OFFICERS OF TWO TOWNS PLANNING PORTLAND ROAD

WEST LINN AND OSWEGO WOULD HAVE PERMANENT HIGHWAY TO MULTNOMAH.

JOINT MEETING OF COUNCILS IS HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

Clackamas County Court Will Be Asked to Lend Financial Aid to Improve Road Between Towns on West Side.

If the joint plans of the officials of West Linn and Oswego mature, the west side road from the Willamette river suspension bridge to the Multnomah county line will be improved in a permanent manner. At a meeting of the councils of both towns held Wednesday night in West Linn, it was decided each town should improve that portion of the Pacific-highway situated within its respective limits, and ask the county court to care for the intervening and connecting strip. The character of the improvement has not been decided upon, but Aman Moore, general manager of the Oregon Portland Cement company, of Oswego, was present at the joint meeting and urged the use of cement in the construction of permanent highways. He referred to the presence of 400 idle men in the state penitentiary and declared they should be put to work on the roads. A. King Wilson, mayor of Oswego, John B. Lewthwaite, mayor of West Linn, and John P. Clark, a member of the West Linn council, discussed the matter and the two municipalities will appoint a committee to present their plan to the county court and ask for cooperation and financial aid. Officials of West Linn, however, will not wait until the plan matures, and decided Wednesday night to grade the Portland road as far as Bolton 24 feet in width, and to grade the Willamette road 22 feet wide to a point 2500 feet from the suspension bridge. The Hill road, also known as Sunset avenue, will be graded 22 feet wide for a distance of 1500 feet from the intersection of the road to Willamette and Twelfth street, in the Willamette district, will be graded and improved with crushed rock 650 feet in length from its intersection with the car track. BARCLAY DEBATERS DEFEAT 2 SCHOOLS

OREGON CITY YOUNGSTERS PUT THEMSELVES IN LINE FOR COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP.

Barclay school team won the first of the Clackamas county grammar school debates, held under the auspices of the Clackamas County School league Friday. In a spirited contest between the Barclay affirmative team composed of Weldon Puse, Ruth Wilson and Pearce Walker, and the Barlow negative team, represented by George Ziegler, Edward Doegnu and Orville Widdows, at the high school auditorium. The Barclay youngsters held their opponents to a two to one decision on the question "Resolved, That the Oregon System of Government Should Be Adopted by the Other States of the Union." The contest was creditable to those taking part, showing thoughtful, logical preparation and strong delivery—which should mean a high standard for debating in this county in the future. Principal J. R. Bowland acted as chairman and B. N. Hicks, Dorothy Latourette and Lloyd Harding were judges. Principal Goin and Miss Ada Mads, of the Barlow school, accompanied the team. A vocal solo by Albert Roake and a piano solo by Alice Holman were much enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic audience composed of teachers and students. The Barclay negative team later defeated Friday night, the affirmative team of Jennings Lodge school at the latter place. These victories give the Barclay school place in the final contest for the silver cup offered by City School Superintendent Toose. This final contest will be held April 14.

SCHOOL DEBATES TO BEGIN ON APRIL 12

TWO SUBJECTS WILL BE DISCUSSED FIRST DAY OF SERIES OF CONTESTS.

The first of a series of squad debates, the aim of which is to determine the best debaters in the high school, will be conducted in the high school auditorium April 12. No admission is charged and a general invitation has been issued to all interested in debating work to attend. The last of the series will be held during commencement week, and a cup will be offered to the winners. The best debaters will be selected at each debate and the winners determined by elimination. On the morning of April 12, Leslie Wiewiesiek and Charles Wallace, who represent the affirmative side of the question and have been coached by C. G. Miner, will meet Audrey Tur and Ruth Ketchum, representing the negative and coached by John W. Leder. The question is, "Resolved, That the United States should use armed intervention with the Mexican situation." That night in the school auditorium, the retention of the Philippines by the United States will be debated. O. W. Eastman has coached both teams. The affirmative will be represented by Earl Paddock, Eschel Armstrong and Herman Timmer and the negative by Ben Staats, Myrtle Young and Marvel Ely.

COUNTY OFFERED PAVEMENT AT 60 CENTS PER YARD

HARRY WORSWICK, FORMERLY OF STANDARD PAVING COMPANY, MAKES OFFER.

COUNTY COURT WILL CONSIDER PROPOSITION AT APRIL TERM

Purchase of Paving Plant for $800 and Hiring of Himself at $1800 a Year as Superintendent Are Parts of Worwick's Plan.

Harry Worwick, formerly connected with the Standard Paving company which laid the Main street improvement last summer, offered to superintend the laying of hard surface pavement for the county for not over 60 cents a yard, providing the county will buy a plant, lend him the use of a road roller and pay for installing the equipment at a convenient place. He asks for a salary of $1800 a year and offers to give the county the use of formulas without charging a commission or royalty. County Judge Anderson will take up the matter with Commissioners Matton and Knight at the regular April term of the county court which begin Wednesday. He believes that the offer is worthy of careful consideration. A decision will probably be reached before the end of this week. The proposition as placed before the court court by Mr. Worwick follows: "I herewith submit a proposition by which, as I estimate it, the county can lay hard surface roadway identical with the pavement of Main street of Oregon City, except of a thickness of five inches instead of six inches, at a cost of 60 cents a square yard. The initial expense will be a plant which I am in position to secure for $800. About $500 will be required for installing ready for operation. All that will be necessary in addition to this plant is a roller and the county probably has this available. The pavement to be laid will be three inches asphalt concrete and two inch asphalt wearing surface. "It will be necessary for me to have the selection of three men who come in contact with the formula and process of laying Worwick pavement. Other workmen may be selected by the county, but they will need be under my supervision and subject to discharge if unsatisfactory to me. "I will work on a salary of $1800 per year, and I will keep the county in a position to continue the work should it happen, from any cause, to be prevented from going on with it from year to year. "Should it develop that the cost of the pavement, including my salary, exceeds 60 cents per square yard the county, of course, is free to discontinue the work. And in fact it will not be necessary for the county to make any specific amount of the specified roadway. "Your attention is called to the fact that the price of asphalt always goes up later in the season and an early purchase of this material by the county will effect a very large saving; also that, if you contemplate going ahead with the improvement under consideration the grading should be started at once. The county will always lose money on this character of work by failing to take advantage of the summer months. "I shall be pleased to meet you at any time to go into any details that may have been omitted herein. My residence is 1119 Seventh street and phone number 129-J, Oregon City."

FORD TIPS OVER AND TWO MEN ARE HURT

Theodore Osmund, secretary of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, and T. P. Randall were painfully injured Sunday when a Ford automobile, owned and driven by H. F. Tschirg, turned over on the Abernethy road near Linn's Mill, when the men were going out on a fishing trip. E. Schwab, secretary of the Oregon City Woolen mills, was the fourth member of the party. They had been fishing in Milk Creek, with indifferent success, and were going to try the Abernethy, when a wheel of the car struck a large rock, twisting the steering wheel out of Tschirg's hands and throwing the car toward the bank, which it struck and turned over. Mr. Osmund's shoulder was sprained and Mr. Randall's hip was badly bruised. With two members of the party injured, they could not right the car, and as all of the gasoline had leaked out, they telephoned to Oregon City for help and were towed home. Mr. Osmund had an X-ray examination made of his shoulder Monday.

SCHOOL FUND WOULD PROFIT.

If the original plan of the Chamberlain Oregon & California grant land bill had been adopted, Clackamas county would receive $59,735 annually for school work, according to estimates based on the presumption that the money tied up in the lands was secured and put out at 6 per cent interest. In other words, Clackamas county's share of the profits derived from the sale of the lands would equal a two mill levy on all present taxable property in the county. Oregon's irremediable school fund, under the terms of the Chamberlain land grant bill, would receive $17,509,000. This sum would yield, under existing law, an annual income to the schools of the state of $1,056,000. Because of the hostility of Congressman Leontow of Wisconsin and Baker of California, the bill about to be presented to congress cuts the sum Oregon schools would receive in half. The following table shows what the success of the Chamberlain apportionment means in dollars to the common schools of each county in the state every year:

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW PAPER MILL REVIVES BUSINESS, BENEFITS OLD STORES AND BRINGS NEW CONCERNS

The construction of the $750,000 addition to the Hawley Pulp & Paper company's plant here, which is now well under way, has resulted in a general revival benefiting all lines of business. On Main street, between Sixth and the site of the new mill on Third, six store rooms which have been vacant for months have been filled up with new enterprises. The list includes a dry goods store, a carpenter and builders shop, a second hand store, a machine shop and two pool halls. These business have all come to Oregon City within the last month or month and a half and there is every indication that the next month or two will see a similar increase in the number of businesses in that section of the town. The paper company bought the old site of the Oregon City laundry, and the laundry was forced to find a new home. This building on Fifth street just off of Main is now nearing completion. It is two stories high and will be modern in equipment. Vacant houses in Oregon City are few, and plans are being prepared for the construction of a number of new homes during the summer months. Local merchants report that business is picking up, and they have hopes of still greater increases when the work of building the new mill is further along and still more men are put to work. The basement and foundations of the mill are now being dug with a steam shovel and will soon be completed and the construction of the reinforced concrete buildings themselves will soon be under way.
