BIRD LOVERS MEET AT MAPLE LANE

WOODPECKER STUDIED BY LIB- ERTY BELL BIRD CLUB AND AUDUBON SOCIETY.

The Liberty Bell club of Maple Lane met with the Maple Lane Audubon society at the Maple Lane school- house there Friday afternoon. It was planned to have the Liberty Bell Ju- venile Bird Club of this city attend, but owing to the inclemency of the weather, it was necessary to postpone the trip.

At the meeting Friday the subject for discussion was "The Woodpecker Family." Miss Junia Schmidt gave an interesting talk on "The Downey Woodpecker;" Miss Ollie Amen, on "Harris Woodpecker;" F. Mighella, "The Different Species of Woodpeck- ers," and C. W. Swallow also talked on this specie of bird.

It was decided to discontinue the meetings of the bird clubs of Maple Lane during the summer months, and resume the work in the early fall.

The following is the pledge of the Liberty Bell club of Maple Lane: "I desire to become a good member of the Liberty Bell Bird club, and promise to study and protect all song and inarticulate birds."

Miss Elsie Telford, 22, Dies Suddenly

Miss Elsie Telford, eldest daugh- ter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Telford, and one of the most popular young women of Oregon City died at the fam- ily home near Canemah Friday after- noon at 12:30 o'clock. Her death was sudden and due to heart failure.

Miss Telford had complained of a severe pain in her head Thursday evening and Friday morning her con- dition remained the same. A physi- cian was called and Mrs. Telford ac- companied him to his office in order to get a prescription. Upon her re- turn to the family home Miss Telford was found to be unconscious and death followed a few minutes later. Her two sisters, Maxine and Gracie, were with her during their mother's absence.

Miss Telford was born in Canemah, September 10, 1893, and has resided in this city all her life. She attended the Canemah school after finishing there, she was a student at McLough- lin institute, later graduating from Oregon City high school. The follow- ing year she was a student at the University of Washington and last year attended Reed college in Port- land.

During her vacation she took a course in stenography and for over a year worked in this city, first in the law office of Dimick & Dimick and then with the Willamette Valley Southern.

Miss Telford was an accomplished musician, and had appeared in public in this city on many occasions in vi- olin and piano numbers.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Telford, two sisters, Maxine and Gracie, five brothers, Max- well Telford and William Telford of Oregon City, Wallace Telford of Bor- ington, Malcolm Telford, who is con- nected with the office of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company in Portland, and John Telford, pitcher with the Tacoma, Wash., baseball team of Tacoma.

ONE of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spence at Beaver Creek, when their daughter, Miss Ethel Spence became the wife of W. J. Wilson, of Oregon City. The im- pressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Landsborough, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of relatives and friends of the contracting parties at an improvised altar formed of orange blossoms and lilies over which was an archway of orange blossoms and ferns. The bride wore a handsome gown of Georgette crepe with pearl trimmings. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white carnations. The bridegroom and his bride were unat- tended.

Following the marriage ceremony a wedding dinner was served. Mrs. Spence, mother of the bride, was as- sisted in serving by Miss Ellen Grace, Miss June Scott, Mrs. Thomas Davies, and Miss Florence Grace served punch. The house decorations were beautiful. The parlor where the ceremony was performed, was in white and green, the living room in red and green, and the dining room in pink.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left for their honeymoon, which will be spent at Seaside, and upon their return to this city will occupy the Kelly cottage on Eighth and Washington streets. The bride's going away gown was of purple silk with hat to match.

Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of the Oregon City high school of 1913 class, and for the last year has been engaged in teaching school at Beaver Creek. Her father is C. E. Spence, state mas- ter of the grange.

Mr. Wilson is the son of Mrs. G. W. Grace, of this city, and has resided in Oregon City most of his life. He is local manager of the Mitchell, Lewis & Staver company.

Among those attending the wedding from this city were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roberts, Miss Florence Grace, Miss Ellen Grace, Miss Maizie Scott, Miss June Scott, Ray Scott.

WEST LINN APPROVES SALE OF BONDS BY O. C.

The West Linn council Wednesday night approved the action of the Oregon City water board in selling $40,000 worth of West Linn bonds held by Oregon City to finance the construction of a new reservoir on this side of the river.

The quarterly report of City Treasurer Clancy showed that West Linn has a balance of $2,084.32 in the general fund and $5,443.32 in the road fund.

Among the bills approved was $655 to W. H. Counsel for work on Port- land avenue and $629 to E. Parker for improvements on Sunset avenue.

CANBY TO PAY $5000 FOR LEE WATER PLANT

OWNER OF DISTRIBUTING PLANT IS EXPECTED TO ACCEPT HALF SUM FIRST ASKED.

Possible friction between the city and the owner of a water distributing system, such as was experienced by Milwaukie when that town began the installation of a municipal plant, was headed off by Canby Monday night when the city council voted to ap- propriate $5,000 to buy the M. J. Lee system.

Mr. Lee, the owner, at first de- manded $10,000 for the plant, but now it is understood that he will accept $5,000.

Canby recently voted $18,000 in bonds to install a municipal system. One of the first steps was to attempt to acquire the privately owned plant, and for a time suits seemed likely.

O. C. SCHOOLMATES MARRIED AT SEATTLE

Miss Maude Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moran, of this city, and Millard Gillett, formerly of Oregon City, but now of Seattle, Wash., were married at Seattle Wednesday night. Mrs. Gillett left this city Wed- nesday morning, the marriage taking place upon her arrival at Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillett are well known in this city, where they were born and reared. Mr. Gillett recently went to Seattle to accept a position as first aid with the Ford company. They at- tended the Oregon City schools.
