What to Do When Backache Comes on

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $100.00 worth of other medicine," writes Chas. M. Fox of Kinross, N. Y.

When backache comes on, and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure in the small of your back and sides, do not feel that you must continue to suffer, but get a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills and begin taking them.

It is worth a good deal to you to know that Foley Kidney Pills give you just what your system needs to repair the weak sick kidneys. It is their inability to do their work properly that causes your pain and misery.

Now Lookout.

When a cold hangs on as often happens, or when you have hardly gotten over one cold before you contract another, lookout for you are liable to contract some very serious disease.

This succession of colds weakens the system and lowers the vitality so that you are much more liable to contract catarrh, pneumonia or consumption.

Cure your cold while you can. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation. It is relied upon by thousands of people and never disap-

MACKSBURG.

MACKSBURG, Ore., Nov. 9.—(Special)—Never did the fall rains find the ranchers in a better state of preparedness than now.

Few, even of the potatoes were unharvested when the rainy season began.

This crop is still holding its own in price.

Apples, though not so abundant as usual, are far from being a failure, while a very fair store is laid up for winter use.

The drying houses and the cider presses are kept busy using up the windfalls which would otherwise go to waste.

The rains, though copious to infuse new life into the pasture, have not made the ground too wet for ploughing and rapid preparation is going forward for the winter grain, also for the spring plantings.

Builders are patiently biding their time till the sun shall shine out once more permitting them to go on with their outside work.

Land clearing, meanwhile, is not wholly at a standstill.

Everywhere rubbish fires are lighting the belated traveler on his way.

Every ranchman is promising himself at least an acre of new ground for the crops of the coming year.

The cost of living which persists in rising at such an uncomfortable pace, is fulfilling the ancient adage: "Tis an ill wind that blows nobody good."

If flour, beef, and sugar are high, so also are the products we have to sell.

It is long since potatoes, eggs and butterfat have brought as good returns as they are doing now.

Frank Hilton drove down from his mountain ranch to take a load of produce from his former place.

Jess Hepler has moved his family to the ranch formerly occupied by Pete Morse.

Miss Mary Schin was a business visitor in Oregon City on Saturday, returning the same day.

The Mother's club is to meet next Thursday with Mrs. Drier.

VIRGINIA FARMER REALIZES FACT THAT LIVE STOCK ENRICHES SOIL

Larger Part of Crops Grown Are Fed to Good Dairy Cattle—Cultivates Only Ninety Acres of Land, but it is Fertile and Always Produces Good Yields—Farm Work Stock Raised for Home Use and for Market.

(By G. H. ALPHEUS, State Demonstration Agent, Maryland.)

John R. Doyle of Dinwiddie county, Virginia, realizes the fact that live stock farming enriches the soil. He grows many crops to enrich the soil instead of growing only crops that impoverish it. He feeds the larger part of the crops grown to good dairy cattle. He knows that the success of any system of farming cannot be judged by the crops, or net earnings, for one year or for five years. By devoting the larger part of the farm to clovers, feeding the clovers to dairy cattle and spreading manure over the land he averages more than 20 bushels of wheat per acre, and has averaged, in good seasons, as high as 30 bushels. He averages more than 50 bushels of corn per acre, and has averaged as high as 75 bushels.

Boy in His Pumpkins and Corn.

This farm raises farm-work stock for home use and to sell. The coits are raised to prevent the spending of money for farm-work stock and to be sure of having enough horse power for the most economical production of crops.

Can't Afford Geldings.

Six head of work stock are kept on the farm and two mares bring colts each year. Mr. Doyle figures that he cannot afford to keep all geldings and, for this reason, keeps two brood mares actively engaged in light work and colt production. The mares are intelligently handled, do all the light work that is required, and, in addition, produce colts every year which rapidly develop into marketable animals. The colts are usually kept until four years of age and the surplus sold for about $200 each. Mr. Doyle estimates the cost of raising a colt at about $25 per year.

There are good meadows and pastures on this farm. Every square foot of the meadows and pastures is well covered with nutritious grasses and clovers instead of broom grass, brans and weeds. The land is thoroughly prepared, manured and sown in sipping clover, orchard grass, timothy and a small amount of alfalfa. The mixture usually consists of three pounds of alfalfa, five pounds of timothy, eight pounds of sipping clover and three pounds of orchard grass to the acre.

The alfalfa seed is put in to gradually inoculate the soil so he can sow alfalfa at any time, on any part of the farm, and be sure that the soil is inoculated. From the above grass mixture three or four tons of good hay is usually obtained.

Mr. Doyle grows what he needs and feeds what he grows. Only a small amount of cottonseed meal is purchased to feed his dairy cows. The average farmer in his section buys the larger part of his feed. Many thousands of dollars are sent out of his county annually for feedstuffs.

Rotation Practiced.

A rotation of crops, including leguminous crops, is practiced on his farm. The corn is usually followed by wheat, the wheat by peas or peanuts. The corn is cut in September or October and German clover is sown on a part of the corn land. This clover can be sown on his farm as late as October 10. One bushel of oats and 15 pounds of blooming German clover are also carefully screened. There is a cream separator, a butter worker, a table and a water spigot in the house. The total cost of the milkhouse was about $250.

Her Son Subject to Croup.

"My son Edwin is subject to croup," writes Mrs. E. O. Irwin, New Kensington, Pa. "I put in many sleepless hours at night before I learned of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mothers need not fear this disease if they keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house and use it as di-son on a part of the corn land about September 15. This is cut and fed in the dough state the following spring. A bushel of wheat and ten pounds of hairy vetch make a very satisfactory mixture. This mixture usually follows peanuts and is cut in the dough stage for feed in the spring.

Another bubble says: "YES YOU MIGHT TELL EM THAT MISS ELEANOR PHILLIPS MATTHEWS IS NOW MRS. FRANK W. HOPKINS—THEY ARE AT HOME THE ALBION HOTEL, BALTIMORE—MD DURING OCTOBER". A third bubble says: "LIFE IS ONE EASTFUL AFTER ANOTHER!". At the bottom right, it says "OUT OF THE BAG".

Of course there is a silo on the farm. The 60-ton silo provides a cheap and convenient place to store all the corn grown on five or six acres. The silo takes care of all the corn crop early in the fall; insures succulent feed for winter and in long dry spells, when pastures fail; provides a balanced succulent ration when fed with such protein feeds as cowpeas, peanut hay and cottonseed meal; and makes it possible to properly feed more dairy cattle on the small farm.

The 60-ton silo holds enough silage to feed the 15 milk cows for six months—feeding about 30 pounds per day to each cow. The silage is fed with peas vines or peanut hay and some cottonseed meal. The grain ration consists of about six pounds per day of a mixture of 200 pounds of cottonseed meal and 300 pounds of corn and cob meal.

On an average, 15 cows are milked the year round. The main source of income is the money obtained from the sale of cream, milk and butter. Twenty per cent cream is sold at Petersburg, 25 miles away, for 75 cents per gallon the year round. A small quantity of ice is used in the summer time to cool the cream when it is separated.

Cream is Sold.

One five-gallon can of 20 per cent cream is sold from the 15 cows every day in the year. They have a check rate of 12 cents for a five-gallon can, but this makes it necessary for the buyer in Petersburg to meet the train to receive the can, whereas the express rate will deliver it, and in small quantities the express rate is cheaper in the long run.

An average of $15 worth of butter is sold every month, to regular customers. The cream and butter sold per month brings in about $125. The income from the sale of young cattle amounts to about $200 per year, and the profit from feeding hogs on skim milk is about $200 per year, making a total income of at least $150 per month from the cows.
