Stacy to collect $1500, alleged to be due on a note, interest and costs. The complain recites that W. D. L. Epperson endorsed a note for $1500 October 18, 1913, at Callao, Mo., for Stacy, with the understanding that under no circumstances would Epperson be held for the face of the note. The note became due, the plaintiffs declare, and the Bank of Callao, holders of the note, forced Epperson to pay it.

MRS. PATIENCE NAPIER DIES IN THIS CITY

Mrs. Patience Napier, of Arkansas, died suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Beck, in this city, 7 o'clock Sunday morning. At the time she arrived here she was in poor health, but during the last few weeks her condition had apparently improved. Early Sunday morning was taken suddenly ill with heart trouble, and died in a few minutes.

Mrs. Napier was born in Kentucky, and at the time of death was 71 years of age. Eight children survive, six residing in the state of Arkansas. The funeral services were conducted 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Holman undertaking parlors, with Rev. W. T. Milliken, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. The increase of population from 1900 to 1910 shows Portland 116,758. All other cities and towns 96,372. Rural sections 46,969. Thus is shown that the rash of people is anywhere except back to the farm—18 per cent to the country, 45 per cent to Portland and 37 per cent to other urban communities.—Malheur Enterprise.

RESERVOIR WORK AWAITS CUTTING OF CROP OF HAY.

The construction of Oregon City's $20,000 5,000,000 gallon reservoir has been temporarily delayed until a crop of hay has been removed. Stakes have been set, and it is probable that work will begin Monday.

The water board bought four acres of ground in the Mountain View district for a reservoir site. The contract was let a week ago Saturday, but before work began a resident of Mountain View asked for a price on the hay. The water board bought the hay, and received offers from $7 to $15, the highest bidder getting the crop, which was to have been cut at once.

DECEIT IS ALLEGED IN COMPLAINT FILED BY JOANNA DYE AGAINST JOHN BACHMANN.

With interest, the total amount said to be due is $27.24. Mr. Latourrette asks for $100 attorney's fees. E. C. Latourrette appears as attorney.

HOBOS ARE FEW AND FAR BETWEEN NOW

There has not been a hobo in the city jail for a week, thereby establishing a record for several years. Searches through the Southern Pacific yards, under the siding of the Hawley mills where warm steam pipes make the spot ideal for the "bo" and through the other favored meeting places for these weary travelers have failed to deliver into the hands of the police one hobo for seven nights.

Strangely in contrast is this unique record with the nightly reports of the police of two or three years ago when from 20 to 30 men were lodged in the city jail. There have been nights when the jail was so well filled there was not enough room for all to stretch out on the floor.

"What do you think is the cause of this decrease in the hobo trade?" Night Patrolman Henry Cooke was asked.

"Too much work in Oregon City," replied the veteran of the force. "Any man who really needs work in Oregon City can find a job, and the hoboes know it."

DECREE SIGNED IN FIRST GRAHAM SUIT

A decree authorizing the defendants to recover costs of an appeal to the supreme court in the first suit in the Graham estate was signed in the circuit court Wednesday. The costs amount to $123. The decree was signed Wednesday, although the mandate was returned from the higher court March 20, 1915.

Kate B. Chance, Sarah M. Graham and Rose B. Graham sued Robert B. Graham, John W. Graham, William W. Graham, Lillie A. Young, Jane M. Galbreath, Mr. and Marion C. Young for a re-division of the valuable Graham estate in the Wilsonville district. The plaintiffs lost in the circuit court, and the decision of the lower court was affirmed. The protesting heirs filed a second suit this month, demanding their share of the estate. The fact that the final decree in the first suit had not been signed was not discovered until papers in the second suit were filed.

2 ELECTRIC MOTORS SAVE BARGE HUNG ON EDGE OF THE FALLS

P. R. L. & P. LOGOMOTIVES ARE CALLED TO PULL SCOW BACK TO SAFETY.

A lumber-laden barge of Grace & Raamussen, one of the contractors in the expansion of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, hung partly suspended over the dam Thursday night until two powerful electric locomotives of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company pulled it back to safety.

The lumber was being carried from the shore to the island near the middle of the river where construction work is underway when the barge became caught in the current. One side of the barge swung out on the dam until it was caught and held fast. Efforts to pull the barge loose with launches were not successful, and an emergency call was sent for two of the power company's locomotives.

A cable was stretched from the barge across the basin to the line of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company and attached to the locomotives. A few powerful pulls and the barge was back in the water, undamaged.

Tuesday was a busy day in the Clackamas county divorce mill, otherwise known as the circuit court.

Four decrees, one suit and the hearing of evidence in another contested case. That's the summary of the day's work. Pretty good for a county of the size of Clackamas, eh?

Mrs. Georgia Westley filed a suit against William Westley, charging that he hit her, that he called her names and that he has a temper. She asks for $20 a month for the support of her two children. Brownell & Sievers appeared as Mrs. Westley's attorneys.

Evidence in the divorce suit of Gertrude Phelps against F. J. Phelps was heard Tuesday, but the case was continued until more witnesses could be secured by the defendant. George C. Brownell, attorney for Mr. Phelps, said early in the case that fight centered over the custody of the children. Hammond & Hammond appear for the plaintiff.

Divorce decrees signed Tuesday by Circuit Judge Campbell are: Angelica Daley from W. H. Daley, Josephine M. Robison from Bert Robison, Robert W. Andrews from Jessie B. Andrews, Lottie J. Crawford from Philo L. Crawford. Mrs. Crawford was given the custody of their two minor children.

Road Turns; Auto Doesn't; Damage Is About $300

Councilman John F. Albright's handsome new super-six Hudson automobile was stripped of much of its beauty and all of its usefulness about midnight Wednesday when it plowed through a fence around the St. Agnes baby home at Parkside and stopped after a collision with a tree. Albright was coming to Oregon City and failed to make the turn on the new county hard surface road at the baby home. The machine stopped near the front porch of the home of Father Francis. The noise of the accident awakened the priest, who came to Oregon City Thursday morning and learned the number of the car.

TRIAL OF J. A. HOOPER FOR MURDER IS NEAR

ALLEGED CANEMAH CAR ROBBER IS HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE AT JOPLIN, MO.

The trial of John Austin Hooper, styled "the gentleman robber," is drawing near in Joplin, Mo. Hooper, under the alias of Wilbur Mason, is facing trial in Joplin for the killing of a special officer while resisting arrest.

A week ago the Portland detective bureau received word from the Joplin police that a prisoner was held in that city on a murder charge and that the man was suspected of being Hooper, notorious on the Pacific Coast for his exploits as a highwayman.

The activities of John Austin Hooper in Oregon began shortly after his release from Folsom prison, California, from which he was paroled September 1, 1914. He had been sentenced to serve a life term for highway robbery committed in Marian county and had completed more than 10 years of imprisonment. Prior to that Hooper had served a term in San Quentin prison for highway robbery.

Hooper was charged with many crimes, notable among which was the robbery of the bank at Rogue River, when the robber got $1800 in cash. He was also believed to have been the robber who held up a Portland Railway, Light & Power company's car at Canemah park and the perpetrator of a similar robbery at Glen Echo, as well as many other robberies.

"I have used Chamberlain's Tablets and must say they are the best I have ever used for constipation and indigestion. My wife also used them for indigestion and they did her good," writes Eugene S. Knight, Wilmington, N. C. Chamberlain's Tablets are mild and gentle in their action. Give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with the agreeable laxative effect which they produce. Obtainable everywhere. (Adv.)
