BECKER GUILTY OF MURDER IS VERDICT

AFTER DELIBERATION OF FOUR HOURS JURY RETURNS WITH ITS FINDINGS. NEW YORK, May 22—Former Police Lieutenant Charles F. Becker was found guilty as charged here today of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, a New York gambler, for whose death four gunmen were executed in Sing Sing a few weeks ago.

The jury deliberated exactly four hours, returning its verdict at 4:52 p. m. It held the ex-police lieutenant guilty of murder in the first degree. The reading of the verdict was dramatic in the extreme.

Foreman Blagden, of the jury, was weeping as the jurors took their seats in the box. It was clear before he spoke what the verdict was.

"Have you agreed on a verdict?" asked Clerk Penny. "We have," answered Blagden, tears rolling down his cheeks. "Guilty as charged."

HOME RULE PASSED WAR THREATENED

SIGNATURE OF THE KING IS HELD TO BE CERTAIN IN POLITICAL CIRCLES

DIVISION OF COMMONS, 351 TO 274

Conservatives Show Gain in Final Vote—Sudden Outcome is Unexpected by Large Waiting Crowd

LONDON, May 25.—The house of commons this afternoon passed the Irish home rule bill for the third time. Under the present law it will become effective even though the house of lords rejects it.

The vote was 351 to 274. This division was strictly political and the vote was practically the same as when the measure passed its second reading, except that since then the Conservatives have gained a few seats at bye elections.

When the house of commons met, Speaker Lowther, in an explanatory speech, admitted the question he asked A. Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, last Friday was improper. During the disturbance which caused a summary adjournment Friday and while Unionists were shouting, Law asked Law if he approved of the anti-home rule demonstration. Law refused to answer, saying the question was an improper one.

LONDON, May 25.—Certainly within the next fortnight—probably within a week—England will finally come as the only logical consequence of the government's handling of the Ulster situation.

This expresses the opinion of the majority of London daily newspapers and weeklies published here. Of the latter in the presence of editorially referring to Sir Edward Carson's statement that Ulster, if driven to civil war, would take the consequences like men.

ADMIRAL FLETCHER SNAPPED ON DUTY WHILE IN VERA CRUZ

Rear Admiral FLETCHER. This is the latest picture taken of Rear Admiral Frank Friday Fletcher, head of the first division of the Atlantic fleet. He was snapped at Vera Cruz, when he turned the management of the city over to Brigadier General Funston upon the arrival of the Fifth Brigade from Galveston.

BISHOP SCADDING DEAD IN PORTLAND. END COMES WEDNESDAY MORNING AFTER SEVERAL DAYS OF SUFFERING.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 27.—After several days of most intense suffering, Charles Scadding, bishop of Oregon diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, died peacefully at 12:50 this morning at his residence, 574 Elm street, on Portland Heights, after an illness of less than a week. He would have been 53 years old November 25 next.

OFFICIAL FIGURES SHOW STOCK CHANGE. WASHINGTON, May 25.—Farm prices for best cattle advanced more than 3 per cent, but average quotations for hogs and sheep were lower April 15 than on that date in 1913, figures prepared by the department of agriculture stated today.

SALEM STORE ROBBERED. SALEM, Ore., May 25.—In a spectacular and daring raid early tonight, two masked men stole $100 from the Gregory, a Commercial street clothing store. The clerk, William Huggins, was kept covered by two pistols while the robbers worked. After obtaining the money the robbers knocked Huggins down and escaped through a rear entrance.

FIRE AND POLICE ALARM SYSTEMS

German Cities Have Excellent Methods.

DAMAGE THROUGH FIRES.

Such Losses in the United States Are Far in Excess of Those Abroad. Failure to Take Ordinary Precautions and Construction to Blame.

For purposes of fire and police protection the German cities have an elaborate and well organized signaling system. Fire alarm boxes are placed in conspicuous positions on ornamental posts, which carry some fifteen feet above the sidewalk large red globes, which, being constantly lighted, serve to indicate the locations of the boxes.

The police alarm system, which is excellently worked out, employs as one of its principal features a signaling light similar to the fire alarm light except that it is green in color instead of red.

For police alarm purposes the city is divided into beats, each provided with several of the green signal lamps and alarm boxes. Householders are provided with keys to the alarm boxes, and when a policeman is required the citizen unlocks the alarm box, which causes all the green lights on the beat to show. At the same time the citizen talks to the central station over the telephone in the box and leaves the information as to where the policeman is wanted.

and it may readily be utilized to collect a large force of men on short notice at any desired point. It serves in addition to keep tabs on the policeman on duty, while the officer himself can in the same manner summon assistance when necessary.

The village is now a self-sustaining community, and what was started as more or less of a charity has proved successful commercially. All of the villagers are free men in the old Saxon sense of the term, and the social and political life of the place is based on this assumption of equality.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

READY!

To the great American fleet went word that the president had ordered the ships to Mexico to enforce a demand for an apology for an insult offered to the United States flag.

"We do not know what we will be called upon to do, but we are ready," England cherishes the memory of Nelson's, "England expects every man to do his duty," and America has had Lawrence's dying words, "Don't give up the ship," Perry's, "We have met the enemy and they are ours," Dewey's, "You may fire when ready, Gridley," John Paul Jones', "We have not yet begun to fight," with many another word of heroism spoken by navy men.

Let Badger's saying be added to them. Let it be preserved in the histories—but not alone as a source of inspiration to future blue-jackets and their commanding officers. Let the words be brought home to all Americans, uniformed or not. You do not know what you will be called upon to do. Prepare yourself, therefore, as well as you can, for anything that may come to you.

"One man in his time plays many parts," says Shakespeare, and "Act well your part. There all the honors lie," we are told by Pope. Ready when your country calls? Of course!

The world has its eyes on you then. It is easy to be a hero when the band play and the fires shriek and the drums beat, and you march away under the admiring gaze of friends and neighbors. There is the inspiration of comradeship. You are one of many. But ready in the every day affairs of life, when there is no music to inspire and uplift, when, perhaps, all incentive save the call of duty seems lacking, when the future seems to hold little promise?

VILLAGE RUN ON SAXON PLAN. Community Managed on Lines More Than a Thousand Years Old. Fifteen years' trial of a strange system of land reform in the little village of Winterslow, near London, has proved the excellence of the plan.

In 1899 Major Poore, father of the Duchess of Hamilton, secured possession of the old village and some of its environs and re-established a local government practically identical to that of the Saxons there more than 1,000 years ago.

The town planning movement has extended as far as the Malay peninsula, according to a recent report. The new development is near the Yumati railway station and is called the Kowloon Garden City. It is comprised of 232,225 square feet of building land purchased on a seventy-five years lease, and the scheme involves the outlay of $250,000. Already forty-six persons have purchased lots on which to build their own homes.

Flowers and Spices Antiseptic. The odor of cloves has been known to destroy microbes in thirty-five minutes, cinnamon will kill some species in twelve minutes, thyme in thirty-five minutes. In forty-five minutes common wild verbena is found effective, while the odor of some geranium flowers has destroyed various forms of microbes in fifty minutes. The essence of cinnamon is said to destroy the typhoid fever microbe in twelve minutes and is recorded as the most effective of all odors as an antiseptic. It is now believed that flowers which are found in Egyptian mummies were placed there more for their antiseptic properties than for merely ornamental or sentimental purposes.—London Globe.

So it Does. An Irishman was asked how many legs a horse has. "Eight," he replied; "one at each corner and two on each side." "Don't you think that a foolish answer?" he was asked. The Irishman replied with wisdom when he said, "A fool question deserves a fool answer."—London Answers.
