ANE COUNTY is a typical Willamette valley county and when its needs are defined, the needs of Marion or Clackamas or any other valley county are given as well. So, when A. C. Dixon, manager of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, told the people of Cottage Grove the other day that Lane county needed better transportation factilities and stability of the lumber market, rest assured that these two factors are needed here as well.

One of the statements made by Mr. Dixon, which may rather startle some of the more energetic Oregon boosters, is that the state needs fewer sawmills. He says: "In view of the fact that Lane county's ressource is its standing fir stumpage, and that this can only be produced once in generations, those who have the best interests of the county at heart will not urge or try to arrange for too rapid production. We have just gone through a period of years, each one of which-from the lumbermen's standpoint-has been illustrative of the ill effects caused by over-production.

"It is a well recognized fact among lumbermen, and others who have the lumber industry in the northwest was the excessive demand for and high prices of lumber during the period immediately following the San Francasco fire and the Valparaiso disaster. During that period hundreds of sawmills were built in Oregon and Washington by people who expected to make quick fortunes and who would not have gone into the business at that time under conditions which would have yielded only a fair, normal profit on the manufacture of lumber. It seems to be difficult in most instances to get away from the so-called law of supply and demand and there are no exceptions in

The increased number of mills produced more lumber than the market could possibly absorb and the result was the ruination of literally hundreds and thousands of lumber manufacturers and loggers in the northwest.

"In the last six years over one-third of all the manufacturers of lumber in Oregon and Washington have failed and their property has been liquidated through the courts. This is an astonishing statement but it is backed up by

"What Lane county most needs at this time is not more swamills nor the development of more lumbering enterprises, but a fair degree of prosperity for those already existing."

HE ENTERPRISE asks the Courier in all fairness and earnestness, who is it that the Courier has for a pet candidate for the office of sheriff. The Courier's attacks have been persistent and continuous. Almost evcharacter of the man.

Republicans should rally to the support of Sheriff Wilson at a time when he is made the victim of a campaign of falsehoods, when he is assailed from every side for political purposes only. And, as far as this is concerned, the Democrats who have any knowledge of the way Sheriff Wilson is being maltreated should come to his aid.

The Enterprise would like to see the name of the Courier's pet-what a noble creature he must be to be fostered by such a sheet, printed in its next week's issue.

To the same effect is the complaint made by Congressman Gray, of In diana who gives this general summary of conditions in his state:

"Patrons are everywhere complaining; that many patrons are refusing to receive the mail from the carriers and are renting boxes at the postoffice; that carriers are resigning their positions and applicants are declining to accept appointment; that the postmaster is in a state of nervous exhaustion and collapse, induced by over-work, want of sleep, and the constant clamor of the patrons for tolerable service."

Similar conditions exist in Massachusetts, and are thus described by

With Aching Heads

For Tired Women

"They help me so much and I find relief as soon as I begin taking your Foley Kidney Pills." Mrs. Frank P. Wood, Morrill, Maine, R. F. D. No. 2. Sometimes it seems as if you can't stand the pain across your back. It is just making your life miserable and robbing you of all energy and strength. When you are constantly tired, head always aching, nerves "on age," kidney action painty, and hyperage.

tired, head always aching, nerves "on edge," kidney action painful and burning, then is the time to start in at once on Foley Kidney Pills.

They strengthen the weak, alling kidneys, improve their action, enable them to throw off the poisons that cause your trouble. Your nerves grow peaceful, sleep becomes sounder, nervous headaches disappear. As Mrs. Wood says: "I find relief as soon as I begin to take your Foley Kidney Pills." Be sure you get the genuine Foley Kidney Pills, for they are purely medicinal and contain no harmful drugs.
