STEEL ELEVATOR SPAN SWUNG INTO PLACE

REGULAR "BRIDGE OF THE GODS" WILL SOON BE FINISHED PRODUCT

The Bridge of the Gods has nothing on Oregon City. Wednesday afternoon the big 60-foot span was swung from the top of the Seventh street bluff across the R. P. tracks and joined up with the big municipal elevator tower which has been awaiting the coming of the bridge for several months. The long expected operation was quite the event of the day in the mill town and hundreds watched the work. As the big steel frame was swung into place local people got their first idea of the appearance of the completed structure. The balance of the steel work will be stretched across the gap tomorrow and the sides, floor and finishing touches will be added at once. It is thought the elevator will be practically completed by the last of the week.

Litigation over the landing place for the elevator with Mrs. Chase, the adjoining owner, has been pending for several months and was only settled recently. With the completion, the next problem to arise will be that of water, as the affair is hydraulic in its operation. A deadlock exists between the city water commissioners and the council, the former refusing to allow city water for power purposes. The settlement of this question will probably mean a delay for some time yet.

WILLAMETTE IS TO HAVE HIGH SCHOOL

The town of Willamette Monday showed its loyalty to its public schools and to the first school playgrounds installed in Clackamas county, by levying a 5 1/2 mills tax for school purposes at a special election. A levy of 4 mills was made for general maintenance, 1/4 mill for the payment of the school bonds, and 1 mill for general improvements, including walks, playground apparatus, etc. It was also voted to have a high school in the community. Previously the course of study only went as high as the tenth grade, but in the future the complete 4-year high school curriculum will be given. The playground apparatus at Willamette is very complete and consists of rings, swings, bars and the other paraphernalia used in the big Portland playgrounds.

YOUTHFUL RUNAWAYS GLAD TO GET HOME

Two runaway youngsters, Albert Fuller and Max Phiffer, who started out to see the world and got as far as Vancouver, Wash., where officers gently detained them, were brought back home by Constable Jack Frost Tuesday evening, with all their wanderlust tendencies completely gone. The youthful pair who are 17 and 16 years of age, planned on shipping east from Vancouver, but were careless enough to let out their plans before taking their departure from Oregon City. Both boys were glad to get back home. Fuller is the son of A. S. Fuller on Third street, while Phiffer is the son of John Phiffer of Falls View.

An ordinance was passed at the regular meeting of the West Linn council held Wednesday night, which provides for a municipal election to be held Monday, December 7, for the selection of three aldermen at large. Election judges were chosen as follows: L. L. Porter, Frank Doty and S. Shadle, and Miss M. Hickman and Mrs. McFarland were chosen as clerks.

WIFE CEASED TO LOVE; HUBBY SEEKS DIVORCE

Henry L. Davenport has sought redress from his matrimonial state in the local circuit court and has brought suit to divorce his wife Jessie D. Davenport. The Davenports were married in 1902 and cruel and inhuman treatment is the ground on which the separation is asked. The plaintiff alleges among other things that his wife often told him that she had ceased to love him and that she could no longer live with him. Davenport asks for the custody of their two children.

Aches and pains would not be so bad if they didn't get busy at the wrong time and in the wrong place. Diplomacy is the art of getting what you want without fighting for it.

MAIN STREET TO BE RESURFACED

ADJOINING PROPERTY OWNERS DECIDE DEFINITELY TO RE-COAT HIGHWAY

OWNERS UNANIMOUS TO REPAIR

Work Will be Done as Soon as Water Piper and Sewers can be Laid—Will be Finished in Early Spring

The taxpayers along Main street Monday night themselves took a hand in the repair of the much repaired highway, and unanimously decided to fix up the street in permanent fashion and at their own expense.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the taxpayers along the street, at a special session held at the council chambers Monday night. T. J. Tobin presided at the meeting and John Loder acted as secretary. It was definitely decided to hard surface or re-surface with bitulithic or some other lasting substance, over the brick foundation which now exists. The low places in the street will all be brought up to grade with solid foundations so that further sinking will be impossible. The covering, the nature of which has not yet been definitely decided, will then be placed over the brick with sufficient depth to make the improvement a lasting one.

The improvement will take place just as soon as sewers and pipes can be put in the street. A committee of Messrs. Howell, Kelly and Andresen was appointed to investigate the different pavements which will be available, and a committee of three was also chosen on the matter of sewers and water pipes, which are to be laid before the improvement is to be made.

It is the plan of the property owners to have the street fully completed by next July and if this is done, the Eagle should scream more vociferously than ever in Oregon City next Fourth, in celebration of an event which has caused no end of worry and embarrassment to local people. The meeting of the adjoining owners was well attended and the sense was practically unanimous in favor of the plan to make permanent repairs and at the expense of the owners. It is figured that the expense will be less than one-half of what the regular bitulithic pavement would cost.

The improvement will be patterned after a main street in Vancouver, which has been treated recently in the same manner, and is now considered one of the finest streets in the Washington city. When completed the local street will give the same general appearance as north Main street.

"The moss has been washed off of everybody's backs, and the feeling was genuine and unanimously in favor of a permanent resurfacing," said a well-known taxpayer at the conclusion of the meeting. The definite decision of the adjoining owners should be welcome news for Oregon City people.

RANCHER ARRESTED ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

J. E. Miller, a Clackamas county rancher, was arrested Wednesday by Constable Jack Frost, for contempt. The constable had sold some potatoes on a judgment against Miller. The sale was made on proper execution, but when the purchaser came to dig the potatoes, Miller, it is charged, refused to let the potatoes be taken from the ground. When arraigned before Judge Sievers Mr. Miller pleaded not guilty, and his trial was set for hearing next Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock. The two Oregon City lads who ran away from home intent on seeing the world, were given some good fatherly advice by Judge Sievers, and permitted to go home on promise of future good behavior.

BEE BUSINESS BUZZING

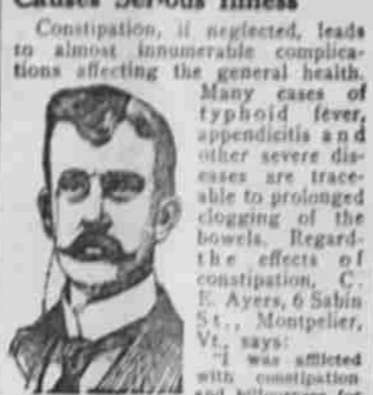

Oregon bee-keepers have just completed gathering the 1914 honey crop. According to the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, the yield per colony of bees was 45 pounds. In 1913 the production per hive was 40 pounds. The increased production is said to be due to the enormous crop of wild flowers this season. The latest census figures of the bee and honey industry of this state refer to 1910. That year there were 8,861 farms in Oregon that kept bees and the total number of colonies was 47,285.

THE AUTO IN THE FIELD

It is quite a common sight in Oregon to see farmers drive to the harvest fields in automobiles. It takes a solemn sum of money to buy an automobile and it takes good roads, as well as gasoline to run them. A joy ride in the harvest fields of this state is one of the most exhilarating experiences that is available on this continent and one that would charm a tourist and convince a homesicker. A joy ride in a home-escape that one seldom takes in a lifetime. In mapping out automobile routes the Oregon harvest fields should be given prominent position. Why not a "See Rural America First" campaign?

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases, are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says: "I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case." Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

BURGLAR RAIDS LARSON'S STORE

TAKES ALL LOOSE CHANGE FROM TILL AND SMASHES SAFE COMBINATION

CHARLIE SCHRAM DISCOVERS THIEF

Man Makes His Escape in Dense Fog When Schram Notifies Police of the Burglary—Enters in Rear Window

Larson's grocery store at the corner of Teath and Main streets, was burglarized about midnight last night. The thief gained entrance through a rear window in the building, forced the cash till open, relieved it of about $2.50 in loose change, and then broke off the combination of the safe with an axe, but did not effect an entrance. The man was discovered, but made his escape.

Charlie Schram who lives the second door north of the Larson store heard the noise made by the burglar and at once notified the police. Night Officer Cooke arrived almost immediately but the man had escaped. Officer Cooke believes he saw the thief making his way toward the railroad track as he was coming toward the store, but in the dense fog, Mr. Cooke lost track of the fellow when he attempted to follow him. A freight train moved out of the yards shortly afterwards and it is believed the man escaped on the train. Diligent search was made in the yards until a late hour this morning.

This is the second robbery that Mr. Schram has discovered during the past few weeks. The first occurred when valuable ore was stolen from the Ogle Mountain Co. office, immediately adjacent to Mr. Schram's residence.

BOY KILLED ON PHEASANT HUNT

FOURTEEN YEAR OLD GEORGE PULSE OF HIGHLAND ACCIDENTLY SHOT

JURY HOLDS SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Tragedy Occurs When Roy Hahn Attempts to Re-Load "Pump-Gun"—Parents Prosecuted With Grief

George Pulse, age 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pulse, of Highland, was accidentally shot and almost instantly killed Friday morning, by Roy Hahn, of Portland, who was hunting pheasants with the unfortunate lad near the Pulse ranch, about 17 miles southeast of Oregon City.

Hahn had shot at a bird in a neighboring field and the two were attempting to stand up for another shot. Hahn was attempting to reload his gun, which was of the "pump-gun" make. Young Pulse was standing about 25 feet away, when the gun was discharged and he received the full charge in his back. The unfortunate lad lived only a short time. Hahn at once sought medical aid and Dr. Mout was summoned from Oregon City, but the lad had expired long before he arrived. The parents of the boy, who are well known ranchers of the Highland country, are prostrated over the tragedy.

Hahn, who is about 20 years of age had been spending a few days visiting and working about the Pulse home. He and young Pulse left in the early morning for a pheasant hunt. The accident occurred about 7:30. Coroner Wilson was immediately notified and conducted an inquest over the remains. Hahn was exonerated from all blame at the hearing. Young Pulse was a student at the Highland school and a general favorite among his youthful companions in the neighborhood. When a chronic kicker does gain his point it is apt to be blunt.

REDLANDS MAN IS HURT IN RUNAWAY

H. COOP, TEAMSTER, THROWN FROM WAGON AND SUSTAINS GRAVE INJURIES

FOUR-HORSE TEAM BREAKS AWAY

Victim Returning Home From Oregon City When Accident Occurs Near Redlands—Man Has Family

H. Coop, a teamster in the employ of the Mattoon Lumber Co. of Redlands, was seriously hurt in a runaway Wednesday evening, when the four-horse team which he was driving home from Oregon City, ran away and threw him from his wagon. The man sustained a broken arm, several smashed ribs and possibly was internally hurt. He was brought to the Oregon City hospital by Dr. Mount, where he received consciousness late last night.

Coop was returning from Oregon City in his empty lumber wagon, and was driving into Redlands when the horses became frightened and got beyond his control. The wagon was upset and Coop was thrown headlong. He was reported last night to be in a grave condition, and it is feared by the physicians that he has received internal injuries. Coop is a married man and has a family. He lives at Redlands.

Less than two months ago a similar accident occurred with the same wagon, and two of the horses in Wednesday's accident. The first runaway, too, occurred near Redlands, and the driver sustained a broken arm. One of the horses was killed in the first runaway, but the animals escaped Wednesday.

SPOUSE ASKS COURT TO RID HIM OF WIFE

JOE ZELINSKI SAYS WOMAN HENPECKED HIM OFTEN AND MADE LIFE MISERABLE

Joe Zelinski filed suit for divorce Saturday against Marie F. Zelinski, and in his complaint set forth a long list of grievances which he alleges have rendered his married life burdensome in the extreme.

The couple were married in Michigan in 1902. Zelinski accused his wife of heaping epithets upon him and alleged that she cursed and swore at him, and accused him of infidelity. He says that she upbraided him on divers occasions in such a manner as greatly to humiliate him before his customers in the barber shop which he conducted, and that, when he was ill and bed-ridden with high fever, his spouse refused aid and comfort to him and remained away from home until late in the night.

The complaint also alleges that the wife packed her clothes and threatened to leave her husband on several different occasions, all of which caused him to seek solace in the courts. Stefani Rinkiewicz also has asked the court for relief from the bonds of matrimony from her husband, Antoni Rinkiewicz. The Rinkiewiczes were married in Illinois in 1898 and have four children. Drunkenness is alleged as the basis for the divorce action.

HAWLEY TO VISIT HERE SATURDAY

CONGRESSMAN IS NOW ENROUTE FROM POST AT WASHINGTON—SHORT VISIT PLAN

Congressman Hawley will be the guest of his many Oregon City friends Saturday morning, and will spend part of the day on the streets here renewing old acquaintances and shaking hands with the voters. He will arrive here at 4:35 a. m., coming from points down the valley. He will return to Salem Saturday afternoon in time for the monster demonstration which is being prepared for him in his home town.

Congressman Hawley was one of the faithful who remained at his post at Washington, notwithstanding the political boss was buzzing warm in his home state. He left Washington, following the adjournment and is now enroute home.

The committee has received calls from all parts of the district for Mr. Hawley to campaign in behalf of the ticket, but as his time is so short it will not be possible to cover only a few places and a schedule of dates has been arranged as follows:

If Mr. Hawley reaches Salem in time Thursday morning he will take an early train so as to arrive in Eugene about noon and meet the people of Springfield and Eugene in the afternoon. At any rate he will be in Eugene Thursday evening, October 29. He will remain in Eugene that evening and night and the following day will be in Cottage Grove until 3:26 in the afternoon when he will proceed to Roseburg where he will remain until 11:15 Friday night. Leaving Roseburg he will go to Oregon City and will spend Saturday in Oregon City and other points arriving at Salem in time to participate in the monster demonstration Saturday evening. He will remain in Salem Saturday night and all day Sunday and Monday will be one of the speakers at the Republican rally in Astoria Monday evening, returning to Salem to cast his vote on Tuesday.

After the election Representative Hawley expects to devote considerable time ascertaining the wishes and desires of his constituents and in planning with them, as is his custom, a campaign for the advancement of the interests of the district.

G. B. MASTERS DIES VERY SUDDENLY

STRICKEN WHILE WASHING FOR BREAKFAST—AGED MAN PASSES AWAY

G. B. Masters, a well known resident of Oregon City, aged 77 years, expired very suddenly at his home on 17th and Van Buren streets early Thursday morning. The old gentleman had arisen at the usual hour and while washing for breakfast on the back porch of his home, partially fainted. He stepped into the house, with the assistance of members of the family, sat down in a chair and expired within a few minutes. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Mr. Masters was formerly a well known farmer of Falls City. With his wife he came to Oregon City about three years ago. The widow survives, and also she married children, most of whom live in Portland. No arrangements for the funeral have as yet been made.

AGED PATIENT WILL FULLY RECOVER

Although 78 years of age, Mrs. Elvira Fellows is recovering nicely from a serious appendicitis operation performed at the Oregon City hospital some time ago. Friday Mrs. Fellows was removed to the home of her brother, Captain Apperson. Dr. Mount stated the case was an unusually bad one at the time of the operation, not only on account of the old age of the patient but also for the reason that complications had set in. It is thought the aged lady will soon be fully recovered.

Valuable Ore Found By Molalla Man On Recent Hunting Trip

Homer Trullinger, of Molalla, was in Oregon City Thursday, with a piece of valuable ore which he picked up while on a hunting trip in the North Fork country near Trout Creek. Mr. Trullinger, who was formerly an Idaho miner, declares the ore will assay in gold and silver better than $200. He declared his intention of returning in the near future to the spot where the ore was found and prospecting for a further find. The sample lay upon the surface, according to Mr. Trullinger.

SEWING MACHINE CASE BEFORE JUDGE SIEVERS

The wheels of justice revolved all day Monday around an argument over the possession of a sewing machine in which A. I. Clark sued Ed. Walters for the recovery of a machine he alleged had been unlawfully withheld from him by defendant. Clark, who is a sewing machine agent, had left his team and a sewing machine at the Walters feed store, and he claimed Walters gave up his team and horses but wrongfully withheld possession of the machine. Clark asked $46.40 as the price of the machine, together with $15.00 damages for withholding. After perhaps five minutes deliberation the jury returned a verdict for the defendant Walters. The case took up the greater part of the day Monday.

CITY DADS SWEAT OVER NEW BUDGET

STREET, FIRE AND POLICE ESTIMATES FOR 1915 PRESENTED COUNCIL LAST NIGHT

FINANCE REPORT NOT QUITE READY

Members Retire Into Executive Session and Work Until Late Hour in Preparing Budgets for New Tax Scheme

The city fathers locked themselves in executive session Wednesday night and sweated over the city budget now being prepared, until a late hour. The street, fire and water, and health and police departments presented preliminary budgets at the meeting, but the financial report was not in shape.

The three estimates which were tentatively offered to the council, were as follows: Streets $14,472.76 Fire and water 2,242.41 Health and police 4,395.55 Total $21,110.72

These three estimates were based largely upon figures of the past year in actual maintenance in the three departments, and were suggested as a basis on which the councilmen could begin the actual work on the total budget of the city for 1915, which will be published so that the voters may have a better insight into the proposed tax amendment scheme, and in accordance with the provisions of the measure.

All of the council, with the mayor, recorder and city attorney were present at the meeting, and all entered into the big task on hand with a vim. The street budget was first taken up and discussed, with a view of reaching an accurate and final basis for the 1915 expenditures.

The report of the finance committee was the only estimate which was not presented at the meeting, and it is understood that this is now in preparation and will be given to the city fathers during the next few days. As the council went into executive session shortly after the meeting was called the result of their work on the various estimates is unknown at this time.

BOY VICTIM LAID TO REST SUNDAY

Smith. There was a very large and sympathetic crowd present.

Young Pulse was a general favorite with all who knew him. He was courteous, clean and industrious and very noble minded. The grief stricken parents have the sympathy of all their friends and neighbors. Mr. Rutherford spoke very fittingly and feelingly of the youth's ideals. Young Pulse was born in Montana but had lived in Highland for the last eighteen months.
