

CHAMBERLAIN IS SPEAKER AT BIG GRANGE MEETING

UNITED STATES SENATOR EX-PLAINS WOOL TARIFF AND HIS VOTE ON IT.

COMPLIMENT IS PAID TO THE GRANGES AND FARMING CLASS

Charles Spence, State Grange Master, Tells of Work of Oregon & California Grant Lands Conference at Salem.

(By W. E. Haasler.)
The day could not have been more propitious nor the crowd a happier nor more congenial one than attended the fall picnic Molalla grange, No. 310, at McPadden's grove, near Molalla, Saturday. The day had been looked forward to by hundreds of the farmers of that locality and, while many did not attend because emergency work demanded their presence at home, still no less than 1000 persons did manage to break away from home and avail themselves of the day's event.

The day opened with a parade at 11 o'clock in which the grange members took part, forming in line about half a mile from the grounds and marching to the appointed place. The people came in carriages, wagons, horseback and afoot.

The morning exercises opened with a selection by the Molalla band, which furnished music during the entire day, delighting the gathering with its efforts.

Spence Talks Land Grant.
At 11 o'clock C. E. Spence, of Beaver Creek, state master of the Oregon grange, delivered a strong and interesting address, his remarks chiefly bordering on the Oregon and California land grant and the Oregon conference held in Salem a few days ago. Mr. Spence explained the land grant and then told of the meeting in Salem in which he and a few others found themselves in the minority in their contention that the land should be sold to actual settlers at a price of $2.50 per acre or even less, and that this money be placed in the irrevocable school fund and later loaned to the settlers upon this land.

Mr. Spence told of the contentions of the other delegates at the conference, and said that the representatives of the railroads contended they could hold this land just so long as they pleased, even selecting the settlers and selling the land to them merely as "straw men" and after the latter had lived upon the land the required time, the railroad company could then again become the actual owners of the land.

State Master Spence concluded his address with brief remarks upon "Rural Credits" which has become one of his principal public messages, and upon which he has given considerable time and thought.

Basket Dinner Served.
A basket dinner was served at 12 o'clock, in which several neighborhood parties were formed, one of the largest having as its guests George E. Chamberlain, United States senator, the speaker of the afternoon, C. E. Spence, Postmaster J. J. Cooke, Joseph E. Hodges, Earle C. Latourette and others from Oregon City.

At 1 o'clock the program for the day was resumed, with W. Thomas, secretary of the Molalla grange, as master of ceremonies. The first number consisted of an exercise by some 25 of the children of the grange in a rendition of a costumed dialogue entitled "Everyday Fairies," which proved entertaining and interesting.

After a couple of selections by the band, Senator Chamberlain was introduced to the assembly, speaking from the speaker's stand in the grove, which had been tastefully decorated with flowers, vegetables, grain, etc., in which native corn formed no small part.

Senator Chamberlain prefaced his address with brief remarks about previous visits to the Molalla country, saying that he knew many persons, but that many of those he had known for years were counted among the absent, and that the occasion was one mingled with pleasure and sorrow.

Speech is Not Political.
The senator commented on the basket dinner that had been set before him, saying that while he had sat down to many banquets and big dinners, that the one he had just partaken of was among the best and most enjoyable.

While disclaiming any intention of making a political speech, yet Senator Chamberlain emphasized his belief that the Democratic party had brought about many changes for a betterment to the masses. He laid stress upon the statement that the next congress would work earnestly upon a plan whereby a lower rate of interest and a longer term would be granted to borrowers in the agricultural sections of the country, and he believed that this was one of the fundamentals of success and permanent prosperity to the entire country. The senator spoke of the enactment of progressive national legislation, saying that there had never been enacted a progressive piece of legislation that it did not turn out to the benefit of the

RESORT KEEPER'S ALLEGED THREAT CAUSES ARREST

ANDREW OSBURN OF WEST LINN IS HELD IN COUNTY JAIL FOR THREATENING WOMAN.

COUPLE LIVED TOGETHER FOR 17 YEARS, UNMARRIED, THEY SAY

"We Just Kept Putting Off Marriage," Says Husband—Prisoner Is Proprietor Swimming Beach on West Side of Willamette.

After living with Minnie Raymond for 17 years as his wife, Andrew Osburn, of West Linn, was Monday placed in the county jail, charged with threatening to take her life. Mrs. Minnie Raymond was the complaining witness and unfolded the story of her life before District Attorney Hodges. The arrest was made by Sheriff Wilson and Constable Frost.

Mrs. Raymond, who has four sons by a former husband and four children by Osburn, declares that after taking much abuse from Osburn for several weeks, he said that he would kill her. Osburn denies the charge, but says that he has insisted that the children of his wife by her former marriage do not bring liquor to the house.

Osburn freely admitted that he was not married to Mrs. Raymond. "We met a long time ago and began to live together," he explained. "We kept putting off the marriage all the time. Never got around to it, you might say." He takes his arrest lightly, apparently, and smiled as he talked.

"It will all come out in the trial," he continued. "I am innocent of this charge. I never threatened to take her life."

He was asked if he had been having domestic troubles and replied: "No, nothing serious. I told my wife the other day that her sons could not come home with liquor. I have a son 16 years old and I don't want him to learn how to drink." Osburn has engaged George C. Brownell as his attorney.

Osburn says he has spent most of his life in Salem and met Mrs. Raymond there 17 years ago. They moved to West Linn from the Capital City at that time. He is the proprietor of a small bathing beach on the west side of the Willamette below the suspension bridge.

DISTRICT ROAD TAX LAWS ARE CHANGED

TWO MEETINGS OF TAXPAYERS ARE NOW NECESSARY FOR SPECIAL LEVY.

Two meetings of taxpayers must be held to levy special road taxes, according to a ruling of the state tax commission.

At the first meeting, called in the manner designated by Section 6384, Lord's Oregon Laws, or Section 632, as amended in Chapter 316 Laws of 1915, action should be taken for the preparation of the budget or estimate of expenses, and the meeting can designate the road supervisor or some other qualified person to attend to this work. Provisions should be made for publication of the budget as required by law.

The second meeting should be held in the same manner as the first, to be held at the time and place mentioned in connection with the budget as published, says the commission. At the second meeting, and not before, the budget or estimates are to be finally passed upon, and the tax levy is to be made.

Chapter 159, Laws of 1915, has no bearing on the proceedings, except as it would be necessary to publish or post notices for 30 days in the event of a purpose to levy a tax exceeding five per cent. The larger amount levied in either of the last preceding years when levies were made, says the commission.

BRINK ESTATE IS FILED.
The estate of Mary Brink, a pioneer of the Stafford district who died early this month, was filed in the probate department of the county court Monday. She leaves property valued at $7100, including two tracts of 87 1/2 acres at Stafford. Two heirs, Mrs. Lucinda Tiedeman, of Oregon City, and Mrs. Izora Tiedeman, of Oswego, are named.

CLACKAMAS MEN ARE ACTIVE AT O-C CONFERENCE

CHRIS SCHUEBEL'S PLAN IS ENDORSED BUT ONLY AFTER LONG DEBATE.

COMPROMISE WITH RAILROADS SUGGESTED AND THEN OPPOSED

Walter A. Dimick is Aroused and Denounces Speech by Railroad Attorney—Extension of Reserve is Fought.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 17.—The resolutions as presented were adopted tonight by the conference.

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 17.—Place the land in the hands of actual settlers for $2.50 an acre and don't put any of it in the forest reserves.

On those two requests to congress the land grant conference, at its closing session here late tonight, seemed to agree, but further than that there was little harmony of opinion.

Some delegates wanted to put through a resolution asking the conference to create a committee to meet with the Southern Pacific company, owners of the land, in an effort to reach a compromise.

There was vigorous opposition to that plan on the ground that the state has nothing to compromise; that the supreme court has defined the rights of the railroad in the property, and that to deal further with the railroad would only be to sacrifice some of the rights and interests now enjoyed by the state.

Another element among the delegates proposed that the conference ask congress to appoint a sub-committee from the public lands committee of the two houses to come to Oregon for the purpose of examining the lands and determining what disposition shall be made of them.

Opposition to this plan was founded on the fear that such a committee would not be able to gauge true conditions, and that the committee's visit would lead only to further conservatism which would further retard the actual development of the state.

Yet another suggestion appeared before the conference tonight, and that is for the conference to ask congress to make the state trustee for all the lands pending their sale to actual settlers.

Under this plan, which was presented on the floor of the convention late tonight by Chris Schuebel, of Oregon City, and backed by the delegates representing the State grange, the state would have authority, under its trusteeship, to sell the agricultural lands at $2.50 an acre to actual settlers and to dispose of the timbered land at its actual value. As rapidly as sales are made the state is to pay to the railroad $2.50 an acre and the remainder is to go into the irrevocable school fund.

P. F. Dunne, Southern Pacific attorney, branded the resolutions "one of the most curious infelicities I ever have heard of."

In conclusion he suggested that "sane, practical and the sensible thing for you to do is to appoint a committee to confer with the railroad so that we can get together and settle this thing."

His utterances on the subject aroused the ire of Senator W. A. Dimick, of Clackamas county, who urged the delegates not to be misled by the statements of the railroad attorney into the belief that the sale of the lands could not be enforced. Senator Dimick was a member of the sub-committee.

ESTACADA FARMERS FIND PROFITABLE CROPS

Garlic and Soudan grass are profitable crops in Clackamas county according to east Clackamas farmers who have planted these crops. Their success is related by the Estacada Progress in the last number.

John Marchbank, of Escadada, who is one of the gardeners in that territory has this year, produced 1400 pounds of garlic on one quarter acre of his place. This product is now quoted at 5c per pound, but last year at this time was worth triple that amount.

Joe Nicholson, of Garfield, is enthusiastic over his newest crop, being Soudan grass, of which he has a small experimental piece. He figures that his present showing will average a yield of six tons to the acre. This grass is admirably adapted for fodder and in Texas, where the crop is more generally grown, it yields three cuttings per acre of from 9 to 15 tons.

4 ARE KILLED WHEN ELECTRIC TRAIN AND AUTO TRUCK COLLIDE

ACCIDENT OCCURS NEAR CLACKAMAS COUNTY LINE—BODIES ARE BADLY MANGLED.

THE DEAD.
Charles Gage, driver of the Reo motor truck, Wilsonville.
John Mook, rancher, two miles east of Tualatin, leaves a wife and six children.
Cecil Barringer a neighbor of Mook.
Gib Hutson, 22, Wilsonville.

Four men were instantly killed at Galbraith station, near Tualatin, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the motor truck in which they were riding was struck by westbound electric Southern Pacific train No. 351.

The bodies were scattered for 600 feet along the track and the wreckage of the truck was pushed in front of the train.

The truck was loaded with general freight consisting of 15 dressed hogs, garden truck and empty beer kegs. The bodies of hogs and men, mangled into bits, were scattered over the right of way for 600 feet. It was only with the greatest difficulty and careful work that the human flesh and bone could be separated from that of the animals and properly cared for.

A rod from the automobile carried along a few inches ahead of the wheels of the electric coach for several hundred feet and had it worked under the wheels would undoubtedly have derailed the train and created further havoc.

Coroner I. E. Barrett and Sheriff Reeves of Washington county removed the bodies from the track and permitted the clearing away of the remains of the truck so that travel over the electric line could be resumed.

Engineer Fred Peebler stated that he was ringing his gong and sounding his whistle, but could not attract the attention of the driver. The truck was bound from Wilsonville to Portland, and at this point the view is obscured by a full grown orchard.

Peebler also stated that Gage, the driver, was engaged in conversation with one of the men on the seat beside him, and evidently did not hear the approaching train.

The bodies were taken in charge by Coroner Barrett and will be disposed of after the inquest, according to the wishes of the men's families.

GLADSTONE MOTORIST PROTESTS HIS CAR IS FAR OVER ASSESSED

UNPRINCIPLED YOUTH OF HIS TOWN CALL MACHINE "TWO LUNGER," HE ALLEGES.

Among the score of protests filed in the county board of equalization, the most unusual is the petition of Abraham Nelson, of Gladstone, who protests that his automobile, appraised at $100, is over assessed.

He alleges that "the said automobile is a Maxwell machine of model AB and of the year 1911; that the said automobile is therefore nearly five years old; that it is not even a Ford; that the propelling power of said automobile consists of one two-cylinder engine; that the said automobile is commonly called by the unprincipled youth of Gladstone a 'two-lunger' and is also designated as 'No. 348'; that your petitioner bought said machine after it had been used two months and paid $400 therefor; that in the year 1913 the said machine was assessed $150 in Multnomah county; that in the year 1914 the said machine had depreciated considerably and was assessed in the sum of $80 in the same county and your humble petitioner calls your honorable body's attention to the fact that the said depreciation was $70; that therefore your petitioner moved to Clackamas county and that the roads in said county have not caused the said automobile to increase in value; that your petitioner has applied to N. A. Mann, Railway Exchange building, Portland, Oregon, for insurance on said automobile and also to the Pttis-Grossmeyer company and each of said companies has declined to insure the said automobile for $100 or for any sum whatever, advising that it had no insurable value whatever or at all; that your petitioner notes that the assessment roll shows Harvey Cross' machine to be assessed at $300 and B. T. McBain's machine to be assessed at $400 and your petitioner varies believes and therefore says that upon the basis of the assessment on his machine Harvey Cross' machine should be assessed at $600 and B. T. McBain's machine at $800.

"And at that your petitioner re-lectionally admits that he has considerable nerve to compare his machine with the automobiles of the gentlemen above named. That your petitioner believes and therefore alleges that the deputy assessor did not see or inspect the said machine and that said assessment of $100 is an arbitrary assessment."

A list of the complaints follows: James M. Tracy, lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 in block 27, Oregon City. Fourth and Main streets; E. S. Collins and estate of T. D. Collins, scattered timber acreage; Weyerhaeuser Land company; E. S. Collins; Logus heirs and Edward Brady, property at Fourth and Main streets, Oregon City; Convent of the Holy Names, Oswego; Frank E. Dooly for Davenport Dooly, timber land; Thomas G. Bogges; F. Harris, R. E. Kegler and R. E. Jarl.

MR. AND MRS. CALAVAN RETURN
County School Superintendent Calavan and his family have returned to their home in this city after spending 15 days in eastern Oregon. The greater part of their vacation was spent in Crook county.

6 ARE HURT WHEN RACE HORSE RUNS THROUGH CROWD

MRS. SAMUEL SHANBECK, OF HUBBARD, HAS BROKEN ARM AND CUTS ON SCALP.

HUNDREDS IN PANIC AS ANIMAL DASHES WILDLY OUT OF TRACK

Wheel Which Drops From Sulkey Cause of Runaway—Year-Old Child is Knocked to Ground From Its Mother's Arms.

VICTIMS OF RUNAWAY RACE HORSE AT CANBY.

Levi Yoder, Aurora, face cut and bruised about the head and shoulders.

D. Staffani, Canby, knocked down by the horse and bruised.

Mrs. D. Staffani, Canby, and her child, aged one year, knocked down and bruised.

Mrs. Samuel Shanbeck, Hubbard, right arm broken, elbow dislocated, scalp cut.

Miss Mary Hult, Molalla, leg lacerated and bruised.

Six were injured Thursday afternoon when Zondell, a race horse, dashed from the Canby race track, across the fair grounds and into the stables. The most seriously injured is Mrs. Samuel Shanbeck, of Hubbard, who was thrown seven feet when hit by the horse. Her right arm was broken, the elbow dislocated, her scalp cut in several places and she suffered several minor bruises.

The runaway occurred in the fourth heat of the last race. Zondell, owned and driven by J. W. Merrell, was being driven with a sulkey when one of the wheels worked loose and fell to the ground. Merrell was forced to jump from the sulkey as he was hit by the horse's hoofs with each step. The racer started off down the track at a furious speed and the judges in the center of the track shouted to the hundreds that lined the track to stand back. Half way to the gate, Zondell collided with Prince Seattle, owned and driven by Fred Woodcock. In the mixup, a wheel was wrenched from Woodcock's sulkey but he was able to stop his horse.

Zondell continued his race down the track. Judges made frantic efforts to get the crowd away from the fence and the gate which opened into the track. The sulkey was flying through the air and pieces of it were continually hitting the animal, causing him to increase his speed. He started across the grounds. As soon as the horse passed through the gate, the hundreds on that part of the ground began to run, but before they could get away, a score had been knocked down or fell to the earth.

The racer ran to the barn. He was rubbed down and in the race won second place while Prince Seattle took first. The race was the free-for-all trot.

The six who were injured were taken to the office of Dr. H. A. Dedman in Canby where their wounds were dressed. Several are known to have sustained minor bruises who left the grounds without reporting their injuries to a doctor.

Mrs. Shanbeck, the most seriously injured, was knocked under a water wagon by Zombell. She was taken to her home in Hubbard Wednesday night. The Staffani child was knocked from its mother's arms but escaped with slight injuries.

12 TAX COMPLAINTS WILL BE CONSIDERED

Consideration of 12 complaints against assessments, involving property appraised at almost a million dollars, will begin this week by the county board of equalization. Two protests filed by the Weyerhaeuser Land company and one each by the estate of T. D. Collins and E. S. Collins, which include the greater part of the timber holdings of these interests in the county, comprise the bulk of the property involved.

A list of the complaints follows: James M. Tracy, lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 in block 27, Oregon City. Fourth and Main streets; E. S. Collins and estate of T. D. Collins, scattered timber acreage; Weyerhaeuser Land company; E. S. Collins; Logus heirs and Edward Brady, property at Fourth and Main streets, Oregon City; Convent of the Holy Names, Oswego; Frank E. Dooly for Davenport Dooly, timber land; Thomas G. Bogges; F. Harris, R. E. Kegler and R. E. Jarl.

Best bull, 2 years old or over, first, G. H. Danemier, Portland; second, R. H. Cleveland, Oregon City. Best bull one year old and under 2, first, J. E. Cole, Molalla Stock farm; second, W. H. Cleveland. Best four animals, get of one sire, first W. H. Cleveland; second, G. H. Danemier.

Guernseys.
Best bull 2 years old or over, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes, of Redland; best bull one year old and under 2, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes; best bull under one year, first, A. I. and J. Hughes. Champion animal, A. I. and J. Hughes. Best cow 2 years old or over, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes; helper, under two years and over one, first, A. I. and J. Hughes; best helper under one year, first and second, A. C. Wally; best cow any age, A. I. and J. Hughes; best four animals, get of one sire, A. I. and J. Hughes; best 2 animals produce of one dam, E. Werner, first.

BIGGEST AND BEST CLACKAMAS COUNTY FAIR EVER HELD AT CANBY A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

OREGON CITY DAY IS CONSIDERED A DECIDED SUCCESS

BETWEEN TWENTY-FIVE AND TWENTY-EIGHT HUNDRED GATHER ON GROUNDS.

SPECIAL TRAIN AND SCORES OF AUTOMOBILES CARRY HUNDREDS

Judging is Begun in All Departments and Partial Results Are Given—Races Run Tuesday Are Most Exciting.

Tuesday, Oregon City and German day at the county fair, found a record crowd in attendance. It is estimated between twenty-five and twenty-eight hundred persons were on the grounds. Practically all Oregon City business houses were closed to enable business men and their employes to attend.

The early morning train carried hundreds and the special train at 12:15 with three coaches were loaded to standing room, while over a hundred automobiles were driven to the grounds. On reaching Canby the special train was met by the Moose band and the Oregon City delegation was escorted into the grounds, the band taking the lead and the Fallsarians following in marching order, headed by their leader, Harry Williams.

The day was a busy one, with the Fallsarians and the Moose band taking a prominent part in the program. The band played the greater part of the day while the Fallsarians drilled on the track in front of the grandstand between the second and the third race.

Judging in all departments commenced at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and will continue until all is completed. Up to last night only a few of the premiums had been awarded. The judging was completed on the cattle in the stock department and at 9 o'clock this morning will commence the judging of the horses.

The results from the juvenile and textile departments was completed and premiums awarded.

At 1 o'clock a band concert was held in the grandstand and at 1:30 the races were started. The results follow:

2:20 trot—First, Perlo, owned by H. Squires; second, Lisesta S., owned by Mrs. T. Muratto; third, Burntwood, owned by E. Brain; fourth, Zondell owned by Hay W. Marrow.

Free-for-all pace—Three out of five determined this race. First, Jennie May, owned by H. Squires; second, Grace N., owned by Fred Woodcock; third, Ruth Hal, owned by Ray Sayer, and Amy May Zondell, fourth, owned by A. W. Merritt.

Five-eighths mile running—First, Leo H., owned by Jockey Powell; second, Lisesta S., owned by Mrs. T. Muratto, and third, Headlight, owned by Jim Brown.

The awards in the cattle department of the stock show follow:
Jerseys.
Best bull, 2 years old or over, first, G. H. Danemier, Portland; second, R. H. Cleveland, Oregon City. Best bull one year old and under 2, first, J. E. Cole, Molalla Stock farm; second, W. H. Cleveland. Best four animals, get of one sire, first W. H. Cleveland; second, G. H. Danemier.

Guernseys.
Best bull 2 years old or over, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes, of Redland; best bull one year old and under 2, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes; best bull under one year, first, A. I. and J. Hughes. Champion animal, A. I. and J. Hughes. Best cow 2 years old or over, first and second, A. I. and J. Hughes; helper, under two years and over one, first, A. I. and J. Hughes; best helper under one year, first and second, A. C. Wally; best cow any age, A. I. and J. Hughes; best four animals, get of one sire, A. I. and J. Hughes; best 2 animals produce of one dam, E. Werner, first.

Holsteins.
Best bull 2 years or over, E. Werner, of Needy; best bull over one year and under 2, G. B. Dimick and E. R. Gregory; best bull under one year, E. Werner, first and second. Best bull any age, E. Werner. Best cow two years old or over, E. Werner, first and second; helper one year and under two, G. B. Dimick, first and second; best helper under one year, first and second, E. Werner; best cow any age, E. Werner, first; best four animals, get of one sire, E. Werner; best two animals produce of one dam, E. Werner, first.

Among the best entries in this department is from the Dimick Stock farm. The showing includes Poland China, O. I. C. Whites and Berkshire swine. Mr. Dimick and Mr. Gregory also have a good showing of cattle. In his herd he has two heifers purchased from the Carnation farm at Spokane, the Molalla Stock farm owned by J. R. Cole has a splendid showing of Jerseys, N. Danemier of Portland, E. Werner of Aurora, H. D. Smith of Harms, W. I. Bauer of Macksburg, J. F. Whallen of this city, Anna I. and J. Hughes of Redland with their choice herd of Guernseys, N. H.

THOUSANDS PAY ADMISSION TO SEE THE LARGEST EXHIBITS OF THE FAIR EVER GATHERED FOR THE COUNTY FAIR

Monday was agriculture and dairy-men's day and special lectures were given at 10:30 in the morning and at 3:00 in the afternoon. A band concert was given from 7 to 8 o'clock in the evening. Demonstrations of milk and cream testing were given in the morning.

Monday afternoon all entries were not completed, the main building is overtaxed this year with products. The showing of farm produce, vegetables, grain and fruit is of the best quality.

George DeBok, of Willamette, has a splendid showing of good, clean fruit and vegetables. In his booth he shows some samples of Sudan grass, the seed for which was furnished by the government and sent out for experimental purposes. From one seed a stalk nine feet tall can be grown with as high as 200 chutes from a stock.

Among the best exhibits from Oregon City in the dry goods and furnishings departments are L. Adams, W. H. E. Hendry in charge. In this booth is space for a rest room and a sample of every department in the Oregon City store. A. A. Price presides over his own counter and has a splendid showing, his samples were arranged by himself and Joseph Justin, J. S. Lageson and Chester Lageson of the Oregon City shoe store have an interesting showing of the goods they sell.

The Western Stock Journal is again on deck this year and to be considered for the first prize, with Miss Nan C. Cochran as designer and decorator of this booth. All of the grain grown in this department is of the best variety. Miss Cochran had as her assistant Harry Kellogg of this city. Other local exhibitors are the Pacific Highway garage and the Miller-Parker Garage.

County Exhibit Excellent.
W. E. Niles, superintendent of the Clackamas county exhibits, states this is the best showing Clackamas county has had since the opening of the fair, nine years ago. This department will be sent to the State fair at Salem.

Warner Grange, Estacada, Oak Ridge Ranch, Carlton and Rosenkrans, Mr. Bowman for the Rawleigh Products and the Canby Concrete company have all made entries and have splendid showings.

J. C. Kaupisch of Canby has in his display quantities of vegetables, fruits, flowers and grains all raised all raised on one-half block in the city limits of Canby. He also has a new department that of China pheasants, seventy little ones, raised within the last year from one pair. The hen has laid 98 eggs and is still laying. She is a little over a year old.

After leaving the main floor of this building up stairs in the juvenile and textile departments interesting work in domestic science and art may be seen. Miss Clara Miller in the textile department, where embroidery, lace, crocheted articles and battenburg is shown.

Oak Grove, Milwaukie and Canby schools are the heaviest exhibitors in the juvenile department, which is in charge of Miss M. A. Gill of Logan off Mrs. J. C. Wolf of Molalla. Schools in the Willamette, Molalla and Estacada districts have small entries. The only manual training work in from the Wilsonville school. The majority of the exhibits were designed by Paul Jaeger, son of Gus Jaeger, of Wilsonville, who last year won a trip to the San Francisco exposition on a Morris chair exhibited at the county and state fairs. Oregon City schools did not enter this year, but City Superintendent Toose announces that at next year's county fair the schools will be left out. The Oak Grove school specialized in project and club work.

The grounds of the fair present a lively appearance with all its forms of amusements, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, moving picture show, a museum of wonders. Tent city is well populated and more campers are moving in and thirty tents have already been erected and occupied. The concessions are better this year than they have been in years past and the stock barns under the supervision of W. W. Everhart are crowded. It was necessary to build another addition to the cattle barn in order to accommodate the overflow.

Among the best entries in this department is from the Dimick Stock farm. The showing includes Poland China, O. I. C. Whites and Berkshire swine. Mr. Dimick and Mr. Gregory also have a good showing of cattle. In his herd he has two heifers purchased from the Carnation farm at Spokane, the Molalla Stock farm owned by J. R. Cole has a splendid showing of Jerseys, N. Danemier of Portland, E. Werner of Aurora, H. D. Smith of Harms, W. I. Bauer of Macksburg, J. F. Whallen of this city, Anna I. and J. Hughes of Redland with their choice herd of Guernseys, N. H.
