

Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary.

Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we are then very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the doctors are very much pleased.

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

If the first box fails to benefit, the price is returned. Ask your druggist. A box of 25 doses costs only 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

EXPERT FAVORS HARD SURFACE

T. W. SULLIVAN SAYS IT WOULD BE BEST PAVEMENT FOR SEVENTH

BRICK MIGHT BE USED IN CENTER

Streets of Seattle and Portland Prove That City Could Not Make Mistake on Recommendation

T. W. Sullivan, chief engineer of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, said Saturday that hard-surface upon Seventh Street would prove satisfactory in every way. Mr. Sullivan said that on the steep portions of the street a strip of brick could be laid in the middle of the thoroughfare so as to give a good footing for horses. On either side of this a smoother surface could be put down. Bricks are obtainable that would give a good footing for horses and insure them from slipping. The bricks are durable.

Mr. Sullivan further stated: "There is absolutely no question that hard-surface can be laid upon Seventh Street, even the steepest portions, and prove perfectly satisfactory. Beveled bricks can be placed on the hillsides and horses will have a secure footing."

"This type of pavement has been tried in other cities on hills with very steep grades and has proved perfectly satisfactory."

Mr. Sullivan mentioned the streets of Seattle as an example. Mr. Sullivan has spent much time in investigating pavements and his remarks should carry weight.

CROSS A NEAR GREAT FIGHTER

Recent Bout With Mandot Proves His Ability.

LEACH HAS ONE BIG DEFECT

Nervous Temperament Affects His Accuracy—New York Lightweight In Line For Championship Honors—He Will Meet Rivers Again.

Again Leach Cross, the New York lightweight, looks large upon the pugilistic horizon, this time through eliminating Joe Mandot from the front ranks of the lightweight brigade. Mandot was ranked right next to Ritchie Rivers and Volgaist. He had won and lost from Rivers, beaten Volgaist and outpointed Ritchie in eight of the ten rounds they fought, although Ritchie's strong blind gave him the victory, as he had Mandot nearly out at the end.

LEACH CROSS, THE HARD HITTING LIGHTWEIGHT

Besides this showing against the top notchers, Mandot had beaten nearly every good second rate in the class.

Cross' sensational victory once more calls attention to the narrow margin by which the New York lightweight missed being a great fighter. The one thing that prevents Cross from being a champion is his nervous temperament.

There is no question as to his game, but his high strung nervous system mitigates against his success. But for this Cross would be an accurate biter. And if he did not miss so often none could stand before him for long.

The reason Cross misses can be traced directly to his nerves. When he starts a blow his cautious nature makes him center his attention on escaping the counter. For this reason he unconsciously neglects to step in quite far enough, and he falls short by an inch or two. Nothing is so demoralizing to a boxer as missing a swing that carries full strength, and after Cross has missed a number he naturally loses strength and confidence.

Despite a certain tendency to ignore the rules whenever he thinks he can do so with safety, Cross is not without his good qualities. He never boasts. He is quick to acknowledge the ability of his rivals. He never seeks to advertise himself by directing challenges to the leading lightweights and then bidding behind impossible conditions. He never attempts to pose as anything but what he is. He is always ready to make a match with any man of his weight and is not given to haggling over an ounce or two, although he himself can make the lightweight limit.

He is one of the most interesting boxers in the ring and never fails to keep the spectators of his bouts on edge from first to last. Altogether, despite his faults, Cross deserves to be more popular than he is.

Now that Cross has distinguished himself by his sensational victory over Mandot his sentimental encounter with Joe Rivers in New York April 7 will be viewed with even more interest than their first battle. There was little to choose between the pair before, although Rivers had a shade in his favor. But Cross is quick to learn from his opponents and usually does much better on the second attempt. Besides, his recent victory is sure to add greatly to his confidence, and when Cross is confident his battle is half won.

ALL FOOL'S DAY HAS MANY VICTIMS

COLONEL C. H. DYE EATS PAPER PIE AT LUNCHEON OF LIVE WIRES

T. J. GARY FINDS 'PURSE' ON STREET

Justice of Peace Sievers and Constable Frost Wait Two Hours for Couple That Never Arrives

Did you take any wooden nickels Tuesday? No. Well somebody did. T. J. Gary, superintendent of county schools, picked up a purse which had a string tied to it at the entrance to the courthouse. Sheriff Mass also picked up the same purse. County Justice Beattie saw it, and started to pick it up, but suddenly recalled that he had a pocket full of 25¢ pieces and did not need any more coin of the realm. Others who "found the purse" were W. L. Mulvey, county clerk, J. E. Jack, county assessor and William M. Stone, city attorney.

It was the greatest April Fool day known in Oregon City. To use the vernacular of the streets, almost everybody "bit" on something. Even such a staid citizen as Colonel C. H. Dye tried to eat a paper pie at the luncheon of the Live Wires. Floods, rumors of floods, wars, pestilences, tornadoes, etc., had so engrossed the attention of Oregon City folk that they forgot all about All Fool's Day. Justice of the Peace Sievers was almost called upon to perform his second marriage ceremony. He was at his desk pondering a knotty legal problem when the telephone bell rang. He put the receiver to his ear.

"That you Judge Sievers?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"I want to be married right off. I am Miss Smith. Will be right over with the man who is to become my husband. Do you know how to marry a couple?"

Inasmuch as Justice of the Peace Sievers has about the finest marriage ceremony of any justice of the peace Oregon City has ever had he replied cheerily that he knew how to perform a marriage ceremony.

"Then we will start right now," said the person at the other end of the line. "Have you anyone there who could act as best man? He must be dressed pretty well."

The justice of the peace said he could provide a best man and Constable Frost immediately began sprucing up. After the justice of the peace and constable had waited two hours for the couple someone called their attention to it being All Fool's Day.

It is unnecessary to say that Justice Beattie was notified about a dozen times that he had been appointed United States Marshal, that Gilbert L. Hodges was informed several times he had been appointed United States District Attorney, that every contentant for the Huntley and Morning Enterprise automobile was informed more than once that he had won the big car and that the head of the state board of health had sent word to the Oregon City water was the purest in the state. Councilman Albright was notified that all roller skates in the city had been thrown into the river, and Health Officer Norris was told that smallpox and typhoid fever were merely myths.

Grant B. Dimick was somewhat skeptical when informed that the big span of the Clackamas Southern at Newell Creek Canyon was ablaze, and H. E. Cross almost had nervous prostration when told over the telephone that all the big leagues had given waivers on him as a baseball catcher. George C. Brownell almost went without his dinner. A mischievous person informed him that he had brought common, ordinary cow's milk in his flask to the city, instead of the rich, mountain goat's milk which he drinks daily at noon. Although Harry Greaves received 10 applications for membership into the Knights of the Maccabees, he did not know late last night whether a single one of them was genuine.

Stating that he was Chief of Police Shaw, Joseph Sheahan, Oregon City High School student, called upon Frank Busch, Sr., over the telephone and had been arrested for speeding Monday evening and was ordered to appear before Recorder Stipp Tuesday morning. Mr. Busch hastily summoned his son, from whom he demanded an explanation. Edward denied the charge, but nevertheless made hasty preparations to go up town and defend himself. Sheahan was requested to appear in behalf of the defendant. Young Busch next called upon Dr. H. S. Mount, president of the Clackamas County Automobile Club, and stated that he was innocent of the charge which had been brought against him and requested the automobile club to stand behind him. Busch, in company with his brother Jack and Sheahan, went to the Recorder's office. Mr. and Mrs. Busch were on the way to the office to appear in their son's behalf. After waiting in the office for some time, Jack Busch meekly asked Judge Stipp if he wished to see his brother. Young Sheahan fled and the joke was over.

Thousands of Women

Have Been Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

There is no doubt about this fact. Why? during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife striking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—

"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time, had dull headaches, not much appetite, and also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—

"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I also heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sarsaparilla. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glor Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GEORGE STOVALL, MANAGER OF THE BROWNS

In June last season he earned the reputation of being "one of the players." He wants to retain that position among his charges, but at the same time he will command respect and "the best efforts from the Browns."

"Work hard and hustle" is the motto printed at the bottom of the list of rules that was handed to each player at the training camp.

Smoking in uniform, of course, is for hidden. Stovall also insists that no player shall smoke before he has had his breakfast.

The "lid" hasn't been clamped on camp shooting. He does not mind the men playing poker, but he has placed a fifty cent limit on the contests. A rule that is aimed at a number of "bushers," who come up annually and whose dress often outruns them as residents of first class hotels, is the one which requires the wearing of white collars and boiled shirts in the lobbies and cafes of the hostilities.
