LOCAL BRIEFS

John Vaughan, a farmer of Molalla, visited Oregon City Sunday. Abe Miller and wife, of Vancouver, Washington, are visiting here. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. B. McDonald last Saturday afternoon. P. A. Steinman and E. J. Steinman, both of Astoria, were here Saturday. Walter Jackson, of Molalla, was in the county seat on business Wednesday. C. L. Standinger, of Molalla, has business interests in the city Wednesday. A Gorbett, a farmer from the Redland district, visited Oregon City the other day. Mr. O. D. Eagle, a Molalla farmer who has been to eastern Oregon, has just returned. P. H. Sager, a sawmill man of Beaver Creek, was here during the first part of the week. A new sidewalk is being built at Molalla from the depot to the business section of the city. Mr. J. W. Watts, farmer living six miles northwest of Oregon City, was in town Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Jester, of Grant's Pass, are in the city on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Howland. W. H. Hoskin, of St. Johns, spent Wednesday in the city attending to matters of business. Mr. and Mrs. Scranbell, who live between Molalla and Liberal, were in Oregon City Wednesday. A. D. Jones, of Denver, has come to this section of Oregon to look up a homestead near Molalla. Miss Pauline Hicks, daughter of B. N. Hicks left for Salem Monday to enter Willamette University. Miss Edith Watt, of the Anderson confectionery, spent the past week visiting relatives at Molalla. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mochnaske, were in Oregon City from St. Johns on a visit to friends for a few days. Mr. F. C. Wirtz, of Canby, passed through here Saturday on his way to Newberg where he intends to balance and straw. The Woodburn Independent reports that a ton of dynamite was hauled from that place for use upon the Clackamas Southern. Charles McKenzie of this city claims to be the oldest hop picker in the state and at the age of 85 is making his eighth season a day. Philip Ruchel, a retired farmer from Logan, has just returned from an extended trip through Washington. He was in the city Tuesday. Miss Pearl Kolesmeier has had a very serious operation in the Sellwood hospital, and is passed the critical stage and well on the road to recovery. Miss Goldie Harless and Miss Madeleine Steinger, both of Molalla, passed through here Wednesday on their way to Portland, where they will live. Mr. Steinger reports that most of the campers at Willough Springs have returned to their homes, although in the middle of the season the grounds were full of tents. The first city election of Molalla is to be held Monday, September 23. Candidates have filed their petitions and the race is in the middle of its first political fray. William Udell of Molalla, was in the city with three goats with which he intends to capture a prize at the Clackamas county fair. He will take them first to Brown's and then to Canby. The progressive spirit of the "Greenham Outlook" is shown by its plan to issue a school edition, presenting to its readers complete information as to the condition of the schools in that section. The condition of the crops of the country over is ten per cent. below the average for 10 years for September first, but Oregon crops are 102.5. This is according to the government crop report. George C. Brownell leaves Saturday for McMinnville to assist in the defense of J. H. Hutchens, charged with the killing of a man by the name of Wilson, and seriously injuring another in a fight. Forty bushels of wheat to the acre is the rule rather than the exception in the Klamath basin region this season, according to the Klamath Falls Northwestern, which states the harvest is in full swing. Mr. L. A. Young, an eastern Oregon farmer, has just returned to his home after visiting his brother in this city. He came over in a team and had a fine trip. He reports the roads as being in first class shape. T. F. Rowland and his son, John F. Rowland leave Thursday for Wales, where the boy has an estate that has been left to him by relatives. His presence is needed there at once to settle the accounts that are due him. F. E. Butts, of this city, a recent member of the O. A. C. band, has purchased an interest in the Wollshar greenhouses of Corvallis and is now looking after a portion of the business connected with that concern. Mr. O. S. Boyles, who checked up the timber in this county, has received an important commission to settle a dispute concerning the timber of Clatsop county. Henry Russel of Molalla has gone with Mr. Boyles to run the compass. Mr. T. C. Howard, owner of the Howard Mills of Molalla, was in Oregon City Friday. Mr. Howard was on top of Mt. Hood in 1859, and was probably one of the first to have scaled that prominent mountain as no record of a previous climb could be found. At Salem twenty thousand masculine lips pressed those of six fair members of well-to-do and locally prominent families in a unique scheme whereby $10,000 was raised toward a fund to enter Salem hospital through the dispensing of women's tissues at $1 each. Men, old and young, stood in line to enjoy the oculatory performance. The Rev. Mr. A. H. Mulvey and family, formerly of Gladstone, is now living in Castle Rock, Washington.

The Cowlitz County Advocate says, "Rev. Mulvey and his family are winning their way into the hearts of our people as they become more and more acquainted. Mr. Mulvey's sermons are scholarly and forceful, better than one sometimes hears in the large city pulpits".

Miss Helen Sprague, a graduate of Oregon Agricultural college and for two years instructor in Latin in the Corvallis high school, has gone to New York to enter Columbia university, for advanced work. Mary Ann Redman Wright, a real pioneer, one of those faithful, independent and christian women who has made this great west possible, was buried Friday by the pastor of the Mulino circuit, Rev. F. A. Piper, in the Sanders cemetery near Molalla. She was born in Brown county, Ohio, November 19, 1823, and it seemed that she was destined to spend all of her days on the border land of American civilization, having lived in Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri, California and Oregon.

MRS. FOUTS WEDS STEAMER ENGINEER

Mrs. Rosina Fouts, department president of the Woman's Relief Corps of Oregon, and Charles W. Evans, chief engineer of the Willamette Navigation company, were quietly married in Vancouver, Wn., Wednesday and left at once for Chattanooga, Tenn., where Mrs. Evans will act as Oregon delegate to the national convention of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G. A. R. Mrs. Evans has been a resident of Oregon City for the past 38 years, and is widely known throughout the northwest as a leader in W. R. C. matters. She is a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church, and has been prominent as a worker in the ladies' guild of the church. Her husband has been in Oregon City for 12 years, ten of which he has spent in the service of the Willamette Pulp & Paper company, and the past two with the navigation company. Mr. Evans was formerly engineer on the fast steamers Telephone and Bailey Gatzert, and while on these boats had much to do with their establishing the records they did for speed. He has a wide acquaintance among old-time river men, and is regarded as a master of marine engines.

ANOTHER VICTORY IS SCORED FOR CUPID

Miss Catherine Cooper and Clarence Roel were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cooper Sunday at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. R. Lansborough of the first Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. The bride wore white marguinsats and carried white carnations. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cooper. The house was decorated with ferns, carnations and asters. Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony. After the wedding, a reception was held at the home. This couple will make their home in this city.

LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license was issued to Abraham Guild and Miss Clara Edith Deardorff by County Clerk Mulvey Thursday.

JOLLY BUNCH GETS TOGETHER FOR FUN

A jolly party of twenty-one made the trip from Damascus and Oregon City to Willough at 10 o'clock, a delicious lunch was served under the huge fire trees in the grove. On the return trip a stop was made at the famous Wright's Spring for another spread, returning to Damascus at 7:30 o'clock. The party consisted of: Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cooke, J. C. Elliott, Frank Papsich, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eckert, C. F. Benke, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hunter, Rita Hunter, Harry Roel, Damascus; E. P. Carter, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Walker, Miss Anna Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cooke, Oregon City.

MINNOWS SENT TO STOCK STREAMS

Twenty-four cans containing thousands of Rainbow and Brook trout left for the streams around Goldendale hatchery on the early morning train Tuesday. The cans were packed in ice and loaded on the trains as they left for the south. It is estimated that there were 10,000 of the trout minnows in each of the cans and that there was enough fish life to stock several of the streams through the southern parts of the state. The shipment is but one of several that have gone from the hatchery lately to replenish the streams that have been depleted of their fish life.

DEATH CALLS ODD FELLOW

WISCONSIN CHARTER MEMBER AND PROMINENTLY IDENTIFIED IN OREGON LODGE

WAS IN ORDER FOR FIFTY YEARS

Became Well Known Farmer of Redland When He Moved to This State—Was Born in Stetten, Germany

August Funk, one of the best known farmers of the Redland district, and for 50 years an Odd Fellow, was buried in Redland cemetery at 11 o'clock Thursday under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. of Oregon City. Mr. Funk died of old age September 8, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. M. Kirchen, of Redland.

He was born in Stetten, Germany, in 1836, and came to this country when a young man. At first he settled in Wisconsin where he was a charter member of the Odd Fellows.

From Wisconsin Mr. Funk moved to Oregon and settled on a farm in this county near Redland 18 years ago. He sold his farm four years ago and since then has lived with his daughter, Mrs. Kirchen.

Seven children survive, C. W. Funk, and Otto Funk of Wisconsin; Mrs. L. E. Senn of Portland, Mrs. J. T. Fulmer, Mrs. Kirchen, Louis Funk of Redland, Mrs. E. Witt of Seattle. Besides his children, he leaves a number of grandchildren. He was 76 died six years ago.

The pall-bearers were F. A. Miles, Harry Trembath, E. C. Hachett, J. A. Tutta, J. O. Staats and E. B. Lowe.

BAFFLING DISEASE TAKES OLD FARMER

The funeral of Joseph C. Stanley, a well known farmer living about a mile northwest of Gresham, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Baptist church in Gresham, Rev. Thos. Robinson of Fairview officiating. The services in the cemetery were conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge of which he was a member.

Mr. Stanley died last Sunday at his home. He suffered from a baffling disease which had been fought unsuccessfully for nearly six months. It seemed to be a nervous and mental breakdown that resisted all attempts of a cure. He passed peacefully away after months of agony, surrounded by his family on the farm where he had spent nearly all the years of his respected and industrious life.

HOTEL WOMAN VICTIM OF HEART DISEASE

Mrs. Nellie M. Adams, the proprietor of the Bridge hotel of this city, died at her home Friday evening at 9:52 o'clock from heart trouble and typhoid fever.

Mrs. Adams was born in London, Minn., on February 14, 1862, and in 1884 she married W. F. Adams in Austin, Minn. Six years ago she moved to Oregon and one and a half years ago into this section of the state. She is survived by her husband of this city, and her son, Otto, her father, three brothers and six sisters of Kansas.

Funeral services will be held from the Methodist church here on Sunday at two o'clock and interment will be made in Mountain View cemetery. Dr. T. B. Ford will conduct the services.

MANY FRIENDS GO TO WOMAN'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Nellie M. Adams, who died September 12, was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. T. B. Ford officiating. Interment was made in Mountain View cemetery. Mrs. Adams was born on February 14, 1862, in London, Minn., and in 1884 she married W. F. Adams in Austin, Mich. She had only lived in this state during the last six years, but in that time had made many friends in all parts of the county.

Heart Disease Almost Fatal to Young Girl

"My daughter, when thirteen years old, was stricken with heart trouble. She was so bad we had to place her bed near a window so she could get her breath. One doctor said, 'Poor child, she is likely to fall dead any time.' A friend told me Dr. Miller's Heart Remedy had cured her father, so I tried it, and she began to improve. She took a great many bottles, but she is spared to me today, a fat, rosy checked girl. No one can imagine the confidence I have in Dr. Miller's Heart Remedy." A. R. CANON, Worth, Mo.

The unbounded confidence Mr. Canon has in Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is shared by thousands of others who know its value from experience. Many heart disorders yield to treatment, if the treatment is right. If you are bothered with short breath, fainting spells, swelling of feet or ankles, pains about the heart and shoulder blades, palpitation, weak and hungry spells, you should begin using Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy at once. Profit by the experience of others while you may.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold and guaranteed by all druggists. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

W. L. MULVEY Clerk of Clackamas county, and vice president of County Clerks' Association of Oregon.

MULVEY IS HONORED BY COUNTY CLERKS

Will L. Mulvey, county clerk of Clackamas county has been elected vice-president of the County Clerks' Association of Oregon. The idea for the organization was born at a banquet of a score or more of the county clerks at Portland, and John B. Coffey of Multnomah, was chosen president, W. L. Mulvey, vice-president, and Max Gehler, of Marion county, secretary.

During Rose Festival week the association will hold its convention in Portland and will fight all freak legislation that imposes further unnecessary duties upon the county clerk. The clerks assembled in Portland to talk over the subject of uniform accounting and all of them agreed that a better system was needed in checking over the expenditures of public money.

Before the association holds its first convention, a program will be drafted by the president and the constitution and by-laws framed for adoption.

COUNTY TREASURER'S WILL IS FILED

The will of Enos Cahill, twice county treasurer of Clackamas county, was probated and the estate is estimated to be valued at $5575, the greater portion being his home at 80 East Sixty-eighth street, North Portland.

He died September 7. Charles Ray, 1884 she married W. F. Adams in Austin, Mich. She had only lived in this state during the last six years, but in that time had made many friends in all parts of the county.

BUSY DAYS IN STORE FOR JUSTICE COURT

Upon a $500 bond, George Haas was released from custody until his preliminary hearing on September 24, when he will be arraigned on the charge of threatening to kill. Joseph S. Rickard entered a plea of not guilty Tuesday to the complaint charging him with practicing medicine without a license. The complaint was made by H. D. Harnas, on information that Rickard has given a prescription to Paul Jaeger and had received a fee of $1.50 for his services. The two cases will come before Justice Seivers on September 24. Constable Jack Frost returned Tuesday afternoon after he had delivered Elbert Kidder to his authorities of the state training school near Salem. The boy was committed by Judge H. S. Anderson for the theft of a horse and buggy Sunday.

BOY SWALLOWS POISON TABLETS

CLIMBS UP TO HIGH SHELF AND FINDS BOX OF STRYCHNINE PILLS

TWO DOCTORS WORK FRANTICALLY

Efforts of Physicians Fruitless and Child Dies Within an Hour —Is Rushed to Hospital in Auto

Within an hour after the 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Patter-son had climbed up to a high shelf in the family home at Scotland, near Gladstone, and had taken 10 strychnine tablets, he died in the Oregon City hospital in spite of the strenuous efforts of two physicians.

The mother had placed the medicine on one of the shelves where she believed that it would be out of the child's reach. He managed to climb to the point, however, and swallowed 19 of the tablets. Two doctors worked over him for awhile and then rushed him in an automobile to the hospital here where they again went frantically to work in an effort to save the child's life. They were unsuccessful, however, and he died within 20 minutes after he went into the room.

Had the boy taken the entire contents of the box, it is possible that his system would have revolted at the shock and his life would have been saved. He took just enough of the medicine, however, to thoroughly poison himself and the efforts of the physicians were unavailing.

CELEBRATES QUARTER CENTURY OF MARRIAGE

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nobel was celebrated by the German Verein at Schnoerr's park Sunday afternoon.

There were more than 80 persons present, and they report that they spent a very enjoyable day. Speeches were in order all day and especially in the first part of the afternoon. At four o'clock tables were set in the dance hall, and amid more speeches the company ate a good German dinner in a good old German way.

After the tables were cleared off, dancing was in order, and it was not until a late hour that the last couple left the floor.

The German Verein was organized about 10 years ago and has grown to be one of the most powerful societies of its kind in this section of the state. Mr. G. Schnoerr is president of the organization.

LODGE INSTALLS ITS OFFICERS; HAS FUN

With the state organizer, Ed Schill-berger of Portland, present, the Knights and Ladies of Security installed their officers and had a general good time Monday night in their lodge rooms.

After the business of the evening had been attended to by the order and the state official had made a short address on things that would tend to increase the membership and promote the general welfare, the work was for gotten and refreshments were served. The officers who were installed with the regulation ceremonies of the order are, I. C. Bridges, president; Mrs. Emma McGahey, vice president; Roy Woodward, second vice president; Mrs. Della Green, financier; M. P. Chapman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Maud Longley, prelate; Mrs. Nella Woodward, conductor; Calvin Price, inner guard; W. H. Kloostera, sentinel; Mrs. Maud Kennedy, musician.

DEFENDANTS FAIL TO APPEAR; DEFAULT

Neither Bud Anderson, the lightweight prize fighter who was named co-respondent nor Maud Pace, the defendant, appeared in the circuit court when Guy H. Pace received his divorce decree against his wife.

The plaintiff alleged, that the woman had been joy riding with the prize fighter and that she had taken several trips to Portland with him. He also claimed that she had written love letters to him over the protests of his husband. He received his decree through default.

Eleanor K. Tunberg filed a petition for divorce against Henry V. Tunberg in the circuit court. She alleges desertion as the grounds for the action. They were married at James town, N. Y., March 12, 1907.

BOY SENT TO STATE TRAINING SCHOOL

Because he had run away from home so many times that his parents could not control him and had taken a horse and buggy and made his way into the hills, Elbert Kidder, 10 years of age, was sent to the state training school by Judge H. S. Anderson Monday afternoon. The sentence that was given the boy came as a result of his expedition into the mountains on Sunday after the officers had followed him for miles and had trailed the horse that he had taken and the buggy that he later found. It is also said that he broke into a house in the hope of finding a gun that he says a boy friend told him was there. When the case came before the county judge, the father denied that the child was 10 years of age. He was unable to prove the statement, however, and the school records gave the age as 10 in 1912. The court took the school records and assumed jurisdiction.

RELATIVE CLAIMS DIVORCE FRAUDULENT

Complaint that the divorce granted to Joseph Gundry Gillinham against Emma Jean MacDonald Gillinham was secured fraudulently has been made to Lily Stipp, deputy district attorney, by W. J. MacDonald, a real estate agent of Chicago.

In a letter that the attorney received Monday, the complainant, who is evidently a relative of the woman, alleges that the suit was brought when the wife was in an asylum for the insane at Chicago and that the husband has not provided for her basic necessities. He asks that the deputy district attorney recommend some lawyer of the community to handle the woman's case for her through the courts. The suit was filed January 15, 1913, and alleged as the ground for divorce that the wife had been guilty of such constant nagging as to result in a nervous break-down for the husband.

COOKING AND DISH WASHING PAIN HUBBY

Because she made him do the cooking and wash the dishes, John T. Heivoy has brought an action for divorce against his wife, Irene Heivoy, in the circuit court.

In the complaint, he alleges that he had to do most of the household work and that, at times, he was forced to cook his own meals and to wash the dishes afterwards. He also charged his wife with the use of abusive and profane language, with intoxication, and claims that she exhibited violent fits of rage in which she would threaten to kill him and the entire family.

On one occasion, he says, she threw an axe at him with the threat that she would split his head open. And that she also made threats to kill his father and her own mother. They were married in Oregon City, January 19, 1910, and have three children—Albert O. two years; John P., one year, and Etta E., eight months.

Judge Campbell granted the divorces of Elizabeth Steep from Walter Steep, and W. J. Earl from Della Earl.

WIFE'S TEMPER MADE BASIS FOR DIVORCE

Frequent police calls and exhibitions of temper are alleged as the basis for the action for divorces brought in the circuit court Monday by Calvin C. Cowan against his wife, Evalyn F. Cowan.

In the complaint, he recites exhibitions of his wife's temper that he says are the ground for the action, and claims that she frequently sent in calls for the police and that, after she had been given time to recover from her anger, she always told the officers that she had been mistaken when she made her appeal.

He alleges that she once appeared before the juvenile officer, and told him that her husband was not properly supporting her and then later retracted the statement. Cowan is a conductor on the Oregon City line. He agrees to pay his wife enough alimony out of his salary to support the children, Evalyn B., aged 11 years, and Evalyn B., aged 8 years. They were married in Eaton Rapids, Mich., October 3, 1900.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED BY CIRCUIT COURT JUDGE

Two divorces were granted in the circuit court by Judge J. U. Campbell Friday.

Oro Hosmer received a divorce from Edmund W. Hosmer on the ground of desertion. She was granted the custody of the minor child, Dorothy Lee, Hosmer.

Fade E. Moore got a divorce from Ralph W. Moore on the ground of failure to provide. They were married at Huntsville, Mo., November 26, 1892.

CARRIES PORTLAND WATER BUT IS CAUGHT BY MILK

George Peper, a former clerk in an Oregon City store, who has a mild case of typhoid fever, is improving at his home in Portland.

Mr. Peper was taken sick a week ago Tuesday and was compelled to go home. At first, it was not definitely known that he had the disease but as the case progressed this was decided beyond a doubt although it is a light one.

Mr. Peper took every precaution against the disease, even going as far as to bring water from his home in Portland every day. It is thought by many that he contracted the disease because of his habit of drinking milk from the local dairies.

PHEASANT DEAD; MAN IS HELD

FIRST CASE OF KIND TO COME BEFORE JUSTICE COURT IN NEXT FEW DAYS

DEPUTY GAME WARDENS ARE BUSY

Officers Scouting Around Over County in Effort to Catch Hunters With Bags of Prohibited Birds

Charles B. Straight is under arrest for the alleged shooting of Chinese pheasants before the opening of the season. The complaint was signed by J. B. Ackley, special deputy game warden, and is the first case of the kind that has been brought before Justice Seivers in many months.

From the information in the hands of the officers, Straight has bagged a number of pheasants in the last few weeks and has told several of his neighbors of the number that he has killed. The season does not open until October 1, and lasts through the month.

Because of the scarcity of the birds, the law has allowed none of them to be killed for three years, and even now the season does not open in some of the counties of the state where they have not multiplied as rapidly as in others.

SCHOOLS READY TO BEGIN YEAR'S WORK

With two new buildings and all of the old ones repaired and overhauled, the county schools are in better condition to reopen the new year than ever before in their history, according to Superintendent Gary.

New school houses have been erected during the summer at Union and Mulino and are now ready for the beginning work. In the other districts, the buildings have been thoroughly cleaned and repaired and have been fitted for the use of the pupils from the first day of the term.

In some of the districts, there have been changes made in the faculties and the force of teachers is now stronger and better equipped than it has been in some time. By next Monday, all of the districts will have opened their terms while some of them have already begun the session's work. During the week, the finishing touches will be made and plans laid for the beginning of the regular work in all of the other districts of the county.

INSTITUTE OPENS; BIG ENROLLMENT

The McLoughlin institute of this city opened Thursday morning with an enrollment of 125 students, despite the fact that most of the pupils are in the hop fields. Monday, when the real work begins, it is expected that 240 or 250 scholars will attend.

Father Hillebrand, the founder and president of the institution, says that the prospects are good for one of the most successful years of the school. Already 25 new students have enrolled and many more are expected.

The institute is operated under the direct supervision of Father Hillebrand, who maintains a policy that makes it one of the most popular schools in this section of the state. The work taken up includes both grammar and high school courses with special stress placed on music.

POLICE CHIEF QUILTS JOB AT GLADSTONE

William H. Miller, chief of police, has resigned his post at Gladstone because his duties as postmaster are too numerous to allow him to attend to the city business. Percy A. Cross, a patrolman, has been appointed in his place.

A mad dog that has terrified the neighborhood and had been running at large through the city was killed by Chief Miller as one of his last official acts.
