MOLALLA

(Special Correspondence.)
Friends are subscribing to a fund at the Molalla State Bank for the benefit of S. P. Lowe, who lost his barn and contents by fire recently. Other misfortunes have befallen him in the past year, the saddest of which was the death of his wife, after a long illness. He has three small children. W. Brown had the third finger of his right hand fractured early Monday morning, at the Southern Pacific depot. He was loading a car of mining poles for Ora Syster. His finger was caught between the pole and cable near the pulley, before the donkey engine could be stopped. He went to Dr. Todd's office at once where the injured member was cared for.

A man came in to the Molalla postoffice Monday to inquire if it had a postal savings department.
A piece of machinery came to the Molalla postoffice but with no definite address. Neither hardware store claims it, nor can anyone else throw any light upon the subject. The nearest guess as to its possible use, yet revealed is that it might be the pipe of some of the plants who smoke.

The tomato plants which were nipped back a short time ago on Frank Kramer's place, continue to blossom and set fruit.

The stock yards at the Southern Pacific depot have been treated to a coat of gravel.

Flanking has been laid in front of Robbin's Bros. store to connect with that laid by the town last summer. Beside the store another strip of plank is being laid, which extends the road to the blacksmith shop.

Halloween festivities at the school house Saturday evening, proved quite exciting when a lantern, used for decorative purposes, burned through. It fell directly into the turn of the stairs which had a nest of waste paper ready to aid the conflagration. Luckily, the fire was noticed and extinguished before any serious damage was done.

EAST CLACKAMAS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Erickson last Sunday was the scene of two delightful and most enjoyable Halloween parties. The first one, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when two large touring cars stopped with friends from Portland to welcome Miss Vernie home again. She has been away for a visit and returned home Saturday evening. The afternoon was spent in playing games and several readings by Miss Nellie Hoyt, a graduate of the Gillispie school of expression from Chicago, Ill. Mr. Nichols, a talent violinist, played several well selected pieces on his violin. They both have spent some time in San Francisco at the fair. As well as most of the others in the party and are on their way back to Chicago, Ill. Misses Emma and Alice Erickson sang also. A bounteous luncheon was served at 5:30. Covers were laid for twenty. The happy guests returned to Portland at 7 p. m.

At 8 p. m. there was terrible noise and cheering when Misses Emma and Alice was taken by surprise by some of the East Clackamas school students each guest carried a jack-o'-lantern all lit up. The evening was spent in playing games, Halloween stunts and music. Candy was served for refreshments. The guests departed at a late hour and voted Misses Erickson's most charming hostesses.
