RURAL SCHOOLS ARE FACING SEVERAL NEW AND PRESSING NEEDS

Urging that more attention be paid to the one-room school house, Prof. M. S. Pittman, of the Oregon State Normal school Monday outlined to the 85 or more teachers attending the Clackamas County Teachers' Training school at the Barclay schoolhouse what steps should be taken for immediate reforms.

Most of the effort, he said, has been directed to the graded school, and quoted statistics to prove that this should not be the case. Ninety per cent of all the teachers in the districts of Oregon are new each year and 40 per cent of them are inexperienced, according to Prof. Pittman. The number of pupils varies from one to 45 and the grades taught run from three to nine.

Professor Pittman urged the adoption of a rural normal school, a plan which would provide the exact training that the country teacher needs. At a previous session of the course State Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill advocated the paying of more attention to the foreign children in the schools, and suggested the dramatization of historical events as a form of instruction in patriotism.

He announced that a series of nine lessons would be sent out from the central office soon to direct the organization of neighborhood groups which he hopes to make a feature of Oregon's rural life.

The teacher should make clear the difference between autocracy and democracy, he said, for the schools at the present time are being given the most severe tests in patriotic preparation.

THREE, DESERTED BY MATES, ASK DIVORCES ON THOSE GROUNDS

Three suits for divorce based on alleged desertion were filed in the office of County Clerk Harrington Friday.

Maggie Mitchell who married James W. Mitchell on March 23, 1916, says in her complaint that her husband deserted her. She asks that she be divorced and given the custody of their six and a half year old child.

E. M. Sanders is suing M. G. Sanders because he deserted her Nov. 23, 1915. She asks $30 a month alimony and $50 suit money.

E. H. Butler asks a divorce from Jennie Butler because she deserted him in September 1915. They were married at St. Helens in June 1913.

IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

THE marriage of Miss Vada Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Elliott, of Oregon City, and Mr. Lot C. Livermore, of Pendleton, Oregon, was solemnized at the Presbyterian church in Portland on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Levi Johnson, of Portland, officiated, and the impressive ring ceremony was witnessed by only relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was most becomingly attired in a traveling suit of navy blue with hat to match. The bridegroom and his bride were unattended. Following the marriage ceremony a dinner was enjoyed at the Portland hotel, and later the young couple left for their honeymoon, which will be spent at Puget Sound points.

Among those attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Elliott, parents of the bride, Miss Ruth Elliott, Walter Elliott, of this city; Mrs. E. T. Lowell, of Portland, and Miss Lotta Livermore of Pendleton, sisters of the bridegroom.

The bride is one of Oregon City's most estimable and popular young women. She has resided in Oregon City all of her life, and has a host of friends here, and preceding her marriage was the motif for several social functions. Her father, E. P. Elliott, is a well known realty dealer in this city.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Livermore, prominent residents of Pendleton. Mr. Livermore is one of the prominent young men of Pendleton, and is popular among his many friends in that city.

CAR WRECKS AUTO AT COURTNEY INJURING GRIFFITH AND WIFE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Griffith of Clarks station are in the Oregon City hospital suffering from serious injuries sustained at 10 o'clock Friday morning in a collision with an Oregon City car near Courtney station. Mrs. Griffith was thrown under the automobile which was completely demolished and gasoline, dripping from the broken tank, severely burned her lower limbs and body. Mr. Griffith's nose was broken and he was severely cut about the head and face. No change in their condition could be noted this evening.

The wounded man and his wife were brought to Oregon City on the street car where they were given first aid treatment and then taken to the Oregon City hospital.

Mrs. Griffith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Perry, of Clarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith were alone in the automobile at the time of the accident and were going east on Courtney avenue when the car struck them broadside. The automobile was knocked against a telephone pole and crushed into a shapeless mass of tangled scrap. Although Mr. Griffith was thrown from the machine he was close enough to it to be burned by the escaping gasoline which dripped onto him.

PLUCKY WOMAN MAKES THIEF RETURN WATCH STOLEN THRU WINDOW

When Mrs. Viola Tait, who lives at Canemah, saw a man reach through the window of her daughter's home next door to her own, Monday noon, and take a watch, she lost no time in looking for help, but started after him herself. A block away, at the edge of a cliff, Mrs. Tait overtook the stranger and accused him of having taken the watch from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gustave Griebel.

The man made signs and said things intended to convey the impression that he could not talk English.

"You cut that out and talk English," said Mrs. Tait.

"I didn't take anything," said the man in perfect English.

When Mrs. Tait insisted that the man had stolen a watch from the house, he threw the stolen timepiece at the woman and ran away before he could be restrained.

BIGGER SPUDS MAY HAVE BEEN GROWN IN EDEN

Some of the finest potatoes that have been raised in this city are those exhibited by H. J. Bigger, of this city, the first of the week, and raised on his property on Fourth and Center streets. These were "The Pride of Multnomah" variety, and are of excellent quality. They are white, smooth skinned potatoes, and those exhibited ranged from eight inches to eight and one-fourth inches, while one measured about nine inches. Several were seven inches in circumference.

The cumberbats that were also brought to the Enterprise office were a fine sample of what can be produced in that line in this city. These were of the "Long Green" variety, and possess very small seeds. Several measured about 11 inches in length.

MISS MARTHA PARKER, FORMER OREGON CITY GIRL, IS WAR BRIDE

A former Oregon City young woman, Miss Martha Martina Parker, but now of Klamath Falls, has become a war bride, and is now the wife of Mr. Floyd Radford, formerly of this city, but now a member of Company E, 4th Engineers, stationed at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., of which he has been a member since May. The marriage was performed at Vancouver, Wash., on Friday, August 10, at high noon, with Rev. Benedict, officiating, in the presence of the sister of the bride, Miss Harriet Parker, of Portland.

Mrs. Radford will return to her home near Klamath Falls on Wednesday evening.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, who left this city about three years ago for southern Oregon, and whose home is near Klamath Falls. She has many friends in this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Radford, of Boring.

While in this city Mrs. Radford was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Haas, of Fourteenth and Center street.

EARL BROWNLEE JOINS RANKS OF THE BENEDICTS

Earl C. Brownlee, who has been for several months in the officers' reserve corps camp at the Presidio, and former Oregon City newspaper man, was united in marriage to Miss Bennett, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Bennett, of Klamath Falls, Oregon, Friday, August 10th, and on Monday will return to Oregon City to take up his duties with the Oregon City Courier. Mr. Brownlee was not given a commission at the Presidio.

The marriage of Miss Bennett and Mr. Brownlee was a very quiet affair. They are now visiting the bride's parents at Klamath Falls.

The bride is a most accomplished young woman, and has been teaching school near Salem. Her parents were former residents of Salem, recently making their home at Klamath Falls, where Rev. Bennett is pastor of a church.

Before accepting the position as editor of the Courier, Mr. Brownlee was editor of the Dallas Observer. He is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college, and while attending that institution was one of the editors of the college paper, the Barometer. Mr. Brownlee has had eight years of military training, being connected with the national guard of Oregon and also of Texas.

He won the grand champion's prize in his class at the Oregon State Fair in 1915 and 1916 and has won many prizes at the Portland livestock shows. It is said that the price is near the four-figure mark.

BRUSH FIRE NEAR KELLOGG CREEK SPREADS BEYOND CONTROL AND SOLDIERS HELP RESIDENTS

A brush fire which started on the property of R. S. Ramsey near Kellogg creek near Milwaukie, on Thursday, assumed such proportions Saturday afternoon that the combined efforts of a detachment of the 3d Oregon machine gun company, a group of volunteers from Oregon City and all the residents of the district in danger, were required to keep it within bounds. Late Saturday afternoon the fire was checked by a backfire started near the corner of Courtney avenue and Outfield road and extending along a slough to the east.

Women, armed with wet sacks and shovels, fought desperately until late Friday night and took up the fight again Saturday morning at an early hour, only to see their efforts wasted about noon when a change of wind turned the blaze to east and south into new brush.

Mrs. C. S. Liland, who lives on some property owned by T. B. Miller, was among those who fought fire from day-break Saturday morning until late that evening. About 30 men of the 3d Oregon machine gun company with Lieutenant L. H. Compton in command, rendered valuable assistance. Private Leaburg, of the machine gun company, was temporarily overcome by the heat and smoke but recovered after a few moments and returned to the fight. The detachment made good time in getting to the fire.

According to Mrs. D. C. Bates whose home is on the Outfield road south of Courtney avenue, the fire was apparently under control early Saturday morning and most of the men and women who had been watching it left. About 11 o'clock the wind changed and the fire swept up a ravine parallel to Courtney avenue covering an area of about 35 acres before it was controlled.

WIFE SAYS SHE WAS GIVEN ONLY $5 IN FIVE YEARS

Because she says that her husband has given her no money during the past five years with the exception of five dollars that he borrowed from her, Amanda V. Looney filed suit Tuesday for divorce from David H. Looney. They were married in Craig county, Virginia, January 28, 1885, and have lived in Oregon over 30 years.

Besides failing to contribute to her support, Mrs. Looney says that her husband deserted her a year ago. Mrs. Looney asks the divorce and the custody of the two children as well as title to a lot in Molalla now owned by them jointly.

ANXIOUS TO COMPLY WITH LAW, HE SIGNS FOR DRAFT TWICE

Upon their return from Portland Tuesday where they had testified against Jefferson New, alleged to have avoided registration by having the record of his birth changed, the local exemption board was met by a man who claimed to have registered twice in his effort to satisfy Uncle Sam.

Charles Ross Stalder, of Milwaukie, is the careful man. He was at work at Silver Lake, Cowlitz county, Washington on registration day, and was told by the local clerk that one registration was sufficient and that he should register where he was employed. He did so, he claims, and then came to his home at Milwaukie the same day. Here he was told that he should have registered at his home. Acting upon this advice, he again registered and until Tuesday was liable for service in two counties.

Tuesday the local board, upon affidavits, released him from obligation in Cowlitz county and held him liable for service in this district.

LAUNDRY DRIVER CLAIMS ED OLDS ASSAULTED HIM

According to G. T. Pence, driver for a Portland laundry company, he was struck by E. D. Olds, a contractor of Oak Grove, at about noon Tuesday, on Main street, Oregon City, following an argument.

Pence made an effort to have a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Olds, but no steps were taken Tuesday to this end. Pence says that he was carrying a bundle of laundry when he met Olds, who had Pence arrested some time ago on a charge of swearing at Mrs. Olds. They engaged in a slight argument and Olds struck him, he says, after which Pence dropped his laundry and retired hastily.

ESTACADA MAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF SETTING BRUSH FIRE

B. Maffel, of Estacada, was found guilty by a jury in the justice court of Estacada Wednesday morning, on a charge of having set a brush fire and neglected to take the proper precautions to prevent its spreading, with the result that considerable damage was done by the blaze.

According to Fire Warden Ray Wilcox, chief witness against Maffel, the fire was discovered August 9, and Maffel was warned to take steps toward stopping it. This he refused to do, claiming that the fire did not originate on his property.

Deputy District Attorney Thomas Burke represented the state. Maffel will be sentenced by Justice of the Peace Claude De Vore Thursday.

LICENSED TO WED

A marriage license was issued to Dean S. Baughman, of Oregon City, aged 24, and Nellie Louise Marco, aged 17.

FAMOUS OLD BARLOW TRAIL TO BE MARKED WITH A MEMORIAL

Mrs. Mary Barlow Wilkins, of Portland, was in Oregon City Tuesday, looking over the records of the land of Clackamas county in the vicinity of Rhododendron, near Mount Hood, where a monument is to be erected, commemorating the old Oregon trail made by the late Samuel Kembrough Barlow in 1845. Mr. Barlow was the grandfather of Mrs. Wilkins.

The monument, which is to be of bronze, is to be in the form of a tablet 12x14 inches, with the following wording: "Oregon Trail, 1845. Erected by Multnomah Chapter, D. A. R." The Multnomah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of which Mrs. Wilkins is regent, is to erect the monument, and will dedicate the same in September.

A committee composed of Mrs. Mary Barlow Wilkins, Mrs. O. M. Ash, Mrs. Boudinot Seelye, Mrs. James N. Davis, accompanied by George H. Himes, curator of the Oregon State Historical Society, and H. J. Wilkins, made the trip to Rhododendron on August 7, for the purpose of locating distinctly a part of the original Barlow road, which crosses Cow or Henry creeks. This having been decided, the monument will be erected at that spot, which is near the Rhododendron Inn, a most picturesque spot on the Mount Hood road. Leslie Scott and George Himes, of Portland, spent a great deal of time and money during the month of May in looking over this roadway in order to find the original Barlow road.

This organization, in 1916, erected a fountain on the Columbia river highway, dedicating the same to the Oregon Pioneers.

Mrs. Clara Johnson Knight, formerly of Oregon City, but now of Portland, and a committee from the Willamette chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Portland, visited Oregon City in July, to locate a site for a monument on the north side of the Abernathy creek in the northern part of the city. This will also mark the Oregon trail, and will be dedicated in this city in September with appropriate exercises near the Abernathy bridge that spans that stream. The stone is now being carved by Frank Glennon of Oregon City.
