OLDS LEAVES COUNTY TO STUDY PAVEMENTS

OAK GROVE CONTRACTOR WILL SOON LAY TRIAL MILE OF NEW KIND OF SURFACING.

After casting his ballot Friday in his home precinct, E. D. Olds, of Oak Grove, one of the Republican candidates for nomination as legislative representative, left for Richmond, Va. Mr. Olds has been planning this trip ever since the county court gave him permission to try out a new paving compound on a mile stretch of the river road and only delayed his departure so that he could cast his ballot in the primary election.

At Richmond, Mr. Olds will visit the plant of one of the new California paving companies, and will thoroughly familiarize himself with the process of manufacture and spreading of the material. The pavement which Mr. Olds will demonstrate in this county is a variety of surface-dressing which is said to be practically as durable as the more expensive kinds of hard surface.

The material is applied to a depth of about an inch, and soon hardens, making a lasting wearing surface. It is said to be passable for traffic immediately after its application, and to present a surface that affords excellent traction in both dry and warm and wet weather.

STOKES WILL MOVE TO GREEN BUILDING

OAK GROVE, May 25.—(Special).—This town's lone groceryman, W. H. The corner room is being repainted white and varnished throughout and will be one of the neatest and most attractive grocery stores in the county. It is understood that E. C. Warren, who owns the frame building on the opposite side of the track, has plans under contemplation for the erection of a block building upon the present site, the same to be started before many weeks roll around.

H. C. Eckenberger Victim Heart Failure

DIES AT 8:30 A. M. WEDNESDAY—DECEASED PROMINENT IN R. R. CIRCLES—DEATH UNEXPECTED.

A sudden attack of the heart caused the death of H. C. Eckenberger, long a resident of Milwaukie and one of the oldest railroad men on the coast, at 8:30 A. M. Wednesday.

Although death was very sudden and unexpected, yet Mr. Eckenberger had been troubled with a weak heart for the past year and during the past month had often complained of this ailment.

Wednesday Mr. Eckenberger arose early as usual, had breakfasted and was preparing to go to Portland to attend to his duties as freight agent of the New York Central lines, when the fatal attack came. Dr. Taylor was hurriedly summoned but death came before medical assistance arrived.

The body was removed to the Holman Undertaking Parlor in Portland. At the hour of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been made but it is likely that the funeral services will be held on Friday with interment at Riverview cemetery.

Deceased was born in Elmira, N. Y., 66 years ago. He began his railroad career at the age of 13 and by diligent application to his work rose rapidly and was promoted finally to the responsible position he held at the time of his death. He came to Portland in 1884, and has since resided at or near here. A widow and a brother and two sisters survive him, the widow residing here, one sister in Spokane, and the other brother and sister in New York.

The family home is on the Lake Road, near Milwaukie. The green houses that bear his name were owned by Mr. Eckenberger, but are leased to other parties.

MOLALLA DEPARTMENT

MOLALLA, May 25.—(Special).—School was dismissed at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon, that the teachers might have the time necessary to make out their reports. So the last hour of school was spent in various ways, by singing, in studying, etc.

Miss Ulen's room held an impromptu program which proved to be a success. They reviewed all the songs that have helped to bind them so closely together during the past months. Their books had been taken home the night before, so Miss Ulen asked for volunteers to tell one of the stories they had learned the past year. A number responded.

The report cards were distributed, then their teacher tried to make a list of those who had passed. There was no disobedience but they were simply nearly bursting with pent-up excitement. What seven-year-old or eight-year-old can keep still very long with such important questions surging to the lips as: "Did you pass? How many A's did you get?" "Now, I am afraid that I shall miss some of you if you don't keep very still," their teacher told them. The words proved magical until the list could be completed.

Promoted from first to second grade: Bernita Everhart, Hazel Trimble, Shirley Robbins, Louis Babcock, Catherine Corbin, Glen Behnke, Fred Nightengale, Elvira Holes, Lyman Worth, Marlin Engle, Eunice Park, Leota Austin, Weidon Hibbard, Dottie Bowman, Edwin Garret, Florence Cleser, Faith Wagoner, Elizabeth Park, of the above Elvira Holes deserves special mention. Her father is from Iceland and her mother from a province in Russia and this little girl could not speak English when she entered school a few months ago. She has not only learned the language and made her grade, but has announced her intention to become a teacher.

Promoted from second to third grade: Donald Park, Zena Badger, Robert Bennett, Fenton Harless, Orval Hunt, Harley Davidson, Eleanor Park, Essie Henriksen, John Palmer, Claire Wagoner, Forrest Wilson, Bernita Harless, Gladys Behnke, Lola Wilson, Ada Shoemaker, Clarence Harless, Doris Gregory.

Promoted from Fifth to Sixth grade: Earl Wells, Gale Wilson, Champ Vaughn, Kenneth Engle, Geneva Gregory, Mabel Steinger, Dorothy Vaughn, Thelma Vernon, Edith Shaver, Aneita Cole, DeEtte Shaw.

Promoted from Sixth to Seventh grade: Lois Adams, Celia Worley, Faye Toliver, Ileta Damours, Theo. Gregory, Maggie Moore, Evangeline Palmer, Glenn Baker, John Burnett, Leslie Damours, Leslie Palfrey, Austin McConnell.

Seventh to Eighth grade: Reva Everhart, Ofa Adams, Maude Echerl, Mary Kay, Winnie Long, Roy Wells, Haven Palmer, Roy Schatzman, Harold Ridings, Harold Jackson, Ralph Faust.

The pupils of the Eighth grade have not received the reports from their examination yet.

Mrs. Vaughn called the Parent-Teachers' organization. Mrs. Case was secretary pro tem. The program was from Miss Lay's room. Instrumental music, Thelma Vernon; song by girls of the fifth grade, accompanist, Miss Clifford; five pupils of Miss Lay's room took turns in telling a story, which they studied recently; instrumental music, Fay Tolliver.

Miss Lay discussed the topic, "The Practicability of Hot Lunches." She brought out the fact that it took exactly three minutes for some of her pupils to eat and be out of the room. The topic was then open to discussion by all. The fact was brought out that one pupil had broken in health, probably due to the fact that dinner consisted of candy only. It was also shown that the shortened noon hour worked a hardship on some who go home for dinner.

Mrs. Everman Robbins read a paper "Influence of Moving Picture Shows." It was found that Mr. Finley could not set a date to come to Molalla with his views of bird life. The committee was instructed to procure a speaker to be present upon the next Parent-Teacher day. Prof. J. B. Horner of the Oregon Agricultural College, was suggested. Prof. Horner has been to the Holy Land three times and is said to have twelve lectures upon his travels, also views. Dr. DeBusk was also suggested. He has been loaned to the University of Oregon, from an Eastern state in exchange for an Oregon professor.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. J. W. Thomas; vice-president, Mrs. Havemann; secretary, Mrs. Tuley; treasurer, Mrs. Case. There were about 40 members present.

Miss Ulen returned to her home in Lentz, Saturday.

Geo. Case has just had a new porch built. Mr. Hogner did the work.

A metal culvert has been put in front of the stockyards, which will be a real help to the teamsters.

About 50 persons have signed up to take beet seed. This will be enough to test all parts of the valley. The people of Grants Pass used more seed this year than was expected, so the seed for the Molalla tests had to come from Utah.

D. W. Badger was a Molalla visitor over Sunday.

H. W. Wagoner was a visitor at the Badger home Sunday.

Mrs. Clifford spent Sunday in Portland.

Mrs. Mason, who was in the hospital at Portland for so long, has returned to Molalla.

Chauncey Ramsby and his mother were in Molalla on business Monday.

Mr. Baker's daughter and grandson from California, are visiting at his home.

The primary election was very quiet. The thought that it was a good day for farming kept some at home.
