HARNESS MAKER, LAST OF BACHELOR'S CLUB HARNESSSED FOR LIFE

R. F. DETTERT, OF SANDY, WEDS AT LAST—EAST CLACKAMAS MILLS STARTING

SANDY, Ore., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—R. F. Dettert, Sandy's harness maker, and the next to the last member of the one-time famous Sandy Bachelors' club, has surprised his many friends by taking unto himself a wife. Mr. and Mrs. Dettert have settled in their home here and are receiving the congratulations from their many friends.

The Sandy Bachelors' club, which goes out of existence with Mr. Dettert's wedding, was organized six years ago with the following officers: President, Jerome Howard, now principal of the schools at West Linn; vice president, R. E. Jari; secretary, E. T. Bruns, and treasurer, George Kerbs. The club had a good membership and was prosperous until the president was married and for a time George Kerbs well filled the place. Then he, too, took that step which barred him from membership and the secretary went to Wisconsin to wed.

One member followed another until the club was composed of Mr. Dettert and R. E. Jack, the Kelso merchant. With one of these two safely married now, the club has become a matter of history.

Sawmills are starting up again. The Sandy Fir Lumber company will start by sawing railroad ties, which are in demand again. The Sandy River Lumber company will repair its mill and start sawing lumber and ties the first of the year. Jonsrud Brothers' mill is running most every day. It does considerable box and shingle business.

Dixon & Kersecker, who purchased the timber north of town, will put in a new mill immediately. They are at present clearing a large tract of land with a donkey engine by which they pull stumps and whole trees over the bluff. It is a great improvement over the old fashioned "Armstrong" method.

Charles Krebs has found some excellent clay just south of town and will soon put in a complete brick making outfit.

Meyers' wood camp on Cedar creek is still a busy place, many teams hauling wood; making some bottomless holes in the Sandy and Bull Run road.

Sandy Fruit Nursery on Cedar creek is shipping lots of fruit trees of most excellent quality to all parts of the coast.

Dr. Steigle, who temporarily filled Dr. Barendrick's place the past three months, has returned to Portland. While here Dr. Steigle won many friends, all who are sorry to see him leave.

Mrs. A. C. Baumbach has returned from an extended trip through the eastern states and related her experience in a short lecture to the Sandy Womans' club.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Nylander, of Portland, were in Sandy visiting relatives and friends. They will leave for California to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Jari have returned from a trip through California. They visited both fairs and report a most enjoyable trip.

Pete Swan was in Oregon City on business.

F. M. Margan who has been laid up with a lame leg is progressing towards health.

Many road meetings are and will be held.

W. A. Proctor is contemplating building a residence in Sandy.

E. T. Bruns in remodeling his house and installing a modern water system.

W. C. T. U. SPEAKER TELLS OF NEW LAW

MOLALLA PEOPLE HEAR INTERESTING ADDRESS—LAYMAN OCCUPIES PULPIT

MOLALLA, Ore., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Johnson, who is under the care of Dr. Coffee, at the surgical hospital, Portland, is improving. Her many friends at Molalla are glad to hear such good news.

Mrs. Sleeth, of Portland, gave an address before the W. C. T. U. in the Methodist church Sunday evening. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Wolfe. Mrs. Sleeth gave a quick review of the temperance movement, then explained the new liquor law in every phase. After the new law goes into effect, no advertisement of liquors is to be allowed, no advertising matter is to be allowed to come into the state, or mail list of liquors. A system of book-keeping and sworn oaths are expected to keep track of every druggist, doctor, carrier or person who in any way has anything to do with the small amount permissible. In turn these records are to be kept open for public inspection for two years. The law has been made strict as to the methods of dealing with an officer who fails to do his part of the work. Mrs. Sleeth feels that everyone should study this law so that none unwittingly break it.

Sunday J. G. Taylor took Rev. Curtiss' place in the pulpit while that gentleman was holding services elsewhere. Mr. Taylor expressed a strong desire that this church may be able in the near future to have a minister in the pulpit every Sunday. While Mr. Taylor is willing to assist in every way he can, he believes that it will be better for the church when the pastor is enabled to devote his entire attention to it.

Rev. and Mrs. Curtiss asked Mrs. Mackrell with her class of boys and Mr. Taylor with his class of young men, to come to their home for an evening's pleasure Nov. 19.

Upon Sunday, November 21, Dr. George Pratt, of Portland, will speak at both morning and evening services. A cordial invitation is extended to all, in both this and adjoining neighborhoods, to attend. Especial invitation is extended to the young people.

The parsonage in which Rev. Curtiss and family live, has been treated to a new coat of paint recently.

A petition is being circulated and signed requesting that the carrying of the mails be transferred from the Southern Pacific line to the Willamette Valley Southern.

The latter part of this week there will be a mass meeting of Molalla's progressive farmers to make arrangements for the establishment of a cooperative creamery.

A school election was held in the old school house just back of the modern one now in use. The matter taken up was practically settled at the election last June but owing to a technicality, in that the former election was posted instead of being advertised in the home paper, the second election was held to comply with the new school law. There were 19 for and 2 against the 5 1/2 mill levy for school purposes, showing the same sentiment as last June's election. It was also voted that the directors be directed to buy a piano, not to exceed $200 in price.

There are about forty pupils in the high school from adjoining districts. The entrance rate is $45 which is provided by the law which allows a pupils' school money to be transferred to the district entered.

George Case is taking the school census.

Mrs. William Jacobs entertains the Grace Guild on Wednesday. The ladies are to come at 10 a. m. and the hostess will serve luncheon. The day will be spent in sewing for the annual bazaar which will be held on December 8.

We were sorry to hear of the passing away of Warren Potter at a sanatorium at Salem on Saturday morning. Mr. Potter went to Salem some six weeks ago to receive treatment and gradually grew weaker until the end came. He is survived by one son, Milton Potter, of this town.

The funeral services were private and the remains cremated at Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Potter and son Donald returned on Monday evening from Salem, where they attended the funeral.

There were 52 present at the Sunday school service. Almost every teacher was present. A report from Mrs. Bruechert who attended the Clackamas County Sunday school convention at Molalla on Friday was given and much enjoyed. Mrs. H. N. Smith was also a delegate to the convention from this Sunday school and was elected superintendent of educational department. Mrs. Carl Smith, also of this place, attended and was elected superintendent of the elementary work.

A large congregation heard Rev. Smith speak Sunday last. Messrs. Robinson, Tucker, Blinestone, Woodham and Lorraine Ostrom rendering special selections.

The annual meeting of the church was held at 8 o'clock on November 16. At the roll call each responded with a favorite verse of Scripture. Reports from the board of trustees, church committee, treasurer, superintendent of Sunday school and music committee were given. A fine report from the president and secretary of the Grace Guild. At the annual election Mrs. Deila Roberts was unanimously re-elected clerk. H. J. Robinson was elected deacon for the one year term.

Mrs. Alice McFarlane was unanimously chosen the treasurer. H. J. Robinson is superintendent of the Sunday school and Frank Tucker is assistant. H. J. Robinson, Wm. Jacobs and Lorraine Ostrom form the music committee for ensuing year. The present board of trustees will serve until the next annual election in 1916.

Rev. Smith outlined a plan for efficiency, the substance of which was to have a board of management constituted entirely of men church members and non-church members, Christians and non-Christians, professional men, working men, business men, any and all men of good moral character and having a lively interest in community affairs. This board shall include deacons, trustees and other church officers in addition to the men selected above. The duties of this board shall be to deal with the church finances, receive all monthly bills, pay all such bills, discuss all business affairs pertaining to the material welfare of the church, receive all monthly reports for filing. This board shall be a clearing house for plans for church efficiency and activity in each department excepting the spiritual or religious work and shall meet regularly once a month. This meeting will be followed by a meeting of the church members and friends for the ratification of any plans proposed and for social features.

These recommendations were so well received by those present at the annual meeting, that it was voted to have the pastor go ahead with such organization and to appoint a board of management.

OAK GROVE AGENT OF RAILWAY RESIGNS

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Warren, of Oak Grove, have resigned as agents for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company at that place after eight years of efficient service. Mr. Warren's work was such that he was unable to assist Mrs. Warren with the duties of the office and they became too strenuous and confining for her to look after alone.

Their place was filled by Miss Myrtle Williams sister of the postmistress at Oak Grove. The postoffice has been moved into the Warren building and the young ladies look after both of these offices.

W. B. Stokes will have charge of the office of the express office, which was also under Mr. Warren's supervision.
