DISCOURAGED OFFICE MAN WHO TRIES FARM SHOOTS SELF IN HEAD

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE IS KEPT QUIET SINCE LAST WEDNESDAY BY FRIENDS.

Discouraged by his lack of success as a farmer, Charles Frazier, of the Estacada district, last Wednesday attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in his head back the ear with a .2-calibre rifle. Monday he was taken to a Portland hospital where an operation was performed and the bullet removed. He is said to have a fair chance to recover.

An attempt was made to keep the story quiet, and at first a statement that he was injured when he fell from the top of his barn was circulated. The attempted suicide became known in Oregon City Monday night when news that he had been taken to Portland was received.

Frazier, who has always been employed in an office, came to the west from his former home in an eastern state when his health broke down and physicians advised work and fresh air. He came to Clackamas county, renting a farm near Estacada. He was not accustomed to farm work, and his efforts were not successful. During the last two years his wife has been compelled to take in sewing in order to add to the family income. Despondency over these reverses are declared to have been the cause of his act.

Frazier has a wife and two children.

MEADE POST PLANS TO OBSERVE GOLDEN JUBILEE OF G. A. R.

ORGANIZATION COMPLETES FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE ON SIXTH OF NEXT MONTH.

Meade Post is preparing to commemorate the golden jubilee of the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic.

On April 6, 1866, at Decatur, Ill., the first post was organized by Dr. Benjamin P. Stephenson. Its membership rapidly increased until at the zenith of its greatness it had a membership of nearly one million men.

"With the history and achievements of the Grand Army of the Republic every veteran knows," said Robert M. Woods, the first adjutant general of the order. "It has provided the United States with six presidents—Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Chester A. Arthur, Benjamin Harrison and William McKinley.

"It has furnished governors almost continuously to all the northern states, and it has furnished thousands of officers in all the states, and in every county, town and village in the land. It has guided the patriotic spirit of the people in the direction of the veteran soldier and sailor, and it has given him a prominence and prestige he would not have enjoyed had it not been for the Grand Army of the Republic. It has permeated the public sentiment of the country and has proved a school of patriotism for every youth in the country. It has cultivated a love for the flag and placed it on every public building in the land. It represents to the American people and to the world the patriotism of the country."

Meade Post was organized in 1881, and has on its muster roll the names of 391 members. They now have 98 members, 183 having died, transferred or been suspended.

George P. McKinnis, arrested by Constable Frost and Sheriff Wilson Tuesday on a charge of selling hard cider, changed his plea of not guilty to guilty Wednesday and was fined $100 by Justice of the Peace Slevens. He paid the fine and returned to his home at Clackamas Heights.

Before leaving the county seat, however, Mr. McKinnis requested Sheriff Wilson, Justice Slevens, Constable Frost and other local officials not to hold "hard feelings" against him, and asked that he be allowed to continue to consider himself their friend.

The district attorney's office is said to have held conclusive evidence in this case, indicating that McKinnis sold the intoxicating cider to minors as well as to the men of the district.

ORGANIZATION OF FARMERS' COOPERATIVE CREAMERY HERE ON LARGE SCALE IS LAUNCHED—MANUFACTURE OF CHEESE AND ICE CREAM MAY BE BRANCH OF INDUSTRY

A movement that will bring to Oregon City another creamery and will tend to develop the dairy industry in Clackamas county was launched at a lively meeting of 46 farmers of the Beaver Creek district Wednesday night when committees were appointed to form a cooperative creamery.

The meeting was called by Charles Moehcke, and among those present were Roy B. Cox and S. O. Dillman, both of Oregon City.

During the next few weeks meetings will be held at New Era, Redlands and Stafford. All dairymen in the district tributary to Oregon City are invited to join the organization.

Promoters of the concern are greatly pleased with the success of the preliminary work. Mr. Dillman said Wednesday night after his return from Beaver Creek that it was practically certain that 300 cows would be represented by the association at the opening of the creamery, and the output at first would be 600 pounds of butter daily. The product will be marketed in Oregon City and Portland.

The plant at first will be located in the building occupied by the Oregon

City ice factory. About $2000 worth of modern dairy machinery will be installed. The association will be capitalized at $2000, consisting of 400 shares at $5 each. No dairymen will be allowed to take more than five shares or less than one.

As the association grows older, it is planned to branch out in other lines than butter making alone. Ice cream may be manufactured, as well as cheese and milk and cream will be sold. Oregon City now has no ice cream factory and all of the warm weather delicacy consumed here is shipped in from Portland.

Graves took the cow at Tizard Tuesday morning and brought it to Oregon City Wednesday morning, selling it to Gus Engelbrecht, a dairyman at Greenpoint, and taking a check in payment. Engelbrecht, after the sale was completed, became suspicious, notified the police and stopped the payment on the check.

In the meantime, Graves is in the county jail being held until local officials determine whether his case comes within the jurisdiction of Clackamas or Washington county.
