MILWAUKIE PARENTS SEE PUPILS' WORK

T. J. GARY AND J. E. CALAVAN ARE ON PROGRAM—SCHOOL WINS MANY PRIZES.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 12.—(Special)—Giving the people of Milwaukie something of an idea of what the new departments of the Milwaukie schools can accomplish, the domestic and art departments held an exhibition in the school last night that fairly opened the eyes of all attending, especially those who had been opposed to the installation of these departments.

The exhibition was of the work of the students for one month. Especial meritorious work was displayed in the millinery and sewing exhibits, and too much credit cannot be given Miss Blanche Jeffry, in charge of this work in the schools.

Last night's exhibition and entertainment had as part of the program addresses by Professor Gary, of the Brookline school, Portland, and County Superintendent J. E. Calavan, both of whom were well received. Professor Robert Goetz, principal of the Milwaukie schools spoke briefly, calling attention to the splendid exhibition and urging the parents and patrons to co-operate in the work of the students in holding a successful industrial fair again next year.

The Milwaukie schools won five prizes at the Clackamas county fair this year, also one first and one second at the state fair at Salem, but next year it hopes to do even better.

No work was shown in the manual training department last night, as the boys have been busily engaged the first month in making their benches and desks upon which to carry on the department. Lunch of cake and coffee was served by the domestic science department, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large gathering present.

MILWAUKIE WATER PLANS WORKED OUT

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 9.—(Special)—The details for the distribution system of the Milwaukie municipal water plant are practically completed by Engineer J. W. Morris, who has been at work upon the same for the last few weeks. An outline shows that the pipelines of the distribution system will range in size from two to eight inches in diameter.

It is estimated that it will cost $24,000 to put in the distribution system, together with a standpipe in the Milwaukie district which is in the eastern part of the city and in the higher section. Pipe will be laid on nearly all the important streets, and five hydrants are included in the general system. The distribution system will be "tied" into the trunk main, which connects with the Portland Bull Run system at Errol Heights.

CONCORD CLUB PICKS DELEGATE

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—At a recent meeting of the Concord Parent-Teacher association the following delegates were elected to attend the state convention to be held in Corvallis during the latter part of this month: Mrs. George C. Brownell, Mrs. V. G. Benvis, Mrs. M. Oatfield and Mrs. Harriet Powers. Alternates, Miss Sally Warren, Miss Maime Oatfield and Miss Ada Starkweather. The association has decided to hold a "Sea Festival Bazaar" on November 13, the affair to be given by Neptune, sea nymphs and mermaids. The following chairmen of committees are in charge of the preparations: Mrs. Arnold, cake booth; Miss Bailey, candy booth, with the sea nymphs in charge; Mrs. Athlton, the mermaid utility booth, with the pirates in charge; Mrs. Powers, needlework booth, presided over by the fisher girls; Neptune's cave, Mrs. Landien and Neptune; chairman of the mermaids' booth, Miss Ada Starkweather; program, Miss Lee and Miss Kennedy; coffee, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Velken.

SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB MEETS

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—The Woman's Social Service club of Milwaukie, Oak Grove and vicinity will meet tomorrow in the home of Miss Elizabeth K. Matthews, Courtney station, at 2 o'clock. The program will include papers and talks: "The Life and Works of Galileo" by Mrs. Nellie Dayton; "The Silver Box" (Galworthy), Mrs. Mary S. Brown; "Joy" (Galworthy) Miss Frances Dayton. This is the first meeting of the new year, and the members are showing much interest in the same.

Every Home Needs a Faithful Cough and Cold Remedy.

When seasons change and colds appear—when you first detect a cold after sitting next to one who has sneezed, then it is that a tried and tested remedy should be faithfully used. I never wrote a testimonial before, but I now do so positively for myself and family. Dr. King's New Discovery is the best cough remedy we ever used and we have tried them all." 50c and $1.00. TEACHERS' COURSE IN MILWAUKIE POPULAR

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 80 PER CENT INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE OVER LAST YEAR.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—Everything points to a most successful year in the teachers' course, recently established by the Milwaukie schools, with Miss Elizabeth K. Matthews of Oak Grove as teacher.

The class already numbers nine students, which together with the other five of the seniors, makes the senior class total 14 for this year. Those in the teachers' class are Corwin Harvey, Ethel Green, Naomi Hart, Jennie Jones, Viola Wood, Beulah Letts, Frances Strawbridge, Mildred Rozort, and Beatrice Buckner.

The instructor, Miss Matthews, who teaches in the Oak Grove school in the morning and comes to Milwaukie for the afternoon, is a graduate of the University of New York Teachers' college. All the members of the class are either high school or academy graduates and if at the end of the year in this work they pass they are granted teachers' certificates.

There are 72 students in the Milwaukie high school this year, which is 80 per cent increase over last year.

SCHOOL PLAYGROUND EQUIPMENT ORDERED

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—The Milwaukie school board is showing a progressiveness that stands unchallenged in the history of the schools of the state, and one which the majority of the patrons of the school stand back of with their approval. The board at its last meeting voted to put in playground equipment, which will consist of a sandbox for the kiddies, swings, teeterboards, parallel boards and probably rings.

The high school girls have formed basketball teams and are planning a series of interclass games this fall and winter. So long as the weather permits outdoor games will be indulged in, and in the meantime the interior room is being arranged for the inclement weather season. Tennis teams have also been formed and interclass games are to be played.

R. S. RAMSEY RETURNS.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—After spending the last ten days in the Hood River country, where he looked after the gathering of his large apple crop, R. S. Ramsey, the well known real estate man, has returned to Milwaukie. Mr. Ramsey estimates his crop will be something around 50,000 boxes, all of which is to be marketed through the growers' association, which has already refused a price of better than $1.50 per box for its best apples.

VACATION BEGINS TODAY.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—City Recorder D. P. Matthews and Mrs. Matthews leave tomorrow for Newport, where they will spend a vacation of two weeks.

COUNTY BUDGET READY NEXT WEEK

COUNTY COURT BUSILY ENGAGED IN PREPARING ESTIMATES TAXPAYERS TO MEET.

The county budget, upon which the county court has been working for some time, will probably be completed in time to be published next week and the annual meeting of taxpayers will probably be held November 6, said County Judge Anderson yesterday.

Judge Anderson said that Commissioners Knight and Mattoon would probably spend the greater part of the next week in the county seat to assist in drafting the budget. He was not prepared to make public the general road and general county levies which would be recommended by the court.

Judge Anderson asks that the meeting of taxpayers be as representative as possible. "Now is the time to consider county taxes," he declared. When asked if the court would favor a two or three mill levy for permanent road work, he said that if the voters would sanction such a plan and suggest where the money raised be spent, the court would carry it out.

Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a bad bronchial cough. I felt its beneficial effect immediately and before I had finished the bottle I was cured. I never tire of recommending this remedy to my friends," writes Mrs. William Bright, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere. (Adv.)

APPEAL AUTHORIZED IN MILWAUKIE CASE

COUNCIL FEELS CONFIDENT SUPREME COURT WILL REVERSE DECISION.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—Determined to carry through its intention to give the people of Milwaukie the purest water obtainable, the city council decided last night by a unanimous vote to appeal the case of the Milwaukie Water company against the city of Milwaukie in which the former won a judgment of $6,500 and was granted permission to sue for damages, in the circuit court, last week. The city's attorneys, Clark, Skolason & Clark, of Portland, were instructed to proceed at once to perfect the appeal and to fight the case through the state supreme court. The city feels that it has a splendid chance to secure a reversal.

FIREMEN WILL GIVE DANCE SATURDAY

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 13.—(Special)—The first of a series of dances by the Milwaukie Volunteer Fire department is to be given Saturday night, October 16, in the Milwaukie city hall. These dances are to be given every two weeks during the winter season and heretofore have been very well attended. Music for the first dance is to be furnished by Hoesley's orchestra.

MILWAUKIE NOTES.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 9.—(Special)—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. (Jack) W. Prutney was gladdened last Sunday by the arrival of a boy baby, and all concerned are getting along nicely. Dr. R. W. Taylor is a real bachelor, and it is beginning to tell on the otherwise happy and well-fed knight of the pill box. The doctor recently purchased a dwelling and he started to rebuild the same, when he decided that Mrs. Taylor and little heir would probably enjoy life more if they were out of the noise and dust made by the carpenters, so he consented to their going to The Dalles to visit Mrs. Taylor's parents. There they will probably remain for a couple of weeks longer, after which Doc will take on renewed interest in life.

PHOTOGRAPHER GETS VIEWS ALONG PIPE LINE

S. P. Davis, considered one of the best outdoor photographers in the state, is completing a series of pictures which will record the history of the South Fork pipeline. They will be issued in book form.

Mr. Davis went to the intake of the pipeline and took pictures along the 25-mile survey to Oregon City. Pictures were secured in West Linn and Saturday he will photograph the Oregon City creek. The members of the South Fork Water commission, the engineers and gangs of working men along the line are subjects for photographic studies in Mr. Davis' collection. He took unusual precautions to secure clear and representative pictures of the canyons of the Clackamas and of the South Fork, including the high falls near the intake.

Mr. Davis has taken a number of pictures of Mt. Hood which attracted wide attention and this summer spent several weeks with his camera in the Cascades along the MacKenzie.

OSWEGO GRANGE HAS ANNUAL DISTRICT FAIR

DR. FRANK L. LOVELAND PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT AFTER-NOON PROGRAM.

Again the Oswego grange has done itself proud in its annual district fair held Saturday in the Grange hall in Oswego. The attendance was larger than on any former occasion. Considerable interest had been shown all along in this event, and the exhibits placed on display were among the best that was raised in the Oswego district during the present season. They consisted of fruits, vegetables, canned fruits and jellies, and needle work of the women and girls. The exhibitors were L. M. Davidson, Donald Meyer, Ralph Meyer, J. W. Stone, R. W. Wilmot, Fred Lehmann, C. T. Dickinson and Company, C. C. Roland.

The day's program began with the dinner at noontime, when the ladies provided a bountiful repast of all the good things that only a farmer's wife can think of, and is capable of serving. The men folks never fail to do full justice to this feature of the program, although they may be deficient in other particulars.

Following the dinner, the company adjourned to the second floor of the hall, where the afternoon features of the program were carried out under the direction of Mrs. Metta Stone, lecturer of the grange. Dr. Frank L. Loveland, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Portland, was the principal speaker, making the first address of the afternoon. Dr. Loveland spoke of his early life, which he said was spent upon the farm, and his remarks were punctuated with lively anecdotes of boyhood life. He said that no longer was there any "Rubeen"—he is now a defunct specimen.

Dr. Loveland said that the American farm life had been changed largely through the public school system. "When I went to school as a boy the school opportunities were so meagre, but see what we have today—agriculture is taught in the schools, manual training also, domestic science, art, music and whatnot—all to better prepare the boys and girls for the battles of life, making the farmer what he is today—the real backbone of our country," he said.

"If America is to be saved, if it has to be saved, it will be through the farmer." Here Dr. Loveland commented upon the great influx of foreigners to this country, saying that up to the present time our population is made up of over 13,000,000 foreign born people, less than 1,000,000 of whom have become naturalized. Further, last year, he said, over 1,000,000 foreigners came to our shores and less than 100,000 showed any disposition or intention of becoming citizens, and this vast horde is flocking to the cities instead of to the country, and as a result the cities were becoming congested.

The speaker urged the farmer to cultivate his intellect as well as his land, and to give attention to the raising of the best kind of boys and girls as well as the best kind of livestock. A King Wilcox, well known attorney and erstwhile farmer, also spoke, but briefly.

Other numbers of the afternoon program were vocal solos by Miss Coulter and Miss Ruth Schmuckel and a recitation by Miss Lela Stone, all of which were heartily enjoyed. The committees having charge of the day's fair were: Domestic Science—Anna Stevenson and Metta Stone. Exhibits—J. W. Stone and Wilbur Wilmot. Decoration—P. R. Dickinson.

The exhibits were sold during the afternoon to the highest bidder, the proceeds being donated to the grange to aid in paying off the indebtedness on the fine Grange hall owned by Oswego grange.

When Baby has the Croup.

When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.

IRVIN GETS GRAVEL CONTRACT.

A contract for 7000 yards of Pudding river gravel at 47 cents a yard has been awarded to W. W. Irvin by the Clackamas county court. The gravel is to be screened by the contractor and will be used principally on the road between Barlow and Aurora. N. E. Cole has a contract with Mr. Irvin to remove the gravel from the river bed and screen it at 35 cents a yard. Work will begin in a few days as the hunkers and machinery, necessary for the work, are about ready for use. The actual road making will be in charge of R. W. Zimmerman, the supervisor. This graveling will be part of the general plan of the county court to gravel the main traveled road from Oregon City to the Marion county line.

Two Children Had Croup.

The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant, Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw inflamed throat and loosens phlegm. Jones Drug Co. (Adv.)

WILSON AND MRS. GALT PLAN ONLY BRIEF HONEYMOON

LONG JOURNEY IMPOSSIBLE BECAUSE OF IMPERATIVE DEMANDS ON HIS TIME.

VON BERNSTORFF AMONG FIRST TO CONGRATULATE COUPLE

Formality of Ceremony at White House to Be Avoided—Marriage Will Be Solemnized Before Congress Meets.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night, were the recipients today of congratulatory messages from all parts of the United States and from the representatives of foreign governments.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was one of the first to send congratulations, and there followed messages from other members of the diplomatic corps conveying the good wishes of their governments.

Definite arrangement for the wedding will not be made immediately, but it was disclosed that the president and Mrs. Galt have agreed it shall not take place in the White House, because of the formality which would be necessary there. The ceremony will be solemnized within the next two months, before the convening of congress in December, either in Mrs. Galt's home or in one of the Washington churches.

An extended honeymoon will be impossible because of the imperative demands of official duty on the president, but his friends are urging him to accept an invitation to attend the San Francisco and San Diego exhibitions just after his marriage.

The president gave up practically all of today receiving congratulations and to calling with Mrs. Galt on members of their respective families.

PRESIDENT GIVES MRS. GALT BIG DIAMOND

PHILADELPHIA Oct. 9.—President Woodrow Wilson, enroute to Philadelphia to witness the second game of the series between Boston and Philadelphia for the world's baseball championship, placed a magnificent diamond solitaire engagement ring on the finger of Mrs. Norman Galt, thereby sealing their betrothal.

It was believed that Presidential Secretary Tumulty purchased the ring at a Fifth avenue jewelry store yesterday afternoon.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense on both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

GARAGE COMPLETED SOON.

MILWAUKIE, Oct. 9.—(Special)—The new Graton garage will be completed during the coming week, nothing remaining but the laying of the concrete floor, which has been delayed awaiting the drying out of the dirt that was used to fill in a low place at the rear of the building. The new garage is one of the best to be found outside of Portland, and for the present will be conducted by Mr. Graton himself.

ORDERS GRAVES ROAD OPENED.

The D. W. Greaves road in the Mulino district has been ordered opened by the county court this month. The road is two miles long and reached a district which has been poorly supplied with roads in the past.

The Viola B. Royle road in the Springwater district, and the George Henderson road near Harmony were also finally opened.

BROWNELL DENOUNCES DRY LAW AT CORVALLIS

The report of the speech of George C. Brownell, at Corvallis, which appeared in the Benton County Courier, follows:

George C. Brownell, of Oregon City, for sixteen years a member of the state senate and candidate for governor on the prohibition ticket in 1911, tore the present prohibition law into shreds in his speech in the courthouse last Wednesday night, and showed to the audience the evils that he declared will result when the new law goes into effect in January.

Mr. Brownell is one of the best public speakers in Oregon. He has a way of first getting close to his audience, and then holding them until the last word. He is never tedious in detail or statistics.

He started his address by explaining the influences that are brought to bear both for and against every measure of importance that comes before the legislature, and for and against every candidate who has strength enough to make him a factor before the primaries.

"If I wanted an important state office and had no other object than the nomination and election, I would have the Southern Pacific railroad with me if I could get them, I would straddle and get the support of the south end of Portland on one side and the churches on the other and I would not run on a prohibition platform—for the liquor interests fight 24 hours of the day and the temperance people four hours a month."

Leading up to the prohibition bill he explained that his fight was against the booze, not the man; that he had nothing but sympathy for the drinker and that as long as law permitted, the man who operated a saloon was no less a man in a legal sense than a banker or jeweler.

"The drinking of liquor is either right or wrong. If right, let us have it; if wrong then let us abolish it. We can no more temperize with it than with slavery. It can't be half right and half wrong."

Then he opened up on the prohibition law. He said he criticized the temperance people who supported the weak-kneed legislators who enacted the half temperance law under which the public saloon is closed and private drinking places made of the homes, and he declared the law will cause more crimes, more evil and more misery than any statute ever enacted in Oregon.

drinker can no longer go to the saloon and do his drinking, but that this class of men—thousands of whom will have liquor as long as there is any possible means of getting it—would now take their liquor to their homes, their two quarts of whiskey or 24 quarts of beer, and force the saloon associations on the family.

"The people of Oregon voted to abolish liquor in Oregon, yet the legislature decided they only voted to abolish the saloons, and then it provided the opportunity for every home in Oregon to procure liquor and have barroom associations. It was damnable and wicked."

Then he took up the session laws and read Section 12 to the audience, under which a common carrier might deliver liquor made outside of Oregon to any person who would subscribe to the affidavit. He read the affidavit form in which the consignee swears he is 21 years old, not an habitual drunkard and that the liquor is to be used for SACRAMENTAL PURPOSES ONLY.

He explained that the newspapers and lawyers hold that this bungle of the legislature will not stand because it is a plain bungle.

"I have been a lawyer for 35 years and I think I know something about law. As plain as English words can make the affidavit, every person who gets liquor must declare under oath the liquor is for sacramental purposes. Who has the right to scratch out these words the statute requires? Who has a right to change the form of the affidavit in the code? Ask your attorneys, Wilson, McFadden, Clarke, Yates, or any of them.

"You can't change the form of a pension affidavit, can you? If we are permitted to scratch out or change any part of the liquor affidavit, we have an equal right to change the rest of it, and increase or lower the monthly limit of liquor. I defy any reputable lawyer to show a different construction. The affidavit must be secured from the county clerk; the applicant must swear the liquor is to be used for sacramental purposes, and any person who uses it for other purposes will be a perjurer. No person has any more right to alter the form of this affidavit than he has to change a deed, and Section 12 reads 'that any person who shall swear falsely shall be deemed guilty of perjury.'"

Mr. Brownell stated he was not throwing cold water, but that he wanted the people to wake up and send

THIRD BANK FOR O. C. ANNOUNCED BY LEROY WALKER

NEW INSTITUTION WILL OPEN ABOUT NOV. 15 IN WEINHART BUILDING.

CAPITAL STOCK IS $50,000 AND PAID UP SURPLUS IS $5000

Mr. Walker Does Not Name Associates But Says Several Prominent Oregon City Men Will Be With Enterprise.

Leroy D. Walker, who is connected with banking institutions at Canby, Molalla and Estacada, and who has until recently been secretary of the Bankers' Mortgage Corporation, of Portland, announced Friday that he had completed arrangements for the establishment of a bank in Oregon City, to be located in the Weinhard building on the corner of Main and Eighth streets, which property has been leased. A name for the new institution has not yet been selected.

The concern will be a private bank, and will be open for business about November 15, and Mr. Walker says it will have a savings department paying 4 per cent interest on savings deposits, and will cultivate especially the business of the farmers. The capital stock of the new bank is $50,000, with a paid up surplus of $5,000.

Plans for the new bank have been under way for some time and the application for a charter has been approved by the state superintendent of banks. Mr. Walker was for many years cashier of the Canby State bank, having organized that institution, and is now a director of both of the banks in Canby. He will devote his entire time to the new Oregon City bank, of which he will be the active head and manager.

He said today he was not ready to announce the names of his associates, but admitted that several prominent Oregon City men would be interested in the new institution and that the same policy as followed in the other banks in which he is interested would prevail here, in that the affairs of the bank would be administered by a board of directors of local people. He said that the cashier of the new bank would probably be an Oregon City man.
