Mrs. Ralph Clapp and daughter, Eva, spent Sunday in Oregon City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Olett, of Beaver Creek, returned yesterday from Portland, where they spent a few days' visiting.

Elk Prairie

ELK PRAIRIE, July 19.—Willis Badger enjoyed seeing a bear recently. While one often hears them, or sees very fresh tracks, one may hike into the mountains for years without seeing any more than one. Mankind has a very bad reputation in brush circles, and he is only too glad to give the right-of-way.

Mr. Traz made a trip to Molalla recently.

The cousin to the raspberry—the salmonberry—is ripe along the creeks, making a most beautiful sight, as well as being profitable to the picker.

Glen Gault had the misfortune to lose two large hogs. It is supposed that their deaths were caused by sudden change from sour to sweet milk.

Messrs. Kruger have returned from a few days' visit at Silverton.

Basil and Hazel Lettsel went to Scotts Mill recently.

A number of campers are at the Fred Davis' place at the foot of the mountain.

Mrs. C. K. Lettsel has returned to her mountain home after a brief visit in Scotts Mills.

Mrs. Frank Hilton has returned from a visit in the valley with relatives.

Mr. Hilton and sons are haying on the Kirk place.

Mr. Gray took a load of strawberries to Scotts Mills recently.

A band of Eastern Oregon sheep are being pastured above what is known as the S. G. place, belonging to Fred Davis.

Charles Jones is harvesting his hay crop.

James Jones, who was hurt while working at the Silver Falls Logging company, recently, has returned to work.

Macksburg

MACKSBURG, July 19.—The crops are standing the heat and the scant moisture to a wonderful degree and bid fair to yield the expected fine harvest. Haying is the chief work at present, the weather being especially favorable, and the crop in fine condition for cutting. The grain is ripening so fast, threshing is no many days distant. All the fruit seems to be the most promising condition. Cherries are exceptionally abundant and fine. Berries are in the greatest profusion. The Loganberry—which, for the delicious beverage it furnishes—is in greater demand than ever before—is unprecedentedly abundant and has become a valuable asset to the farmer. Requiring but little care and propagating itself indefinitely, this hitherto slighted product has come into the front ranks as a revenue-raiser on the farm. Potatoes, though growing at a pace, are retarded by the drouth,—are progressing steadily and seem entirely free from the pests, which so often attack them in frequent rains. A far larger area than hitherto, has been devoted to this crop as well as to the army and navy bean which are thriving in a way that promises sustenance to an army, whether at peace or at war. The winter vegetables were so well started before the cessation of the rains that they seem invulnerable to the heat and likely to reach their fullest maturity before the Autumn frost, even should it pay us an early visit.

Intense as has been the heat for the past few days, it has found the ranch-workers well fortified by the breezy evenings and by the cool and restful nights. The early mornings, too, have been so cool that brisk movement has been necessary to comfortable warmth until the sun has sped over many degrees of his zenith-ward course. Indeed, the heat could not, in any of these days, have been called intense till near the hour of noon. The brevity of the heated time may not be appreciated by the native of Western Oregon, having always been accustomed to its benignant way. It is surely charming to those used to the sultry evenings and sleepless nights of the Middle West, where the dog-star is in his fullest rage, and when one rises in the morning weary and unrefreshed to begin another torrid day.

Mrs. Therese Kler, the aged mother of J. Gibson, whose illness lately has been the source of grave apprehension to her friends, is in comfortable health once more.

Mrs. Nettie Vogel, of Portland, with her two small children, are visiting her mother, Mrs. J. Gibson.

Leonard Nebo, who is in a hospital at Salem, is improving so much that he is soon expected home.

Notwithstanding the great heat of Sunday, large and appreciative congregations filled both the Lutheran church and the Bethel chapel of the Mennonites. A delegation of the latter went to the Zion tabernacle for a special service in the morning, returning in time for the afternoon service at Bethel.

ADVISORY POWERS ONLY ARE GIVEN TO DEFENSE COUNCIL

WASHINGTON, July 16.—The relation of business men to the government was described today by Franklin Lane, secretary of the interior, and one of the six cabinet members who compose the council of national defense.

Answering talk in congress and elsewhere suggesting that members of the council are in a position to make contracts with themselves and thus derive personal benefits from the war, Mr. Lane said the business men composing the advisory commission have no control over contracts and in fact give to the government infinitely more than they receive.

Analyzing the organization further, Mr. Lane gave high praise to the business men, experts in their several fields of industry, who comprise the many committees on supplies, including raw materials of all kinds and manufactures.

The statement was given as the result of inquiries concerning criticism of the commission and a persistent report that reorganization of the council is imminent. The response was characteristically frank from the opening question, which bore on the possibility of cabinet members constituting the council making any personal profit out of the contracts.

"We have nothing to sell!" he said. "When it is considered that the council of national defense consists of Secretary Baker, a lawyer; Secretary Daniels, an editor; Secretary Lane, a lawyer; Secretary Houston, college president; Secretary Redfield, a retired business man; Secretary Wilson, a labor union official, you will realize that there is not much chance for that charge being true."

"No, nobody thinks that we are dealing with ourselves. The confusion has come about because of the peculiar organization of the council. Get into your head one or two facts and you will see how this confusion has arisen."

CHAMPION

The Old Time FAVORITE—THE CHOICE of the Modern Farm

MOWERS

Champion Mowers have features which you as a buyer cannot afford to overlook. They mean increased length of service and greater satisfaction to you. Wide Substantial Yoke. Extra large case hardened yoke pins. Extra long case hardened wearing plates. Extra wide and strong wrought knife head. Extra light draft and easy of operation. These are but a few of the reasons why a Champion is an extra good mower to buy.

RAKES

No change has been necessary in the Champion Rake for several years, which is proof that it has reached as near perfection as it is possible ever to obtain in machinery. Reversing axle stubs, when reversed is like new. Reversing wheel ratchets. Removable and renewable wheel boxes. Best quality spring steel teeth. Sure self-working dump. Come and study the sturdy construction of the Champion Rake.

TEDDERS

The Champion Tedder has often saved its cost in a single season. One has but to see the Champion work to learn of its excellent service. It is light draft and smooth operating. No matter what you need in cutting machinery, come in and look over what we offer in the Champion. You will find no better on the market, and we can make you right prices.

Old Folks Saved From Suffering

Mrs. Mary A. Dean, Taunton, Mass., in her 87th year, says: "I thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proven most beneficial in my case."

Mrs. Sam A. Hoover, High Point, N. C., writes: "My kidney trouble was worse at night and I had to get up from five to seven times. Now I do not have to get up at night, and consider myself in a truly normal condition, which I attribute to Foley Kidney Pills, as I have taken nothing else."

Mrs. M. A. Bridges, Robinson, Mass., says: "I suffered from kidney ailments for two years. I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills ten months ago, and though I am 61 years of age, I feel like a 16-year-old girl."

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and up-building, and restore normal action to the kidneys and to a disordered and painful bladder. They act quickly and contain no dangerous or harmful drugs.
