PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—Seven candidates for mayor and 18 for commissioners is the lineup for the race for city offices.

Time for filing nominations expired tonight at 5 o'clock, at which time there was a lively struggle between Elmer L. Amidon and Charles P. Church for the final place on the ballot.

Mr. Church won. The candidates who filed their petitions today are George Menzel, Socialist, for mayor; W. L. Brewster, Emmette Meyer, William E. Smith, George W. Caldwell, Elmer L. Amidon and Charles P. Church for commissioner.

The seven now in the race in the order the names will appear on the ballot are: For mayor—Will H. Warren, E. N. Wheeler, George L. Baker, Will H. Daly, Benage S. Jesselyn, Allen G. Hushlight, George Menzel. For commissioner—John A. McJannet, George Garrett, Archie Mason, John M. Mann, Fred W. Jobelman, K. K. Kuhl, Dan Kellaher, Robert G. Dieck, Norman E. Richards, L. M. Davis, W. L. Brewster, Emmette Meyer, William E. Smith, George W. Caldwell, Elmer L. Amidon, Charles P. Church.

The local order of Redmen and families visited their fellow braves at Oregon City Wednesday evening. The programme was a history of the Redmen Order. Mrs. Eva Emery Dye gave a short talk of Oregon, and what the Indians went through to hold possession of the country which was thoroughly enjoyed. Instrumental music was furnished by the orchestra. Afterward lunch was served, consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee. Dancing was then the order of evening. Forty from Oswego attended.

Chas. Haines, Jr., son of J. C. Haines, Sr., met with a painful accident Thursday evening at the cement plant. While working at a conveyor the sleeve of his jacket caught in a pulley, and before he could stop the machinery, his arm was broken in two places and his wrist dislocated. He was taken to the St. Vincent's hospital. Because of his arm being swollen, his wrist will not be set until the arm is normal in size.

Revising pleasant memories of their former life as students of the University of Oregon and now as alumni determined to do something to pay that obligation to their alma mater and the state of Oregon, more than 40 alumni and former students of that institution assembled at the parlors of the Commercial club on Friday evening and organized the Oregon City chapter of the University of Oregon.

The officers of the chapter elected are: T. A. Burke, president; Miss Evelyn Harding, vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Caulfield, secretary and Phillip Hammond, treasurer.

After the formalities of the evening had been passed short and reminiscence talks were made by Lily Stipp, Mrs. Edward Carter of Gladstone, Harry Padlock and others. During the evening the ladies served light refreshments in the dining room of the club.

At the next meeting of the chapter plans will be prepared to start an active campaign in behalf of the university that it may grow to even greater usefulness to the coming generations of the state.

BOYS' CLUB ELECTS ITS OFFICERS AT MEETING.

The Boys' club held a meeting Friday evening, May 11th, for the purpose of a general organization. The following officers were elected: Otto Johnson, honorary president; Harry Johnson, president; John Rogers, vice-president; Harold Conway, secretary and treasurer; managers, the officers and one Junior, Cloke King.

CLACKAMAS GROWERS TODAY ARE HOLDING MEETINGS FOR DEFENSE

This is Agricultural Defense Day and throughout Clackamas county the farmers are holding community meetings to discuss plans to make their acreage more productive, if possible than ever before, so that they may do their share in preparing for the national defense. At least 30 of these meetings are to be held in different parts of the county as the result of the organization of the Farmers' Council in this city on Thursday by Prof. Pitts, the representative of the agricultural department for Clackamas and Washington counties.

He has opened an office at the publicity headquarters of the Commercial club where he or Assistant District Agent T. D. Case will be constantly on hand to give such information and assistance as is in their power.

Just what aid and assistance the federal government is to furnish the farmers of the country is not known as it depends upon the passage by congress of the administration's agricultural bill that is now before that body and has been reported on favorably by the committee, but is awaiting the settlement of the army bill before consideration. Its principle feature is to fix the minimum and maximum prices for agricultural products so as to make it positive for the farmer to receive a reasonable price for his labor, no matter what the excess of production may be.

RECLUSE' DEATH REVEALS $16,000 IN SECURITIES

PENDELTON, Ore., May 14.—On investigation of the death of Johnson W. Willard, an aged recluse of the farming district southeast of Milton, Coroner Brown discovered gold coin and certificates of deposits amounting to more than $16,000. They were tucked away in every conceivable place. An old vest hanging in a closet yielded several hundred dollars in gold.

Three or four purses were found packed with coin. In addition to this, Mr. Willard owned the ranch where he lived, valued at $50,000. One daughter, Mrs. Hill, survives. Her home is in Montana.
