

DIVERSIFICATION TELLS STORY OF SUCCESS OF FLORIDA FARMER

When Frost Killed His Orange Trees He Turned His Attention to Good Pastures, Live Stock, Leguminous Crops, Large Plows and Strong Teams—Improved His Herd of Cattle by Purchase of Purebred Shorthorn Sire.

By G. H. ALFORD, State Demonstration Agent, Maryland.

R. H. Gaitskill, McIntosh, Fla., came to the state in 1884 and began growing oranges, but did not sell his Kentucky farm for some years after he came to Florida. He was quite well satisfied with his orange-growing venture until the freeze of 1895 killed all of his trees. This freeze was a great shock and the orange grower did not know what to do. Mr. Gaitskill started to rebuild and build up his grove, but did not feel that it was advisable to rely upon oranges for everything and began to grow corn, hay and other crops for man and beast. Prior to the freeze he made no effort to grow feed, but used some of his orange money to buy everything he needed. He soon learned that he could grow very fine crops of corn, hay, oats, peas and other general farm crops and finally decided to raise good live stock to consume the crops grown. Having decided to go into the live-stock business he sold his Kentucky farm and bought an old sugar plantation adjoining his farm and proceeded to make the growing of pork and beef his main work.

Bought Purebred Shorthorns. Mr. Gaitskill was not satisfied to through the winter with very little feed, except what is obtained from the fields.

He built his silo for the cows and calves when the grass does not prove sufficient to keep them in good condition. It is not a winter or summer silo, but is used at any time during the year when the silage is needed.

He grows a great variety of crops and has good grazing crops for his live stock 12 months in the year. He uses no fertilizer on his land. He grows leguminous crops to feed the live stock and the live stock spreads the manure over the farm. The growing of leguminous crops fills the soil full of nitrogen, adds immense quantities of humus to the soil and furnishes the most valuable grazing for all kinds of live stock.

Mr. Gaitskill uses large plows and strong teams and turns under large quantities of vegetable matter to furnish humus. He does not abuse his land by burning of the vegetable matter and plowing with a one-horse plow. He is planning to get a tractor, plow deep, turn under vegetable matter and grow better crops each year.

YOUNG WOMEN MAY AVOID PAIN

Need Only Trust to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, says Mrs. Kurtzweg.

Buffalo, N.Y.—My daughter, whose picture is herewith, was much troubled with pains in her back and sides every month and they would sometimes be so bad that it would seem like acute inflammation of some organ. She read your advertisement in the newspapers and tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

She praises it highly as she has been relieved of all these pains by its use. All mothers should know of this remedy, and all young girls who suffer should try it.—Mrs. MATILDA KURTZWEIG, 329 High St., Buffalo, N.Y.

Young women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

If you know of any young woman who is sick and needs help, give her this valuable advice, ask her to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Only women will receive her letter, and it will be held in strictest confidence.

MEXICAN CHIEF IS WILSON'S MASTER SAYS ROOSEVELT

CARRANZA, PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR DECLARED IN "INTERNATIONAL ALLIANCE"

SURRENDER OF THE PRINCIPLE OF ARBITRATION IS CRITICISED

Apparent Condition of National Prosperity, Colonel Says, Is Artificial Result of Great War in Europe.

WILSHIRE, Pa., Oct. 14.—Discussing the Adanson law in an address here tonight, Theodore Roosevelt upheld the principle of arbitration in the settlement of all labor controversies, criticized President Wilson for what was termed the sacrifice of the principle and declared in favor of the eight-hour day law in principle.

Colonel Roosevelt also discussed the Mexican policy of the administration and condemned what he termed an "international alliance" between Messrs. Wilson, Gompers and Carranza. He referred to Carranza as the master of Wilson and Gompers.

The apparent condition of national prosperity was described as the artificial result of the European war, which would end with that conflict.

"If a public servant will do wrong to please any particular class," said Mr. Roosevelt in conclusion, "it may be taken as absolutely certain that he will do wrong against the interest of that particular class whenever it becomes to his own profit to do so."

In opening his address, Colonel Roosevelt reviewed the anthracite coal strike in Pennsylvania 14 years ago, explaining how he had settled the controversy by arbitration.

President Wilson, in his action on the Adanson law, Colonel Roosevelt said, "had destroyed the principle of arbitration in the settlement of industrial disputes and put a premium on securing this settlement by threat and duress."

Constipation the Father of Many Ills. Of the numerous ills that affect humanity a large share start with constipation. Keep your bowels regular and they may be avoided. When a laxative is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.
