TWO MONTHS BEFORE
ELECTION, POLITICS
IS FAVORED TOPIC

MAYOR JONES DECLARES HE WILL NOT COME OUT FOR RE-ELECTION IN DECEMBER.

While the annual city election is still months away, indications at this early date are that in general warmth and importance it will exceed any election in recent years. Already two proposed amendments to the city charter have been drafted and petitions will be in circulation within a few days. One of the amendments would give the right of a jury trial in the recorder's court and the other make the offices of city prosecutor, as it is better known, city attorney and city engineer elective.

Even now, two months and a half before the election, the following facts are certain:

That Mayor Jones will not be a candidate for re-election. In repeated sentiments during the last two months he has always said that he will not seek office again, and

That William Anderson, former councilman, successful business man and chairman of the South Fork commission, will not run for the office.
Even the efforts of Mayor Jones and two score of his other friends have been unavailing.

Rumor has it, and it has not been denied, that E. C. Hackett, present councilman and deputy sheriff, will be a candidate for mayor on a platform of strict economy. Mr. Hackett is known to differ widely in his views from many of the more important stands of the present administration.

He opposed street improvements in the hill section, opposed the operation and construction of the Seventh street elevator and can almost be counted against every expenditure which he considers is not absolutely necessary. Other candidates for the executive position are still in hiding.

The retiring councilmen are: Ward one, Metzner; ward two, W. A. Long, and ward three, Meyer. Candidates for the council have not appeared on the scene but it is generally hinted that one or more of the three will try to block their retirement by becoming candidates.

N. C. Jamison, official tester for the ciation, is interested in cattle of any kind but is not the proud possessor of a herd of Guernseys, even though the Enterprise recently made the statement, through an error, that he would exhibit stock of that breed at the county fair.

GARFIELD CLUB DECIDED SUCCESS

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COL-LEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Sept. 14.—The Garfield Country club, of Clackamas county, is a pioneer of the movement to organize the rural life of Oregon for the utilization and improvement of its latent forces.

Its history begins with the completion of the electric railway line from Portland to Estacada, its postoffice and trading center.

The club was organized and incorporated under the laws of Oregon for social purposes. Each member becomes a shareholder in the club property, and his equity is considerably more than the cost of his membership.

This satisfactory condition was brought about by careful investment in real estate and other club property and by improving the grounds and ereciting buildings largely by donated material and labor.

The following brief account of the organization was given by Guy T. Hunt, the real leader of the movement and the club president:

Soon after the completion of the electric line to Estacada the citizens of the Estacada district undertook to receive and entertain a delegation of Portland business men. This delegation proved to be larger than had been provided for and was made up of both men and women, who were seeking to bring the advantages of the district before the public. The reception plans called for a tour into the country and a picnic lunch a few miles out of town.

The transportation facilities proved inadequate and a considerable portion of the visitors had to walk out to the lunch grounds over an extremely hot and dusty road that leaned at a sharp angle against the surrounding hills.

To make the matter worse, there was but little to eat when they reached the lunch grounds, and as this was only about half way to the objective of the tour, an Oregon Agricultural college demonstration orchard, most of the pedestrians turned back with

CONSTRUCTION OF ADDITION TO HIGH SCHOOL WILL BEGIN AT ONCE; WILL PROBABLY BE COMPLETED IN FEBRUARY

Having sold its issue of $20,000 bonds for the construction and equipment of an addition to the high school building, the school board Friday night determined to proceed at once with the construction of the building and the contracting firm of Stebbings Brothers, of Portland, will start work without delay.

It is not likely that the addition can be completed before February 1, and in the meantime the two new portable rooms, the contract for which was let Friday night, will be used for the overflow. The lowest bidders on the portable rooms were Scott, Andrews & Co., of Oregon City, and they are agreed to complete the portables on or before October 1. The structure will be erected on the south side of the high school building.

The school architects, Vonderhake & Forbes, agreed with the contractor that the construction of the permanent addition while school is in session, will not interfere with the school work. A portion of the heating plant has already been installed.

Mrs. Lenora Covert, for the last three years, instructor in music, in the city schools, resigned Friday night, as all her time will be required in the Portland schools. The board also accepted the resignation of Miss Lev-Thompson, who was elected a primary grade teacher. She has taken a position at The Dalles. The two vacancies will be filled at a special meeting next Monday night.

Proposals for school furniture were received and referred to City Superintendent Toose for tabulation and report. Action will be taken at Monday night's meeting.

PORTLAND SCHOOL GIRL WHO MARRIED IN SOUTH MAKES SENSATIONAL CHARGES.

The story of the sensational adventures of Sherma A. Baldwin, a 19-year-old Portland girl who was married in San Francisco, Cal., March 17, 1914, is told in a divorce complaint filed in the circuit court Thursday. The girl has lived in Portland 15 years and was graduated by the Lincoln high school in that city.

She says that soon after her marriage, Baldwin, being unable to support her, took her to the home of his mother, which she says is a house of prostitution. Several nights later she says she was taken to a San Francisco apartment house but managed to make her escape. Once after fleeing from the place, she says she met her husband on the street and that he swore at her. She describes him, in her complaint, as "coarse, low and bruttal."

Mrs. Baldwin asks for the return of her maiden name, Sherma E. Dana.
The girl left her home in Portland over a year ago to become a moving picture actress.

BORING MAN IS ELECTED DELEGATE

Postmasters of Oregon of the fourth class, who have an organization known as the Oregon league, branch of the National League of Postmasters of the United States, held their ninth annual meeting in Portland Saturday. They met at the Chamber of Commerce and had a morning and afternoon session, given over to business.

William A. Morand, of Boring, secretary-treasurer of the league, was elected a delegate from this state to the national convention of postmasters at Cincinnati, O., September 22.

Other officers of the state organization are: President, A. O. Adams, Cascadia Locks, and vice-president, A.
M. Porter, Gaston.

The postmaster were welcomed to Portland by Postmaster F. S. Myers.
He urged that the officials do their best to procure the repeal of a law that admits of the appointment of aliens to the position of postmaster.

Mr. Myers told also of the urgent need for better roads in the United States. He asked the postmaster to interest themselves in the building of permanent good roads.

HOP PICKING WILL BE FINISHED SOON

Prices not quoted although end of season comes within week.

Hop picking will be practically all finished in the yards of Clackamas and Marion counties this week and still no prices are quoted. The market is in that state of passivity known as "normal" when each side waits for the other to make the first move. Few samples have been passed upon by the buyers as yet and the price will not be established until the quality of the pick in this district this season, according to reports from Salem.

However, the present indications point to a good price this year, if the stories of the hop men about the district may be taken as a criterion, as the yards almost universally report a lighter yield than the first estimate.
The estimates for the 1915 crop range from 90,000 to 130,000 bales but the higher estimates are now being lowered as the reports come in from yards where the picking has been about completed. If the yield falls very far short of the estimate it is likely that it will develop that some of the dealers have sold short in which event the price will likely be forced up in their efforts to cover.

Last year was a peculiar year in the hop business and the trading began with the harvest and the gamble in prices continued throughout hop picking but this year all parties have been more conservative and it appears to be a case of "your move" with both sides.

Pittsburg Gazette: If this thing keeps up it will be considered profanity to tell anybody to go to Mexico.

KNIGHT AND MATTOON
VIEW WILHOIT ROAD

COUNTY COURT MAY TAKE UP AGAIN PROPOSED CHANGE IN HIGHWAY TO SPRINGS.

The report that another attempt will be made to open the Wilhoit road cutoff was confirmed Thursday when Commissioners Knight and Mattoon went over the route of the proposed new stretch of road. With this cutoff, it is said that one of the worse hills in the road from Molalla to the springs would be eliminated and that the distance would be shortened.

Petitions asking that the cutoff be opened were presented to the county court early in the year, the cutoff was ordered and surveyed but when the case was taken into the circuit court, the road was knocked out largely on a technicality. Judge Anderson said Thursday that the court was considering opening the road. The trip Thursday was Commissioner Knight's first inspection of the new route.

A meeting of the court will be held today and the two commissioners will probably return to their homes tonight.

IRRITABLE CHILDREN OFTEN NEED KICKAPOO WORM
KILLER.

There is a reason for the disagreeable and fretful nature of many children. Think of the unrest when the child's body is possessed by tiny worms sapping its vitality and clogging its functions. Whatever may be the cause—"that children have worms is a fact." Your child's peevishness and irritability have a cause. Give Kickapoo Worm Killer a chance and if worms are there this humanly harmless remedy will eliminate the annoying parasites. 25c. a box.
