 18, 1892, and have eight children. They lived at Albany, Or., for several years and their home is now at Logan, Clackamas County. The plaintiff avers that several months ago her husband kicked her, breaking two ribs, and that she was under the care of a physician for several weeks. She says he frequently choked her.

EIGHT DECREES OF DIVORCE GRANTED

Circuit Judge Campbell has granted decrees of divorce in the following cases: Josephine Hayes against F. J. Hayes, plaintiff awarded care of two children; Blanch Blount against Walter H. Blount, plaintiff awarded custody of child; Kathryn Martin Smith against Chester J. Smith; Lillian A. Hamilton against Edmund E. Hamilton, plaintiff's maiden name, Lillian A. Broughton, restored; Lorena Culver against Eugene M. Culver, plaintiff awarded custody of three children; Kate M. Ellis against Henry O. Ellis; Charles H. Isakson against Marguerite Isakson, and Eva R. Hart against P. F. Hart, plaintiff being awarded the custody of their children and $10 a month alimony.

Everybody is busy farming during the good weather. Mrs. John Githens spent a few days visiting her mother in Oregon City. Mrs. Mary Heiple left for Salem Sunday, where her brother is ill. Her granddaughter, Mamie Heiple, accompanied her to Molalla.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sparks were Estacada visitors Friday evening. Potatoes are very cheap in this vicinity. Edna Heiple bought 19,000 bushels for Mr. McLean for $100 one day last week.

RICH CONTRACTOR'S DIVORCE STANDS

Circuit Judge Campbell Wednesday dismissed the petition of the defendant to have a divorce decree granted 20 years ago set aside in the case of Mary Normile against Simon Normile, a wealthy contractor of Seattle. Both plaintiff and defendant married after the decree was granted, and had the plaintiff sue her suit for annulment of the decree she would have been legally declared a bigamist.

WITNESSES TELL STATE BOARD THAT DR. NORRIS IS FAITHFUL

Evidence was heard by a committee of the Oregon State Board of Health at the county court house Thursday afternoon which was entirely favorable to Dr. J. W. Norris, the county health officer. Dr. Norris was accused by Rev. James Spies of willful violation of the state health law in connection with the recent epidemic of scarlet fever at Clackamas Station. The prosecution endeavored to show that the physician did not attend to his duties and that the diseases that were reported to him. No evidence was introduced which showed that Dr. Norris was guilty of willful neglect and that he had been careless. He received the hearty endorsement of all the Oregon City physicians and Judge Beattie stated that if anything the Doctor was too strict with the quarantine laws instead of being too lenient as was stated by the prosecution.

When asked by Dr. Norris' attorney, C. D. Latourette, if he had received any criticisms of Dr. Norris, Judge Beattie said:

"I have received probably a dozen criticisms of the county health officer from people over the county, but they were all to the effect that he was too severe in the matter of quarantines. I have not known of any persons complaining to me that Dr. Norris was too lenient."

Dr. H. S. Mount and Dr. M. C. Strickland testified that Dr. Norris was faithful and competent and further that they had never known him to be guilty of any willful neglect of duty.

Among the witnesses introduced by the prosecution were Albert Notz, Alex. Robinson and J. C. Webb. Mr. Notz and Mr. Robinson had children who were ill with fever. Mr. Robinson is principal of the Clackamas school. Mr. Webb stated that the two Robinson children had returned to school before they should have done so.

Dr. Norris stated that he had always tried to do his duty to the best of his ability and believed that he had done so far as it was possible for him to do in a territory where the cases of contagious diseases and that he was forced to rely upon the report furnished him by physicians in charge of the cases. He stated that all places where he had found such diseases were fumigated by the health officer or his deputies. He stated that he had always kept the spirit of the law when attending patients having contagious diseases.

After all the testimony had been given Dr. Calvin S. White, speaking for himself and the other members of the State Board of Health, Dr. Pierce, said that the evidence that had been received would be presented to the State Board of Health at its regular quarterly meeting at the end of the present month. A report of their findings will be made public about March 28. Sievers & Sievers represented Rev. James Spies.

The following is a copy of a letter which was introduced by the defendant:

"In behalf of Dr. Norris and his work as health officer of Clackamas County, we, the undersigned practicing physicians of this county, wish to state our approval of Dr. Norris' conscientious and faithful work as health officer.

"Every physician is familiar with the unfavorable and undesirable duties of the health officer and quarantine man, for, however broad and liberal minded a man may be in other matters, he is invariably against you when he and his family are placed under quarantine and can never be relied upon to aid the health officer in maintaining strict quarantine.

"Dr. Norris has not only done his duty faithfully, working harder than his physical condition would warrant, but he does the work for less than one half the remuneration that he is entitled to, in fact it would be difficult to procure another that would be as competent and do the work that Dr. Norris does for twice the money he gets out of it, and we, as practicing physicians of this community, who are in contact with Dr. Norris almost daily in contagious diseases that we encounter, have found him just in his dealings with all; strict in his endeavors to prevent the spread of contagion; careful and conscientious in the expenditure of county funds, but generous to those cases that are worthy and need assistance. We believe it would be difficult to find a competent man that would give the time and consideration to the work that Dr. Norris does.

Signed—M. C. Strickland, C. H. Meissner, W. E. Hemstead, H. S. Mount, Guy Mount, H. C. Schultz, C. A. Stuart."

ESTACADA.

In the early part of the session of the legislature the Clackamas delegation received a petition signed by 825 of the heaviest taxpayers of Clackamas County asking that the school superintendent's salary be increased from $1,000 per annum to $1,500. Mr. Schnoerr then introduced the bill. The educational board of Clackamas County agreed with the delegation that if this increase was made they would dispense with the services of one of the school supervisors. There are three supervisors now and the three cost the county $3,800 per annum, or about $1,265 each per annum. Conservatively put, one less supervisor will save the county $1,250. Mr. Gary's salary increase is $600. He is required to spend $4 each week visiting rural schools from September 1st to June 30th, and is allowed $100 extra traveling expenses. The bill allows him a $60 a month deputy, instead of a $40 a month deputy, so that the increased cost of his office totals $940 per annum. $1,250, the saving on supervisor, less $940 shows that there is a net saving under the Gary bill of $310 per annum to the taxpayers.

There has been so much criticism offered promiscuously against any salary bill that I think that the people of Clackamas County are entitled to know that under this arrangement they will have $310 less to pay for their educational department than under the old system.

Every member of the Clackamas delegation in both house and senate voted to repeal the school superintendent law. I am not, including Malarkey and Lofgren in the delegation in this matter.

3 DECREES GRANTED.

Circuit Judge Campbell Thursday granted Louisa Hamilton a decree of divorce from William Hamilton, the plaintiff's maiden name, Louisa Jacobson, being restored. Barney W. Grandahl was awarded a decree from Anna Grandahl. Flora Thomson Eiders was given a decree from Arthur E. Eiders.

KELSO

A good program was given by the literary and debating society last week. Next Saturday evening there will be a question box, together with a literary and musical program.

While at play in the school yard, Glenn Loundree, fell and broke his collar bone. He is rapidly improving under the care of Dr. Barendrick and will soon be back to school.

An agreeable birthday surprise party was tendered Mrs. Frank Patterson last Friday evening by a number of neighbors and friends.

JUSTICE SAMSON CRITICALLY ILL

W. W. H. Samson, justice of the peace, is in a critical condition at his home on Main Street. Dr. H. S. Mount announced Wednesday that his patient was suffering from heart trouble and the results of a paralytic stroke several months ago. Mr. Samson has been justice of the peace several years, and probably has officiated at more weddings than any other man in the state. Many of the couples have come from Portland, Oregon City having been long recognized as the Gretna Green of the state.

RAILWAY TO BE BIG AID TO OREGON CITY

That the celebration next Saturday of the opening of the new $250,000 bridge at Salem is of more than special interest to residents of Oregon City is shown by the announcements of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway Company of the immediate construction of four other great steel bridges in territory that will be available to business men of this city. The rivers spanned are the Willamette, at a point just north of Canby, where $50,000 will be expended; it will cost $27,000 to cross the Tualatin between Oswego and Canby; $113,000 is to be paid for bridging the Molalla and $35,000 for the new structure over the Pudding River at a point near Hubbard. All of these activities are vital to Oregon City for the reason that they open up a tremendous stretch of thickly populated territory on the west side of the Willamette, and those people can reach Oregon City business men a little more handily than they can get to any other town.

The new bridge at Salem will unite the east and west side near the center of the valley and is to be used by the main line of the P. E. & E., which passes through West Oregon City.

The Salem Board of Trade has appointed committees and is arranging to give the event proper recognition next Saturday, when all the valley are invited to become guests of the city. There will be music and parades, a banquet to President Strickland, D. W. Campbell of the Southern Pacific, and other railway officials. The city is being decorated and the glad hand will be outstretched for greeting all visitors. A feature of the parades will be the large floats that will be seen. These will represent all known methods of transportation, from ox teams to interurban electric cars.

An item of interest to Oregon City and the Molalla Valley concerns the completion of the P. E. & E. grade from Canby to Molalla. Flags & Standifer, the contractors, are just adding the finishing touches to that roadbed, and it is expected that rails will be immediately put down.

AUTO CLUB URGES TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

If the plans of the Clackamas County Automobile Club are carried out, Oregon City will have a new traffic ordinance. At the annual meeting of the club held in the Commercial Club parlors Tuesday night, M. D. Latourette, John F. Risley and W. R. Logus were appointed a committee to draft an ordinance for submission to the city council.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Dr. H. S. Mount. First Vice-President—John F. Risley. Second Vice-President—H. G. Starkweather. Secretary—John Busch. Treasurer—M. D. Latourette. Directors for two years—E. J. Daulton, William Sheahan, H. S. Moody, R. T. McEain, A. B. Buckles. The following committees were named:

Social runs—M. D. Latourette, William R. Logus, Charles W. Risley. Good Roads—H. G. Starkweather, J. T. Apperson, Fred Hagdale, L. D. Walker, H. T. McEain. Finance—T. W. Sullivan, C. Schuebel. Emblem—M. E. Park, R. C. Parker. President Mount reported that the county court had decided not to call a general meeting of the road supervisors this year, because of insufficient funds for the construction of new roads.

The annual banquet was referred to the committee on social runs, with power to act. The committee will probably arrange for the affair to be held at the Portland Automobile Club House in the near future.

FIRST EXALTED RULER OF LOCAL LODGE ELECTED TO SECOND TERM

Scores of Members From all Parts of County Crowd Building—Sheahan Elected Trustee

Henry O'Malley, who is just rounding out his first term as Exalted Ruler of Oregon City Lodge No. 1189, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was Friday night elected to succeed himself, being the first Exalted Ruler of the local lodge to be honored by a second term. Other officers chosen were:

Esteemed Leading Knight—William R. Logus. Esteemed Loyal Knight—Tom P. Raudall. Esteemed Loyal Knight E. C. Warren. Secretary—E. J. Noble. Treasurer—William B. Howell. Trustee—H. W. Streibig. Trustee—William Sheahan. Representative to Grand Lodge—Henry O'Malley.

Friday was a Red Letter day in Elkhorn, great interest being taken in the annual election. Scores of the antlered herd arrived in the afternoon from all sections of Clackamas County, Oregon City Lodge having a large membership outside of the limits of Oregon City. There were more than 300 Elks present at the meeting, which lasted until a late hour. Exalted Ruler O'Malley will attend the Grand Lodge of Elks at Rochester, N. Y., as the representative of his lodge.

Reputation For Fair Dealing Worth A Fortune

By John P. Fallon

Henry Ward Beecher once said, "A reputation for fair dealing is itself a fortune."

The merchant who is in business to stay knows that fair dealing and absolutely truthful advertising is the only way to get customers and keep them.

These are the essentials of success. They are the principles by which reliable merchants who advertise in THE MORNING ENTERPRISE do business.

You can rely upon the advertisements which appear in this paper every morning. The merchants who pay for these announcements cannot afford to risk their reputations. They know it pays them to advertise only so long as they continue to give their customers superior merchandise at honest prices and provide efficient store service.

Read the advertisements in THE MORNING ENTERPRISE closely and constantly every morning for the latest news from Oregon City's most reliable mercantile establishments.

Land Value Almost Doubled

WHEN a Lee county, Illinois, farmer bought a run down 400-acre farm, his neighbors thought he had made a bad bargain. After three years' soil treatment by scientific methods, he raised more than eighty bushels of corn to the acre on land that produced less than thirty bushels the first year he farmed it.

It is no longer unusual for us to get reports from farmers who have been using manure spreaders consistently for periods ranging from three to five years, to the effect that their land is regularly raising so much more produce that the value of the land is almost doubled.

I H C Manure Spreaders

are made in various styles and sizes to meet all conditions. The low machines are not too low to be hauled, loaded, through deep mud or snow. I H C spreaders are made with trussed steel frames in wide, medium and narrow styles; all of guaranteed capacity. There are both return and endless aprons. In short, there is an I H C spreader built to meet your conditions and made to spread manure, straw, lime, or ashes as required.

I H C spreaders will spread manure evenly on the level, going up hill, or down. The wheel rims are wide and equipped with Z-shaped lugs, which provide ample tractive power. The rear axle is located well under the body and carries most of the load. The apron moves on large rollers. The beater drive is positive, but the chain wears only one side.
