KELSO.

KELSO, Aug. 17 .- (Special)-You who have not taken the trip up the Columbia river highway to Bonneville have something yet to see. It is indeed a road of wonders and the work of man in building this grand highway is only surpassed by the tavish hand of mother nature, who has here so generously bestowed her suberb handiwork. This paved road is indeed a delight to tourists, winding on forest, guarded by precipitous cliffs Crown Point the road winds on down playing at games. Everybody had a lor residence. We have not learned in the shape of a figure eight through park-like forest. Soon Latourelle falls, 225 feet high, is reached and at intervals of a few miles. Shepherd's a short time .
