PORTLAND, Ore., April 20 .--- Minnesota and Wisconsin are both offering potatoes to the local trade and some carload lots are now rolling in this direction.

Potatoes are being quoted at Minneota and Wisconsin points today at 50c a bushel for Burbanks and 47c for rurals. The freight rate from these sections is 75c a cental, therefore it is aparent that arrivals from there must bring more money than the present market here.

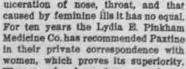

With the gaining strength in the potato trade here and elsewhere along the coast, the general feeling in the market is decidedly bullish.

Local growers who still retain supplies are not offering them freely even at the advanced values.
