CARCASSES FOUND NEAR CITY INTAKE

BODIES OF FOUR PUPS DISCOVERED 200 FEET ABOVE SOURCE OF WATER

LOW WATER PARTIALLY THE CAUSE

Drift From Upper River Is Forced to the East Bank by Strong Current—Will be Removed Today

The bodies of four puppies, swollen to twice their natural size by long contact with the water, were found about 200 feet above the intake to the city water works Friday.

W. H. Howell, superintendent of the water department, said Friday evening that the dogs would be removed early Saturday morning. The dogs, apparently, have been in the water for some time and have probably drifted down the river from some point up the valley.

There is a state law prohibiting the dumping of carcasses of animals in a stream, but City Attorney Schuebel said Friday evening that it would be almost impossible to locate the party. In case the person is found, however, Mr. Schuebel said that the city would seek to have him prosecuted.

The water in the river at the present time is extremely low and the current forces a large part of the drift coming down the river to the east side and into the basin. A large amount of drift wood is strewn along the sides of the basin and at its northern end. The bodies of the dogs are caught on the upper end of a raft of logs tied to the side of the bank and directly under the walk to Canemah.

NEW OCEAN AIR COURSE PLANNED

ROUTE NOW SUGGESTED WOULD PROVIDE FOUR STOPS FOR GASOLINE

FLIGHT ACROSS IS 1200 MILES

Transportation of Fuel Is One of the Leading Difficulties of Long Air Journeys—Several Landing Places

New York—A new course for the proposed ocean flight of the seaplane America, postponed until Oct. 1, has been laid out by officials of the Aero Club of America. The new course is designed to overcome the difficulty of carrying a sufficient supply of gasoline. Instead of the long flight of 1,200 miles from St. John's to the Azores, it is proposed to establish an emergency station at the Flemish cap, a shoal off the Newfoundland banks, 420 miles in a southeasterly direction from St. John's. There are sixty fathoms of water there. The distance from there to the Azores is in round numbers 875 miles. Henry Woodhouse, a member of the transatlantic flight committee of the club, suggested this, and it was approved. He said of the proposal: "To lessen the dangers of the flight it may be possible to consider the matter of stopping at Flemish cap on the way to the Azores. There additional fuel could be taken aboard, though the stop should be discretionary on the part of the pilots. That would cut the longest distance to be flown in a single flight to 875 miles, the Flemish cap being 420 miles from St. John's. This would divide the flight into four legs as follows: From St. John's to Flemish cap, 420 miles; to the Azores, 875 miles; from the Azores to the Spanish coast, 600 miles, and from Spain to Plymouth, 550 miles. "The entire distance can be covered within forty hours easily, leaving thirty-two hours for stops. If all details are attended to before the start it will be necessary at the stops merely to fill the tanks with gasoline. As the first leg of the flight will be attempted at night it may be wise to have fires at all the points mentioned, even if no stop is made. The reflection of these on the water should be seen from the aeroplane for more than thirty miles, which is more than the America would drift under normal conditions."

Wind Gives Farmer a Lift. Petersburg, Ind.—At Blackburn, three miles east of here, a storm wind lifted a load of hay on which Carl Cooper was riding off the wagon and carried it to a neighboring field. Cooper landed on the hay and was not injured.

IRISH TRAMP FALLS BEFORE STURDY BLOWS OF GERMAN FOREMAN

The superiority of Irish armies over German troops may be debated as the soldiers from the Fatherland seem to be meeting defeat and the Irish and the Germans have not yet met. But there can be no doubt about the superiority of a German section of a foreman over an Irish tramp; no sir, not in a thousand years. Last night an Irish boy, fresh from the green hills of his native land and his speech thick with the accent which denotes the true follower of St. Patrick roamed near the water tank in the Southern Pacific yards in search of a bed. The German section foreman, important with the distinction of being a special officer, saluted from a nearby building, and to drive away the invader. "But the invader was not inclined to retreat and a battle followed. The fight was short but decisive and in the end the Irish boy was carted off to the station, a house much the worse for his contact with the German.

LOCAL HATCHERY TO BE IMPROVED

HENRY O'MALLEY PREDICTS IT WILL BE MADE BEST ON COAST

CLUB RECEIVES THANKS FOR WORK

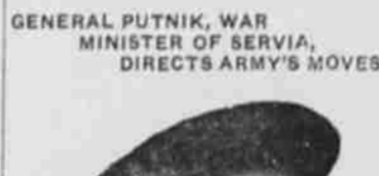

Government Official Appreciates Efforts of Oregon City Commercial Club When Appropriation Was Up

The Clackamas hatchery would be made the best on the Pacific coast, was the statement in a letter received by the Oregon City Commercial club from Henry O'Malley, in charge of government fisheries on the coast.

The purpose of the letter to the club was to thank the local organization for the efforts it put forth to secure the passage of the $15,000 appropriation in congress which will make the improvements possible. It reads in part: "I wish to thank you for efforts put forth in assisting to secure a special appropriation for the Clackamas hatchery of $15,000. I am informed that this has been granted by congress. The club brought every possible influence to bear at the time the bill was before congress.

Mr. O'Malley predicts that the local hatchery will be made the best on the coast. At the present time the government owns two sites on the river, one of which will be abandoned and probably sold. The government will build a new and modern building in which all the modern equipment for the work will be located on one of the sites, probably the one further down the river, if plans as they are now understood here are carried out.

GENERAL PUTNIK, WAR MINISTER OF SERBIA, DIRECTS ARMY'S MOVES

One of the chief factors in directing the Serbian army in the war with Austria is General Putnik, minister of war of Serbia. He is one of the leading military authorities of that country, and he is serving in person in the field.

A cowboy, to our modern minds, means a man who herds cattle. Yet the original "cowboys," instead of herding cattle, stole them. The name seems first to have been applied to a band of horsemen, part soldiers and part bandits, who fought on the British side during the Revolution. Westchester county, N. Y., was the scene of their operations, and the most of them were Tories. Because they drove away many cattle on their raids they were called cowboys. Opposed to the cowboys in their raids through the section of New York which lay between the British and American lines were the skinnners, a somewhat similar band of marauders, who espoused the continental cause—American Boy.

Parental Severity. The children of two centuries ago fell on stern times, if one may believe that the spirit of family life was accurately expressed by an excellent mother of that day who said, without humorous intent, that her children "loved her as sinners dread death." There is little doubt that parental control at that date was as rigorous as this anecdote indicates. It is said that when little Andrew Elliot, afterward lieutenant governor of New York, objected to boiled mutton his father, Sir Gilbert Elliot, frowned.

"Let Mr. Andrew have boiled mutton for breakfast," commanded the stern parent, "cold mutton for dinner and cold mutton for supper till he has learned to like it."

COINS TO AID SUFFRAGE.

Melting Pot For Cause to Turn Gold and Silver into Money. Washington.—Arrangements for converting into coin the donations of gold and silver that are being made to help in the "votes for women" campaign have been made with Director Roberts of the mint by the National Woman Suffrage association. It was announced from suffrage headquarters that the director has promised that when the precious metal is collected he will furnish the melting pot and deliver to a representative of the association value received in gold and silver money fresh from the dies.

On a day yet to be named the metal will be presented by a committee representing the association to the superintendent of the mint at Philadelphia, who will determine its actual value for coinage. He will then place that sum to the credit of the association, leaving it to the officers to decide whether they will receive it by check, gold, silver or notes.

The fund realized by this "melting pot" plan is to be used in the suffrage campaigns in Montana, Nevada, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Missouri and Ohio. The women hope to secure $50,000 by the plan.

COUNCIL SOLVES SEWER PROBLEM

CITY DADS TRAMP OVER NORTH-EASTERN PART OF TOWN TO STUDY PLANS

NEW LINE WILL COST ABOUT $10,000

Legal Action Will Probably Begin at Next Regular Meeting—Kansas City Section Served by Pipe

The Kansas City drainage problem was the subject before a special meeting of the council Saturday. The session was not held in the city hall but the members tramped over the northern and northeastern part of the town in a body so as to better understand the situation.

No official action was taken, but it was decided that it would be best to have a 15-inch sewer down Fifteenth street from Jackson to Madison, and a 24-inch pipe on to the river. This will give the northern part of the city a trunk sewer through one of the most thickly populated districts direct to the river. The estimated cost of the line is $10,000.

The first necessary legal step will probably be taken at the next meeting of the council so that the work can be commenced as soon as it is possible. Plans and specifications will be prepared and bids called for so that the sewer can be in use before the fall rains begin.

At the present time dead sewers run down Sixteenth, Jackson, Madison, Moore and John Quincy Adams streets to the natural gully which follows Fifteenth street. It has been the plan of the council for some time to run a trunk sewer down that street to the river so that the dead sewers can be brought into use and the northern section of the city provided with proper and modern drainage.

The improvement of Fifteenth street was recently begun and the council decided to lay the sewer before the street work was completed, so that its surface would not be disturbed. At the last meeting of the council the suggestion was made that this large district be drained into the Twelfth street sewer, but this was thought to be an advisable at the meeting Saturday.

Had to Smile. The senator and the major were walking up the avenue. The senator was more than middle aged and considerably more than fat, and, deary as the major loved him, he also loved his joke.

The senator turned with a pleased expression on his benign countenance and said, "Major, did you see that pretty girl smile at me?" "Oh, that's nothing," replied his friend. "The first time I saw you I laughed out loud!"—Harper's Magazine.

CITY REFORMERS TALK METHODS

COMMITTEE DISCUSSES PLANS WHEREBY RESULTS CAN BEST BE OBTAINED

MRS. NORRIS SUCCEEDS O'DONNELL

Charters of Many Cities Are Brought Before Body for Consideration—Next Meeting to be August 31

The method whereby the faults of the present city government could best be found and their remedies secured, was the subject before the city charter reform committee at its second meeting held Monday night.

The first matter brought up was the election of a member to take the place of W. E. O'Donnell, who has resigned and Mrs. J. W. Norris was chosen. Those present when the regular business was taken up were Chairman Staats, Edward Catfield, James Rouke and Secretary M. J. Brown and Mrs. Norris. The other members are out of town on their vacations.

Chairman Staats introduced the charters of La Grande, Ore., Fort Worth, Texas; Dayton, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Kansas City, Kan.; Huntington, W. V.; and Galveston, Texas. The charters of La Grande and Dayton received the most glowing praise. Staats had a diagram of the system of government in each of these two towns and they were studied by the members of the committee.

At the next meeting, which will be held in two weeks, the committee will get down to the more serious business, which follows the organization, according to Chairman Staats. It was decided Monday night that in order to remedy the present charter it would be necessary first to pick the flaws in it. A list, containing the most glaring faults, will be made and then the committee will endeavor to find the correction for them.

As few changes as possible will be suggested. "A charter with only a few changes will meet with the approval of the people much quicker than a new charter," said Mr. Staats. "We will suggest a few amendments which we believe will remedy the situation or at least remedy the worse errors of the present system.
