BALANCED ROCK MENACE TO LIFE

HUGE Boulder Overhanging S. P. Trackers Now So Loose It Can Be Shaken

RAILROAD COMPANY IS NOTIFIED

Other Danger Spots Along Face of Bluffs Also Marked, and Removal of Threatening Masses Expected

Residents living on the bluff near the upper portion of Ninth street, and directly beneath the bluff at that street, have become somewhat alarmed over the report that several huge boulders at the edge of the bluff have become loosened and are about to fall from their resting place to the railroad track and roadway below.

PRECINCT LINES IN ODD TANGLE

LEGISLATION OF LAST SESSION MAKES LEGAL VOTING AN IMPOSSIBILITY

REGISTRATION PROVISIONS CONFLICT

County Officials in Quandary, and no Relief Comes from Attorney General When Way Out of Trouble Asked

Whether or not citizens of Clackamas county will be able to vote legally before next year is a question that is worrying County Clerk Mulvey and other officials these days.

The great boulder near the end of Ninth street is about 12 feet square on its outer face, and is reported by residents of the neighborhood to be so delicately balanced on the ends of the boulder that it can be rocked by the pressure of a foot.

It is supposed that the boulders, which are really sections of the face of the bluff, have been loosened by the action of water in the cleavages of the rock wall, and that their further loosening has been brought about by the vibrations from the heavy trains now hauled over the main line of the Southern Pacific.

FISHERMEN WIN ROOM ON RIVER

MAJ. MCINDOE ORDERS DREDGE CREWS NOT TO INTERFERE WITH GILLNETTERS

COMMERCIAL CLUB GAINS RELIEF

Prompt and Courteous Reply is Made by Federal Engineer to Request of Oregon City Salmon Catchers

Major J. F. McIndoe, in charge of the government dredging work on the Willamette, has replied to the letter sent him by the Oregon City Commercial club in behalf of gillnet fishermen, and has notified President B. T. McHain, of the club, that he has issued instructions to the dredgers to lower all cables to the bottom of the river at night time, and in other ways to refrain from any work that will interfere with fishing during the 30 day season open to local commercial fishermen.

Mr. McHain forwarded to Major McIndoe a petition signed by nearly 50 of the local fishermen, in which they set forth their hopes that the federal government would change their river improvement plans so that there would be no interruption to fishing during the season.

"Replying to your letter of April 30, 1913, enclosing petition of Harry Headrick and others requesting that the work of deepening the channel of the Willamette river in the vicinity of Clackamas Rapids be carried on with as little obstruction as possible to the salmon fishery, I beg to advise you that the masters of each of the two government dredges now at work have received instructions to avoid so far as may be practicable the placing of lines that will interfere with the nets of the fishermen. At night time, when I understand the most of the net fishing is carried on, the lines will be dropped to the bottom of the river, and every effort made to prevent damage to fishing boats or nets.

"You can inform the petitioners that the necessity for keeping the river as far as possible unobstructed during the progress of this work of deepening the channel between Oregon City and Portland is fully recognized by this office and any complaints of carelessness in this respect addressed to me will receive prompt attention."

Replying to the letter, Mr. McHain sent the following reply to the major: "You are of the 2nd of May at hand and we thank you for the attention given ours of the 30th April and the instructions issued to the masters of the two dredges now at work."

"Assuring you that your action will be greatly appreciated by all interested, and again thanking you, remain,

LOOT OF DRAKE EAGERLY SOUGHT

I. W. RIVERS, WILLAMETTE FARMER, SURE HE HAS CLUE TO PRECIOUS STONES

HAS ALREADY FOUND MARKED CAVE

Prophecy of Gypsy Fortune Teller Party Fulfilled, and all Needed Now is Financial Aid for Final Expedition

I. W. Rivers, a prominent Willamette rancher, declares that he has received knowledge and inspiration from mysterious sources which have told him of the exact location of the famous treasures buried by Admiral Francis Drake, who roved the Pacific as a pirate several centuries ago. Mr. Rivers states that several years ago he and his wife visited a Gypsy fortune teller, and that she informed both of them that Mr. Rivers was to find the wonderful treasure of the bold pirate chieftain, buried on the Oregon coast.

In describing the exact location, she said the treasure would be found in a cave in an enormous rock, which is a prominent feature of the coast scenery. Inside of the cave a cross and a horse shoe would be first found and then as the seeker went further into the depths of the cavern, a log would be discovered. At the end of this log the treasure was to be found.

Mr. Rivers, accompanied by his wife, who has since died, made the trip to Little Nestucca beach last year. The rock, cave, horse shoe, cross and log were all easily found, but when it came to uncovering the treasure, Mr. Rivers made a mistake and dug at the wrong end of the log. This he states is as the Gypsy told him he would do. She said he would make two trips to the coast before the treasure would be uncovered.

Mr. Rivers, who is a wood carver, says that he will sell some of his work in order to make money to finance his second trip. He is also desirous of getting Portland capitalists interested in his proposition, and states that he is going to form a company.

He is absolutely sure the treasure will be found, and says that he will take four of the seven boxes, which the Gypsy told him are beneath the sands away with him. The other three boxes will be again buried. He states the treasure, which consists of gold, diamonds and other valuable stones, will be brought to the valley and a dividend of the company will be declared.

SPECIAL COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Barbecues May be Feature, Aside from Sports, Ball Game, Dance and Oratorical Program in Chataqua Grounds

Members of the Gladstone Commercial club and the N. L. club met in the Commercial club rooms Monday night to perfect joint organization for the annual Fourth of July picnic and reunion, to be held in Gladstone park this year. Committees were named for the various departments of the work, and it was decided to have a barbecue as an additional feature this year if arrangements for one could be satisfactorily made. Other features of the celebration will consist of athletic games, contests of various kinds, foot and obstacle races, a baseball game between teams representing two sides of the city, a dance in the evening, and an oratorical program. Aside from being a "safe and sane" celebration of the Fourth, the affair is designed as a general "get-together" day for Gladstone people. All events will be free, and medals will be awarded in the contests.

The executive committee in charge of the affair will be: H. E. Cross, chairman; Mrs. F. H. Nelson, secretary; John Shively, treasurer; Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Dave Catto, Mrs. W. F. Schooley, Mrs. L. A. Reed, H. W. Streibig, Tom Burns and Mr. Barlow, directors.

The finance committee will have John Shively as chairman and will be composed of T. C. Howell, H. H. Hall, T. E. Gault, W. H. Miller, Richard Freytag, Tom Burns and Arthur Paddock.

Charles F. Hagerman will be chairman of the sports committee, and will be assisted by Tom Burns, John Shively, Jay Mulkey, Barton Barlow, Homer Hallowell, Ada Hulbert, Mrs. F. P. Nelson, Lawrence Reed, Frank P. Nelson and Hugh Burdon.

Music will be in charge of a committee composed of J. O. Streibig, chairman; Thomas Burke, Mrs. Will Johnson, Victor Gault, Mrs. Thos. Burke and Mrs. Hayes. There will be a fine chorus organization, and patriotic and popular airs will be a feature of the program. Possibly a brass band will also be engaged.

Percy Cross will be chairman of the invitation committee, and acting with him will be Mrs. W. F. Schooley, Mrs. R. A. McGeech, Will Burns, John Page, Frank P. Nelson, Charles Shively and Victor Gault.

The decoration committee will consist of T. C. Howell, chairman; W. W. Leete, Mrs. Catto, Stella Cross, Mrs. J. Schmidt, Miss Mulkey, Sam Arnold, B. Vedder, Charles Shively, Madge Hallowell, Lisle Gault, Hugh Oldie, Leonard Williams and Fred Bailey.

Roy L. Dunn will be chairman of the platform committee, and will have for his aides A. F. Parker, W. Hammond, Dr. Hempted, Mrs. T. E. Gault and T. C. Howell.

The entertainment committee, which will have general supervision of the various outdoor and set features, as well as of the frolics, will be: F. S. Baker, chairman; Mr. Holden, C. W. Parrish, Mrs. L. A. Reed, Madge Hallowell, John Hallowell, R. Richardson, Fred Harris, Oscar Freytag, George F. Nickerson, Mrs. Freytag, W. R. U'Ren, J. J. Burgee, R. A. Gay, Louis Sticker, W. E. Johnson, Fred Smith, Ben Harhurst and Mrs. Will Goodwin.

The several committees will work hard between now and the date of the celebration getting plans completed, and frequent meetings will be had to discuss such matters as may be suggested. It is hoped to make the annual feature out-of-the-ordinary in many ways, and to provide for Gladstone a gathering day that will be distinctive from similar "town days" in the Northwest. The plans received enthusiastic support at this week's meeting.

CITY MAY SECURE WATER AT CANBY

M. J. Lee, prominent Canby capitalist, has made an announcement to the city that he can furnish it pure water from Canby at minimum cost. Mr. Lee, who is at present furnishing Canby with good water from deep wells near his town, says that good water can be brought into Oregon City from the same wells in quantities which would furnish the city with a good supply for many years to come.

His plan is to use the existing wells which he has on his property near Canby, and to drive a new well if the supply from one is not sufficient. He states in this way he can secure any quantity of water, which the city requires. From the wells to Oregon City a pipe line 15 inches in diameter and nine miles long would be laid by Mr. Lee, and the water could be delivered direct into the city reservoir at Mountain View. From this place it could be distributed about the city in the present mains.

Mr. Lee says that he has the proposition already financed, and should the city act favorably upon it, and should he could begin at once laying the main to Oregon City, and within several months be able to furnish it with good water.

He would ask the city to pay over to the company furnishing the water 50 per cent of the gross revenue paid to the water department by the consumers. He would also ask a 25 years' franchise to furnish the city with water, allowing the city at the end of each five years to take over the plant, if they should so desire. This could be done by merely paying the company the valuation, which might be fixed by a board of examiners.

CITY ACQUIRES WATER OPTIONS

COUNCIL COMMITTEE, THROUGH F. J. TOOZE, ITS CHAIRMAN, CLOSES DEAL FOR SITE

TEST WELLS TO BE SUNK AT ONCE

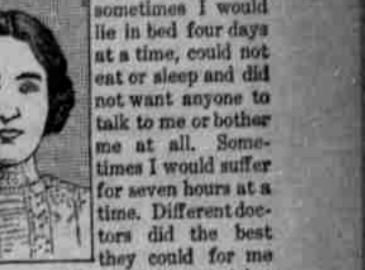

Two and a Half Acres in Mount Pleasant Section Obtained On Terms That Are Exceptionably Favorable

Through Chairman F. J. Tooze, of the special councilmanic committee on water supply, options were secured today upon 2.48 acres of the Ladd property in the Mount Pleasant district, and plans will be made at once for the boring of test wells to obtain a clear and sanitary water supply for the city. The negotiations were brought to a close upon terms most favorable to the city through the untiring and steady work of the committee, which has been seeking a new water source for the past several weeks.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Nervousness Caused by Female Iils—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Auburn, N. Y.—"I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health."

"I sent for the Compound at once and kept on taking it until I was all right." —Mrs. BERTHA M. QUICKSTADT, 727 5th Avenue, S., St. Cloud, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon as the most efficient remedy for female ills. Why don't you try it?

CITY ACQUIRES WATER OPTIONS

COUNCIL COMMITTEE, THROUGH F. J. TOOZE, ITS CHAIRMAN, CLOSES DEAL FOR SITE

TEST WELLS TO BE SUNK AT ONCE

Two and a Half Acres in Mount Pleasant Section Obtained On Terms That Are Exceptionably Favorable

Through Chairman F. J. Tooze, of the special councilmanic committee on water supply, options were secured today upon 2.48 acres of the Ladd property in the Mount Pleasant district, and plans will be made at once for the boring of test wells to obtain a clear and sanitary water supply for the city. The negotiations were brought to a close upon terms most favorable to the city through the untiring and steady work of the committee, which has been seeking a new water source for the past several weeks.

The option runs for 90 days, and it is believed that within that time several wells can be driven, and determination reached as to whether the water will be of sufficient clearness and good quality to make it advisable for the city to purchase the property and erect thereon a pumping plant and head supply station. The site was secured partly upon the recommendation of an expert draught engineer, whose advice has been of much aid in the selection of a committee to search for a water supply that would not only serve the present needs of the city; but that would provide a sufficient flow of water to meet all future requirements.

During the past week the committee visited many sites that had been under consideration, but was unable to close a deal with other owners owing to the inflated values placed upon property as soon as it was discovered that their attention was being sought. Many needs of the city for a new source of supply as a gold opportunity to get rich quick, and figures quoted to the special committee were both astounding and appalling. The Ladd interests, however, expressed a desire to co-operate with the city, and have made excellent terms, it is said.

Investigations so far conducted lead to the belief that there is abundance of pure water underlying the Ladd property, and that some of the wells as soon as surface artesian wells are necessary, however, to install a pumping plant to get a sufficient supply to the surface to provide the volume of water that will be required for municipal consumption. With the water once at the surface, the elevation of the ground is sufficient to provide an excellent head of water in the pipes, and to give a constantly available fire pressure in the business section of the city.

If the municipality purchases the site upon which the option has been procured, the area will be made a reserve, and in that way all possible sources of contamination will be removed. Indications are that the water is running in a limestone formation, and it probably has its source high upon the snow-clad sides of the Cascades, or on Mount Hood. Hydraulic engineers say that the supply ought to prove one of the best in western Oregon, and an only question that now remains to be settled is whether or not a sufficient volume of flow can be obtained.

ATHLETIC FIELD IS URGENT NEED

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS MAY PETITION COUNCIL FOR USE OF LIBRARY PARK BLOCK

CINDER TRACK TO BE BIG FEATURE

Lack of Local Training Grounds Hampers Oregon City Lads Who Enter Outside Meets to Uphold City Record

Inasmuch as the city high school has no athletic field where pupils can train for the various competitions, games and field-days of school life, a plan is underway to petition the city council for permission to build a cinder path about the border of the park block around the new library, and for the use of the park itself, during certain hours of the day, as a training field for the students. The matter is still in its preliminary shape, but will shortly be taken up in detail with the city government.

Those advocating the plan believe that a cinder path could be built at a minimum cost, and that it would in no way interfere with the use of the park for pleasure purposes. In fact, it is said, that the high school boys themselves could be entrusted with the work, and that they would gladly give as much of their own time to the construction of the track as might be needed. Cinders could probably be obtained from the railroad company at a very low figure, or might be procured from a more local source. This detail will be settled later, when permission for the track is procured.

Placing a track about the outside of the park would not detract in any way from the beauty of the spot, and the track itself might be used as a walk or path for the people, and the park space is almost a block square, the corners of the track would not have to be banked very much, and a course could be constructed that would provide approximately 20 or 24 laps to the mile. The use of the lawn for other athletic training would in no way spoil the grass, and would be of great benefit to the school boys.

The lack of proper training grounds has greatly handicapped the local athletes in getting ready for competitions with other schools. Preliminary work for the meet at Vancouver, Wash., last week, had to be done on the country roads and in vacant lots, and having the track team scattered in this way made the supervision of the athletic instructor difficult. Also, the more or less incomplete training thus received hurt the team sent from Oregon City, and probably cut down their honors considerably. The forthcoming meet at Eugene, which the local high school track team has entered, will probably be similarly handicapped for the same reason.

Interest in athletics is high at the school, and as a scholarship requirement is enforced on all members of the track team and ball nine, the athletic work is also an impetus to general excellency at the school. No boy who does not attain an average of 75 per cent in all studies is permitted to enter any of the contests; and the school directors are planning shortly to provide a department averaging 85 per cent as an added requirement.

WEST SIDE FOLK PLAN CIVIC RULE

INCORPORATION OF MANY COMMUNITIES PROPOSED BY IMPROVEMENT CLUB

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IS APPOINTED

Move is Made to Forestall Possible Annexation to Oregon City in Near Future—Much Territory Embraced

Oregon City will soon have a rival municipality close to its borders if plans launched at Thursday night's meeting of the West Side Improvement club are perfected. The scheme broached at this meeting, and eagerly adopted after an hour's discussion, is nothing less than the incorporation of West Oregon City, Sunset, Bolton and Willamette Heights, including the mills and power plant, in a separate municipality.

The meeting, which was attended by about 75 members of the organization, was held in the West Oregon City school, and at it a committee to prepare plans for incorporation was appointed. The committee is composed of B. T. McHain, president of the improvement club, J. Nichol, Ira P. Lytell, J. Draper, P. J. Winkler, M. Michael, L. McCarthy, G. L. Snyder, P. Drey, Dr. L. L. Pickens and M. Clancy. The committee will meet Tuesday night, May 6, in the rooms of the Oregon City Commercial club, to further discuss the scheme, and to draw up tentative plans for the new community.

The matter of general incorporation of the west side communities has been taken up at several times during the past five years, but heretofore has never received popular support because it was looked upon as a step towards annexation to Oregon City. People living across the river did not want to be saddled with charges on Oregon City's water and sewer systems, and so have committed every move that seemed to point towards a jointing with the older community, however, is designed expressly to be a protest against annexation, and is being undertaken with the understanding that there shall be no union of the two municipalities for many years, at least. At the last session of the legislature a law providing for the union of the two communities was introduced, but failed to pass, largely because of the opposition of the west side.

Following the discussion of incorporation plans, a musical entertainment was provided by Prof. C. F. Anderson, who gave vocal and instrumental music, and by a quartet composed of the Misses Brown, Bailey and Winkler and P. J. Winkler. Piano accompaniment was by Mrs. P. J. Winkler.

SALEM.—Speaker McArthur, of the last legislature, has checked over the proceedings of the session and finds that 638 sections of Lord's Oregon Laws were repealed as being out of date.
