ELKS PAY TRIBUTE TO NATION'S FLAG

Oregon City Elks and members of Meade Post, G. A. R., honored the birthday of the American flag Saturday night in joint exercises at the Elks' home. The ceremonies were open to the public, and over 200 people took advantage of the occasion, and joined in a patriotic meeting to show their fealty to the national ensign. The impressive and beautiful ritual of the Elks was a part of the exercises, while the balance of the program was made up by tuneful singing and stirring addresses.

Mrs. Theodore Osmond opened the program by singing The Star Spangled Banner, everyone rising as her clear tones rang out in the stirring measure of the national air. The formal introduction, by the Elks' ruler and officers of the lodge followed, after which prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Oscar Woodfin, then sang Columbia the Gem of the Ocean.

"The History of the Flag," was given by Brother Charles Hugh Wilson, and proved a revelation to many who attended. The impressive altar services of the ritual followed, the Esquires and lodge officers taking part. And Lang Syne was then sung by the officers and members of the lodge. Next came the Elks' Tribute to the Flag, given by Brother Clarence J. Eaton.

"Old Black Joe" was given as a pleasing duet by Mrs. Osmond and Mr. Woodfin, their voices blending beautifully, and making the song doubly appealing. Following this patriotic addresses were delivered by M. Kellogg and Captain Shaw, of the Grand Army, and by Gilbert L. Hedges. The latter was more in the line of an oration, and rang with patriotic fervor. The exercises were brought to a close by the singing of America by all present.

One of the most interesting features of the evening was the playing of the Veterans File & Drum corps. Their rendering of Dixie fairly brought the audience to its feet and the popularity of this one-time "rebel" melody was again attested. The file and drum corps also led the veterans in their march to the Elks' home.

Following the exercises Mrs. Osmond was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the lodge, as an appreciation of the gratitude of the members for her co-operation in making the celebration of Flag day the great success that it was.

SHOWERS GREET TEACHERS' CAMP

Camp life for Clackamas county teachers in attendance at the first annual summer school at Gladstone park began yesterday in the bright sunshine. After the school had been organized, the program outlined, and the instructors divided into groups and study classes, the sky became overcast. By supper time it looked like rain, and after the evening meal, when the school ma'ams and pedagogue wandered out in the open to enjoy an evening about the campfires, it was sprinkling.

Teachers thereupon went to their tents, and by that time the rain was doing its Oregon best. Retirement was a rather complicated process, owing to puddles that formed on the tent floors, and moisture that seeped through seams in the new canvases. However, the teachers made the best of it, and while some few sought shelter in their homes, or the homes of nearby friends, most of them stuck it out, deciding that camp life would not be real unless there was some discomfort.

POPULAR COUPLE QUIETLY MARRIED

Miss Margaret Bertha Barry became the bride of Arthur I. McNulty at St. John's Catholic church Thursday morning, the wedding ceremony being performed by the Rev. Father Hillbrand. Only relatives and intimate friends were present at the ceremony.

Miss Frances Draper was bridesmaid, and Fred W. Baker, a cousin of the groom, was best man. The bride was becomingly dressed in a blue tailored suit with a pretty white hat, and carried a white prayer-book. Miss Draper wore dark blue chapeaux, with hat to match.

Mrs. McNulty is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barry, and has resided in this city the greater part of her life. She is one of the most popular young women, and is well liked by a large circle of friends.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McNulty, and is well known here, where he has resided for many years. Following a short honeymoon the young people will make their home on Seventeenth street, this city, where a furnished house is awaiting them.

FILM MANIPULATOR BECOMES BENEDICT

Patrons of the Grand theatre who wondered what was the matter with the pictures Friday evening are hereby informed that there was nothing at all out of the way in the performance. The occasional jumping of the films was caused by the ecstatic heartbeats of Marion I. Dugger, engineer of the "flicker machine" in the fire-proof box above the entrance, for in the intermission between the afternoon and evening performances Mr. Dugger took unto himself a bride.

Justice of the Peace Slevers tied the knot as securely as long experience has taught him how, and pronounced the words that made Miss Charlotte Yandell Mrs. Dugger. Both young people are well known here, and have already been wished the best of fortune by a large number of their friends. Manager Schram, of the theatre, did not know of the happy event until after it occurred, and then his offers to Mr. Dugger of a vacation were politely refused.

In the evening, when the day's work was done, there was a quiet jollification, at which the happy hopes of happiness of all were substantially expressed to the newly-weds.

LOCAL FOLK MARRIED

Charles Legler and Miss Hazel Francis, the daughter of Mrs. P. V. Francis, both of Oregon City, were quietly married in Vancouver, Wa., Tuesday. Mr. Legler is traveling in the interests of the Oregon Woolen mills. Mr. and Mrs. Legler will make their home here following a brief wedding trip.

GETTYSBURG MAP AWAITS VETERANS

To meet the demand for an accurate map of Gettysburg and vicinity during the great memorial celebration which will be held at that historic point beginning June 29-30 years after the commencement of the terrific fight which sealed the fate of the hitherto sanguine Confederacy—the United States Geological Survey has combined four of its topographic sheets and printed a large map. The map covers about 925 square miles, including the Gettysburg battlefield and the adjacent portion of Pennsylvania as well as the adjoining portion of Maryland, and is on the ample scale of 1 mile to the inch.

All the roads by which Lee brought his main army in from the West are shown, and the course pursued by the Army of the Potomac under Hooker and later under Meade can be readily traced. Such familiar bloody fighting grounds as Little Round Top, the Wheatfield, and the Peach Orchard are shown in their exact topography almost as clearly as in a bird's-eye photograph, as is also the ground over which Pickett's division of 18,000 men the flower of the South, made its famous but futile charge.

The map will be delivered postage free in a mailing tube until July 4, 1913, at 20 cents a copy. Remittances should be made to the Director, United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., in cash or money order.

A Nervous Woman Finds Relief After Many Years

Women who suffer from extreme nervousness, often endure much suffering before finding any relief. Mrs. Daniel Kintner, of Defiance, O., had such an experience, regarding which she says:

Mrs. DAN KINTNER, 1602 Pleasant St., Defiance, O.

"I had stomach trouble when I was sixteen years old that broke down my health, and for years I suffered with nervousness, headache, indigestion and nervous spasms. The spasms got so bad I would have them three or four times a week. After trying nearly every remedy recommended, I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I must say it helped me wonderfully. I have had no severe nervousness for several years."

SCHOOL BOARD READY FOR NEW YEAR'S ACTIVITY

Only two vacancies remain to be filled in the corps of teachers of the Oregon City schools, one of these being an instructor in languages in the high school to succeed Miss Alena Wolf, who did not accept the position to which she was recently elected, and a teacher of the primary grade at the Eastham building. These vacancies will probably be filled in a few days.

The board of education met Monday night, following the annual school meeting at the courthouse, and proposed the following:

NEW CHAIRMAN CHOSEN BY SCHOOL DIRECTORS

O. D. Eby, who is the senior member of the board, assumed the chairmanship and will head the board until June, 1914. He named the standing committees, of which he is ex-officio chairman, Directors Hedges and Huntley composing the committee on grounds and buildings, and Director Harding on the fuel committee.

O. D. Eby.

Miss Mildred Barley was re-elected instructor in drawing in the city schools. She gave excellent service. Mrs. Leonora Ather Covert, who has for several years been the musical instructor at St. John and Gresham, was chosen as supervisor of music here, and will give two days each week to the post. Miss Myrtle Gibson, of Rhinelander, Wis., was elected to a seventh grade position, and Miss Agnes Johnson, of Corvallis, will be the new instructor in domestic science and art.

Miss Carlotta Crowley, of Monthport, Ore., Miss Hilma E. Anderson, of Colton, Ore., Mrs. Eva Scott, of Portland, and Miss Anna D. Wood, of Monthport, were elected grade teachers. All of them possess high qualifications for the grades to which they will be assigned. Miss Wood graduated from the state normal at Monthport last February and has had 15 months' experience in Lincoln, Polk and Tillamook counties, Oregon. Mrs. Scott has had seven years experience, six years in Nebraska and one year at Newberg, Ore. Miss Anderson is a graduate of the Monthport normal this year and has had 42 months' experience in Wisconsin and Oregon. Miss Crowley has had 60 weeks experience in a training school, but comes well recommended by the President Ackerman of the state normal.

The city schools will open for the fall term on Monday, September 22. The board of directors Monday night authorized the purchase of a new encyclopedia for use in the schools.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS PICKED BY PATRONS

School elections were held in this neighborhood Monday, and in nearly every case directors were re-elected. W. A. Huntley, formerly chairman of the board, was re-elected unanimously in district 62, which embraces Oregon City. Through rule of seniority of service O. D. Eby becomes chairman of the re-organized board.

At Mt. Pleasant T. C. Thomas was re-elected director, and Clark Lewis was again chosen to serve in that capacity, this being his 19th term in office.

O. N. Holt was elected director for the Mullino school district, defeating J. A. Davis, and succeeding A. Erickson for the three-year term. Miss Vesta Churchill was elected clerk without contest.

In district 109, which embraces Twilight, A. H. Harvey was elected director for two years and George M. Lazzelle for the three-year term. M. J. Lazzelle was re-elected clerk. At the annual meeting at Twilight it was also voted to repaint the interior of the school building during the summer.

Charles Hageman was elected director at Gladstone, succeeding H. O. Paddock, and Mrs. H. C. Salisbury was re-elected clerk for the fifth consecutive term. Mr. Hageman is an experienced school man, having had many years experience, and being a graduate of the Wisconsin Normal School.

In Canemah, Charles Spencer was re-elected a director. At a special meeting the school board selected Miss Miller as a teacher to succeed Miss Rickabaugh. Miss Drum will take Miss Miller's place in the primary department, and Mrs. Hayes has been chosen as musical director.

MOLALLA PIONEER CALLED BY DEATH

James Mallatt, one of the pioneers of the Molalla country, died Tuesday morning at the age of 71. He first settled in Molalla in 1882, and since then has been prominent in agricultural and development affairs of his section of the county. The funeral will be held at Molalla Wednesday.

Mr. Mallatt is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. W. E. Sconce of Needy, and Mrs. H. L. Vaughn of Molalla; and by three brothers, one of whom resides in Indiana, one in Kansas and one in Oklahoma.

BELOVED PRELATE GREETED GRADUATES

Seven members of the class of 1913, at McLaughlin Institute, received their diplomas Wednesday evening from the hands of the Most Rev. Alexander Christie, archbishop of the diocese of Oregon City. The graduates thus honored were Opal Rains, Anna Nemeck, Harriet Poberg, Lorraine Forsberg, Frank Bruce, Nicholas Michele and Francis Champion. The presentation of diplomas by His Grace was next to the last feature of an unusually attractive program, which was well rendered by students of the historic school.

Following the presentation, Archbishop Christie addressed the graduates and others present, urging them to take a pride in being Americans, and speaking for a better citizenship. The prelate told the students of the institute that they would have no difficulty in being true, loyal American citizens if they followed the teachings imparted to them at that institution; and declared it to be the duty of every American to manifest as much pride and patriotism in his country as did the citizens of Old World countries in theirs. The archbishop also said that he believed the best of all citizens were those in whose education was mingled Christian as well as secular training.

The graduation exercises were witnessed by an audience that packed McLaughlin hall to its utmost capacity, in spite of the inclemency of the weather. Flowers were everywhere in evidence, both as part of the decorative scheme, and as tributes to the prelate. The program, which embraced music, recitations and drills, was exceptionally well received, and its various features called forth round after round of hearty applause. The snow ball drill, by the primary pupils, was particularly pleasing, and was one of the main features of the evening. For the graduating class Lorraine Forsberg delivered the salutatory, and Francis Champion the valedictory.

POLITICAL RIVAL PRAISES BEATIE

and virtue are our cardinal points, and these things we owe to the pioneers.

"It is in this same spirit that is continuing our advancement. We have the country now, and we must work to realize that the one thing we need above all else is transportation so that we can develop what we have won. In this we must stand shoulder to shoulder, and we must work together to get not only railroads and steamship lines, but good roads as well. What makes our land valuable after we have won it? Its resources? Not alone. The land was here before and had its resources. It is the ability to market these resources, and the opportunity to transport the products of the soil to a market. Some people will tell you that all the value lies in land. If that were true, all land would be of the same value. But it isn't true. It is the community life that makes land valuable, and that is why this land here is today of greater value than it was when the pioneers first came. You have put roads in, you have made a way to market, and so your land is of greater value. And you are soon to make it more valuable still, and through this pioneer spirit.

"You are going to have a railroad. Maybe you will have two. But you will have one, and it is getting nearer and nearer to you every day. You put yourselves together to get it, you stood shoulder to shoulder, and you backed the judgment and ability of Judge Grant Dimick, who is building the Clackamas Southern, so that you can ship your goods to a market twelve miles away in half an hour or so, where before it has taken you from half a day to a day. This Clackamas Southern is a pioneer road, it is moved by a pioneer spirit, and backed by good men who have the pioneer spirit, and for that reason it will be a success."

Mr. Brownell then continued outlining plans by which he believed county roads should be developed, expressing the opinion that because of lack of knowledge in the past, and failure to utilize scientific principles, but 20 or 30 percent of value had been received from the money expended on highway construction. He was advocating the employment of experts for directing road work, and was outlining the Bourne national aid plan, when somebody in the audience made some comment about the present county court and the recall movement.

Mr. Brownell stopped his address for a moment, and looked his audience straight in the eye.

"Yes, you've got a recall movement," he said. "And I want to take opportunity now, if you will permit me, to say something about that. I have been a republican all my life. You know me here as a republican and naturally perhaps I don't feel over friendly to the democrats. But I want to say right here that while

Robert Beattie is a democrat, and has been a political enemy of mine, if there is anything in this county that I despise it is this same recall movement and the men who are backing it, and their motives. I have known Robert Beattie for 22 years. Fourteen of those years I have known him intimately. He has always tried to get my scalp, politically, and I've always tried to get his. But I believe in justice, and I want to stand here and tell you that in all the years that I've known Robert Beattie he has never taken a dollar, nor a nickel of the public funds, nor has he ever misappropriated any public money.

"When Robert Beattie was sheriff of this county he had in his keeping thousands of dollars of the people's money, and he accounted for every cent of it. The charge was never made against him that he was dishonest; not even Bob Schuebel ever dared to hurl that charge at him. Perhaps as county judge he has made mistakes. Perhaps the county commissioners have made mistakes—did anybody ever hear of a county court that did not; or of a business man that never made mistakes in the details of his business? But none of the mistakes that the county court may have made have been costly. They may have let certain jobs without bidding, but the figures will show you that when they did, the county got the work done just as cheaply as any of the bidders volunteered to do it. But I don't believe that there is anybody here that believes Bob Beattie ever went ahead and schemed to throw down the people while he was representing them, or that he entered into any plan to rob them. He is not that kind of a man, and the charges made against him are outrageous. They are so outrageous that the people who make them don't dare to make them definite, they don't dare come before you and say outright that Judge Beattie ever took a cent that he wasn't rightfully entitled to.

"Who are these men who are making the charges? There's Ed Olds, who is sore, and mad, and disappointed because he didn't get some bridge work. There's Bob Schuebel, Schuebel is a nice man, but he doesn't know what the county court is doing—his charges show that. The figures and facts are in the records, and they haven't gone there to look. All this stuff in the newspapers has been misrepresentation, and lies and slander, but in all of it they haven't dared to accuse Bob Beattie of taking public money. They know that he is too honest, too open and above-board.

"Talk about a recall, why haven't they tried it on other commissioners? Grant Dimick went into office and promised to get the county out of debt in two years or resign. He didn't do either. Why didn't they cry for a recall upon him? Why have they picked on Bob Beattie, who has never been known to be dishonest, and than whom there is no bigger, broader, more square man in public office in this county today.

"This is not a party matter, it is a public matter. You must settle it for yourselves, after you have studied the case. Bob Beattie's character has been assailed, and it is for you to say what you are going to do about it."
