SHOP OF NORMAN SALT MARSH BOTHERED BY STRANGER

An hour or so before midnight last night, Saltmarsh, who was working in the shop in the rear of his store, heard a noise at the rear of the building. He then saw a face appear above the window ledge and cautiously peered into the room. Mayor Elmer, of Milwaukie, will call a mass meeting of the citizens of that place in a few days when he will submit a proposition to connect a pipeline with the water system of Portland and secure Bull Run water for Milwaukie. At the special election last year the town was authorized to issue water bonds to the amount of $20,000 either to purchase the present water plants, or erect a municipal water plant. No agreement could be reached with the owners of the water plants, of which there are two, beside no bids were offered for the plant. The measure carried with it authority to purchase Milnthorpe Springs, a water supply, but there has been a talk that this water may not be pure, as it is known that Bull Run water is pure. It was the judgment of Philip Stipp, the ex-Mayor, that Milwaukie should get Bull Run water possible. An expression of the people on the subject will be called at a mass meeting.
