MARKET REPORT

PORTLAND, Or. suty 6 .-- The first local raspiservies have been received by the Oregon Fruit company and placed on valu at $2.75 a crate. It is expected the crop this year will be In the Circuit Court of the State of very heavy and receipts should be liberal. Prices will, of course, he much William Aspinwall, Plaintiff, lower before long. Everybody should do all the canning, not only of herries Elsie Aspinwall, Defondant. but everything else, possible.

There appears to be a little easier tone to the market for ripe tomatoes. cost Texas, repacked, are selling for $1.65 a crate, while Mercod bring $1.35 to $1.50. A car of Texas tomatoes arrived and was unloaded this morning.

Cantaloupes were about steady to day, with the top on standards at $3 to $2.25 and on Jumbos at $2.75. From this the prices ranged down to $1 for flats, of which there were very few, The trade in cants has been very good of late and wholesalers are moving inree quantities. There is a much better demand for these than for watermolons, which are selling at 235 cents a pound.

PORTLAND, Or., July 7 .- There were rather heavy receipts of livestock at the Portland Union Stockyards this forenoon, but practically all the stuff was for the Monday market. Prices at that time depend to a large extent upon the quantity and quality of the offerings. Some are looking for a lower cattle market , while others are fearful hogs may decline. Indications are all will remain about at their present level. Trade this forenoon was of a very limited character.

Receipts for the day were 290 cattotal of 19 carloads. For the week Oregon. 2492 cattle, 114 calves, 2638 hogs, 1369 sheep, a total of 126 carloads.

PORTLAND, Or., July 9 .- Front Date of last publication, Aug. 24, 1917. street is expecting a crush in the new potato market.

Plenty of new potatoes are on hand. In the Circuit Court of the State of The market is fairly steady at $3.50#4 a spek. It is the future that looks favorable for trouble, however.

The corner lot garden activity has put Portland effectually out of the E. R. Langley, Hazel Langley, Ruth plaint, to wit: market so far as a means of disposing of the farm crop of new potato is concerned. Dealers estimate that there are enough potatoes planted in Portland alone to supply the city for at least three quarters of the coming fall and winter.

New potatoes dug as they are usually by the Oregon farmer will not ship farther than 24 hours' ride, and no market is open in that distance.

Consequently several dealers sent out warnings to their customers against consigning to them and advising them not to dig until the crop is fully matured.
