

OSTEND IN PATH OF GERMAN MOVE

GREAT FORCES OF TEUTONS ARE WITHIN 20 MILES TO BELGIAN COAST CITY

SHIPS CROWDED WITH REFUGEES

Hostile Aeroplanes, Which Belgians Fire Upon, Causes Great Alarm - Battle is Reported Near Ghent

OSTEND, via London, Oct. 15.—Ostend's fate hangs in the balance. The government has left King Albert and the main military quarters left Tuesday and today panic-stricken people await the action of the Germans, who are known to have a strong force within 20 miles of the city.

The inhabitants are fleeing as fast as ships can be provided to carry them to England. Hospitals were emptied today and the docks were lined with injured soldiers. Hundreds were carried on litters, while those less severely wounded hobbled on crutches and canes, supported by Red Cross nurses, doctors, nuns and priests.

for three days on the cement floor of the great terminal sheds, their nerves at the breaking point.

Escape is cut off from all sides by land and thousands were still gathered miserably on the docks when the last relief ship left late today. No steamers leave Ostend at night because of danger from the mines. Still the crowds swarm the piers, awaiting the dawn and more ships.

Even the refugees who managed to find deck space on the crowded transports were not relieved of the terrible strain under which they have been laboring, for the watchful Taube flew over the steamers, observing their movements as they sailed out of the harbor.

The aeroplanes did not drop bombs, however, as one had on previous days, when both civil and military ships were so narrowly missed by exploding shells that the Belgians charged that the Germans were aiming at the hospitals.

Last night was one of terror to the residents of Ostend and the thousands of refugees fleeing before the German invasion. Wounded soldiers were brought here by the score from Ghent. It is reported that they were engaged Monday near Ghent in a serious battle with the Germans. The allies are said to have had a small force against a large German force and were obliged to withdraw toward the west. Consequently there is virtually no obstacle to the German advance on Ostend.

NOMINEES COMPARED BY COL. C. E. S. WOOD

C. E. S. Wood, known as "one of Oregon's greatest orators," spoke before a fair sized and attentive audience in Willamette hall Saturday night, taking for his subject, "Hailay versus Booth and Chamberlain."

Mr. Wood has known the Progressive candidate for senator for a number of years and his talk for the most part consisted of a direct account of Mr. Hainley's purposes and record. O. W. Eastham acted as chairman and introduced Mr. Wood.

The value of the land and buildings of the national farms of this state is $91,365,900; that of the home owners and managers is $364,512,900.

DUNN FOR TREASURER

Everyone knows M. E. Dunn. He needs no introduction to the people of this community. He has a wide acquaintance all over the county and is especially well known about Oregon City, where he has been a successful business man for years.

Mr. Dunn is making an active campaign for the office of county treasurer and will be elected. He is admirably fitted for the task which he seeks and promises the voters that if they repose their confidence in him at the polls, he will give them an efficient, economical and honest administration.

Mr. Dunn has appeared at many of the Republican rallies during the campaign and his reception has been most encouraging. His wide acquaintance is voluntarily boosting him for the office, because he stands high in the community and is generally recognized as a man of sterling worth, an indefatigable worker, and a man of much ability. When a man possesses all these personal qualifications, and in addition is a dyed-in-the-wool Republican of the old full dinner pail school, it would seem that he would be the natural choice for the office of county treasurer of Clackamas county, Oregon, in this troublesome Democratic year of our Lord, 1914.

Mr. Dunn is modest concerning his qualifications for the position he seeks. This fact is most commendatory. His hundreds of friends in the county know his ability, and Mr. Dunn is perfectly willing to let them decide as to his qualifications for the office, rather than flatter themselves before their eyes, portraying his own efficiency. Dunn has the confidence of the people, based on a record of years in the commercial life of the county, and the voters are well aware that if they select him as their choice there need be no fears as to any violation of this confidence, which has been well earned.

Voters, if it is efficiency you seek, a vote for M. E. Dunn for county treasurer will be a step in the right direction. This paper warmly endorses his candidacy, for it knows the man, knows his qualifications and knows that he stands ace high in the community.

100 CENTS IN SERVICE

William J. Wilson, Republican candidate for county sheriff, is one of that class of very desirable men who are always "on the job." He represents exactly the type which should be entrusted with the administration of county work. He should be, and will be, the next sheriff of this county.

Mr. Wilson has been a successful business man of Oregon City for several years, and has lived in the community a long time. He commands the respect and confidence of a wide circle of acquaintances who believe him to be of "A-1" sheriff calibre. Wilson is a man of action, and if he is chosen to the position he seeks, it is needless to say that the sheriff's office will bring 100 cents in service on every dollar spent in the department.

Two years ago Mr. Wilson was chosen by the voters of Clackamas county as their coroner, after having been appointed to serve the unexpired term of the former incumbent. This experience, which Mr. Wilson has carried on with credit to himself, has given him a thorough knowledge of the country and its people, and coupled with his previous experiences a successful man of affairs, has most excellently qualified him for the sheriff's office. If anybody can handle the turbulent duties of county sheriff of Clackamas county, and do the job to a nicety, that man is "Billy" Wilson. Though a busy man Mr. Wilson is finding a little time to get out among the voters, and is finding the situation very encouraging. He is another one of the sterling Republican candidates which this paper warmly endorses to the voters of the county.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 12.—An official communication issued today announces that on October 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada was torpedoed in the Baltic sea by a German submarine and sank with all of her crew.

The text of the communication which was made public by the marine department follows: "On October 10, German submarines were sighted in the Baltic sea. The same day, early in the morning, the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of the Netherlands.

"A submarine of the enemy launched several torpedoes, which luckily missed the mark and caused no damage whatsoever to the cruiser.

"On October 11, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the submarine of the enemy again attacked our cruisers Bryan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened a strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

Efficiency in the Court House

A political campaign that is attracting wide attention throughout Clackamas county is that of Miss Iva M. Harrington, candidate for county clerk. Not only for the reason that Miss Harrington is the first woman candidate to seek political honors in the county, but also because she is taking an active interest in the campaign now being carried on in the Republican camp.

Miss Harrington has appeared at several county rallies, addressed the voters in a convincing manner, and on every occasion has won for herself warm commendation. She claims the support of the voters purely on a basis of efficiency, and her record as chief deputy under County Clerk Mulvey is a most enviable one.

Miss Harrington has a host of friends who are watching her race with unusual interest. Her services to the county have been most valuable and the voting public is well aware that the duties of the county clerk's office, are the sort that requires 100 per cent efficiency. And the voting public is also aware that the county clerk's office has been conducted in an admirable manner for the past four years, with Will Mulvey as clerk and Miss Harrington as second in command. If there is anything whatever in the so-called merit system in regarding public services, Miss Harrington should sweep Clackamas county by a big majority next month. She deserves the office and should be elected.

The women voters of Clackamas county, too, are watching Miss Harrington's race with enthusiasm, for her record in public life has been a shining example of the efficiency and ability of her sex to mingle in public affairs.

Miss Harrington promises an efficient, economical and courteous administration, if the Clackamas County voters see fit to honor her with the office of county clerk. Her record as chief deputy has been an open book and her experience has given her an intricate and thorough understanding of the arduous duties of the office. This paper takes pleasure in endorsing Miss Harrington's candidacy.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 199 Waldo Street, Providence, R. I.

A Minister's Wife Writes:

CLOQUET, MINN.—"I have suffered very much with irregularities, pain and inflammation, but your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has made me well and I can recommend the same to all that are troubled with these complaints."—Mrs. JENNETTE AKERMAN, c/o Rev. K. AKERMAN, Cloquet, Minnesota.

From Mrs. J. D. Murdoch, Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. MURDOCH, 25 Gordon St., South Quincy, Mass.

PORTLAND ELECTION FRAUD IS CHARGED

COMMITTEE OF ONE HUNDRED SENDS INVESTIGATORS INTO NORTH END PRECINCTS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 8.—(Special)—What is declared to be the most glaring election fraud ever attempted since the old colonization days in the north end here, was uncovered in Portland today by investigators working for the committee of one hundred.

The committee declares scores of voters have been fraudulently registered with the intention of voting there wet at the coming election.

The registration last week in three north end precincts adjacent to Burnside street has been examined already. In precinct 28 only 18 legal voters were found out of a total of 50. The balance had been taken to the polls by representatives of the saloon interests in large touring cars, the representatives of the committee declare. The doubtful and ineligible registered voters had given fictitious addresses or the addresses of lodger houses where they had never lived. Some even ventured to give saloons as their addresses where it was obvious no one lived at all. Only a small percentage of these would-be voters can be found in Portland, so J. E. Wheeler, chairman of the committee declares. It was obviously the intention of the saloon men to vote others in their stead, with the aid of the precinct cards which were carefully collected from the "voters."

The committee of one hundred announced today that in view of the startling disclosures, the checking of only one week's registration in three precincts, a complete canvass will be made of every precinct in the north end. Watchers will challenge and have arrested any of these men who ventures to approach the polls for the purposes of voting.
