Mrs. Dunagan was standing near a stairway, and turned to go down the flight of stairs when she fell about five feet, striking her head on the concrete pavement below. A gash about five inches in length on her scalp and bruises covering her entire body were the result of the accident. Mrs. Dunagan is 80 years of age. She will probably be taken to her home in Silverton, on Saturday. She is under the care of Dr. M. C. Strickland, of this city.
CLUB WORK IS ESSENTIAL, SAYS H. C. SEYMOUR
That the business men and educators of the country, are coming to realize that club work in the schools is as essential as instruction in the three R's, was the statement made by Professor H. C. Seymour of the Oregon Agricultural college, speaking before the teachers at the Clackamas county teachers' institute Wednesday. Oregon is doing as good work in this line as any other state in the union, according to word received by Professor Seymour from Professor Benson, of the United States department of education. Professor Hall of the State Industrial school told the teachers of the plan of control adopted at the school and outlined its principal features. The Rev. W. T. Milliken is to speak Thursday. Not even the war, however, has convinced old-fashioned men that the wrist watch is manly.

TEACHERS TOLD OF CHILDREN WHO HAVE INSUFFICIENT FOOD
"The number of children in the grade schools of this country who do not have sufficient food is appalling," said Miss A. B. Milan, assistant instructor of domestic science of the Oregon Agricultural college, speaking before the Clackamas County Teachers' training course at the Barclay school Monday. "A warm lunch increases the efficiency of the children and there are certain kinds of food that are absolutely necessary to the health of the child. Milk and eggs are necessary and without them the child's learning capacity, as well as its health, must suffer." Many children suffer from lack of sleep because their parents do not realize that a growing child needs much more sleep than an adult, said Miss Milan. In regard to food, Miss Milan recommends that the child should be fed cooked grains rather than prepared cereals, and also advocates the use of less sugar by children. "The formation of habits is a matter which is largely up to the parents," said Miss Milan, and added that it was a matter which could be largely controlled by a little attention on their part. Prof. H. C. Seymour, of the Agricultural college is to be the speaker Tuesday. The course will continue through this week.
ESTACADA YOUTH IS MAKING FIGHT FOR LIFE IN ARMY CAMP
Otis Wagner of Estacada, a sophomore in the high school, who enlisted in the first call for volunteers, was taken from his home Wednesday in a government ambulance to the post hospital at the Vancouver Barracks, where he will be placed under government physicians in an attempt to restore his health. Wagner, who was a 130-pound football star of last fall, was a victim of pneumonia while at the Clackamas encampment a month or more ago, but since returning home has developed decided tubercular tendencies. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wagner.

Crouch of Tangent, motorists arrested about a month ago by County Motorcycle Officer Meads, are at liberty under $25 bail, deposited by each of them with Constable Jack Frost who served bench warrants upon them at their homes for failing to appear in justice court in Oregon City. Officer Meads after arresting them for speeding, set a date for their appearance in court in Oregon City. They failed to appear and a bench warrant was issued by Justice of the Peace John N. Sievers requiring their appearance August 27.
TWO BOYS FROM THE REFORM SCHOOL ARE ARRESTED BY WILSON
Lester Hooper, of Portland, and George Bevel, of Lakeview, Lake county, each about 16 years of age, who escaped from the Oregon State reform school Monday afternoon were taken into custody by Sheriff W. J. Wilson, Tuesday afternoon on Main street, Oregon City. Superintendent Hales was notified and an attendant is to take the boys back Wednesday. Sheriff Wilson first saw the boys when they were a block or more down Main street from where he was standing. The boys were without hats, and the sheriff, becoming suspicious, pursued them in an auto, catching them at the Abernethy bridge. Dishwasher is sent to asylum after attempting suicide. William Robertson, 56 years of age, was committed to the state hospital Monday by County Judge H. S. Anderson, after he had made an attempt to take his own life by striking himself on the head with a bottle. He also attempted to inflict wounds with a case knife, but the knife was too dull to prove effective. Robertson was employed at a hotel as a dishwasher and had been in Oregon City only a short time. He was at one time confined in an asylum at Medical Lake, Wash., after having made an unsuccessful attempt to kill himself by cutting his throat. No relatives of the man are known.
VICTIM OF MUCH BREAKING JOINS THE U. S. NAVY
Word has been received in this city to the effect that Harold W. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nash, who left Oregon City early in the summer, had joined the army. He took his preliminary examination at Muskegon, Michigan, and had taken his final examination at Detroit, Michigan. He has enlisted for four years. He is well known in Oregon City, where he has a host of friends. Harold has no fear in enlisting. Before leaving here, he suffered more accidents than any lad in this city, and despite his accidents, he passed the final examination. He has suffered a broken arm, broken ribs, broken leg, broken nose and his foot was badly cut in June. Harold says that the Germans and the Kaiser will have to "go some" to get him now, since he has come out all right in all of these accidents. He will be 21 years of age in September.
LAST RITES FOR DAVID JONES OF BEAVER CREEK
Many friends attended the funeral services over the remains of the late David Jones, who died at his home at Beaver Creek on Tuesday. The services were held from the family residence on Thursday afternoon, and arrangements were made by the Myers & Brady undertaking establishment of this city. Rev. Griffith, of Portland, and pastor of the Welsh church at Beaver Creek, officiated. The floral tributes were in profusion and were beautiful. The pallbearers were W. F. Harris, Thomas E. Thomas, William Llewellyn, Thomas Daniels, Henry Parry and J. R. Lewis. Interment was in the Carus cemetery, and many friends followed the remains to their last resting place. David Jones was one of the most widely known residents of Beaver Creek, and had been a resident of Clackamas county for the past 34 years.

HUSBAND WANTS TO BE MORE THAN MERE CLOTHES PROVIDER
Because his wife told him that she only married him to have him buy her clothes, and that she intended to have "another man on the side," Burnie Looney, of Springwater, filed suit Saturday for divorce from his wife, Joale Looney. The Looneys were married at Springwater, April 15 of this year. On May 5, the defendant asked her husband who owned the 200 acres adjacent to their farm. When told that the farm belonged to his mother, Mrs. Emma J. McGraw, she replied, he alleges in his complaint: "Well, if that is the case I don't want to live with you another day, as I will never get any of the land and all I wanted you for was so that I could get something and you would buy my clothes." Mrs. Mary Nye, of 1538 East 8th street, North Portland, has filed suit against her husband Clarence Nye, for divorce, charging cruelty and non-support. Mr. and Mrs. Nye were married May 25, 1904, in Portland. In January of this year, while living at Echo, Nye ordered her out of the house, Mrs. Nye alleges, and she was forced to take up her residence in Oswego and support herself by working in a hotel there. In February Mr. and Mrs. Nye engaged in an altercation in which Nye struck his wife in the face, she claims. Mrs. Nye also asks the use of her maiden name of Esther Wenker. Mrs. Gracie E. Massey is suing Elbert Massey, whom she married in Portland in February, 1913, for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Massey also asks the custody of the three-year-old child. F. L. Rich has filed suit to collect two accounts from F. C. Mortenson. One of these is dated Nov. 1, 1916, and is for $221, while the other, for $233.25 is date July 30, 1917. MIND FAILS PRISONER WHO FEARS HARM MAY COME TO HIS FAMILY
Fear that something would happen to his wife and two children, so worried a German-Swiss named Contesse, alias Duprette, who was arrested Friday morning by Constable Jack Frost and Deputy Sheriff Joyner at Boring, that his mind failed him, and during the greater part of Friday he paced the length of a cell at the county jail in Oregon City, a raving maniac. The man is wanted in Couer d'Alene, Idaho, on a felony charge and will be taken there Saturday by representatives of Sheriff Quarles of the Couer d'Alene county. According to the story told by Contesse or Duprette, in his moments of sanity, he is wanted on a charge of stealing hogs. Contesse became nervous last Saturday evening. He left Couer d'Alene August 2. Contesse is about 35 years old. GUERNSEY BREEDERS CHOSE BORING MAN AS THEIR PRESIDENT
A permanent organization to further the breeding of Guernsey cattle in Oregon, was effected at a picnic attended by about 200 farmers, held at the Red Wing farm near Redlands Saturday afternoon. The picnic was held in the grove of the farm which is owned by John and A. I. Hughes. John A. Richey, of Boring, was chosen president of the new society and Mrs. A. I. Hughes was chosen secretary and treasurer. The directors of the new club are John L. Whalley, of Portland; H. F. Backman, of Wilsonville, and S. S. Hutchins, route 2, Oregon City. Membership was taken out in the club by 17 persons. JEAN S. TODD, A BATTERY A SERGEANT, WEDS
Sergeant Jean S. Todd, of Battery A, now stationed at Camp Withycombe, and Margaret S. Clinton, of 1353 East Harrison street, Portland, were granted a license to marry by County Clerk Iva M. Harrington Monday afternoon. Sergeant Todd is 26 years of age and Miss Clinton is 25 years of age. A license was also issued to Mary Block, aged 25, and Henry Krieger, age 32, of 834 East Taylor street, Portland. INFANT'S FUNERAL HELD
The funeral services of Annie Zallinos, the year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Zallinos, who died at the family home at West Linn on Saturday from whooping cough, were held from the St. John's Catholic church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. A. Hillebrand, pastor, officiating. The interment was in the Catholic cemetery. The little casket was completely covered with beautiful flowers.
