

'DRYS' NEUTRAL IN REGARD TO U'REN

PROHIBITIONISTS WILL NOT SUPPORT OR OPPOSE LOCAL CANDIDATE

COMPLETE STATEMENT GIVEN OUT

Executive Committee of Party on Investigation Concludes It Would Not be Feasible to Name Candidate

W. R. U'ren will not receive the support of the members of the state prohibition party nor will he be opposed by them. This was the decision reached at a recent meeting of the party leaders held in Portland and in the letter which has been made public after the meeting.

Mr. U'ren withdrew from the prohibition camp recently when he found that the state law prevented him from being an independent candidate and prohibition nominees at the same time.

To the temperance voters of Oregon: The principal motive impelling the prohibition convention to nominate W. R. U'ren for governor was the conviction that we ought not to oppose the election of a man publicly committed to the destruction of the liquor traffic and free from political alliance with any party favoring the business. The prohibition party is founded on the belief that under a representative form of government rules by political parties is the best plan yet devised and that no movement so important as the extermination of the liquor business can be carried to completion except by a political party definitely committed to that end.

An unnecessary and forgotten provision of the election law now makes it impossible for Mr. U'ren to be the candidate of both the independents and the prohibitionists, and he feels that loyalty to his original independent supporters requires him to accept their nomination rather than ours.

The executive committee of the prohibition party, acting in accordance with the views of a majority of such leading prohibitionists of the state as could be quickly consulted, has decided not to make any further nomination for governor, but to confine its efforts to the support of the balance of the ticket and to the fight for the constitutional amendment.

Together with the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the prohibition party claims the honor of having inaugurated the campaign for a dry state, and we shall spare no efforts to carry it to a successful completion. A campaign of education is indispensable. We have failed hitherto because the average voter has not understood the purposes of the prohibition movement and has been deceived as to the results that would follow.

We believe that when a measure is pending whose moral, social and financial effects will be so far-reaching and so universally felt, common sense and political decency demand that every candidate for office take a definite stand on one side or the other. The people have a right to know who are their friends and their enemies. Mr. U'ren has done good service for the amendment by forcing the fight along this line. If the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor, like the Independent and Progressives, would declare themselves unreservedly in favor of the prohibition amendment, there can be no question that it would be carried by an overwhelming majority. If it fails, these gentlemen cannot escape the responsibility for its defeat.

The passage of the amendment, however, will not destroy the liquor traffic in this state. It will only insure the administration to destroy it. Whether the voters of the people will be obeyed depends on the officials elected to power this fall. To put in office men whose interests and convictions are opposed to the prohibition policies is only to invite the same disastrous results which have followed such action in other states. We beg the temperance people of Oregon to see that no man is elected except such as are committed by past record, public declarations and political connections to overthrow or the chief enemy of our happiness and prosperity.

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are The Voices of Oregon City People.

They thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women, who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Oregon City people are in this chorus.

Here's an Oregon City case: Mrs. Jane Blanchard, 1102 John Adams St., Oregon City, Oregon, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney and bladder trouble that annoyed me for years. I had great relief. In all, I have taken less than two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, but that amount was enough to convince me of their merit."

Mrs. Blanchard is only one of many Oregon City people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Blanchard had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. SENATOR STONE BALKS AT ROOSEVELT IN THE COLOMBIAN MATTER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, who is chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, did not look favorably upon the request of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt that he be permitted to appear before the committee and tell of his knowledge of the Colombian incident over the Panama canal. Roosevelt wrote that he was entirely responsible for the dealings with Colombia when he was president. Senator Stone was quoted as stating that he saw no reason for having Roosevelt testify. Roosevelt objects to the proposed payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia as an indemnity.

Current Happenings of Interest in and About Oregon City

A PRETTY home wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. W. R. Kraxberger of the Lutheran church of this city, when Miss Amanda Wrietsch of Portland and Mr. William Vigellus of this city were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Vigellus the parents of the bridegroom. The room was prettily arranged for the occasion. An archway was made of ferns and cut flowers, where the bride and groom stood, awaiting the minister, who used the beautiful ring ceremony.

The bride wore a becoming gown of white silk, with real lace trimming and carried white canations. Miss Marie Valleur of Portland as bridesmaid was dressed in pale blue silk and also carried an arm bouquet of white carnations. Mr. John Vigellus, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mr. Vigellus is the youngest son of Mr. John Vigellus of this city, where he resided a number of years before going to Portland, where he is now located in business.

Following the wedding ceremony dinner was served to the seventy guests present, immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Vigellus will enjoy a brief honeymoon at a summer resort and will then make their home in Portland.

One of the principle features of Sunday, following the wedding services, was the surprise tendered Mr. and Mrs. John Vigellus, Sr., the day being their fifth wedding anniversary. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Vigellus, Sr., with a number of pretty gifts to remind them of the occasion.

BOARD MEMBERS BOOST FOR STREET

INDIVIDUAL WORK IS PLAN OF CAMPAIGN FOR BUSINESS MEN'S ORGANIZATION

PLAN SUGGESTED TO BRING BUYERS

Councilman Templeton Asks for Aid in Main Street Project—Each Member Special Committee Is Aim

The Oregon City Board of Trade, through its members as individuals, will boost for the improvement of Main street, although that body at its meeting Monday night did not officially go on record as in favor of the project.

"We believed that the most effective work can be done by each member working alone," said Secretary Price. "Each member will be expected to bring pressure to bear on his landlord so as to convert him to the right side of this question. A number of the members have done some splendid missionary work in this way and have thoroughly converted the property owners."

Councilman Templeton, chairman of the street committee and one of the leaders in the fight for a permanent street improvement, spoke before the board. He asked for the cooperation of the business men of the town in the program of improvement for Main street and pleaded that each member appoint himself a committee of one to work for the project.

Plans were suggested for bringing those who attend the annual Buyers' Week in Portland the first of this month to Oregon City to visit the mills. It was suggested that the party from Portland would spend half a day here and thoroughly inspect the paper and woolen mills. A banquet would be served during the visit and an attractive program arranged.

The advertising value to the town when the idea was first expressed. The delegates would not only have a chance to see Oregon City, would also be thoroughly impressed the size and importance of local industry.

VETS TOO NUMEROUS

HOWARD'S STATEMENT IS NOT BORNE OUT BY RESULTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 4.—Del Howard, the San Francisco manager, at the start of last week made the brief but significant statement that he was through experimenting with worst major league castoffs as a means of trying to build up a pennant-winning Coast team, and in the future he would try to gather more young blood.

Immediately after this utterance he went to Los Angeles and walloped the Angels five straight games with these same worst castoffs, beating another team which is top heavy with veteran talent.

At the beginning of the season Howard's team was called an "old man's nine," and it was predicted that there wouldn't be enough speed on the team to make it any kind of a contender in the race. Still, with only five pitchers in line during part of the time, and most of them major castoffs, he has managed to keep within striking distance of the top, and has surprised many of the critics who predicted that he couldn't make good.

But there is this much to be said. Younger players have contributed as much to the success of the Seals as the veterans have done, or more. But for the wonderful all-around work of Juanita Fitzgerald, who was supposed to be through, and Biff Schaller, who has been driving in many of the runs made by the Seals, they would be in the second division.

During my vacation in the month of August, I will be in my office between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. Saturdays to care for my patients.

MISS LUCY BURLESON'S ENGAGEMENT TO CABINET OFFICER IS RUMORED

MISS LUCY BURLESON PHOTO BY CLAREMONT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Society here is wondering if there will soon be made the announcement of another cabinet engagement. Gossip has it that Miss Lucy Burleson, daughter of the postmaster general, is Cupid's target and that the latter's darts have also pierced the heart of Attorney General McReynolds. If their engagement is forthcoming it will make the second cabinet officer who has been smitten since Woodrow Wilson became president. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, who was married to Miss Eleanor Wilson, daughter of the president, was the first.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

AUGUST SESSION OF COURT TO BE QUIET

The regular August session of the Clackamas county court convened Wednesday morning, but no business of importance was done during the day. Several minor road matters were considered but no decision was reached.

NO WORD RECEIVED OF MOUNT PARTY

LAST LETTER FROM TRAVELING PHYSICIAN ARRIVED HERE JULY 20

EFFORT IS MADE TO LOCATE COUPLE

America Tourists Travel on Foot to Coast—Men, Women and Children Undergo Great Hardships

No word has been received concerning Dr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Mount, of this city, who are spending the summer in Europe, since July 29 when Dr. Guy Mount received a letter mailed from Germany.

Relatives here are making every effort to locate Dr. and Mrs. Mount. Saturday a cablegram was sent to London and another message was dispatched Wednesday. According to the route which was to have been followed by the party they were to have been in London from July 25 to August 5, when they were to have sailed for America. The local couple had engaged a stateroom on the liner Adriatic, but no word has been received here even indicating if the party has left Germany.

Rev. H. Mau, pastor of the Schueler Lutheran church, who was visiting his parents at Kiel, Germany, during the summer has not been heard from. A card was received July 14 from him, but no mention was made of the international troubles.

Excitement in the local mills among the hundreds of foreigners is growing and it is reported that over a score have quit their jobs to leave for their native land to enlist. There are a number of veterans of the Serbian war of several years ago and these men are anxious to aid in the defense of their government.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Help, not only on a large scale, but at once, it was stated by Americans here today is needed if grave distress is to be prevented among their countrymen in Europe.

The situation here was difficult, but on the continent it was said to be becoming alarming. Means of transportation to the coast are lacking, even to those well able to pay for it, the railroads being engaged in carrying troops and most automobiles, horses and carriages having been commandeered for military purposes.

Large numbers of tourists, including women and children, it was reported, were trying to make their way to the sea on foot, some of them from points far in the interior. Besides the hardships they were compelled to undergo, it was felt that in some cases they must be in actual danger.

Concerning Dr. David Starr Jordan, of Stanford University, California, some actual alarm was felt. It was not known exactly where he was, but if he followed the itinerary he had laid out, it was believed he was somewhere in the Balkans, one of the least desirable places in Europe for a foreigner or even a native at the present time.

TWO PLAYERS ARE BACK

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 4.—Selmar Brenegan and Larry Pape arrived in Portland this morning, having been sent home from San Francisco when the rest of the Beavers went south to tackle Venice this week.

Brenegan has been slightly under the weather and McCreddie had enough pitchers without Pape, and concluded that there was no use in carrying either of the men with him on the last leg of the road trip.

"In spite of the crimples, the team is going fine," said Brenegan this morning, "and Venice will know it has been in a battle if it takes the long end of the series."

"Bobbie Davis is playing a wonderful game at third, while Kores fits in nicely at first. Spies has been hitting like a slug, and the team as a whole looks just as strong as it did when the regulars were all in line. This fellow Lush pitched good ball in the one game he worked and seems to have a lot of stuff, although a veteran. I believe that he has added quite a little strength to the pitching staff."

Sherwood people will not wait for Thanksgiving day, but next Saturday will hold a "big celebration of the year's crop," to quote from a display announcement in the Sherwood Journal. A barbecue is to be one of many entertainment features.

JOSEPH E. DAVIES MAY BE MADE CHAIRMAN OF NEW TRADE COMMISSION

JOSEPH E. DAVIES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Republican senators are preparing to ask some pointed questions as to the personnel of the new trade commission, if one is to be created by the passage of the Newlands bill, now pending in the senate. It has been understood that Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, commissioner of corporations, would be chairman of the commission. In one of the first drafts of the bill the "present commissioner of corporations" was designated as the first chairman of the trade commission. While the pending bill does not specify it, senators and representatives have been led to believe that Mr. Davies would be appointed if the commission is created. Republicans in the senate have been growing more and more restless over the political activities of Mr. Davies.

WARDENS BACK FROM TRIP INTO FOOT HILLS

DEPUTIES ERVIN AND PATTON REPORT EXCELLENT CONDITION IN CLACKAMAS

District State Game Warden Frank Ervin and Deputy Game Warden Patton, of Estacada, have returned from a tour of the Cascade ranges in the eastern part of the county and in the Table Rock country. These two, with Deputy Ames of Estacada, and Deputy Clark of Portland, formed a party which has spent several days in the woods to prevent the running of deer.

Better conditions than in previous years are reported by the wardens. Upon the return of Ervin and Patton, two more men were sent into that section of the mountains where the party of four will remain until the season closes November 1.

A car will arrive at Molalla Friday with 175 ten-gallon cans of fish each, can holding 300 fish of either the rainbow or eastern brook trout, which will be placed in the streams in the Molalla country.

Friday evening a meeting will be held in the Molalla hall for the purpose of organizing a rod and gun club. E. C. Catron, manager of the state game department in Portland, and T. J. Craig of Portland, will give talks on the production of game and fish. Mr. Craig was chief deputy game warden under William L. Finley's administration.

'CAPTAIN KID' HAS A SENSATIONAL ESCAPE

I. M. Rivers, known throughout the county as "Captain Kidd," came to grief Tuesday when he was nipped by a cave-in while digging a well at Stafford.

Rivers was digging a well for C. C. Schroeder, near Stafford station, when he encountered some quicksand, which led to a slide. He descended in the bucket to clear away the debris, and another slide came down, burying him to his armpits and pinching his left hand between the bucket and some timbers.

His yell for help was answered by Roy Schroeder, 11-year-old son of C. C. Schroeder, who promptly slid down the rope, though a third slide was imminent, cut the bucket rope and helped Rivers tie it around his waist. Then the lad shinned up the rope above the slide and called to his sister, Lottie Schroeder, who goaded the horse into action and hauled man and boy to safety.

William Waldorf Astor, who is reported to have given up his campaign for a British title, had the wrong idea. The way for an American or ex-American to acquire a British title is by purchase at the altar, and there men are not eligible.
