CITIZENS PUTS UP $105 AND STOP ENTIRE RACKET Under an agreement reached last night between the city council and Attorneys Schuebel and Story, there will be no wholesale recall election in Oregon City. Through the efforts of M. D. Lalouette and E. E. Brodie, acting in behalf of the people of Oregon City, a compromise was effected, under which Mr. Story will become city attorney, as well as city prosecutor, and he will receive $50 per month from January 1, 1917. Mr. Schuebel will be paid $495 for legal services rendered to date and for the defense of the suit of the Portland Railway Light & Power company vs. Oregon City. The case is now in the state supreme court on appeal, the city having won a victory in the circuit court. Important water rights in the south end of the city are involved. In order to harmonize the whole tangle, it became necessary to secure $105 from private sources, as the council firmly declined to appropriate any money in excess of the amount of $990 provided in the budget of 1917 for legal services. This was done yesterday, and the money was delivered to Recorder Loder last night. The council adopted resolutions covering the settlement without debate and by unanimous vote. After the matter was disposed of, Mr. Schuebel made a neat little peace speech to the council, and was tendered a vote of thanks for his work in behalf of the city. The council also voted their thanks to the peace committee and the white dove once more spread its wings over the chamber. With the elimination of the Story-Schuebel tangle, it is confidently expected that the city administration will be able to transact the city's business during 1917 without complications. On the grounds that he had deserted her with seven minor children to support, Mrs. Eva Marks brought suit in the state circuit court here today for divorce from Joseph Marks. The two were married in Walton, W. Va., in December 1887 and, according to the complaint, lived together until December 1915, when Marks left without giving any address. Mrs. Marks asks the custody of the children, the oldest of whom is 16. She also asks for funds for their support. Toledo is working to get a cannery. Cheese factory proposed about nine miles up river. HATCHET TURNS TOMAHAWK IN HANDS OF ANGRY MAN; CLEAVES TEAMSTER'S EAR; POLICE REACH FOR MAN'S ASSAILANT Hurling a hatchet in a fit of anger at the head of F. W. Robertson, of rural route 2, Thomas Hammond, a laborer, Monday drove Robertson's ear and caused a scalp wound which required several stitches to close. This charge was made against Hammond in a complaint sworn out before Justice of the Peace Sievers by Robertson immediately after Dr. Guy Mount had dressed his wound. According to Robertson's allegations the dispute arose when Hammond ordered him to get a load of wood which he was delivering out of the road. "I'll get out just as soon as I can turn this team around," replied Robertson. Hammond got mad and buried the hatchet, Robertson says. Chief of Police Blanchard and Constable Jack Frost immediately went off on the lookout for Hammond but this morning he had not been arrested. He will be brought before Judge Sievers today. According to Robertson there was no former quarrel between the men. Robertson was brought in to the doctor's office by a friend, who later took his team home for him.

ALLEGED CHARGES OF ONE WOMAN TOO MANY LEADS PREACHER TO BRING SUIT Walter Givens, of Estacada, a minister of the Christian church, filed suit for $25,000 damages against M. J. Kerkes, of Estacada, in the circuit court here Monday, charging that he attempted to defame his character by spreading gossip to the effect that Givens had been living in Portland with a woman not his wife. Givens complaint sets the content of an alleged statement made by Kerkes to several companions December 27, in which Kerkes is said to have stated that Givens had paid the woman $40 a month toward her support. Owing to the position which Givens has held for many years as a minister in various parts of the county, the complaint sets out that the damage to his reputation, which has in the past been highly commendatory, the complaint says, is particularly great. E. W. Bartlett, an attorney of Estacada, and Brownell and Sievers, of Oregon City, are representing Rev. Mr. Givens. A suit against Mr. Givens brought a long time ago by the Hor Oiler company, of Portland, was Monday dismissed by Circuit Judge Campbell. A. C.
