MACKSBURG.

An advance in vegetation that would seem fabulous to any but witnesses of it was the result of the warm, moist atmosphere that prevailed on the three longest days of the year, viz: June 20, 21 and 22. Especially was this noticeable in the new experimental corn, received by all the ranchmen who wrote for it. Corn could not look more promising than does this today. We shall be glad to welcome the visitor from the O.-W. R. & N. Co., when he comes to see what has been done with the seed, so generously distributed by them. Unless attacked by some of those lurking foes of the grain field, such as grasshoppers, gray diggers or field mice, there is every reason to hope that Macksburg may be able to send a creditable exhibit to the State Corn Show to be held at Pendleton the coming fall.

The annual meeting of the Macksburg school district was held in the school house June 16. Mr. Stevens was elected district clerk, as successor to Mr. Charles Kraberger and Mr. Keesling was chosen director to take the place vacated by William Barth. Mrs. Seward is staying in Multno with her daughter, Mrs. Bert Wallace, whose home was gladdened last week by the arrival of a little son. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were residents of Macksburg before their marriage, and were so highly esteemed in the high school as well as elsewhere that Macksburg still claims them as her own, and considers it fitting that any important event in their family should be regarded as Macksburg news.

We learn with pleasure, that the new public library, formally opened last week in Oregon City is to be free to all residents of Clackamas County. As renewal of books may be made by telephone it would seem that few Clackamas County readers need be deprived of this valuable privilege. This will be appreciated as a favor that will, very acceptably, tide us over to the time when we shall have a public library of our own.

A merry party of Estacada people enjoyed the hospitality of the Frank Ewing home above Casadero last Sunday. It was intended to be a fishing party but the rain spoiled that and the guests enjoyed a great big dinner on the porch and occupied the afternoon visiting and just having a good time. A lucky chap is Grover Grandquill, who won a fine camera and a $5.00 box of choice candy in recent chance contests at H. Loisman's. People, especially the ladies, are busy registering for the coming city election June 28. The Idler Works Hard. Work, ideally, should be congenial, fruitful and the worker aware of his worth to the world. Nobody works harder than the idler. He has on his hands the dire task of killing time. Knowing the awfulness of vacancy, he fills the day with a semblance of activity and while knowing at his peace is conscious of the barren folly of it all. The finest argument for real work is the spectacle of its counterfeiter presentment.—Richard Burton in the Helman.

Inclosing a Stamp. "Every day you learn something new," remarked a man that was busy opening letters. "I get about fifty letters a week with a postage stamp stuck on the corner for a reply. There is only one man in America that knows how to stick a stamp on a letter." "What's his stunt?" demanded the friend. "Instead of sticking the stamp by a corner, so that I have to take a dab of unglue to make that corner stay down, he sticks it by the middle, so that when I use it again all the edges are gummed, and the little spot in the center does not matter."—New York Sun.

RECORD CROWDS FOR CHAUTAUQUA. OUTLOOK FOR ANNUAL ASSEMBLY NEVER SO PROMISING AS IN PRESENT YEAR. Many Features on Big Program. Remarkable List of Lectures and Studies Secured Proves Drawing Card to Hundreds—Tents in Demand.

Attendance records of former years will be shattered at the coming session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua if early predictions count for anything. The assembly opens at Gladstone park July 28th for a twelve day session, closing the 20th. Tent reservations are coming in by the score, and the Chautauqua "tent city" bids fair to run up into the hundreds. This is an unusually good omen of a record attendance. The season ticket sale begins in earnest Monday next, but already a large number of patrons are taking advantage of the "book" plan, whereby they can secure their season admissions which are good for all classes, lectures, main platform attractions and in fact everything for the sum of $2.00, thus cutting off 50 cents from the regular price. These book tickets may be secured from P. R. L. & P. Co. office, 1st and Alder, Portland, or from Mr. Caulfield, at the Bank of Oregon City, beginning next Monday, on payment of the $2.00, accompanied by the list of the ten desired tickets. The office of the secretary, Mr. H. E. Cross in the Beaver building, has been a mighty busy place the past two weeks. Fifteen thousand booklets of the Chautauqua have been sent to all parts of the surrounding country, and in addition hundreds of letters of information have been written to Chautauqua enquirers. Window cards by the score have been sent to nearby towns, and the county is being billed most thoroughly. The railroads are making preparations for handling the big annual crowd that throngs Gladstone park. The Southern Pacific will stop its local trains at a point close to the grounds, while the P. R. L. & P. Co. will run cars every half hour to and from Oregon City directly into the park. From Portland patrons should take the "Oregon City" car at First and Alder streets, and the car service continues until late at night each way. Baggage may be shipped on either line. The P. R. L. & P. Co. as a courtesy to the Chautauqua, will double the lighting capacity in the auditorium, and in addition will increase the number of electric lights on the grounds. The summer school classes which occupy the morning hours each day will cover a wide range of practical subjects that will appeal especially to the women. The college work this year is to be a feature, as practically every educational institution in the state will have charges of at least one forum hour, from 11 to 12:00 each day. The twenty-six big afternoon and evening programs will include such noted attractions as Prof. Baumgardt, lecturer; Frances Carter, reader; Ng Poon Chew, Chinese statesman; Walt Holcomb, lecturer; Sierra Mixed Quartet; Colonel Bain, lecturer; Maude White, instructor of the drama; Frederick Vining Fisher, lecturer; Trolan Albin Singers; Grace Lamkin, "Supervisor Play," a distance feature for all the children; Dr. W. B. Hinson, of Portland's White Temple; Mr. E. G. Lewis, lecturer; the Portland Ladies' Guild of the Arisan Lodge, in daily programs; Dr. Mait S. Hughes of Pasadena, Calif., lecturer; Pamahaska and his pets. Portland will be well represented in the Chautauqua music. Prof. F. T. Chapman has general supervision of the 1913 musical program, and Prof. J. H. Cowen will direct the special chorus work, which will consist of over 100 choir singers from Portland and Oregon City. The Shakespeare club of Portland, the Women's club, the W. C. T. U., and the State Sunday school association will maintain headquarters on the grounds.

The same endorsement by some stranger far away commands no belief at all. Here's an Oregon City case. Oregon City citizens testify. Read and be convinced. A. G. Woodward, Prop. Cigar & Confectionery store, 412 Main St., Oregon City, Oregon, says: "I suffered a great deal from my kidneys and back. My back was weak and painful and often my rest was broken.
