

JENNINGS LODGE

(Mrs. Hugh Roberts, Correspondent.)

On Friday afternoon the teachers planned delightful informal affairs for their pupils. Perhaps no occasion of the year brings forth as much merry making as the Halloween times. Extremely pretty were the decorations and the members of the primary room enjoyed a fish pond where each child caught a candy fish, and Halloween games were also much enjoyed.

In the large room garlands reaching around the four electrolights of orange and black with orange shades, and during the program the room was darkened and the lights with their pumpkin shades made a pretty sight. Harold Heathman recited about the pumpkin pie; Lal Thayer sang, accompanied by Helen Seeley on the piano, and Florence Doering recited. Halloween games were enjoyed. Fortunes were told with the walnuts. Bobbing for apples caused much merriment. In the hunting pumpkin seeds contest, Nellie Bunting found the largest number of seeds and secured a prize. Minnie Roethe was the lucky contestant in the ring contest.

Cider and doughnuts, pumpkin pie and home made candy were also enjoyed. Mesdames Shaver and O. P. Roethe were visitors at the school during the afternoon.

Friday night's Halloween frolic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders, given for the Master Cooks and their wives was one of the gayest and merriest parties of this season. Halloween post cards were used for the invitations to come to the Sanders' witches den two hours before the clock struck ten. And at the appointed time the guests arrived some in costumes and found the Sanders' home was all its name applied. The walls and corners were weirdly decked with goblins, witches, owls, black cats and other novelties of the Halloween season. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were appointed hostesses and assisted in receiving guests. Cider was served from a keg in one corner of the den. The Old Black Crook had a cozy corner, where fortunes were told. This program of Halloween number was much enjoyed.

No. 1, Ghosts Reverie; No. 2, The Witches March; Receiving of Master Cooks and their wives and the entering into Witchcraft. Opening, "The Origin of Halloween," by Divinely Spirit Morse; ghost story by St. Rex Deter; "Boogie Man," song by the Robinsons; "Jack O' Lantern" game by all; a Halloween story by Crome Alice Smith; "Wizards Gallop," music, Mrs. Bush; "St. Peter's Decision," a toast to mothers by St. George Ostrom; "Halloween pranks told by St. Alany MacFarlane; vocal, "Yam, Yam Man," by St. Lorraine Ostrom; fortunes told by Old Black Crook Hart; Halloween stunts; finale.

Watching of candles and grand march to the home of Black Cat and Cats. At 10:30 the merry makers all repaired to the home of Hugh Roberts for a Halloween treat in the way of something to eat. The dining room being attractive in yellow and black. The large table where 40 partook of the Halloween eats was aglow with a beautiful centerpiece of ferns and golden chrysanthemums and pumpkins with lighted candles were arranged about the table. Some of the Halloween cakes contained dolls and the twenty who received them will be a committee for a future social, the object of which is to make the church the center of the social activities during the winter. Mr. Thomas, who was fortunate enough to receive twins, will act as chairman of the committee. Those enjoying the Halloween program and supper were: Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Deter, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Hlinestone, Mr. and Mrs. James Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ostrom, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Woodham, Rev. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bush, Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mesdames Morse, Shaver, Hart, Cooper and Arthur, Messrs. Lorraine Ostrom, Arthur Roberts, Arthur Tucker, Donald MacFarlane, Misses Alice MacFarlane, Margaret Tucker, Dorothy Jacobs, Bessie Roberts and the hostesses.

A Halloween masquerade made a pretty party which was given by the Y. P. A. club on Saturday evening at the home of Onida and Carey Deter. The Deter home was unusually attractive with bats, black cats and the old black witches and their brooms, all being made by the young people and showing we have some gifted young folks when it comes to decorating and drawing. Streamers of orange and black hung from the archway and the witch who read their fortunes presided at the burning cauldron. After an hour of marching about the large living room, the young people unmasked. Some wore beautiful costumes while others were ghostly and hideous. Music and Halloween games were much enjoyed. A photograph gallery where your photos were finished while you waited made lots of fun. The refreshments consisted of pumpkin pie and whipped cream, fruit and nut salad and punch. Those who made merry during the evening enjoying the music and games were Lorraine and LeClaire Ostrom, Ethel Fern and Ellen Hart, Margaret and Arthur Tucker, Lolie Thayer, Arthur and Bessie Roberts, Annie and Glenn Russell, Eunice and Homer Williams, Charles Wallace, Mary Broecker, Harold Soebbe, Donald MacFarlane, Ruby Lidell, Carey and Onida Deter, Ralph Madison.

William Bowen, of The Enterprise staff, has been a recent visitor at the home of C. S. Williams on the Wilamette. Langdon Spooner returned this week from Jacksonville, Florida, where he accompanied the Oregon team to the national rifle match held in the southern state. Oregon stood fourth place among the 44 teams and Langdon and Lloyd Spooner holding high scores. Langdon having 296, while his brother, Corporal L. H. Spooner, had 206 in his credit, which was second high among the Oregon riflemen.

A number of Halloween pranks were played by the boys. Among them the jelling up of gates at the station and putting the buggy of Mr. Cook on top of the station. For the most part

It was all taken good naturally, as the men could recall they did the same pranks some twenty years ago. Perhaps these pranks which are handed down from heathen, customs centuries ago, could be eliminated to some extent if some social for our boys could be planned for Halloween next year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Waldron have returned from a delightful trip through the east. Some time was spent in Boston with their daughter, Dr. Burkhardt. Enroute home visits were made in Iowa and Nebraska. Mr. Waldron reports the corn crop of Iowa was poor owing to the rains and cool summer. In Illinois a hard freeze came three weeks ago as they were passing through that state and western Nebraska is a beautiful irrigated country.

Mrs. W. I. Hlinestone is entertaining her youngest sister, who comes as a bride. The wedding of Miss Allen and Mr. George Heitler taking place recently at The Dalles. The young couple are returning from their honeymoon which was spent at the exposition.

William Hellen has returned from Washington and will make his home with Roy Hilde. He expects to visit his sister, Mrs. Haah, at their home in central Oregon during the winter. V. A. Newell gave a masquerade dancing party on Cedar Island on Halloween eve. A number from Portland attended the evening.

Plans are under way for a porch and additional Sunday school room for the men's class to be built at the Grace church. It is under the direction of Master Cooks, the men who recently gave a cafeteria supper so charmingly. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Pender of Maine. Mrs. Pender will be remembered as Miss Ethel Smith, who visited her brother two years ago at this place. Her marriage to Mr. Pender being an event of October 16th and they immediately left for San Francisco where they spent their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Pender will make their home at Anaconda, Wash., after a visit at the Smith home.

William Cook is assisting Mr. Plant with his well drilling and at present are drilling in the Logan district. The preliminary road meeting on November 2 held at the Blue Front hall was largely attended and the road question discussed pro and con. George Ostrom, acting as chairman, and H. Starkweather, as secretary.

Rev. H. W. Smith announces a meeting of the Sunday school teachers and officers and church officers to be held at the church on Tuesday evening of this week.

The attendance at the Sunday school was sixty and the men's choir rendered special music at the morning service. Rev. H. W. Smith delivered a splendid sermon. A noticeable feature was the large number of men present at the service.

The regular meeting of the Community club on the evening of November 1 was perhaps the most largely attended of any meeting of the year. After a rest during the summer months the prospects for the new members to take part in the improvement and betterment of conditions socially and otherwise and the old members taking up their line of work with renewed activity.

W. I. Hlinestone and R. F. Deter will plan for the social part of the evening for the regular meeting in December. Mrs. Radkin of Kennewick, Wash., is the house guest of Mrs. H. H. Emmons.

Miss Sarah Kaminaki has been slightly indisposed and unable to attend the office duties at the law firm of Emmons & Emmons, where she has been efficient help for twenty years.

Mr. Kitchem of Portland was a visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. Carl Smith.

HARD SURFACE SOUGHT
EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 29.—A campaign for hard surface road construction in Lane county was launched at a banquet given by F. Chambers, a Eugene banker, to 50 citizens from all over the county at the Hotel Osburn. The meeting unanimously voted to empower the chairman to appoint a committee to take proper steps to place before the voters of the county the proposition of issuing bonds with which to build a north and south hard surface highway from the northern to the southern end of the county. It is estimated that $600,000 will be necessary to build such a road.

DO IT NOW.
Oregon City People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.
The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint. If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home: T. Trembath, Seventh and Center Sts., Oregon City, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills when my back and kidneys have been bothering me and I have had great relief. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly removed the soreness and lameness in my back in a short time. I have found that they are a fine kidney medicine." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Trembath had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

CHILDREN DIE WHEN PAROCHIAL SCHOOL BURNED TO GROUND

NINETEEN BODIES OF SMALL CHILDREN ARE TAKEN FROM RUINS IN PEABODY, MASS.

PEABODY, Mass., Oct. 28.—Twenty-five to thirty-five little children were believed to have perished here today in the fire which swept St. John's parochial school and 29 are known to be dead. Nineteen bodies have been recovered from the ruins and one girl, Mary Mead, died in a hospital.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon there were believed to be still from 19 to 25 bodies of children in the ruins of the school, but the debris was still so hot they could not be penetrated in a search for further little victims. All efforts to get an exact roll call of the children who were caught in the flames have failed. The town is full of desolated homes and it has been found impossible as yet to make a close tally of the saved and the missing. Conservative estimates, however, were that the lists of death would not exceed 25.

The fire was the most sickening and heart rending in the history of Massachusetts. Nearly 700 little tots were gathered at prayers in the assembly hall at 9 o'clock when there occurred a terrific explosion of the boiler in the basement. For a few seconds the sisters and their pupils were paralyzed with fear and remained silent in their seats.

Ten minutes later the huge three-story structure was enveloped in flames, and scores of panic-stricken children, blinded by smoke and blistered by heat, began jumping from windows. The sisters did their utmost to calm the children until ladders were thrown up to the windows, but their number was insufficient to quell the panic and one by one the little tots hurled themselves from the various floors.

It is understood that most of the victims were caught on the third floor.

The stock yards at the Southern Pacific depot were the center of attraction all Thursday forenoon, when each of 36 wagons brought its donation of hogs for shipment. Besides there were three droves of swine driven in on foot.

SEAMEN'S BILL HITS SAN FRANCISCO HARD

FEW SAILORS TAKE EXAMINATIONS AND 25 PER CENT OF THOSE FAIL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Steamship companies operating out of San Francisco find themselves in a quandary as November 4, the day on which the La Follette seamen's bill is to become effective, draws near. Sailors who have been to their captains and to their employing companies able seamen for years have been declared not able seamen by the inspectors who have been examining them under the provisions of the bill.

There are not enough seamen left in San Francisco to operate the ships running out of the harbor. There are 2000 sailors working out of this port. Only 250 of them have applied for examination under the new law, and of these 25 per cent have been denied their certificates of competency because of physical debility.

The Pacific Navigation company, operating the steamers Yale and Harvard between San Francisco and southern California, today asked Collector of the Port J. O. Davis to temporarily hold up the law. The Yale sails November 5, and there are not enough sailors to man her for the trip. Davis refused to interfere with the workings of the bill, and a wire was sent to Washington by the company, asking that Secretary Redfield restrain the physical phase of the bill. Under the law, the secretary has the power to suspend any provision of the bill for a year's period.

Half the steamship companies of San Francisco have joined with the Pacific Coast Steamship company in petitioning Redfield.

WASCO FAVORS ISSUE OF BONDS FOR ROADS

PORTLAND Ore., Oct. 29.—A strong sentiment is developing in Wasco county for a bond issue for good roads, according to A. S. Benson, who returned from a trip to The Dalles.

It is proposed to construct the county's unit of the Columbia river highway from Mosier to the mouth of the Deschutes river and to improve the main interior roads of the county. The amount of the bond issue being considered is $350,000. It is estimated that one half of this shall be expended on the Columbia river highway.

Petitions will be put in circulation soon calling for a special election in November.

"The people of The Dalles," said Mr. Benson, "have had a foretaste of what the Columbia river highway means in the way of development through the limited travel that followed the opening of the highway from Portland to Hood River this summer and they want more."

Speaking from a personal standpoint, Mr. Benson called attention to one great asset of the highway to the people of Portland and the interior that has not been given much prominence. It is the fact that within a few miles it embraces climatic conditions that can be found on place else in the world.

INJUNCTION AGAINST SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

STATUTE WILL BE ARGUED BEFORE JUDGE WHO ONCE HELD IT UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 29.—Circuit Judge Gatenben this morning granted a temporary injunction restraining District Attorney Evans from issuing further complaints against violators of the Sunday closing law, pending the hearing of an appeal in the case of Dan Kellaher, who was fined $25 Wednesday by District Judge Dayton. Circuit Judge Gatenben set the appeal for hearing at 9:30 o'clock November 6, one week from tomorrow.

Circuit Judge Gatenben, when asked to set the appeal, said that he had already once decided the law unconstitutional on the ground that religion was involved and that he believed this point had not been raised before the supreme court which recently declared the law constitutional. That phase will be brought up on the appeal and if the supreme court did not decide it the point may bring the case once more into the supreme court.

Kellaher, acting as his own attorney as he did in the hearings in the district court, filed the injunction suit in which he asks that the restraining order apply to himself and all others similarly situated.

MANY "DREAMS" BURNED
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 29.—Enough "dope" to furnish a "dream" or a "leisure drug" to every drug fiend in the country will be burned, along with pipes and needles, at a public bonfire in civic center next week. The dope was confiscated from Fresno, Bakersfield, Los Angeles and this city. It is valued at $15,000.

TWO CHILDREN MAD CROOP.
The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant, Cleveland, Ga., had a crop last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw inflamed throats and loosens phlegm. Jones Drug Co. (Adv.)

OREGON'S DAY AT EXPOSITION HELD DECIDED SUCCESS

GREAT CROWDS THROUGH GROUNDS AND THOUSANDS VISIT BIG LOG BUILDING.

GOVERNOR PLANTS FIR TREE AND DELIVERS ONE OF MAIN TALKS

Intertwining of Interests of Sister States on Pacific Coast is Emphasized—Visitors Are Given Souvenirs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—All nature smiled on Oregon day, giving glorious sunshine and blue skies, without a particle of wind, and the crowds thronged the grounds and the building all day and all evening. The ceremonies were held out of doors, at the west end of the great log pavilion, with President Clark, chairman, and all five of the Oregon commissioners present—R. A. Booth, O. M. Clark, C. L. Hawley, John F. Logan and W. L. Thompson.

Senator Booth and Governor Withycombe delivered the main addresses for Oregon, Vice-President De Young for the exposition, and J. J. Dwyer, president of the state board of harbor commissioners, in behalf of the governor of California.

An immense audience gathered and afterward went inside, where they were presented with Oregon souvenirs, loganberry juice and Klamath cheese. The commissioners, the governor and other prominent Oregonians held an informal reception.

J. J. Dwyer, after graceful felicitations, said: "The solidity of the 48 pillars of the great Oregon building is a symbolical of the solidity of the union of American states." He went on: "Oregon has been grandly helped to the success of the exposition; we are delighted to honor her."

The services were varied here to permit Governor Withycombe to plant a Douglas fir tree.

$500,000 BLAZE ON SEATTLE WATERFRONT

WAR CARGOES ARE BELIEVED TO BE MOTIVE FOR FIRE—VALUABLE GOODS DAMAGED.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—Fire, supposed to be of incendiary origin, tonight destroyed Pier 14, at the foot of Broad street, occupied by Dowdell & Co., Ltd., agents for the Blue Funnel line of British steamers, with much valuable merchandise, entailing loss that probably will exceed $500,000.

The Japanese and Chinese merchandise that arrived Saturday night on the steamer Ixion was still in the warehouse, the $2,000,000 worth of silk brought by the steamship having been sent east. Beside the merchandise just landed from the Ixion, cargo was being assembled at the pier for the Ixion's trip to Asia. The Ixion is now at Vancouver and will return here.

The Blue Funnel steamers have been taking much barbed wire, machinery and implements of war for the Russian army. The Ixion is booked to stop at Vladivostok with similar supplies for Russia, and this circumstance is believed to shed light on the origin of the fire.

Two deliberate attempts to destroy pier 14 by fire were made early last Tuesday. Both fires were started in piles of highly inflammable rattan, stacked on rolls of white paper, which occupied a floor space of 50 square feet. The rolls of paper with the rattan on top stood in the center of the north end of the pier near the wall. In the dry rattan crumpled newspapers had been placed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Under instructions issued today by Acting Secretary Thurman of the department of commerce, American vessels which have made a bona fide effort to comply with the requirements of the new seamen's law, effective tomorrow, will be allowed to clear, even though they have been unable to secure a crew strictly in accordance with the new law.

Many complaints about difficulties in meeting the requirements of the new law have been received. Federal officers have been busy for a week disposing of questions arising concerning physical examinations for seamen and lifeboat men.

Dann, Elizabeth Dann, Addie Nelson and Stephen Sheehan to foreclose on a note for $2000 dated here October 14, 1912. The plaintiff took a mortgage on lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 55 and 16 of block 27 in Gladstone. The note was signed by Mr. and Mrs. Dann and the property transferred to Addie Nelson. Mr. Sheehan claims an interest in the lots.

OREGON IDEAL FOR NUT CULTURE, HE SAYS

SPEAKER AT CONVENTION SAYS DEMAND FOR WALNUTS IS PERMANENT.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—Oregon is destined to become one of the great walnut states of the Union, according to Professor C. I. Lewis, chief of the division of horticulture of the Oregon Agricultural college, who made the principal address at the opening session of the first annual convention of the Western Walnut association at the Imperial this morning.

Already, Oregon has one-fourth of all the young walnut trees in the United States, Professor Lewis said. Of the 22,026,524 pounds of walnuts produced in the county, 79,000 pounds are produced in Oregon. California leads with 21,432,266 pounds.

"Walnut men have comparatively little to fear in the near future so far as marketing is concerned," said Professor Lewis. "The present consumption in the United States is only about 50,000,000 pounds. The consumption of English walnuts during the past 10 years has practically doubled."

Mr. Lewis said that the walnut industry has passed the boom stage, and that the winter of 1908 cleared out most of the worthless trees. He advised all Oregon walnut growers to affiliate with the association, and recommended an advertising campaign calling attention to the superior quality of the Oregon product.

In the exhibit, 10 standard grafted varieties are shown, with a large number of seedling varieties. J. C. Cooper of McMinnville, organizer and president of the association, has one of the leading exhibits. T. A. Bonney of Hubbard is another exhibitor, and there are many exhibits from the neighborhood of Hillsboro.

STORE AT TIGARD ROBBED
The store of H. W. McDonald at Tigard on the Oregon Electric was entered by robbers some time Wednesday night or Thursday morning. The robbers broke in through the front door and stole between $25 and $30 worth of pocket knives as well as some other goods. Included in their plunder were some old 25 and 50 cent pieces, of the coinage of 1853 and 1854.
