STRAY SHOTS CATCH BYSTANDER IN NECK Frank Champion, of this city, probably has the distinction of being the first one to be shot in this section since the opening of the season. REFEREE SELLS FOUR STOCKS PROPERTY OF BARDE & LEVITT CHANGES HANDS UNDER HAMMER SALE PORTLAND MAN HAS HIGHEST BID Offer for Entire Lot is Lower Than Those Made Separately and Best Price Gets the Lots on Shelves L. E. Karo, of Portland, has bought for $16,260, the entire Oregon City stock of Barde & Levitt and will begin at once to put into operation a great advertising campaign and sale for the disposal of the goods. Mr. Levitt will remain in the store during the disposal of the stock and will assist in the sale that they have planned to begin in the next few days. The stock was bought at the bankruptcy sale from H. N. Hicks, referee in bankruptcy, at the same time that the three other stores of the corporation were sold. The total value of the four stocks, $48,247.12, is divided as follows: Salem, D. Sondheim, $13,690; Corvallis, Matt Mosgrove, $12,379.50; Hood River, M. Bloom, $5,935.62; and L. E. Karo, Oregon City, $16,260. The total of the bid for the stock of the four stores was that of Baron & Falop of $47,109. As the total of the four bids exceeded that of the single one, the referee ordered that the stock be sold to the different bidders, which was done. The bidders for the stock of the Oregon City store were: L. E. Karo, $16,260; Matt Mosgrove, $15,832.06; Ben Sellars, $14,590. The highest bid took the property. Within the next few days, the owners will place the stock on sale for final disposal and will clean it out of the shelves. Mr. Levitt will be in the store to assist the new owner and will cooperate with him while the sale is in progress and the shelves cleaned of the old stock. Shortage of capital at a critical time is thought to be responsible for the failure of the firm and its declaration of insolvency.

COURT HOUSE GIRL Startles Mere Man With Her Slit Skirt Though Mayor Linn E. Jones has refused to issue a ukase against the "X-ray skirt," and has declared that he would like to see more of them before voicing an opinion as to their modesty, the city executive has not intimated that he approved of such things, nor of slit skirts. Perhaps the mayor's lack of opinion upon the matter of women's apparel is due to the fact that his many duties keep him so busy that he has not had opportunity to observe local happenings in fashion lines, and therefore, he does not know to what extremes some Oregon City young women are going. For instance, there is a young lady who is daily on duty at the county courthouse who has started folk by appearing in a slit skirt that would even shock Paris. Though hundreds of people have daily seen her, no comment has been made on her attire until recently, when the general agitation against extreme fashions have made people more observant than formerly. Most any day now the young woman may be seen at her post of duty, clad in a light grey or white suit—her usual business dress. The gown is somewhat Grecian in its general lines, though a trifle fuller in the blouse than the clothes that Helene lassies usually wear, and much higher about the neck. In fact as far as neck and shoulders go the dress is modest in the extreme. At the waist it is gathered with a plain sash, and the skirt then falls in flowing lines to the ground. People who observe the left side of the skirt, however, have been horrified to observe that it is radically slit—not for ten inches, as the extreme of fashion dictates, but more than two thirds of the way to the waist. Not only have the curiously inquisitive been able to distinguish the outlines of the young woman's knee, but they have seen even more—quite as much, in fact, as a modern and up-to-date bathing suit would reveal. And it is this extreme that has—well, that has surprised some people. The young woman in question presides over the courts of the county, as is supposed to see to it that the scales of justice balance evenly, and that the sword of justice hews to the line, sparing none. Long employment in her position has made her somewhat careless in regard to her duties, however, and it is to be doubted now if she has very much to do with the judicial scales. In fact it may safely be said that since she has become prominent as a leader of fashion she has dropped the scales of equality entirely. Protest will be made soon, it is reported, to the county court, and an effort made to have the young woman attend more strictly to business, and wear a more modest drapery while on duty, so that the heads of so many who have need to go to the courthouse will not be turned.

BROTHERHOOD ELECTS LIST OF OFFICERS The Congregational Brotherhood held its annual election Wednesday evening at which the following officers were elected: C. A. Miller, president; E. B. DOGS ARE FREED OF MUZZLES FOR THE NEXT NINE MONTHS Wednesday was the great day of emancipation for all the dogs of Oregon City, for from now on they can live a happy and muzzelless life. It was the first of October and, according to the law, all dogs may run at liberty without a muzzle unless the mayor shall issue a proclamation to the contrary. However, Mayor Jones took into consideration the fact that cases of rabid dogs had been reported and, as a result, decided that no proclamation would be issued.

RATS LIGHT MATCHES AND START SMALL FIRE FOR BUCKET BRIGADE OAK GROVE, Oct. 1.—(Special)—At six o'clock Wednesday morning a fire was discovered in the rear of Ed. Mitchell's butcher shop in one of the things stored back of the refrigerator. In the pile was a crate of matches and from all sides it looks like a rat or mice caused the trouble. The telephone was put to work and every man that had not gone hunting was on the scene in a few minutes with a bucket and a soon had the fire extinguished. Mr. Mitchell's loss was small and is covered by insurance. E. C. Warren owns the building and his loss will not exceed $200, it is covered by policies. E. C. Warren, B. H. Warren and Chas. Worthington motored to the Elkins place east of Molalla and started last Friday on a hunting expedition in the mountains. Elbert Answorth of Douglas county had an exhibition at the recent fair at Roseburg some splendid specimens of sorghum cane, from which comes sorghum molasses, and from that molasses candy, and from that taffy that is taffy.

LIVE WIRES TALK WATER SOURCE BELIEVE CITY HAS HAD BAD ADVERTISING ON ITS TYPHOID FEVER TROUBLE BULL RUN ONLY "BLACK-EYE" CURE Regardless of Guilt of Germs, Town Must Have New Supply to Get Itself Straight, is Contention Water—bottled, filtered, or chemically injected—was the main subject of discussion by the Live Wires at the regular weekly meeting in the rooms of the Commercial club Tuesday noon. In spite of the assurances that not a single disease-carrying germ had ever been found in the city water, test votes at the meeting showed that only a small percentage of the city's population there represented used the water without boiling it, and a large percentage does not use it under any circumstances. Speakers threshed out the question of water from every angle. Most of them declared that, regardless of the chemical and other tests—that the state board had made, the city had received adverse advertising as to its water supply and the only way that this effect could be met was by the securing of another water source. That water source ought to be Bull Run, according to the general sentiment of the meeting. The Live Wires believed that the advertising of the city would receive if it were generally known that the water supply came from that source would be such that the present black eye would be cured and the city put again on the health list. Reports Offered. Reports from Councilman Tozoe and Commissioner Joseph E. Hodges along the line of work done during the investigations of the water were made and the councilman promised further reports as soon as the negotiations with Portland are completed. F. A. Olmstead, a chemist, declared that Dr. Smith of the state board of health said, that, in addition to the typhoid germs, the water may carry germs of six other disease and he assured the Live Wires that he was deathly afraid of the others regardless of the purity of the water from typhoid contamination. Mr. Hazel and B. T. McElnin advocated a new water supply on the ground that the present system is giving the city a black-eye whether it deserves it or not and that the only way out of the muddle is a new source of supply. Men Are Afraid. William Shehan reported that he had induced two men to come to the city to live, but that, when they heard of the typhoid situation here, they refused to leave the East, where they felt that they were safe from the infection. The question of a deputy sealer of weights and measures has been taken up with County Judge Anderson and it is possible that the court will appoint some one of the present county officials to take charge of this work under the new state law. The civic improvement committee, of which Dr. J. A. VanBrakle is chairman, made its report showing the work done during the summer. The ordinance passed by the council for the improvement of city sanitation in the administration of food from flies; and further plans for a steady campaign along sanitary lines were included in the report. A big feed was one of the main features of the meeting, the menu of which followed: Cold Roast Chicken, Dumplings, Gravy, Mashed Potatoes, Hot Biscuits, Jelly, Green Stringless Beans, Cream Sauce, Tomato Salad, Mayonnaise, Apple Pie, Whipped Cream, Coffee.

She asks in the complaint that her maiden name of Annis Atkinson be restored. Another desertion case was filed when Ira A. Mallory brought the action against his wife, Hilda Mallory.
