In the game of choosing sides and throwing a ball through a ring, the members of Mr. Jones' side were declared the winners and a bag of peanuts was given them, which they very generously divided with their opponents.

Could Not Do Her Cooking.

Mrs. F. E. Hartmelster, Tea. Mo., writes: "I was affected with kidney trouble for two years. I was so bad this summer I could hardly do my cooking. I got Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me. I feel like a new person." Too many women neglect symptoms of kidney derangement. When the kidneys are not properly doing their work poisons left in the system cause weak back, dizziness, puffiness under eyes, swollen ankles, joints, and rheumatism. Jones Drug Co.—Adv.

PLANS ARE LAID FOR STATEWIDE ROAD CAMPAIGN

MANY ORGANIZATIONS UNITE IN THE OREGON GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE.

SEVERAL PROPOSALS ARE MADE TO FINANCE BETTER HIGHWAYS

Increase in Automobile Licenses and In State Road Tax Suggested—Clackamas County Men Are Committee Officers.

PORTLAND, Oct. 30.—(Special)—For the purpose of agreeing upon a state wide road program to be submitted to the next legislature, representatives of eleven organizations met here today and formed what is termed the Oregon Good Roads committee, with the following officers: O. W. Taylor, president; Charles E. Spence, vice-president; Robert E. Smith, secretary; J. C. Ainsworth, treasurer.

Seven members constitute the executive committee, including the officers and three others: John F. Daly, J. D. Brown and E. E. Brodie.

The purpose of the organization is to prepare a good roads program upon which the several interests of the state may harmonize. In the past the ambitions of the motorists and advocates of a larger millage tax have had the opposition of people who have favored a low tax, with the result that the legislature has done little to further the cause of good roads in the state. It is probable that the conflicting interests will be able to effect a harmony program, and may recommend a half-mill tax, an increased graduated automobile license, and place the money from these two sources into the hands of a commission, together with the money from the United States government forest reserves and the funds from the Shackleford law, the total being close to $1,000,000 for the next year.

The State Grange, Farmers Union, Federation of Labor, Oregon State Editorial association, Portland Chamber of Commerce, State Bankers association, Oregon Hotelmen's association, State Taxpayers' league, Oregon Daily Newspaper Publishers' association, Portland Automobile club and Portland Realty board have been named to represent such portions of the state not covered by the organization delegates. The following committees were named to draft reports for submission to the executive committee:

Highway routes—J. C. Ainsworth, Dr. C. W. Cornelius, J. A. Smith.

High commission and engineer—O. W. Taylor, C. E. Spence, Charles H. Fisher, H. L. Corbett, John E. Gratke.

Highway or road laws—J. D. Brown, F. L. Myers, B. G. Leedy.

Automobile license—Robert E. Smith, Julius L. Meier, Emery Olmsted.

Government aid—John F. Daly, O. M. Clark, F. E. Taylor.

Cooperation with counties—Charles E. Spence, Phil Metchan, Otto Hartwig.

Highway tax—E. E. Brodie, E. J. Stack, Franklin T. Griffith.

RACE ANTIPATHY NATIONAL PERIL AGREE BISHOPS

"UNCONSECRATED PROSPERITY" IS CALLED MENACE TO MANHOOD.

JUSTICE IS ADVISED TO END ALL DANGER FROM THE ORIENT

Pastoral Letter of Protestant Episcopal Church Says Nations at War Have Much to Teach People of United States

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—Warning Americans against "the danger of race antipathy flaring into hatred" and against "unconsecrated prosperity which is bound to cause manhood to decay," the pastoral letter of the Protestant Episcopal church was read at the final joint session of the triennial convention here today.

The letter is the message of the 103 bishops of the church to its communicants and under the church law will be read in every Episcopal church in the country.

Unlike most previous pastoral letters, it dealt with secular rather than ecclesiastical affairs. It reviewed conditions in the United States and Europe and in the Orient and pointed out to this country the threat that lingers in a nationalism which assumes "the ugly role of group selfishness or false patriotism."

"Whatever dangers may be lurking beyond our western horizon," it asserted, "can surely be averted by a spirit of justice which has not always prevailed in our dealings with the Orient."

Members of the church were admonished to "sanctify their wealth by offering freely of their substance in God's cause," it being added that "the wounds of Armenia, Poland and Belgium still lie gaping to the sky and offer their dumb appeal to God and man."

The letter in part follows: "America is invited today in world-wide confusion which finds a most acute expression in the battlefields of Europe. No self-isolation on our part is possible. The fortunes of the nations are interwoven as the threads of tapestry."

"Interest can never again be sectional. The world is henceforth one, for the time being in a disturbed and suffering unity, in days to come in a unity where order and health will reign. Political expediency may in war time require neutrality of the state, but it cannot hold in leash the sympathies of the individual citizen. A man cannot be passionless and retain his manhood."
