MRS. A. KING WILSON ENTERTAINS AT DINNER

PARTY IN HONOR OF VISITING EASTERN FRIENDS.

OSWEGO, Ore., Aug. 3.—(Special)—Mrs. A. K. Wilson gave a dinner party Saturday evening in honor of Mrs. Pierce, of Philadelphia, who is spending a few days in Oswego. Dr. Clark and family were present. The Wilsons are planning a trip up the Columbia highway this week.

A Season of Torture for Some.

Hay fever causes untold misery to thousands. Asthma, too, counts its sufferers by the hundreds. No remedy has proven more beneficial for hay fever and asthma, as well as coughs and colds, than Foley's Honey and Tar. It soothes that raw, rasping feeling in the throat, brings comfort by making breathing easier, heals inflammation, and by allaying these disturbances permits refreshing, natural slumber. Contains no opiates. Jones Drug Co. (Adv.)

LOCAL PEOPLE ATTEND I. O. O. F. MEETING

SPECIAL SESSION HELD TO CONFER DEGREES.

OSWEGO, Ore., Aug. 3.—(Special)—D. B. Fox, A. J. Monk, W. M. Boyd, Dr. Rossiter, C. H. Nixon and Arthur McVey, attended the special session of the I. O. O. F. grand lodge held in Portland last Saturday evening and report a very pleasant time.

B. A. Vose, H. F. Nixon and Donald James of Oswego lodge No. 93, also attended and received the grand lodge and past grand degrees.

This is the first time in the history of the order of this state that a special session of the grand lodge, has been held for the purpose of conferring these degrees, and all the brothers present praised their worthy grand master, Henry Westbrook, for his work and endeavors in holding these special sessions for the benefit of those past grands who have been unable to attend the grand lodge and receive these degrees.

There was a class of 69 past grands from Portland and vicinity who received these degrees and all seemed to be pleased and though that evening well spent.

It is planned by Grand Master Westbrook to hold special sessions at different points throughout the state and also hold another in Portland at the beginning of the new year, as there can be no other business transacted but what the session was called for. After the degrees were conferred the special session closed with a few chosen remarks for the good of the order by Grand Secretary Sharon Past Grand Masters Andrews, Carter and Wheeler, Grand Master Westbrook and S. Walker, of Oregon City who holds one of the highest offices in the grand encampment.

AUTOMOBILE AT BAKER UPSETS

BAKER, Ore., July 27.—An attempt to light a cigar while at the wheel of an automobile was costly for H. M. Rutherford, of Ironsides.

Rutherford was on his way from Ironsides to Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Rutherford and J. E. Lawrence, also of Ironsides. While running on a mountain road he attempted to light his cigar, the steering wheel got away from his control, the car dashed down the grade and upset, throwing the three occupants out. None was hurt.

St. Johns—About 400 men put to work at the plants of the Peninsula Lumber company and the new shipyard connected therewith.

Cure for Cholera Morbus.

"When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Sidney Simmons Fair Haven, N. Y. "Since then other members of my family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit." Obtainable everywhere. (Adv.) (Adv.)

PICNICERS TRESPASS ON CLACKAMAS FARMS

ONE FARMER PUTS UP SIGN, "BEWARE OF BULL" TO KEEP OFF EXCURSIONISTS.

Many of the farmers of Clackamas county are complaining about picnickers or automobile parties trespassing on their property, and not only trespassing but helping themselves to fruit or anything in sight that they desire.

One of these cases occurred a few Sundays ago when an automobile party arrived at a certain farm house. The farmer and owner of the farm with his family had taken a "day off," and gone to the home of one of the neighbors for the afternoon. During his absence an automobile party arrived from Portland, and decided to camp at that locality for the afternoon. Opening the gate they drove in their machine and immediately took possession of the farmer's home, by helping themselves to eggs in the chicken house, berries in the garden and cherries from the trees. Every berry from the wild blackberry vines were taken by the intruders.

Now this farmer is a good natured man, as good a natured as you can find in Clackamas county, but he does "draw the line" to having people come to his place while he is gone and try to "farm" in their own fashion by helping themselves to his fruit and making themselves at home generally, so now he is going to purchase a big bull dog, one that has teeth that will frighten anyone away, and not chain him either, and then he is going to purchase a bull, not one of those animals that will allow you to stroke him, but one that has a piercing eye and with a bellow that can be heard for a mile away and put him in the field to keep the hunters from getting his Chinese pheasants, and then, as a last resort, he will purchase locks for the gate and signs for the post, "No Trespassing."

One of the farmers has recently installed in his field a sign, "Beware of the bull," and this has "worked like a charm," and has been the means of keeping many of the hunters from trespassing on his place or nirnoda fishing in the streams on his farm where he himself may enjoy catching a mess of trout for his own use.

O. C. Man Is 471 St In Land Drawing

Edward Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Richardson, of this city, was among those drawing a lucky number in the recent Colville Indian reservation land drawing at Spokane, his number being 471.

Mr. Richardson left this city several months ago for Spokane, Wash., for the purpose of securing a position, and taking a chance at the land drawing entered in the race for one of the claims. He was formerly employed by the Hawley Pulp & Paper company in this city. It is probable that his parents of this city will later go to the claim to be with their son.

C. P. Henkle, also of this city, is another one of the winners at the land drawing.

FORD PRICES CUT AS OTHER MAKES GO UP

AUTOMOBILE WORLD STARTLED BY ANNOUNCEMENT MADE WHEN MATERIALS RISE.

Startling the automobile world, the Ford Motor Car company has announced a reduction in price, on all of their cars of approximately $80. The roadster at $245 and the touring car at $360 f. o. b. Detroit, places the price of the car so low, that almost everyone will be able to satisfy their desire for a motor car. This new price arrangement combined with the world-wide known reputation of the car for sturdiness, together with the low cost of upkeep, will undoubtedly swamp the various dealers with orders. The Pacific Highway garage, local Ford representatives are endeavoring to make arrangements to handle a wonderfully increased amount of business which is bound to be resultant from this radical price change.

The car is built exactly the same as at the highest price and the saving made possible for the public is because of the enormous production of the Ford factory.

SEEK SUCCESS IN OTHER THAN HOME TOWN

"Go out of your home town to make your start in life," J. H. Ackerman, president of the state normal school, told a hundred teachers gathered at the annual Clackamas county teachers' training school Tuesday. "People in your home town know you too well. They are too intimate with you. If your name is Henry, they'll always call you 'Hank,' no matter how hard you try to educate them that your name is Henry."

President Ackerman selected for his topic, "Four Things," matters which should be emphasized. These "Four Things" are:

Every person should be trained to earn an honest living.

Every boy and girl must be taught the value of a dollar.

Teachers must save a part of their salary, no matter how small it is.

Every young person should make his start in life in some other than his home town.

He advised the teachers to study the speeches of acceptance of both Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes. "Study these messages and then decide for yourself," he said.

He told the teachers to inspire ambition in their boys and girls.

Over 100 teachers are now registered at the training school and the number is expected to increase materially this week. J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak today.

Mrs. M. L. Folkerson, of Salem, Tuesday organized a class of 10 girls who never have received instruction in reading, as a demonstration class for the teachers. Through her advanced methods she expects to have the children reading within the next few days. The school is being held in the Barclay school building.

Canoe Upsets; Four Thrown In Water

A canoeing party of four narrowly averted death by drowning on the Willamette at Milwaukie last Sunday when their craft was overturned by waves caused by two passing launches.

When the canoe capsized, throwing M. D. Dobb, L. S. Quinn and two lady companions into the water they called lustily to the passing launches, one of which returned to the scene and assisted in the rescue of the young people after they had been in the water almost ten minutes.

The accident happened near the Rock Island shore Sunday afternoon and was witnessed by several from the island and from the Milwaukie shore. The lads lost their clothing, jewelry and some $20 in cash. They were dressed in their bathing suits and were forced to call upon folks here for clothing to make the trip to town by car.
