Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Women from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from all sections of this great country, no city so large, no village so small but that some woman has written words of thanks for health restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No woman who is suffering from the ills peculiar to her sex should rest until she has given this famous remedy a trial. Is it not reasonable to believe that what it did for these women it will do for any sick woman?

Wonderful Case of Mrs. Stephenson, on the Pacific Coast.

INDEPENDENCE, OREGON.—"I was sick with what four doctors called Nervous Prostration, was treated by them for several years, would be better for a while then back in the old way again. I had palpitation of the heart very bad, fainting spells, and was so nervous that a spoon dropping to the floor would nearly kill me, could not lift the lightest weight without making me sick; in fact was about as sick and miserable as a person could be. I saw your medicines advertised and thought I would try them, and am so thankful I did for they helped me at once. I took about a dozen bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and also used the Sanative Wash. Since then I have used them whenever I felt sick. Your remedies are the only doctor I employ. You are at liberty to publish this letter."—Mrs. W. STEPHENSON, Independence, Oregon.

A Grateful Atlantic Coast Woman.

HOPKINS, ME.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Hodgdon, Maine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments needs justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

WHAT REALLY COUNTS.

"This district is inhabited by the tenement dwellers, the self-respecting poor, who scorn charity and whose only treasures are their children, who they hope will have a better chance than their parents had."—Letter in City Newspaper.

You are proud of this America of ours.

Remember, it will live and go on in glory only so long as this is true:

"That the poor will 'hope their children will have a better chance than their parents had.'"

When the doors of opportunity are closed to the children of the poor the land is ready for the fall which overwhelmed Nineveh and Tyre and Babylon and Greece and Rome. When the son of the serf must remain a serf, when his daughter can picture herself for herself no hope of rising from sordid surroundings, then force and might, not justice, govern a land.

It is the hope for the children which soothes the back that is weary and bent beneath the burden of heavy toil.

It is in the calm, reflective night, when the mass of the workers look upon the faces of their children asleep and see therein the hope of future improvement, that the spirit of content is born.

Take away that hope, the spirit of content dies, and the specter of red, fiery revolution arises to take its place.

Man may work without hope for himself, but not without the yearning expectation for his children. It is the law of the earth and has been so for ages. It is the impelling force that makes possible all industry and all civilization.

Beyond the sunset of our little day, filled perhaps with toll and tribulation and hopelessness, we see the dawning of the future for our children. We see them honored, respected, possessed of goods and lands and houses.

The worker may not desire wealth for himself. There are still those who labor for the love of their occupations. They seek nothing of long hours of wearying toil for themselves. They are willing to give of the best that in them lies to the need of the day.

But—

They must not be deprived of the hope for their children. Take that away and life loses all its savor, labor all its interest.

Some persons deny that "America" now, as of yore, spells "opportunity." No greater duty is laid upon us all than to disprove their ominous assertion.

Persian Bread.

The Persian native bread today is very little different from that used a thousand years ago. The Persian oven is built of smooth masonry work in the ground and is usually about the size of a barrel. Many of them have been used for a century. The dough is formed into thin sheets about a foot long and two feet wide and slapped against the side of the oven. It bakes in a few minutes.

Dramatic Progress.

"What became of that play you wrote five years ago?"

"The managers decided it was too daring to produce."

"Send it on again."

"I did. They say it's too tame now."—Pittsburgh Post.

A Cruel Dig.

Dolly—No, dear, I can't go any place with Molly. I hate her, the cat! Polly—But, darling, you used to be chummy with her. What did she do? Dolly—She told me a lot of the nasty things you said about me, dear.—Cleveland Leader.

Erudite.

"Oh, babe," exclaimed the Boston mother, "what does make you cry so?" "I really cannot say," was the unexpected answer, "I have never indulged in introspection."

Portugal.

Portugal has a total population of 5,423,132, of whom 2,388,782 are rural.

JOINS TRI-STATE LEAGUE

Telford, local pitcher becomes professional

Jonnie Telford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Telford of this city, and a former student in the Oregon City High school, has been signed up to pitch for Walla Walla in the Tri-State League by Jimmy Richardson, Wednesday.

Telford started his career on the local corner lots first playing with the city grammar schools and then with the Oregon City High. After a season or two spent with the local high school, Telford went to Washington, High in Portland where his ability in the twirling arm earned him the other inter-scholastic athletics in the Rose city for two years. Telford made a name for himself and his strong arm is responsible for many a decided defeat of rival schools and victory for Washington.

Jonnie will join the Tri-Staters early in the spring and probably play his real first professional game during the early summer months.

MORE MONEY OBJECT

McCredie believes federals would "fuss" coasters

That George Stovall is offering contracts to Coast League ball players for no other purpose than to make their clubs come through with a larger salary is the belief of Judge W. W. McCredie, the Portland owner, in a statement relative to the attempt of the Kansas City manager to snare Chester Chadbourne.

"Stovall is down around Los Angeles, where many of the Coast League players have congregated for the winter," said the judge, "and he has doubtless told them that would do anything they wanted to help them get more money from the organized baseball clubs. That is probably why so many of them are giving out the information that they have had offers from the Federal league. These who have good sense will not take a chance on jumping to the outlaw league and the possibility of being blacklisted from organized baseball."

"Chadbourne is one of the best fellows in the world personally, but he is not a star young ball player by any means and stacked up against major league talent might have to drop out much sooner than the three years that he is alleged to have been offered. Chadbourne's last two years on the coast were his best in baseball. He had his fling with the Boston Americans and was found wanting. He is younger and faster than, so that it is hardly probable that he would come up to the major league standard now. If the Federals hope to buck against the National and American leagues they must crush the fans with big league baseball."

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 14.—The estate left by Joaquin Miller, the poet, who died last year, is valued at $1,500 according to an accounting filed in the Probate court here by Mrs. Abbie Miller, the widow. ## SUN NEVER SETS ON ISLANDS OF STATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Uncle Sam now has under his possession exactly 8000 islands, supporting a population of 10,000,000 or more than the entire United States a century ago, according to a report just received by the National Geographic society.

The report shows that their commerce exceeds $200,000,000, or more than that of the United States in any year prior to 1850; American capital invested in them aggregates approximately $400,000,000; they ship to the United States $100,000,000 of their products every year and take in exchange products of about equal value.

The feature of the report is the development of Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Alaskan islands. It shows that when Porto Rico came under American possession 15 years ago there was but one building in the island erected for school purposes, while today there are 1200 such buildings. There were 25,000 pupils enrolled in the public schools in the first years of American administration; now there are 175,000. Then there was one good road 40 miles long; now there are about 1000 miles of good roads. The production of sugar has grown from 65,000 tons a year to 265,000. The foreign commerce was $20,000,000 a year; now it is nearly $100,000,000. The island bought about $2,000,000 worth of American products a year; now nearly $40,000,000.

According to the report, Hawaii has been extremely prosperous since it came permanently under the American flag in 1900. The assessed value of property increased one-half, the value of the sugar crop more than doubled, deposits in banks trebled and in savings banks quadrupled. Hawaii's irrigation system is the marvel of engineering world and the quantity of sugar produced per acre far exceeds that of any other island or mainland.

"The Alaskan Islands and mainland," says the report, "cost us $7,500,000 an expenditure that many believed to be quite unjustifiable; yet for many years the annual value of the sealskins alone approximated the cost of the entire area, while at present the value of the canned salmon sent us from Alaska in a single year is twice as much as the entire possession cost."

UNDERWOOD CATCHES GLIMPSE OF SILVER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—An industrial awakening "that will put the panic-preachers to shame" was promised yesterday by Democratic Leader Underwood, after Republicans in the house had painted dark pictures of ruin and desolation as the result of Democratic legislation.

"The Democratic party," Mr. Underwood asserted, "has achieved for the American people more than has been accomplished heretofore in the history of our government. We have procured the results which the Republican party struggled for in the course of 20 years; the result which they gave their pledges to obtain and which for term after term of congress were left undone. I look forward to unusual prosperity throughout the country in the next year."

The Democratic leader said the steel mills in his district were working double shifts, despite the fact that practically all of their product was put on the free list in the Democratic tariff bill. Business in the Pittsburgh steel district, he said, was also improving. He quoted John Wanamaker as saying "the breeders of panic ought to be deported."

"What I have to say to the birds of ill-omen who preach disaster, hoping to bring their party back into power," Mr. Underwood continued, "is this: The industrial depression we have been passing through has lasted more than a year. It is past the worst. Woodrow Wilson was elected. Before the coming election next fall there will be an industrial awakening that will put to shame the panic-preaching brokers who cry disaster in order to bring about depressions."

WINDY CITY MAY BE DRY AFTER ELECTION

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—An effort to vote Chicago dry will be made at the April primaries, it was announced today. Despite the decision last November of the allied Prohibition forces that it would be unwise to press the saloon issue this year, a group of workers decided last night to circulate petitions for the placing of the question on the ballot.

John H. Hill, member of the Prohibition party, was made chairman of the campaign committee, and announced he hoped to have 1000 workers circulating petitions in the next three weeks. Petitions bearing 75,000 signatures will be required to bring the question to a vote. The temperance workers who desire a vote on the issue do not represent officially any organization.

EXPRESS COMPANY IS OUT BIG WAD

Ralph Wyant, the company's night agent, was sought in connection with the case. He had disappeared, leaving a note for his wife, in which he said, "I have committed a crime. You will not see me any more."

WOMEN WIN FIRST STEP IN GERMANY

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Though it was without a recommendation, reichstag yesterday turned over to the imperial government the Woman Suffrage union's petition for the ballot and the right to sit among the national lawmakers. The fact that it was turned over at all was declared today to have been a distinct victory for the equal rights advocates.

The legislators, in the first place, took the women's request seriously. It was by a comfortable majority, too, that they voted down a motion to table it, which would virtually have meant that it was ignored. A respectable minority even favored recommending that it be granted.

None was bold enough to predict that women would get the ballot at present, but several well informed politicians expressed the opinion that it would be accorded to them in the next distant future.

TILLER BREAKS BUT CAPTAIN SAVES SHIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—By pairs were being made today on the steamer Yosemite's tiller, the breaking of which in the storm Sunday night passengers said, would have meant the vessel's loss but for Captain Christopher Maro's fine seamanship.

It was on Northwest Seal Reef when the ship was struck by a heavy sea. The tiller was broken, but the vessel was saved by the captain's quick action.

TAVERN WIL STAY CLOSED

MILWAUKIE, Ore., Jan. 14.—(Special)—The application of W. Wilbur for a liquor license to reopen the Milwaukee Tavern, has been rejected by the city council. It was the sense of the council that the tavern should remain closed to avoid future trouble.

The ordinance fixing the saloon license for 1914 at $1000 was passed. The former amount was $800.

J. W. Morris was reappointed city engineer for the ensuing year. The council overruled the remonstrance against the assessments for the widening of Harrison street, and the widening of Harrison street was ordered. The damages are $1002, which sum will be paid the Bonnet heirs.

BOOZE IS INVOLVED IN TOWN'S CHARTER

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 14.—Alleged that the town was illegally incorporated in order that a saloon might be established at there, District Attorney West, today instituted suit against the officials of West Woodburn, asking that the incorporation be declared void. The information upon which the suit is based is believed to have been obtained by Miss Hobbs, the governor's private secretary, who passed a day or two in West Woodburn just before she was dispatched to Copperfield.

It is alleged that the incorporators of West Woodburn resorted to divers and sundry means to find sufficient population to warrant incorporation. According to a drawing of the town, filed with the suit, it is shaped like an old-fashioned locomotive, with a long steamer of smoke behind. If a circle were drawn around it the enclosure would contain many hundred acres, according to the persons who have made an investigation. At one place the town is said to be only 30 feet wide.

This was necessary, it is declared, because persons living just outside the city limits on both sides are Prohibitionists.

CHAMBERLAIN SEES VISIONS OF LOBBY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—"I do not believe the Alaska Railway bill will be passed in the senate," said Senator Chamberlain today when the senate resumed debate on the measure. "Still the interests opposed to opening the territory by a government railroad are strongly represented here. I saw several familiar faces in the gallery yesterday, those of men allied with such interests and they certainly are here for a purpose."

Senator Chamberlain expected to conclude his argument today. He expressed the opinion that no serious effort would be made to amend the bill for the mining and sale of Alaskan coal by the government. Senators Burton and Bankhead are planning to oppose the bill.

INMATE KILLED IN FIGHT WITH GUARD

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 14.—Frank E. Wallace, a patient at the state hospital for the insane, was killed today as the result of a fall while tussling with Oliver Whitney, an attendant whom Wallace attacked.

Coroner Clough investigated the case and said no blame could be attached to Whitney and therefore no inquest will be held.

Wallace was employed in one of the corridors polishing the floor with a large polishing block, which is dragged back and forth across the floor. When Whitney entered the room Wallace was seated. Whitney directed him to get up. Then Wallace jumped and grabbed the attendant and a desperate struggle followed. Finally they slipped, the two falling, with Whitney on top. They fell across the polishing block a corner striking Wallace in the pit of the stomach.

The commotion attracted other attendants, who took Wallace into the strong room and left him. A little later Whitney went to see the patient and found him on the floor, evidently suffering. A physician was called and it was found that the patient had internal injuries and probably broken ribs. He had general paralysis, which the physician said caused hardening of the bones and would account for the easy fracture.

Wallace was committed from Portland about eight months ago. He has been in the state 19 years, was said to have been a salesman and had a wife in Tacoma.

JACKSON ROAD BONDS APPROVED IN EAST

MEDFORD, Ore., Jan. 14.—The Jackson county court today received the approval of the New York attorneys which will be part of the international highway from Mexico to British Columbia.
