

MEXICAN SHELL SERIOUSLY HURTS AMERICAN CITIZEN

BATTLING MEXICANS SHOOT OVER BORDER AND INTO DOUGLAS, ARIZONA.

VILLA BEGINS GENERAL ATTACK ON AGUA PRIETA MONDAY NIGHT

Heavy Artillery Fire is Opened on Garrison of General Calles, But It Goes Down When Men Entrench.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 1.—What appeared to be a general attack on Agua Prieta began at 6:40 o'clock tonight, when the Villa forces began a heavy firing from all sides and advanced on the town.

The firing ceased when the Villa troops had reached the wire entanglements on the east side of Agua Prieta and began to dig trenches.

Meanwhile the Carranza garrison was sweeping from all sides of the town with rifles and machine gun volleys, guided by searchlights.

General Villa delivered his long-expected attack on the Carranza garrison at Agua Prieta late today and within two hours after the first gun was fired machine gun bullets and shell fragments showered over American territory, seriously wounding Louis F. Taylor, a restaurant waiter, and endangering scores of American soldiers in trenches south of the United States army camp two miles east of Douglas.

Taylor was shot down in front of the United States custom-house, where more than 70 machine gun bullets sped among a throng of soldiers and Mexican women and children who were coming across the line.

General Thomas F. Davis, commanding the 4000 American troops on duty at the border, promptly warned the commander of both Mexican factions to change the direction of their fire, and citizens on the American side were not endangered thereafter.

On the Mexican side losses could not be ascertained up to nightfall, which brought a lull in the combat, but Villa artillery, firing successive volleys, played on the defenses of the Mexican town, with the apparent intention of shattering the barbed-wire entanglements, and exploding the trenches preparatory to a rush on the garrison of General Calles.

AT LAST, THE EAST HAS FOUND THE WEST

SAMUEL BYLTHE, NOW IN OREGON, SAYS COAST IS WELL ADVERTISED BY FAIRS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—The great unknown land lying east of Poughkeepsie, or Buffalo, or perhaps, at the extreme, Chicago, has been discovered—and what is more, explored—by many easterners, as a direct result of the San Francisco and San Diego fairs.

This is one of the chief benefits of those expositions, in the opinion of Samuel B. Bylthe, political orator of the Saturday Evening Post, who has seen more of America, perhaps, than any man, living or otherwise.

"Why," said Mr. Bylthe, at the Portland this morning, "New Yorkers and Bostonians and Philadelphians are going back east from their daring adventure into the mythical west, and are giving out interviews to the papers expressive of their surprise and delight at what they found in the mysterious region that to them had lain beyond the sunset.

"They say they found good sized cities all the way west, from Chicago to the coast; and the same up and down the coast; and these cities are inhabited by people speaking English, and talking politics, and religion, and art, and baseball, just about the same as the folks who live in New York, or Pennsylvania, or Massachusetts."

MILWAUKIE BOY IS LOST

Parents of Dominick Fellini, formerly a resident of South Milwaukie, are searching for their 17-year-old son, who has been missing from his home for more than two months. Dominick is said to have been of a roving disposition and never contented with the sort of work that was outlined for him. He was given several head of cattle by friends of his family in the endeavor to get him to stay at home and "settle down," but the friends' efforts proved unavailing.

Dominick is described as being under-sized but intelligent and polite. Any information of his whereabouts should be communicated to C. James Ivey, Milwaukie. Dominick's father says that he will not be responsible for any bills that his son incurs.

ARISAIDE BRIAND IS HEAD OF NEW FRENCH CABINET

EXAMPLE OF BRITAIN IS CLOSELY FOLLOWED IN PARIS; YOUNG AND OLD UNITED.

ALL NATION'S HISTORY SINCE NAPOLEON III IS REPRESENTED

General Gallieni and Admiral La Caze Supplant Civilians in War and Marine, and Cambon Has Important Place.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—A new French cabinet, headed by Aristide Briand as premier and minister of foreign affairs, came into existence tonight.

This is the first time in the history of the French republic that there is a coalition ministry of all the opposing parties and factions. It follows closely on the recent innovation of forming a British coalition cabinet of Conservatives and Liberals.

The action taken today in forming the cabinet was the culmination of a deep popular sentiment that at the supreme crisis of the war party division should give way to united action by all the parties in common support of the government. The cabinet of Rene Viviani was representative of only a few political groups, consequently the ministers presented their collective resignations, and President Poincare immediately charged Aristide Briand with the formation of a new organization combining all elements.

The resulting coalition is remarkable in personnel, including such venerable figures as Charles de Freycinet, who was one of Gambetta's aides in the upheaval of 1870; Jules Mellin, an exponent, who instituted the protective system of France, and Leon Bourgeois, who is known as the "grand old man of the radical party," which has the largest membership in parliament.

The modern element is represented by leaders of all the political groups of the country. Thus the new coalition brings together France's elder and younger statesmen, and in personnel represents all the history of modern France since the fall of Napoleon III. The new cabinet also is noteworthy in having the popular military leader, General Gallieni, as the head of the war office, and Rear-Admiral La Caze as head of the ministry of marine, both of them replacing civilians.

The extent of the coalition is shown by the representations from the various parties.

GENERAL MEAT TRADE NOT CONSIDERED GOOD

ADDITIONAL WEAKNESS IN DRESSED MEAT MARKET ONE OF DAY'S FEATURES.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—Additional weakness is apparent in the dressed meat market today. Receipts continue very heavy, while the demand is far from sufficient to enable dealers to clean up.

As stated yesterday, pork will not bring over 8 cents for strictly fancy stuff, and more sales are made at 7 1/2 cents than at the higher price. Even at this low range, packers and big butchers refuse to take on more stocks.

Veal has slumped still further, and today extra fancy is quoted at 5 1/2 cents with fancy at 5 cents. Heavy stuff will not bring over 5 to 6 cents, and there is hardly any call for calves of any kind.

Poultry is decidedly slow. Small hens are not wanted, while there is a fair demand for heavy birds. Prices range all the way from 12 to 14 cents.

Both live and dressed turkeys arrived in the market this forenoon. It seems strange shippers will not accept the word of dealers when informed these are not wanted.

PROHIBITION LOSSES BY 50,000

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Ohio can continue to slake its thirst. Nearly complete official returns early today showed prohibition had been defeated in the state by 50,000 to 60,000 majority. The figures showed 277,738 for and 235,638 against.

Prohibition was defeated last year by 84,000 and the increase this year in the day vote was accredited chiefly to a gain in the rural counties.

Other states' issues defeated included proposals to: Emancipate the initiative and referendum—lost by 30,000. Substitute local for state control of liquor, lost by 70,000.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Returns from 81 of the 88 counties in the state showed a wet majority of 59,876. Last year the majority totaled 81,000.

OREGON AGGIES WIN GREAT VICTORY FROM MICHIGAN COLLEGE

CORVALLIS MEN PILE UP 20 POINTS AND KEEP HOME TEAM FROM SCORING.

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 30.—The Oregon Aggies gave the Michigan Aggies the greatest surprise of the season this afternoon when, by pounding through their lines consistently, from the start, they piled up a score of 20 to 0.

Abraham, Allen and Lacey carried the ball to the five yard line and Abraham smashed over for a touchdown almost before Michigan realized what was up. Cole kicked the goal. Michigan came back strong to the three yard line, but not score.

During most of the second quarter the play was in Oregon's territory. Deprato failed at several attempted field goals but had the better of the punting duel.

With Abraham starting, O. A. C. ploughed through for a second touchdown in the third quarter. Allen scoring. Abraham was called on repeatedly and always was good for five to 15 yards. Cole kicked goal.

Oregon added another touchdown in the final period. Using old style football entirely, her men tore through, Abraham scoring. An attempt at kicking goal went wide.

Mount Pleasant

(By A. H. Mulkey.)

Viewed from many angles the name Mt. Pleasant is a misnomer. Take position any where upon the crest of the mountain range southeast and south and a birds-eye view of the situation discloses a delectable valley than a mountain. So also one many travel long distances either way from any center it seems flat enough to be reckoned a valley of quiet spacious dimensions.

But approached from Oregon City along either of the three roads by which it is marked—there's when comes trouble! One never approaches the place, rain or shine, cold or hot, but he gets up a healthy sweat unless he travels by auto or in a vehicle propelled by horses and then the poor horses do the sweating. By one route there are 312 steps to climb beside acres of incline road. If, after raising ones self to this height and immediately tests his weight, he will wear the scales are out of order and seek and inspector to look into the matter.

If one has already weighed before the ascent he will be convinced that he weighs rather more than less. By this time also one is convinced that it's a "sure enough" mountain whether "Pleasant" or otherwise.

Another thing. We have read that the earth's crust increases in temperature by one degree for every 30 many feet so that a depth of 1600 feet below the sea-level no drill can keep its temper. Some have inferred from hence that the bad place is towards the center of the earth. Whether or not this is true no explorer has ever returned to break the news to mortals. The same argument, however, would have it that satan's realm is above, since temperature rises a degree for every hundred feet of climb from Main street to Mount Pleasant. Yet withal Mount Pleasant is a "Pleasant" place to live. If you don't believe come up and let us show you around. We have no land to sell and no ax to grind.

Oregon Building May Be Moved to Ashland, Oregon

OREGON BUILDING, Nov. 2.—If the Southern Pacific will haul the Oregon building to Ashland free of cost, it is not wholly improbable that the famous Oregon parthenon will grace the wonderful park being developed at Ashland through the expenditure of $175,000 secured by bond issues for this purpose and that of developing the Lithia springs there.

During the past ten days, Editor Bert R. Greer, of the Ashland Tidings, and chairman of the Springs Water commission has been here in consultation with the Oregon commission and the Southern Pacific officials and is serious in his attempt to secure the Oregon building for re-erection in his home city. Just now there will decide how the government will decide to maintain the building here, and contract calls for its removal within 90 days after the close of the exposition. The best offer that the commission has had for the building is $1000, the concern making this offer agreeing to remove the structure and put the ground in the shape required by the contract.

However, Editor Greer figures that the commission can afford to waive that amount if the famous building could be reset at Oregon's southern gateway, and the public in general will agree. It will cost from twelve to fifteen thousands to wreck the building and Mr. Greer is confident that he can secure that amount in his home city, providing the Southern Pacific will transport the wreckage to Ashland. It is understood that the springs commission already has available a considerable sum for the construction of a casino in the park, and there would be no difficulty about financing the reconstruction of the Oregon building.

If the parthenon is not to be maintained here, it is reasonably certain that all Oregon would delight in its reconstruction at Ashland. That city is spending a very large sum to develop a great resort and the beautification of the mountain park practically in the heart of that city is now in the hands of McLaren, father of Golden Gate park's landscape beauty, and also responsible for the wondrous beauty of the exposition grounds. The Oregon parthenon would have perfect surroundings there, and as a convention hall, museum, casino, or some thing of the sort it would serve a good purpose and advertise Ashland as nothing else could and result to the great advantage of Oregon in general.

RUN OF LIVESTOCK IN PORTLAND SMALL

BOTH MUTTON AND CATTLE MARKET SHOW STRENGTH—NO IMPORTANT CHANGE.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Portland, Ore., Nov. 2.—There was only a small run of livestock in the North Portland yards today but the record showing of yesterday caused further depression in the trade here.

While no tops were sold early first sales indicated that the market was down a dime from the extreme figures of yesterday. Killers continue in no hurry to take hold.

Market for cattle continues steady with general tops in the steer division around $6.75. Something extra select would probably bring a dime more than this for a limited supply.

Only a small run of cattle was shown in the yards today. The market is naturally best in the steer division, his stuff being weaker and depressed with the extreme point quoted at $5 and the bulk of the best offerings going around $4.75 to $4.85.

A large per cent of the mutton arrivals came on contract to local killers during the last 24 hours. One fair lunch consisted of old ewes which were purchased at so much per head in the country.

General mutton and lamb market situation is inclined to show liberal strength but no further change in prices is indicated.

BAKER FEARS EFFECT OF IOWA DECISION

OREGON STATUTE SIMILAR TO ONE HIT BY FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT RULING.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—Commenting upon the recent decision of the United States district court at Chicago compelling a railway company to deliver to any agent of a purchaser or consignee of alcoholic liquors in dry territory, Attorney E. A. Baker says the Oregon law is similar to the Iowa statute in respect to shipment of liquors into the state, particularly in that delivery of liquors to any person other than the consignee is prohibited after January 1, 1916.

"This provision was put into the Oregon law to make it as difficult as possible to import liquor into the state and to keep a check on who is getting liquor," Attorney Baker added. "If a decision should be made by the federal court in Oregon similar to that applying in the Iowa case, it will open the door for large consumption of alcoholic drinks and make it easy for anyone to get liquor. It will also make it difficult to enforce that section of the law fixing the limit of any person or family, to two quarts of whisky and 24 quarts of beer in four weeks.

"Appeal is open to the United States circuit court of appeals and to the supreme court of the United States from Judge Carpenter's decision."

BULLETS COME NEAR TO GENERAL FUNSTON

WIDESPREAD APPREHENSION CAUSED BY REPORT INTERFERENCE IS PLANNED.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 2.—With salvoes of artillery beginning at 5:17 tonight, General Villa apparently began preparing for his fifth and possibly last assault on the Carranza stronghold of Agua Prieta.

Three hours before, Major-General Funston, who arrived and assumed command in Douglas today, removed the American troops from their trenches on the international boundary. This move, coupled with reports that Villa intended shelling Douglas, and that General Funston was preparing to interfere in Mexico, caused widespread apprehension.

Many women whose homes were spattered with bullets during the terrific firing around Agua Prieta last night, left the city.

General Funston, in a ride along the United States border line, was himself endangered by stray Mexican bullets.

KING GEORGE HURT BY FALL FROM HORSE

LONDON, Oct. 29.—King George was thrown from his horse while inspecting the British army in the field in France yesterday and severely bruised. The full nature of his injuries is not revealed in the official bulletins, but the fact that the Prince of Wales, who was with his father, has returned to Buckingham palace, is interpreted as indicating that no fears for the outcome are entertained.

A Reuter dispatch from British headquarters describing the accident to the king, says he had just completed an inspection of one corps and was on his way to inspect another when cheers from the troops, who threw their caps in the air, caused his horse to rear. The king managed to regain control of the horse, which, however, reared again and fell over backward, throwing the king to the ground.

PORTLAND STORES OBSERVE OLD LAW

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1.—Many of the grocery stores which had been doing a Sunday business were closed yesterday, according to Robert G. Duncan, secretary of the Portland Retail Grocers' association, who, with a number of others, was out gathering evidence against the stores which were open.

Owing to a temporary restraining order which was issued last week by the circuit court, pending the outcome of an appeal taken by Dan Kellaher, east side grocer, no arrests for violations of the aged Sunday closing law could be made yesterday; but the evidence, as explained by Mr. Duncan, was secured for use after the injunction is dissolved.

WARS IN EUROPE BOOST UP PRICES IN OREGON CITY

LOCAL DRUGGIST ISSUES STATEMENT SHOWING CONDITION BROUGHT BY CONFLICT.

MONOPOLY OF MANY LINES IS GIVEN AS ONE CAUSE OF RAISE

Advance in Many Cases is Several Hundred Per Cent—Now Impossible to Obtain Many Chemicals While Others Are Limited.

A general raise in the retail price of all prescriptions and drugs is now in effect in Oregon City, following a recent meeting of all the local druggists when a uniform scale of advance was agreed upon. The new prices are the same as the recently adopted scale of Portland retail druggists. The raise was forced by the war which shuts off the importation of drugs, the merchants explain.

The retail merchants Thursday issued a statement, showing the raise in the wholesale price. It says, in part:

While prices have been high for some time, the stupendous increase for the past six months would make the reader believe that Sherman was right by comparing the advances as shown by the wholesalers quotations in just a few of the commonly used drugs and chemicals:

Carbolic acid was 20c a pound, now $2.25 a pound. Acetanilid was 34c a pound, now $1.29 a pound. (Used in most headache preparations.)

Acetphenetidine (bulk phenacetin) was 12c an ounce, now 85c an ounce. Glycerine was 18c a pound, now 72c a pound. (Supply limited.)

Quinine was 35c an ounce, now $1.50 an ounce. Cream tartar was 28c a pound, now 70c a pound.

Mercury (quick silver) was 70c a pound, now $1.90 a pound. Chloroform commercial was 50c a pound, now 85c a pound.

Resorelin was 11c an ounce, now 75c an ounce. Sacchlm was 19c an ounce, now $1.04 an ounce.

Blue stone was 6c a pound, now 11c a pound. Lanolin was 24c a pound, now $3.50 a pound.

Santonin (used in all worm preparations) was 50c an ounce, now $3.70 an ounce. Sodium bromide was 64c a pound, now $6.70 a pound.

Potassium bromide was 49c a pound, now $5.90 a pound. Salacin was 37c an ounce, now 75c an ounce.

Sodium salicylate was 40c a pound, now $6.40 a pound. Acid salicylic was 39c a pound, now $6.20 a pound.

Antipyrine was $2.40 a pound, now $38 a pound. Oil wintergreen true was 24c an ounce, now 59c an ounce.

These are just a few examples of the enormous increase in chemicals and drugs. Not only is the price prohibitive but some articles are impossible to secure. The reason for this sudden advance in prices are caused to a great extent by the European war and the blockade created by the allies whereby Germany and Austria are prevented from shipping chemicals from those countries, also because of the enormous demand for the various medicinal products. The several nations at war having established a government control on many chemicals and drugs, thus restricting the shipment of the same. A further reason is the possibility of a drug monopoly, the government having already been opportuned to investigate. As long as these unfortunate conditions exist prices not only on drugs, but on many other commodities are going to show a steady increase. The public should be considerate about criticizing the retail merchant on the advance he is compelled to ask as in many cases you will find he is sacrificing his legitimate profit on these extremely high prices.

On investigation it is found that it is not the retailer but it is the wholesaler and monopolies who exercise absolute power in these cases where there is no government control.

A few remarks from the latest market reports:

"Mercury and all its preparations very high in price and supply limited, foreign governments having stopped all exports.

"Acid carbolic limit on all order, price very high.

"Potassium and sodium salts very scarce, prices constantly advancing.

"Owing to the scarcity of barium dioxide, commonly called peroxide, is becoming very scarce.

"All cold tar products are advancing in price and some are practically all gone. For example, asperm, salol antipyrine, acetanilid, sacchasin, resorcin, etc. Novocain taken off the list.

"Nasalons, off the market.

"Oil bismuth salts scarce and prices going up.

"Balsam very scarce and prices very high.

"Formaldehyde, stock getting scarce, and prices advancing.

"Oil wintergreen, very scarce, prices constantly advancing.

"All chemical apparatus' slides, test tubes, surgical instruments, enameled hospital ware has advance from 20 per cent to 200 per cent. All photographic chemicals are advancing constantly."
