SPEED OF THE ZEPPELINS

In War Trim, Fully Loaded, the Average is Forty Miles an Hour.

Net so many years ago a British engineering expert calculated that a Zeppelin could not attain a speed of thirty miles an hour, as he proved by figures that the ship would collapse under the air pressure. At the time this speed had been actually exceeded by a Zeppelin, says R. T. Hearne in "Zeppelins and Super-Zeppelins."

Today the tendency is to attribute too high a speed to the vessels. In still air it is doubtful if a higher speed than sixty-five miles an hour can be reached, and by the most careful calculation Mr. Hearne has come to the conclusion that the average speed of the modern Zeppelin in war trim is about forty miles an hour, full load.

"Of course," he says, "with a favorable wind the ship may often be running at over sixty miles an hour, and the difficulty of gauging wind speed often causes erroneous estimates of Zeppelin speed by observers on land. In the upper region where an alraship is moving there may be a strong current, while near the earth there is a calm."

It is well to note that for a short period a Zeppelin can climb faster than an aeroplane. By throwing out ballast, going full speed ahead, jammimg the tail down and shooting the nose up, a Zepp jumps a thousand feet or so in about half a minute. This rate of climb, however, cannot be maintained.

MACKSBURG

MACKSBURG, Ore., Aug. 31.—(Special.)—If labor be lightened, by usual delight, surely the toilers of our part of Oregon may have a large portion of their load lifted by simply looking about them.

The roses are in their late prime, and though not quite so numerous as they were in the early summer, their form is as perfect, their color as brilliant and their fragrance as enchanting as in May and June.

The chrysanthemums are unfolding their bright hood petals to the sun and are fairly overpowering for multitude and for richness of color.

The dahlias, meanwhile, though they have been lending us their radiance for weeks have lost none of their early beauty and seem likely to brighten our gardens till the late frosts.

Last, if possibly least, the gorgeously tinted nasturtium with its umbrella-like leaves, seems to be everywhere, with its rich gold and green lying in telling contrast along the edges of the lawns, forming gay-colored banks beside the fences, or climbing the porch pillars and hiding them under masses of foliage, interspersed with brightened gold.

But not even the flowers can tempt the eye away from that snowy idol of
