IN QUALITY AND QUANTITY, STOCK SHOW THE BEST EVER

DISPLAY OF CATTLE, SWINE AND HORSES ONE OF MAIN FEATURES OF CELEBRATION.

E. RETNOLDS, AGRICULTURE COLLEGE EXPERT, MAKES TALK

Best of Blooded Animals from All Parts of County Held in Morning—Full List of Awards of Show is Published.

The livestock show held in Oregon City on booster day was one of the most successful ever held in this city. It was the largest and finest stock show ever here with registered stock compared favorably with any of Oregon's finest livestock. This year's show was held in two large tents, one of which was used for showing of swine, and the other for the horses and cattle. E. Reynolds, of the Oregon Agricultural college, acted as judge of the show and also gave an instructive talk on the raising of pure-bred stock.

The stock show was preceded by a parade. All horses, and cattle, and many of the farmers and stockmen were here with registered stock compared favorably with any of Oregon's finest livestock. ## CLACKAMAS COUNTY FLOAT BEING BUILT

THIS PART OF STATE WILL NOT BE SLIGHTED IN PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL PLANS.

Clackamas county and Oregon City will receive better representation in the Portland Rose festival this year than at any time in the past. In addition to the showing which the Fallsarians will make—and this in itself will be a big advertisement for this city—Clackamas county will have its own float. In this float, which is now being built by the Rose Festival association, Princess Rosa will ride.

Two members of the Bachelor Revue committee, Dr. Frank Mount and J. D. Olson, inspected the float last night. It is being designed and constructed under the supervision of Peter Traglio, a former resident of Oregon City. Mr. Traglio is much interested in Oregon City and Clackamas county and is making an effort to build as fine a float as is possible to represent his former home. The two committee members are confident that he will be successful.

The float will carry fruits and vegetables in a large vase and also grains and grasses to show that the county is the garden spot of the state. On the sides of the float will be a painting of the falls. A seat with a canopy over it will carry Princess Rosa. The floats will be complete within a week and promises to be a gorgeous affair.

The county will also be represented in other ways. Two large columns will be erected on the corner of Boardway and Washington streets. On the columns will be paintings and one panel, already finished, is of the falls and another is a timber scene in the eastern part of the county. Other panels show the Columbia River highway, Crater lake and other beauty spots of Oregon.

The lighting of the streets in the charge of Mr. Traglio. A large crew of men is busy at the Washington street basin of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company working out the various schemes planned by Mr. Traglio.

SHOEMAKER IS INSANE

J. D. Tresham, a shoemaker who has lived in Oregon City for many years, was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff Wilson on a charge of insanity and committed to the state hospital.

PROGRAM FOR FORUM HOURS OF ASSEMBLY IS NOW COMPLETED

Preparedness advocates and those who preach the extreme pacifist idea may each have their "day" at the Willamette Valley chautauqua this year. The program of forum hours was made public Monday by Secretary Cross, with the announcement that the two dates, July 10 and July 14, are being kept open pending negotiations with well known preparedness and anti-preparedness advocates. The schedule as made public for the daily 11 o'clock "forum hours" follows: July 11, "Press Day," E. E. Brodie, state president Editorial association, chairman; July 12, "Educational Day," County School Superintendent Calavan, chairman; July 13, "Crimes and Criminals," Hon. Henry McGinn; July 14, "Woman's Christian Temperance Union Day," address by District Attorney Walter Evans; July 17, "Dramatic Day," July 18, "Oregon Congress of Mother's Day"; July 19, "Farmer's Day," Governor Withycombe and President Kerr, speakers.

Early interest is manifest in the 1916 chautauqua which will convene at Gladstone Park July 7, for its 23rd annual session. One of the "hits" of the big booster day parade Saturday was the appearance of 56 trained youthful marchers, each carrying a large chautauqua pennant. The lads were from the Gladstone school, and may possibly participate in the Portland Rose festival parade June 9. The youngsters ranged from 8 to 12 years of age and their appearance elicited much favorable comment.

COUNTERFEITER KILLS OFFICER

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 26.—An unidentified counterfeiter who shot and killed Police Sergeant John Moriarty when the latter attempted to arrest him early today, was shot and killed by the police shortly after 10 o'clock, after he had barricaded himself in a cabin on the "mudflats" here and had battled with the authorities for more than an hour.

Peter Mark, a civilian, watching the encounter, received a bullet in the arm. Efforts are being made to identify the outlaw, who appears to be about 24 years old. On his coat the name "M. E. Jones" is sewed.

HEAD OF ORCHARD COMPANY DENIES CHARGE OF FRAUD

BLAME FOR WRECKING OF ASSOCIATION LAID ON OTHERS IN ORGANIZATION.

PROFESSIONAL OREGON BOOSTERS CALLED "VAMPIRES OF SOCIETY"

Armed With Experience and Courage, Mr. Hazell Declares He Yet Will Win—Directors Accused of "Double Crossing" Him.

(By Jesse Hazell.) The Northwestern association of New Jersey was incorporated in 1909 with the intent, desire and plan of the incorporators being co-operation and mutual aid. So far as two of my associates and myself were concerned this plan was strictly adhered to. The association held options on about 1000 acres of land in Oregon. It owned real estate near New York city which has a present market value of about $25,000. This property and about $3000 in cash was my contribution to the New Jersey association.

No purchaser joined without first being told of the true conditions, purposes and aims of the association. At least that was always my instructions to every one connected therewith. The co-operation plan was explained in every particular and the purchaser urged to help advertise us to his friends. He was advised that the success of the association depended altogether upon the continuity of its purchasers of "members" as they were called.

A contract called "land certificate" was issued to members. Such certificate was understandable, it stated in the plainest and most explicit manner the terms and conditions upon which a "member" joined and also as to when entitled to selection, the occupancy of land and general development of same.

Friends Double Cross, Says Hazell. For the purpose of carrying out the plans of the New Jersey association I came to Portland in 1910 with my friend. Upon leaving New York I received every assurance from certain members of the directorate as to all necessary financial aid. Imagine my surprise and disgust shortly after my arrival here at receiving letters from my best and dearest friends on the directorate notifying me of the double crossing that was going on by those who had been so profuse in their promises of financial aid.

Previous to this I had investigated the corporation laws of Oregon and discovered that considerable annual expense would be saved by incorporating under them and also that its headquarters should be near the scene of its operations. I put the question up to my friends and they agreed it was best to incorporate under the laws of Oregon. I therefor with two others incorporated the Northwestern association of Oregon in the latter part of 1910. After such incorporation, we exchanged the certificates of the Oregon association for those of the New Jersey and liquidated the affairs of the older association. Most of the transfers being accomplished in the early part of 1911.

With financial aid cut off from New York, I looked around to see what could be done in Portland. It seemed that I jumped from the "trying pan in to the fire" for if ever a man was pestered with individuals long on promises and short on results, I surely was that man. Even this would not have been so had honesty prevailed.

Directors Are Accused. In January, 1912, the directorate consisted of five members, myself being one of them, three openly determined to wreck and steal, the fourth a dissimularator of the worst and most despicable kind lulled me to sleep on promises. He got himself elected president and used the association funds in his own business. The spoils quarrelled, two resigned.

I patched up or thought I did all differences and late in May or early June of 1912, I left for Chicago on a sales campaign. Imagine my chagrin upon receipt of first letters from Oregon to find the dissimularator at his old tricks. I then decided his career as president should cease. I returned to Oregon in time for the annual stockholders meeting. I notified him of my intention and calmly listened to his threats of dire disaster that would surely follow my action.

Accounting Is Delayed. In July, 1912, I became president and thereupon demanded an accounting. My jockeying, prevaricating and procrastinating this was delayed until September but report was made up as of the previous June. The report contained false and malicious statements placed therein in order to scare me off and prevent prosecution for his own nefarious transactions. In August, 1912, we decided to move the office to Oregon City, this meant a considerable reduction in overhead expense and cutting off the valuable emoluments enjoyed by the dissimularator. The threatened "dire disasters" then commenced and continued at intervals up to the last. I can trace certainly

MISS IVA HARRINGTON LEADS ENTIRE TICKET

COUNTY CLERK GETS MORE VOTES THAN ANY OTHER CANDIDATE—OFFICIAL COUNT.

Miss Iva M. Harrington just at present has two claims for distinction. She is not only the only woman office holder in Clackamas county, but she leads all candidates in the recent Republican primaries, according to the official count which was completed Thursday. Miss Harrington received 4275 votes, which is more than any other candidate on either the Republican or Democratic ticket. Miss Harrington has the Progressive and Democratic nominations as well as the Republican.

Two justices of peace assisted by deputies from the clerk's office have since Monday. The Democratic ticket will probably be completed before the end of the week. The official Republican totals follow: Delegates to Republican national convention—State at large—Charles W. Ackerson, 1195; Daniel Boyd, 2232; Mrs. G. L. Buland, 1141; George J. Cameron, 2294; Charles H. Carey, 1815; F. H. Case, 745; C. W. Fulton, 1848; Russell Hawkins, 1411; Samuel D. Peterson, 817; Arthur C. Spencer, 1275; Frank M. Warren, 525; J. H. Worsley, 1029.

PORTLAND TRIES TO KIDNAP THE QUEEN OF CELEBRATION

FULL COUNTY TICKET NAMED BY SOCIALISTS

CONVENTION IS HELD HERE AND PLATFORM ADOPTED—ONE OFFICE IS OVERLOOKED.

The Socialist party of Clackamas county met in convention in Knapp's hall Saturday and W. W. Myers was made permanent chairman of the convention and Claude Howard secretary. The committee on resolution consisting of Robert Ginter, P. W. Meredith and W. N. Horton formulated the following platform, which was adopted unanimously: "Whereas the Socialist party represents the wealth producing class of the world, and is the only international political party, and whereas the wealth of the world is concentrated in the hands of a few non-workers who control the political and military powers of all government; and whereas in order that the human race may progress in freedom, peace, and prosperity, political and industrial power must be cooperatively administered by those who produce and distribute the necessities of humanity:

"Therefore be it resolved that we favor government based on the industrial power of the people instead of political power based on interest, rent and profit.

"And be it further resolved that we favor the co-operative commonwealth, universal peace, and all conditions favorable to the growth of the human intellect.

"Therefore, we the Socialist party of Clackamas county in convention assembled reaffirm our adherence to the principles of International Socialism, and also to the national platform as adopted in 1912.

"We further favor the natural resources of Oregon such as timber, water, waterpower, fish, land, and all other necessities being utilized for the benefit of humanity, honestly and economically administered."

The following ticket was named: Representative in the legislature, John F. Stark, of Maple Lane, M. V. Thomas, of Bull Run and P. W. Meredith, of Mount Pleasant; sheriff, J. A. Randolph, of Viola; commissioner, F. H. King, of Logan; school superintendent, Ola M. Ogle, of Canby; clerk, G. F. Knowles, of New Era; treasurer, W. N. Horton, of Maple Lane; recorder, Emma Rayner, of Clackamas; surveyor, J. W. Braker, of Pleasant Hill; coroner, James S. Imel, of Abernathy.

By oversight the office of assessor was left vacant which, however, will be filled by the executive committee later.

W. W. Myers, P. W. Meredith and Robert Ginter were elected the executive committee.

ANOTHER BOY, VICTIM OF DIVORCE, WILL GO TO TRAINING SCHOOL

WILLIAM HELMS, 14, SENTENCED—LESTER TOWNSEND IS NOW AT SALEM.

William Helms, aged 14 years, is not a bad boy. He is a good boy, but has had a bad start. His father and his mother were divorced several years ago, and he found life under a stepfather in the woods near Bull Run too tame so he ran away and would not go to school. He was brought to Oregon City a month ago by Juvenile Officer Frost and taken before County Judge Anderson, who dropped the charge against the lad when a promise was secured from the boy to be better in the future. But the mother, now Mrs. M. E. Cook, gave up hope and Monday brought him to Oregon City again and William was committed to the state training school. He will be taken to Salem today.

Possessing a live boyish interest in everything around him, and having the appearance of honesty, the youth soon won the hearts of those whom he met at the court house. He frankly tells of his pranks, which consist entirely of running away from home and staying away from school. Rather than put him in jail, Juvenile Officer Frost took the lad to his home Monday night.

Lester Townsend, who confessed to breaking into the cabin of A. Rabel in the mountains back of Colton, was taken to the training school Sunday by Juvenile Officer Frost.

WIFE CHARGES DESERTION. Made Case charged desertion against Richard case in a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. They were married March 1, 1907, at Rathdam, Idaho, and the alleged desertion took place June 17, 1914.

Circuit Judge Campbell Wednesday signed decrees separating Helen Francis Hisebe from Morton Arnold Hisebe, P. H. Johnson from Gertrude Johnson and Hattie Reber from J. R. Reber.

DEMON PESSIMISM CAUGHT IN RIVER AND LATER DESTROYED

Booster Day Attendance Largest in History of Celebration—Dance at Festival Center Draws Crowd—Rosarian Band Popular.

The Demon Pessimism was destroyed both in spirit and in flesh Saturday at what is undoubtedly the best attended and best arranged Booster Day and Stock show celebration in the history of the city.

The Demon was pulled from the river Saturday afternoon when fishermen went out to catch a salmon for Queen Rose. As an example to all knockers he was paraded through the streets in a cage and at sundown destroyed.

But the demonstration was unnecessary. If there were human followers of the demon in Oregon City they were hid in the cellars. King Joy, assisted by King Earl and Queen Rose, held undisputed sway over Oregon City and the thousands who came here from Portland and all parts of the county.

Kidnaping Is Attempted. The one unexpected break in the program was when the Portland Rosarians, who were here with their band, attempted to kidnap Queen Rose and take her to Portland. They had her royal majesty in an automobile and were doing their best to slip away when caught by Sheriff Wilson, Deputy Frost and Special Agent Maber of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. A party of Fallsarians backed up the officers.

"Surrender our queen," demanded the sheriff. J. E. Werlein, the Rosarian at the bottom of the plot, was loth to follow the command, but finally a compromise was reached by which the Rosarians surrendered Queen Rose and the Oregon City Fallsarians promised to send a delegation of 10,000 from Clackamas county to the Portland Rose festival in June.

Portland Aid Means Much. Portland turned out in truly loyal style to the celebration and it is largely through their co-operation that the celebration can be classed as the best in the town's history. In the opinion of members of the publicity committee of the Commercial club, the Rosarians, the Portland Ad club and other Portland organizations were represented in the parade and the Motorboat club assisted with the events on the river. The Portland party came here on the steamer Grahama.

The morning was devoted to an address by Governor Withycombe, the stock parade, stock judging and drills and a Maypole dance by the children of the schools, and early in the afternoon a salmon, along with Demon Pessimism, was caught. The grand parade, headed by Marshal J. T. Apperson, began its march through the crowd that filled Main street soon after 2 o'clock. The awards for entrants in the parade follow:

Grange floats—Damascus, Ore., first. Lodge floats—Woodmen, first; Live Wires, second.

Commercial—Oregon Vulcanizing company, first.

Out of town floats—Gladstone, first; Beaver Creek, second.

Lodges, largest number in line—Woodmen, first; Artisans, second.

Decorated automobiles (Oregon City)—Mrs. E. E. Brodie, first; Mrs. H. L. Martin, second.

Decorated automobiles (out of town)—H. E. Cross, Gladstone, first; Willamette town float, second.

Rosarians Give Concert. The Rosarian band, which had one of the most prominent places in the parade, gave a concert on the court house lawn immediately following the parade. At the same time Mollalla grammar school defeated Willamette, 6 to 5, in the county championship game at Canemah park.

Mayor E. C. Hackett, of Oregon City, was unable to race Mayor Albee, of Portland, for the simple reason that Mayor Albee was not in Oregon City. Fishermen's races on the river drew hundreds during the late afternoon.

Fountain Hose Team Wins. Volunteer firemen Harry Sieler and Louis Nobel, of the Fountain Hose company, defeated a team of three millmen from the Crown Willamette mills in a water fight. At one time a hose went wild and a large part of the crowd was thoroughly drenched.

Festival center, Seventh street between Main and the municipal elevator, was turned into an open air dancing pavilion and the dancing continued until late. This is a new feature of the celebration and was a decided success.

The Rose Show, which in former years has been an important feature of the celebration, was not held this year because of lack of blooms. It will probably be held within the next few weeks.
