DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Some people say it does not pay to advertise! And why? "Because you bring more people into the business, hence more competition," so said a good farmer recently who sells a great puntity of high class vegetables, and who finds his market in distant states. This man ships sweet corn to California and to Seattle and other sections, also asparagus and celery, and he sends rhubarb as far as Quebec, Canada, by the carload. Oregon City will have a levy on its taxable property of eight and one-half mills

The decision of the city council was made at a meeting held Wednesday ted. The ordinance went to its first reading and provides that eight ment and that one-half mill shall be raised for the library purposes.

The council did not see how could get along with less than the appropriations that had been made for last year and felt that a tax of smaller rate would not met expenses. The limit is 10 mills and there W88 ome suggestion of raising the levy
