SCHOOL PUPILS WILL TELL WHY BOOZE AND DRUGS ARE OBNOXIOUS

The effect of stimulants and narcotics on the mind and body is the subject of an essay contest instituted in the public schools of the county by Superintendent Calvan.

A prize of $5 will be offered in the lower grades; while for the high school and the seventh and eighth grades prize money of $15 from the state and $50 from the national society will be distributed. The funds for the lower grade prizes are $10 from the state and $25 from the national society.

The contest is to meet the state requirements for school work in hygienic lines.

CONTEST IS STARTED TO RAISE MONEY

The Women's club has a contest on to raise money to furnish its club-rooms at the school building.

The club is divided into parts. First, Mrs. Wm. Gray, captain; second, Mrs. A. King Wilson, captain.

The divisions could each raise money in any way they desired.

Last Friday afternoon the first division gave an informal tea at the home of Mrs. G. Howard Pettinger. No charge was made for the tea, but each member of the committee gave her share of the money to be raised. It was an old-fashioned affair, with no pre-arranged program. The ladies had their sewing with them. They indulged in dancing the Virginia reel, sang old songs and played a few charades. Tea and cake were served.

Most all of the club members wore old fashioned clothes, such as our grandmothers wore—The hoops, prairie dresses, bustles, quaint head dressing and elaborate buckled shoes were the order of the day. Mrs. Leslie Talbot and Mrs. Chapin were awarded the prizes for best sustained characters—the best costume of the period represented. Mrs. Talbot represented "A Belle Bero" the War, in the 60's and Mrs. Chapin "A Matron of the '80's."
